COL. PARKER'S PENSION CUT.

The Bond of Tacoma's Treasurer Said to Be Very Insufficient.

Vote of Pierce County on Validation to Be Recounted—Price of Prison Grain Bags Reduced—Forest Fires Threaten a Victoria Powder Magazine.

Spokane, July 15.—B. N. Carter, commander-in-chief of the Freeman's Protective Silver Federation, more widely known as "the Shotgun League," left tonight for Puget sound to attend an important conference of officers of the order. The membership has been chiefly confined to Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, but a movement has been started to organize extensively in Western Washington with a view to extending the order into Oregon and California. It is said the council will also take up some differences which threatened to disrupt the federation.

TREASURER M'CAULEY'S BOND.

Some Question About the Responsibility of the Sureties. Tacoma, July 15.—Special.—Councilman Parker, who, with Councilman Norton, has been making some inquiries into the sureties on the $28,000 official bond of City Treasurer McCauley, says the whole bond is security for not more than $1,000. "To give you some idea of the financial worth of the bond," said Mr. Parker, "one of the sureties is George W. Boggs, and he is down on the list for $25,000. Why, he swore in court a short time ago that he was not worth a dollar, and his statement was published in his paper; and yet he remains on the bond. The mantle of Mr. Boggs fell on Mr. McCauley, and I suppose it was according to the established order of things as run in this city. It should be on his bonds, but I regard the city as without any security further than Mr. McCauley's personal integrity for the city money held by him. The bond is practically worthless.

The finance committee will report next Saturday, and will have some interesting things to say concerning the securities furnished the city by some of the banks holding deposits, and given to Mr. Cavender, chairman of the finance committee, and placed in the treasurer's vaults nearly a year ago, under a pledge not to disclose their contents for one year.

Mr. Norton and I have had this veil of secrecy removed before the time was up, and the finance committee has been delving into these securities, and what we have to say about them will be interesting reading.

When Treasurer McCauley was asked for a statement, he said: "When I came into office there was supposed to be about $29,000 in the city treasury, but only about $10,000 or $15,000 was turned over to me, but by resolution of the city council I was forbidden to receipt to Mr. Boggs for that amount. Afterward he was ordered to pay up and accepted by the council. Of the entire amount supposed to be in the treasury, there is $25,000 in the Tacoma Trust and Savings bank and $4,000 in closed bank for which no receipts are available. Furthermore, acting as the city's agent, I have reduced the amounts in banks $10,000 more than I have deposited. In addition to my bonds the banks have put up collateral in the form of securities worth 10 per cent. in excess of the amounts deposited. These securities have been examined by the finance committee, and taking the view of the committee, I am only responsible for $10,000, and my bond is for $20,000."

Treasurer McCauley denied vigorously that Mr. Boggs was ever on his bond.

The Yosemite is peerless in beauty. In purity Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is similarly pre-eminent.

ALEX PARKER WILLING TO FIGHT

He Told President Taylor, of Tacoma Board of Works, to Begin.

Tacoma, July 15.—Special.—"It's got to stop, I tell you; I won't have it. You've talked enough about me and the board, and you lied about me in the council Saturday. If you weren't an old man, I'd slap your face."

That's the way President Taylor, of the board of public works, talked to his Democratic brother, Councilman Parker, today. Taylor is who led off in the conversation, and Taylor and Parker agreed to him. The debate took place in the city hall today at the meeting of the council finance committee. The gentlemen are the only Democrats in the city government, but they hate each other as earnestly as an Irishman from Tipperary hates one from Belfast. Taylor, long and dark and aggressive, was in towering rage. Parker, short, stout and aged, the little bunch of whiskers on his chin waving frantically, was defiant, pugacious and evidently willing to fight at the drop of the hat and drop the hat himself.

The trouble was all over insurance on city buildings in which is located the electric light plant. It was rumored about the Taylor and Parker fight that Councilman Lister the job of insuring the buildings if he would vote his way in confirming the mayor's appointments. Lister was somewhat far-fetched, but it had an effect. Part of a committee of the council recommended that the buildings be insured. The other part recommended that he be called in. When the matter was under discussion in the council Saturday, Councilman Parker intimated that if the scheme of insuring was got a rick-off if it were insuring, and asked for an explanation. "You're only a boy, I was hitting at the board."

So today President Taylor, of the board, accused Parker and the warty war narrated at the board.

The entire membership of the board is indignant over Parker's utterances, and say if he would only put his intonations in tangible form they will bring a libel suit.

MUCH EXCITEMENT IN LONDON.

Crowds Cheer News of the Election of John Burns, the Socialist.

His Success Disasteful to the Tories—Explorer Stanley is Elected and Hised, While His Defeated Opponent Receives an Ovation—Miscellaneous Plight of Ireland.

London, July 15.—The total results of the parliamentary elections for which returns have been made tonight are as follows: Conservatives 151, Liberal-Unionists 21, Liberals 23, Parnellites 4, Labor 4. Total 204. As compared with the parliament which has just been dissolved, twenty-four seats thus returned show gains for the Unionists and five gains for the Liberals.

There is intense excitement in London at the results of the elections. The theaters and restaurants are almost deserted. Early in the morning a tremendous crowd gathered in front of the National Liberal Club, where the results were shown upon a screen by a lime light and stereopticon. The club house itself was crowded early.

All the prominent members were present, and the members of the house of commons, who were absent from the elections. A large notice was displayed in the club lobby, stating that the members who were willing to canvass for the election of the Associated Press "The cause would please communicate with the secretary. Results were announced in the smoking room, where a special wire service had been arranged. The results received was posted on a large blackboard. The members of the club were mostly dispirited. One of them stated to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "The Conservatives now have a chance to show that they have not learned any important lessons from our mistakes. I believe their success is temporary."

Outside the club house the crowd greeted the news of the election of John Burns, the labor leader, with tremendous cheers. The bulletin announcing Henry Stanley's election was received with hisses and cries of "professional." The pictures of Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Harcourt which were shown on the screen from time to time were wildly cheered.

The windows adjoining the Hotel Metropole were filled with fashionably dressed men and women enjoying the spectacle. A long line of the Prince of Wales drove to the Carlton Club and scanned the bulletins. These were posted in the lobby, where a throng of men and women were gathered. Outside the club house the results were received there with enthusiasm. The members shouted: "Never mind the Liberal returns. England is now a conservative nation."

At the Constitutional Club, so great was the crowd that gathered outside that the doors were closed, but the results posted in the club house were seen by the curious. One member remarked: "I am glad to see that Burns and all such vermin only creep in by small majorities."

Humorous throngs surged through Fleet street this evening. The results of the elections have been placed as fast as received at the newspaper offices. All vehicular traffic was suspended. Crowds of men and women waved their hats and umbrellas at the announcement that Burns was elected. Some of the Conservative gales seemed to be directed at an old Irishman who was a Conservative.

It is announced this evening that John McLeod, who is a candidate for election to the Liberal party from South Lancashire, has offered to retire in favor of Sir William Harcourt. Sir William Harcourt telegraphed a friend in London: "I have no intention whatever of retiring from public life, and shall persevere as long as I am able in the Liberal cause, and for the maintenance of the principles to which I am attached."

The excitement followed the announcements of the results of the various London elections. This was especially so at North Lambeth, outside of which there was an enormous noisy crowd. The announcement that Henry M. Stanley was elected was received with enthusiastic cheers, mingled with considerable booing and hissing. When C. P. Trevelyan, his opponent, left the building, he was received with a great ovation. Mr. Stanley, with his wife, followed, receiving an old letter concerning him from his brother, Charles Stewart Parnell, was read by a priest. It was written in 1882, and began as follows: "I cannot recommend my brother John as a candidate for County Carlow or any other Irish constituency, as I do not think he would make a suitable representative."

It is a Kilkenny fight all around. It has helped put the Tories in power again for an indefinite period, and Ireland will continue to be sacrificed to private hatred and ambitions.

The Japanese Conquest of Formosa. Hongkong, July 15.—Seven thousand Japanese troops have left Tientsin to attack the Black Flags at Taiwan, Formosa. A battle is expected on Saturday, July 20. A strong naval force will cooperate with the land force of the Japanese.

Peru Preparing for War. Lima, July 15.—The relations of Peru with Bolivia are strained. It is rumored that the minister of Bolivia to Peru is about to retire. The government of Peru will send 20,000 troops to the Bolivian frontier.

Teachers Invade Salt Lake. Salt Lake, July 15.—The city has been crowded all day with teachers from all parts of the country. Hundreds of them visited the Salt Lake pavilion, and other places of interest. The railroads are running extra trains east tonight in order to accommodate the traffic.

For many years the government has given its orders for Royal Baking Powder in preference to all others, it being found by the official examination superior to the others in strength and purity and the only Baking Powder that will keep and retain its strength in the climates of the various countries to which it is sent by the departments.

W. A. Clark Not to Leave Montana. Chicago, July 15.—Marion Daily, who is in Chicago, emphatically denied today his report that W. A. Clark, the millionaire mine owner, has disposed of his mining interests in Montana to the Anaconda Company. Daily says: "There is not one word of truth in the assertion. I cannot understand how such a report could be sent out. Possibly my absence from home has suggested the opportunity to make a momentary sensation in Montana circles."

A Fireling Captured at Victoria. Victoria, July 15.—W. P. Foster, warden at Chilliwack in the province, for conspiring to burn his own store, also to kill one of his accomplices, whom he feared would give him away, was arrested here today. He attempted to shoot himself just as the police started to search him at the police station. Presley is 60 years old.

SILVER IN MISSOURI.

A Great Victory for the Free Coinage Democrats.

STATE CONVENTION TO BE HELD

A Little While Ago the Committee Wouldn't Hear of It.

Now They Are as Strongly Favorable—In Georgia the Democrats Have Lost Interest in Free Silver, but the Populists Are Faithful.

St. Louis, July 15.—By a vote of 12 to 5 the Democratic state central committee in session today at the Southern hotel decided to call a state silver convention. The convention will be held at Pease Springs, August 8. Chairman Moffitt cast his own vote and two proxies which he held for a convention.

On June 19 the committee met and voted 10 to 5 against holding a convention to consider the financial question, and this change has been brought about by the friends of silver, who have been agitating the question ever since. On the assembling of the committee, Chairman Moffitt, in explanation of his course, said:

"Early in May the chairman read articles in newspapers stating that the Democrats of the state wanted the committee convened to call a convention to take action on the monetary question. As it has been usual for a state committee to meet in June, I wanted twenty days to see what course matters would take. I was under fire all the time. On May 29 I called the meeting for a state committee to be convened, only eleven counties had responded, and when the question of holding a convention was put to a vote it was lost, 10 to 5. The county committee of the state decided to hold a convention. Subsequently, by letter, personal solicitation, and through the press, I was requested to reconvene the committee. On June 12 I received a communication from Chairman Moffitt of Laclede county, stating that he had a number of communications he would like to lay before the state committee. I told Mr. Moffitt I would reconvene the committee at the request of a majority of the members. I then told Mr. Moffitt that on Saturday I would issue a circular to the chairman of the county committees of the state, the purpose of securing their desire on this point. Then the work of filling out the circular began, and in a short time the chairman immediately wired the secretary of the county committees asking that the committee be reconvened. Without delay the chairman immediately wired the secretary to reconvene the committee. This is why I called the convention."

HOKE SMITH ON SILVER. He Believed in Free Coinage Once, but Now He Knows Better Now.

Washington City, July 15.—Secretary Hoke Smith's attention was called to an article published yesterday charging that he had been at one time an advocate of the free silver coinage and that he had plans of the "farmers' alliance." It was said that five years ago he published a letter advocating these views. Speaking on the subject the secretary said:

"My attention has just been called to the publication of a letter written by me in September, 1880, to Hon. W. L. Peak, and published at that time in the National Journal. The Journal was then openly opposing the sub-treasury scheme, and my opposition to it was well understood. The letter clearly excluded the idea of committing me to all of the seven propositions which it presented, although it was known that I did favor the free coinage of silver. I was giving most of my attention to professional work at that time, and supposed, without thorough investigation, that the free coinage of silver would carry the value of the silver bullion coined into a dollar to par, and also keep silver and gold dollars upon a parity with the gold dollar.

Since that I have given to the subject much more study, and being thoroughly satisfied that the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would result in silver monometallism, I have for several years openly opposed it."

JOHN SHERMAN IS TOO OLD. He Would Not Accept the Presidency if Unanimously Offered.

Mansfield, O., July 15.—"No, I am not a candidate for the presidency, and if all the people of the United States should vote for me, I should not accept the position. I am too old. No man of 72 has the right to undertake the work and responsibility which comes to the chief executive of the United States. It is a position of wear and tear, and it should have a younger man."

These were the words of Senator John Sherman, as he sat in a little summer house just outside of Mansfield yesterday. A newspaper man had asked the senator pointblank the question as to whether he would again be a candidate. "That was my reply. It came from his lips in firm, sharp and decisive tones, and one could see from the expression of his face that his presidential ambitions had passed forever.

The Southern Pacific is looked upon as a monopoly. But it doesn't control the best baking powder in the world, Dr. Price's.

FREE SILVER IN GEORGIA. The Democrats Not Interested in the State Convention.

Atlanta, July 15.—Reports from meetings throughout the state today to elect delegates to the free silver convention at Griffin Thursday indicate a general lack of interest. At Douglasville only twelve attended and at Dalton, out of a total of fifty-seven present thirty-two were Populists. At Forsyth the meeting was attended by but eleven. The mixed character of the convention, which will include Populists and Republicans, has caused the Democrats to lose confidence in it.

Another Stage Robbery in Oregon. Portland, July 15.—A special to the Oregonian from Oregon City, says: Word was brought to town this evening that the Willott Springs stage was held up by two highwaymen at Howard Hill, about nine miles from this city, shortly before noon today. Henry Mattson, the driver, and one passenger, a Portland man, were robbed of $1,000. The other passenger, one of the robbers was a short, heavy-set man, and the other was tall. Both wore workmen's clothing and had their faces covered with white masks. The incoming stages had passed that point but fifteen minutes before, but it had three passengers, two of whom had been out hunting and carried shotguns in plain view, which probably prevented a repetition of the recent Ager-Klamath Falls double robbery.

The health authorities of a number of states have recently made exhaustive examinations of the baking powders with the uniform result of finding the Royal superior to all others.

A Fireling Captured at Victoria. Victoria, July 15.—W. P. Foster, warden at Chilliwack in the province, for conspiring to burn his own store, also to kill one of his accomplices, whom he feared would give him away, was arrested here today. He attempted to shoot himself just as the police started to search him at the police station. Presley is 60 years old.
