

SPAIN IS TOO LATE.

The Cubans Will Not Accept Home Rule Now.

THEY WANT A FREE REPUBLIC.

No Doubt That Campos Is Trying to Effect a Settlement with the Victorious Patriots.

New York, Nov. 8.—A dispatch to the World from Havana says: The Spanish government will try to ascertain if the Cubans are willing to accept modified home rule as the price of laying down their arms. The conservatives will do everything in their power to circumvent the scheme. The Cubans generally believe that no such proposition will be entertained. The people of Havana are just waking up to the fact that Gen. Campos is doing all that is in his power to prevent the return of Cuba, even to the extent of home rule.

Paris, Nov. 8.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, has returned to his city from Madrid. Owing to his expressed views that the United States congress should take definite stand in behalf of the Cuban insurgents, it was rumored that his visit to the Spanish capital was to ascertain whether a proposition to purchase Cuba by the United States would be entertained by the Spanish government. A representative of the Associated Press Senator Lodge said that while at the Spanish capital he was fortunate in meeting many men prominent in public life, including senior Canovas del Castillo, the Spanish premier, but he did not broach the subject of the purchase of Cuba. The senator added that he visited Madrid simply as a tourist, and desired to emphatically deny that he had gone there for any political purpose or expressed any views regarding Cuba. At the same time it is understood that the senator had been studying the Cuban question from a Spanish standpoint and gathered much information which may be of use to him when the matter comes up for discussion in the United States senate.

Havana, Nov. 8.—Rouff, insurgent leader in the province of Santa Clara, has issued an order to peasants to remove at least three miles from the towns and forts in Santa Clara, under penalty of being shot. Capt. Gen. Martinez Campos, in order to counteract the effect of this order, is reinforcing the garrisons of the towns, and has ordered the country people to concentrate around the towns and granted free use of all the valuable lands near the towns. A great fire occurred at Matanzas last night, three stores and a number of houses being burned. Loss, $100,000, not insured. New York, Nov. 8.—(No, sir, we will not accept autonomy under any circumstances," said Sen. Palmer, the Cuban minister plenipotentiary, when spoken to regarding the report that Spain was willing to grant Cuban autonomy, but he feared the Cubans would not accept it. "If Spain wants to make terms with us," he continued, "they will have to offer better conditions than they propose to make. In the first place, we do not believe Spain wants to give Cuba autonomy. She only wants to deceive us, as in the case of the absolute independence and to make an absolutely free republic of Cuba. We would not even accept such conditions as those governing the Dominion of Canada."

Jose Mansfield's Divorce. New York, Nov. 8.—The following notice has been printed in the official law journal of Paris: "The divorce of Jose Mansfield and his wife, Mrs. Marie Louise, was pronounced by the fourth chamber of the civil tribunal of the Seine, on August 1, 1895, between Mme. Helene Josephine Mansfield, wife of Jose Mansfield, and wife by a second marriage of M. Robert Livingstone Reade, the woman's legal residence being with her husband, but she residing at No. 20, rue de Valenciennes, Paris, and M. Robert Livingstone Reade living in Paris, at the Hotel Brighton. It appears that the divorce was granted on the ground of adultery, and that the benefit of Mrs. Reade's property was awarded to her. Reade first met Jose Mansfield at Carlsbad in the summer of 1881. He was then with his mother, Mrs. Robert Livingstone Reade, and her cousin, Mrs. Levi D. Morton, also a visitor at Carlsbad, with her two daughters. Jose Mansfield called herself Mrs. Frank Sawyer, the name of her first husband, and, despite her age, was very attractive in the famous watering place, and constantly surrounded by hosts of admirers. Reade fell a victim to the charms which had captivated James Fish, Jr., and had become a lawyer to marry him, but she was not so easily won. She told Reade to go home and sleep on his proposal, and then take time to consider it carefully. She was very wise, and these precautions must cure him. Reade did consider the matter, and even returned to New York city in an effort to conquer his love for Mrs. Livingstone, but all in vain, and upon his return to Europe he gave a dinner to his intimate acquaintances. When coffee was reached and all hands were feeling pretty good Mr. Reade said: "I'm going to marry Jose Mansfield. I'm drinking myself to death, as you all know, and Jose Mansfield is the only person that can save me. I'll marry her, she'll have me, for I think she's more sinned against than sinning." The official announcement of the divorce constitutes the last chapter of the affair.

Methodist Church Extension. Chicago, Nov. 8.—The meeting of the Methodist Church Extension Society today was attended by an enormous number. This was aroused by the discussion of the plan to set aside, from the $50,000 to be taken from the conference, $10,000 for a contingent fund for emergency purposes, and $40,000 for office expenses. This money is to be used at the discretion of the board at Philadelphia. Dr. Neeley, of Philadelphia, was the matter presented to the committee, and contended that the proposed action would be neither proper nor legal. Bishop Foster characterized Dr. Neeley's speech as hasty and unwarranted. "We have," he said, "about $40,000 which must be liquidated, and where else is the money to come from if not from the money set forward for the work?" Various other speakers kept at the matter, until finally Bishop Merrill settled the matter by putting the question, and the committee report was adopted.

Thirty-seven Bodies Found at Detroit. Detroit, Nov. 8.—The dead body of James E. Thomas was taken from the wrecked Journal building this evening. This is the thirty-seventh body recovered, and according to the list of missing, was the last body left in the wreck. The bodies of Lisie Westdusck and Charles Lane, employees of Thomas's bindery were recovered this morning. Thomas M. Thompson, co-owner of the building, was arrested this evening, and is at Grace hospital under custody. A mass meeting has been called for tomorrow night to take steps for the relief of the families of the dead. Several popular subscriptions have been started. A Lake Steamer Given Up as Lost. Salt Sea, Maine, Mich., Nov. 8.—There are still no tidings of the steamer Missoula, seven days overdue. The boat and crew of sixteen men have been given up as lost. She was owned by Capt. RANGE LIGHTS ON STEAMERS.

An Important Ruling by the Treasury Department.

Port Townsend, Nov. 7.—Special.—Collector Saunders has issued a ruling from the treasury department which is of much interest on Puget sound in connection with the recent fitting of steamers for carrying lights on vessels, and which will greatly simplify the regulations in the minds of many steamboatmen. There is an apparent conflict between rule 3 of the regulations and rule 10 regarding displaying after range lights on steam vessels. Rule 3 provides that "all ocean-going steamers and steamers carrying lights when under way, carry at the foremast head a bright white light. On the starboard side a green light. On the port side a red light. Rule 7 provides that "all coasting steam vessels and steam vessels other than ferry boats, and vessels otherwise expressly provided for, navigating the bays, lakes, rivers and inland waters of the United States shall carry the red and green lights, as prescribed for ocean-going steamers, and, in addition thereto, a central range of two white lights, the after lights being carried at an elevation of at least fifteen feet above the light at the head of the vessel."

Suit Against Contractor Spurr.

Herman Chalmers instituted suit in the superior court yesterday against James Spurr for $62 damages for violation of contract in connection with the Rialto block. Chalmers says Spurr took the contract for building the building and advanced for $50,000 and agreed to make necessary repairs free of cost for twelve months after the completion of the contract. Spurr started many men and women into the street and declared their preference for goods of our own make. Now That the Republican Congress Is About to Meet, State Department Makes a Show of Activity.

New York, Nov. 8.—A special to the World from Washington City says: The family of ex-consul John M. Waller believe that his health has been permanently broken by his confinement in French prisons. His letters are all written in a most despondent tone. In a letter dated September 29, from Clairvaux prison, just received, Mr. Waller writes that he never expects to see his family again, and states that this may be the last letter they will ever receive from him. It is evident that his health is extremely poor, for the French authorities have transferred him from Clairvaux to Nimes, and have placed him on hospital diet and allowance. It is expected that the state department will take some decisive action in the case before congress meets, as Mr. Waller's attorneys have been instructed to file their brief at once.

IS DRIVING OUT DISEASE

Dr. J. R. Baird Well Known in American Missions.

Hundreds of Bottles of Paine's Celery Compound Prescribed by Him.

Has Found It a Blessing to the Afflicted Beyond Any Other Remedy.

Indiana, Penn., describes his own experience as follows: "It was about six years ago when I first tried Paine's celery compound for nervous diseases and rheumatism. In the severe winter climate of the state of Michigan I was at our mission station there, and became a great sufferer. I used three bottles of Paine's celery compound, and was very greatly benefited thereby. I then began to advise my members who were sick to use it, and in every case where the directions were strictly obeyed the treatment was successful. In a few years past hundreds of bottles have been used directly through my advice. Paine's celery compound is far better than any other remedy, and leaves no bad effects in the system. Its manifold healing qualities make it a blessing to the afflicted beyond any other preparation within my reach."

The great falling off in the amount of rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous weakness that physicians have everywhere noted comes from the widespread knowledge that there is no need of suffering any longer from these common diseases. It is Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, understood the needs of suffering men and women when he prepared the formula for Paine's celery compound. By the use of this world-famous remedy countless men and women have saved themselves from nervous prostration.

The cares of large families do not stop when the day is over. There is incessant anxiety, wakefulness and concern for some member of the household. It is no wonder that so many, especially women, break down under the crushing weight. Their very love and pride keeps them all ways at work. They "live on their nerves," as the saying is, till there comes a time when flesh and blood can stand no longer. It is a simple thing for them to keep well and strong if Paine's celery compound is straightaway used at the earliest signs of falling vigor. The tired, "drugged-out" feeling is soon entirely removed. There will be no neuralgia, no persistent headaches, no dyspepsia, no haunting pain over the eyes, no nervous exhaustion when Paine's celery compound is used. It makes people well.

Dr. Baird is known as a practical worker. His health was broken by the severe winter climate in Michigan some time ago, and he seemed likely to be obliged to give up his work. But he resorted to the use of that easily obtained remedy, Paine's celery compound, and was himself again, energetic and active as ever, within a few weeks. The reasonable, undisguised way in which Paine's celery compound fortifies the body against nervous exhaustion and rebuilds its shattered parts has been freely explained by physicians, the best of whom today always look to this great remedy where debility is to be overcome. It does its work thoroughly and speedily. Let every nervous sufferer, and every man and woman who feels run down and tired beyond the power of a night's sleep to restore, try Paine's celery compound. WATER FOR THE FUTURE.

Objections to the Cedar River Ordinance in Its Present Form. John J. McGilvra yesterday filed with the city clerk of Seattle a number of objections to ordinance 3,300, relative to the waters of Cedar river, Cedar lake and Swan lake. His plan is to secure Swan lake as a supply reservoir and Cedar lake as a source of supply, and construct the water works to these points at convenience. As a fund he suggests 25 per cent. of the gross receipts of the city and water works, which may be added such other moneys as are available. Warrants drawn upon this fund would, he says, furnish money for purchase of land and construction of the water works. The city, Mr. McGilvra says, can take ten years as well as ten months to accomplish this work, and that without contracting any considerable debt, for there is no law requiring the city to extend its water system unreasonably. While it must own the land around its source of supply and impounding reservoirs, and must have a prior right of appropriation, it should not act the part of the dog in the manger by attempting to prevent private individuals or corporations from appropriating the surplus waters of Cedar river, Mr. McGilvra adds. "This it should obtain at once by lawful means, and an additional reason why Cedar lake with a fall of over 1,000 feet, is a private corporation, availing itself of the city's surveys and explorations, is endeavoring to forestall the city and appropriate the surplus waters which the city must have in the future."

BILLIARD PLAY IS BETTER. Finals in the Tournament Come Tonight—Last Night's scores.

The playing last night in the handicap billiard tournament at the Seattle Athletic Club was of a much higher class than the night before. The contestants seemed to have more confidence in their ability and all made a much better showing. The attendance was very slim, showing strange lack of interest. The finals will be played tonight and the chances are that the game between Pope and Hibbard will be the finest in the tourney. The following is the result of last night's play:

Wotherspoon, 60 to play, vs. W. X. Russell, 70 to play. Wotherspoon won, 60 to 66. Allan, 60 to play, vs. Paschall, 100 to play. Allan won, 60 to 85. Brown, 90
