

GEO. HAZZARD'S WORK

His Democratic Excursion Nearly Arranged for.

SPEECHES ACROSS THE COUNTRY

The Turn to Be Made at Seattle—A Plan to Reunite the Divided Democracy.

Washington City, June 22.—George Hazard, secretary of the Democratic Society of Washington, has been in Washington City two or three weeks making final arrangements for the tour of the Democratic stump orators through the Northwestern states this autumn.

Washington City, June 22.—About 7:30 this evening a clerk in the employ of Newman & Co., who were passing the firm's store, on Kearney street, noticed the night watchman, Ernest Nagle, sitting on a chair in the front part of the store.

Washington City, June 22.—Admiral Kirkland has called Secretary Herbert to visit the United States cruiser New York, and the cruiser will remain at Kiel to afford the emperor an opportunity.

Washington City, June 22.—Baron von Thielman, the new German ambassador, will be introduced to the president this week by the charge of the embassy, Baron Kettler.

Washington City, June 22.—Today's statement of the condition of the treasury shows a balance of $48,575,775; gold reserve, $9,734,627.

SILVER IN THE SOUTH.

Most of the Leading Editors Oppose to Free Coinage.

Baltimore, June 18.—Today's News contains letters from many prominent Southern editors, giving their opinion on the silver question and the drift of the sentiment in their respective sections.

J. P. Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, says: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently."

H. W. Johnson, of the Houston Daily Post: "The last national Democratic platform about expresses my idea on the silver question. I am in favor of coinage both gold and silver, without discriminating against either, but legislative safeguards to the extent of preserving the parity of the two."

H. J. Hearsey, the Daily States, New Orleans: "I agree with the president and secretary of the treasury, and favor sound money. A large majority of the business men of New Orleans and the larger interior cities are of the same opinion."

Raleigh News and Observer: "I am in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently. The sentiment of my section is largely in opposition to free coinage."

G. H. Backus, the Nashville Banner: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver independent of international agreement. Public sentiment in this section is divided."

A. B. Pickett, the Evening Sentinel, Memphis: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently."

J. E. McGowan, of the Chattanooga Times: "I oppose the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently. The sentiment for free silver is strong, but not so much so as it was a few months ago."

M. J. Clayton, Roanoke Times: "I favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The campaign of education is gaining friends for free coinage in Southwest Virginia."

W. S. Copeland, The State, Richmond, Va.: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently of international agreement. The sentiment of the business men of this city is largely in opposition to free coinage."

F. S. Woodson, Danville, Va., Register: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently. Edward Craighead, Mobile Register: "I am opposed to the free coinage independently."

F. V. Evans, Age-Herald, Birmingham: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently." Richard Knott, Louisville Post: "I am opposed to the free coinage of silver at any rate with or without international agreement."

J. H. Estelle, Savannah Morning News: "I am opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver by this country independently. The majority sentiment in this section is for sound money."

ter, whose statements were wired to this city in advance. Capt. M. Jorgensen, of the last American schooner, Hayes, arrived on the Sydney, and for the first time told the story of the wreck of his vessel, which went ashore near Navid on June 1, several miles north of Manzanillo. The schooner will doubtless be a total wreck, as she lies in an exposed position, battered by the heavy surf. She can never be floated. Capt. Jorgensen said a severe hurricane caused the disaster. Neither he nor his mate suspected the craft would get into trouble, for squalls are somewhat infrequent along the Mexican coast at this season. The storm came up very suddenly. The flag and a light were blown away from the beach only a short while after the gale sprung up, and then came crew floated ashore on some timbers, and narrowly escaped death in the breakers. The captain and his men managed to get away in one of the schooner's boats.

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE GAMES.

Yale Blocks the Way to the Proposed Contest.

Philadelphia, June 22.—S. Marlock Kenrick, president of the International Athletic Association, today received the mail correspondence from Oxford and Cambridge in reply to the American association's challenge to the British for an intercollegiate international athletic meeting.

The letter from the British universities shows that the challenge of the intercollegiate association was at first favorably received. It is evident that while it was under consideration by the Englishmen a challenge to the British for an intercollegiate international athletic meeting by all the other colleges in the association. The Englishmen felt themselves under a moral obligation to accept the challenge, but they would not do so until they had secured the approval of the Oxford-Cambridge authorities had misread our challenge, but this letter makes it clear that they entirely understood the situation and were willing to meet us, provided their honorary obligation to Yale was not insisted on by the New Haven institution.

Corbett to Train at Terrell, Tex.

Terrell, Texas, June 22.—President E. H. R. Green, of the Texas Midland railroad, has accepted the invitation of Senator Corbett to train at this point. Corbett has informed Mr. Green that he will probably spend the month of October as his guest in this city.

Grover Cleveland in Good Health.

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., June 22.—The reports in circulation to the effect that Mr. Cleveland is ill, are without foundation. Mr. Cleveland is in good health and is enjoying the best of health.

Manuel Zorilla Dead.

Senor Manuel Ruiz Zorilla, the great Spanish Republican leader, died at Burgos, Spain, June 13. He was born in Castile in 1854. He was a Madrid barrister and a deputy in the cortes when the share he took in the June revolt, 1868, led to his condemnation, and he was compelled to seek refuge beyond the French frontier. In the provisional government of Admiral Topete, after the revolution of 1868, he was minister of public works, and caused much discontent among the republicans. He was later arrested and taken into the custody of the state. He was law minister to Marshal Serrano in 1880, and, as president of the parliament, advocated the Duke of Aosta's candidature to the throne. This advocacy was successful, and on the accession of the duke, under the title of Amadeo I, Zorilla was named minister of justice.

An Idaho Jurist Dead.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, June 22.—Judge Albert Hagan, one of the best-known lawyers in Idaho, died today after a lingering illness of two months, from cancer of the bladder. He was born in 1812, and came to California in 1835, where he lived until he came to this state, about ten years ago. As a mining lawyer he stood in the front rank, and at the time of his death he was attorney for the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.

A Once Famous Opera Singer Dead.

San Francisco, June 22.—Eugenio Bianchi, at one time a famous operatic tenor, died here today. For years in the old days he and his wife, Mme. Bianchi-Montaldo, were the best-loved performers in San Francisco.

A star service will be established July 1 for the next four years from Juneau to Chilkat, Alaska, once a month, connecting with mail steamers at Juneau and from Seattle.

Trying to Expedite a Land Survey.

Washington City, June 21.—Special.—Senator Squier has been making inquiries at the general land office as to the delay in the completion of the survey of townships 29 and 40 north, range 2 east of the Willamette meridian. The contract for surveying these townships was let in June, 1891, to De Kalb Ashley, United States deputy surveyor. In the report the agent said that townships 35 and 40 were incomplete, and could not be plattd till the deputy sent in the original data. Last year the deputy again visited the field work, making several corrections and alterations, since which time nothing has been heard from the authorities at the land office. Many complaints have been received by Senator Squier from the settlers on these townships at the delay. They have been waiting patiently from ten to fifteen years to file on the lands under the homestead law, and they feel that the delay is not giving due attention to their needs. The senator showed the commissioner of the general land office that the delay was working an injustice on many worthy people, and keeping them out of the rights, and that when the field work was done in 1891 the settlers arranged their dividing lines and accommodated their boundaries and the changes made in the fall of 1894 compelled them to rearrange the whole thing. In many instances at great expense the settler in one of the letters the senator presented was stated that the changes made in 1894 caused much litigation and many disputes, and that in the last two years four lives have been lost in quarrels which had their start in the changes from the original survey. The land commissioner has written to the surveyor general at Olympia to send a special agent to the scene to straighten things out and get the land in condition for the settlers to file.
