ITALY'S FOREIGN POLICY.

Important Statement by Crispi in the Chamber of Deputies.
Rome, Nov. 28.—Important statements were made in the chamber of deputies tonight by Premier Crispi and by Baron Blanc, Italian minister of foreign affairs, concerning questions of Italy's internal and foreign policy and especially her attitude toward Turkey, and, incidentally, the attitude of the Italian government toward the Crispi's statement was a long one, and was largely devoted to the government's internal policy. He defended at length the Italian anti-socialist law, and admitted that in practice socialism differed little from anarchy. He admitted that the public security was not ideal, but said it was improving. He said that although he personally opposed the law of guarantees, he now supported it. This law, he said, could not be revoked without leading to internal disorders and foreign complications.

After a short conversation Mrs. Hannah drew a revolver and shot Mrs. Hitt dead.

The Suspension of Dute Cabanne.
St. Louis, Nov. 28.—Lucien T. Duteh, better known as "Dute" Cabanne, chief of the class B riders suspended by Chairman Gideon, of the national racing board, L. A. W., lives in St. Louis, and is an insurance solicitor during the winter months. He was suspended because of his permanent suspension. He denied that he was a party to or even cognizant of any sort of agreement between Dute and Murphy regarding the races at the Pastime Club grounds in this city. "I have decided to retire from bicycle racing as a professional, any further connection with the sport is to me and to my folks, it is quite unnecessary in a financial way. Since the day I was suspended I have ridden in many races and won many hard-fought victories, but the prize has not been worth the effort. I will lose unless I can get possession of them by court proceedings. There are about $200 worth coming to me. The commission and turned it to their own use. They occupied seats in the first row of the house and were the first upon their feet when nominations were called for. All nominations were made by vote and the first man named got three every time. J. P. de Mattos was nominated for mayor and made a characteristic speech, in which he took occasion to score the present mayor and council for various alleged sins of commission and omission, especially for violating the laws by making a water tax levy insufficient by several thousand dollars in interest at the water bonds. No other candidate was named against him. For councilman-at-large W. C. Wilcox had no opposition, and A. E. Woodard, a walk-over incumbent, neither, no other names being presented. Mr. Woodard said that he is not a member of the A. P. A. organization, though he naturally hopes to have its support. There was a little clash in the meeting when came to the clerkship, but it didn't last long. C. E. Castle, the A. P. A. candidate, being indicted by the court, the present incumbent, Dr. Hayes, veterinarian, was nominated, and D. W. Freeman was indicted for city attorney. Castle's name for clerk, is a printer by trade, but is not able to follow that occupation now or to hard manual labor. He has been a clerk in the auditor's office and in the office of the city clerk, and he is well known by those who know him. Secretary Roberts of the Board of Trade, is an independent candidate for treasurer. The names of the candidates for council were all given in the Post-Intelligencer yesterday. They include three or four members of the A. P. A. and two or three who are not members. The election occurs next Tuesday.

The Case of Major Armes.
Washington City, Nov. 28.—Counsel for the government in the case of Maj. George A. Armes, U. S. A., retired, whose arrest for insubordination, by order of Maj. Gen. Schofield, created a sensation two months ago, was heard in court today in the appeal to the district court of appeals from the decision of Judge Bradley discharging Armes from custody. The government contended that the lower court erred in ruling that Armes was illegally deprived of his liberty and that his arrest and confinement at quarters other than his own home was illegal. The attorney for Armes contended that the government was not entitled to the benefit of the doubt in the case, and that the court should assume that Armes' charges against Gen. Schofield were true and in ruling that the charges did not constitute insubordination, conduct as either an officer or a gentleman and prejudicial to discipline, and the contention is made that a court-martial has exclusive jurisdiction in all proceedings against military persons in the army, and it is contended that the civil courts cannot reverse or review action by the proper military authorities and can not relieve parties from the effect of them by writs of habeas corpus. The case will probably be argued next week.

The Catholic Schools in Manitoba.
Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The House of Commons has called to meet on January 1st, the Manitoba school question. The bill has been printed and provides for the restoration of Roman Catholic schools in Manitoba, with full power given them for their religious exercises. The history of England as written by Roman Catholic authors may be used, but the schools must be up to the required standard of efficiency, and if they can be paid any money out of the public funds their claim to the public grant is to be measured together by their standard of efficiency. It is stated that Hon. Clarke Wallace, controller of customs, sovereign grand master of the Orange order, has informed Premier Sir Mackenzie Bowell that if an attempt is made to pass the remedial bill, he will resign from the cabinet. Those who have taken the census of parliament say that the government cannot escape defeat if it attempts to restore the Catholic schools in Manitoba.

The South Wants Something, but Is Not on the Side.

Washington City, Nov. 28.—Eleven of the twenty-two Republican representatives of the South, exclusive of Missouri, went into caucus tonight to determine on their action respecting their choice for the officers of that body. Some dissatisfaction has been expressed by them at the slate already made up, which leaves the South without any representation in the elective officers of the house. After considerable discussion it was resolved by the caucus to stand by Gen. Henderson, of Illinois, for the position of clerk, and the surname of W. S. Tyson, of Tennessee, will be supported for the position of sergeant-at-arms. The members of the caucus are rather chagrined about the results of the caucus, and Mr. Tyson, of North Carolina, and H. Clay Evans were present for a short time.

STANFORD 6, BERKELEY 6.
The Closest, Most Exciting Game the Colleges Ever Played.

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Twenty-two men, representing the brown of the University of California and Stanford University, wrestled and struggled for an hour and a half this afternoon over a football. Thousands of spectators watched the game through a drizzling rain, and left their seats to cheer and yell. A great question that was to have been decided by the contest still unsettled, for the score was a tie. Stanford scored a touchdown and a goal early in the game, but was unable to make another point. The score stood at 6 to 0 until nearly the close of the second half, when the Berkeley boys with a rush and hurrah that was heard a block away, scored a goal and tied the game. Altogether it was the most bitterly contested game that has ever been played between the rival universities. Five minutes before the game set for the game the eleven lined up in the following order:

Stanford. Position. California.
Spaulding.....Right end.....Wilson
Cotton.....Right guard.....Huggins
Carle.....Center.....Plunkett
Williams.....Left guard.....Scribner
Campbell.....Left tackle.....Rheinhardt
Quartermaster.....Quarterback.....J. Reynolds
Reynolds.....Right half.....Sherman
Cochran, capt.....Fullback.....Ransome
Stanford had the kick-off, which was a long ball, but a short distance, and kicking was resorted to by both sides within a couple of downs. On next obtaining the ball Stanford tried the line, but failed in the first few moments worked well. Stanford was playing with ginger and snap, and with a couple of good runs around the line, Stanford gained and ran the line. Then line bucking took them inch by inch over a touchdown between the goal posts. A goal was kicked and the score was Stanford 6, Berkeley 0. Stanford attempted to score again, and for a while it looked probable, but the teams were by this time settling down to work, and Stanford's gains were not dangerous. The kicking was resorted to frequently, and Stanford was evidently playing the safe game. Ransome made a brilliant run, passing all the Stanford team but Cochran, whose kick he caught and ran in. He landed the ball close to the goal, but Berkeley could not push it over.

In the second half the fighting was hard. Both sides kicked often. Ransome made another brilliant run, and a goal was within sight, but in a subsequent play the ball was fumbled, and Stanford kicked it to midfield. Berkeley was playing hard, and this time a hard, good game. Stanford was unable to score again, and Ransome and Sherman were doing great work for their team, and carried the ball slowly down, with little time remaining, to the goal line. Stanford tried to score, but was not able to stop the rushes, and Berkeley put the ball over the line by very good work. Ransome kicked the goal, and the score was a tie. Some kicking was done, and the game was played until time was called. The play was interesting. There was a good deal of kicking, in which Ransome did splendidly. It had been expected that the game would have been a close one, but Stanford's position well, saving a touchdown three times and kicking excellently, especially when it showed that little extra he could be counted on. There was some fumbling, which was costly. Stanford's ends played well. Frankheimer, handicapped by a bad ankle, was not able to do much, but he did some good work. Reynolds gained nicely, as did Cochran. For Berkeley, Sherman and Ransome played most brilliantly, and they were the mainstay of the team. Berkeley was playing a good judgment in almost every play.

THE PURITAN IDEA.
Parkhurst Would Hang the Little Boy Train Wreckers AND STIFLE SOME NEWSPAPERS.

Empire William Has the Right Plan, the Doctor Thinks—The Excise Law Violations.

New York, Nov. 28.—In his Thanksgiving sermon today in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church Rev. Dr. Parkhurst took for his subject the prevailing lawlessness and its cause. For the first time in fifteen years his congregation broke into cheers during the sermon. It was when he asserted that he was proud of his Puritan ancestry and wished there was a ridge of Plymouth Rocks from the Battery of Westchester.

The sermon contained some sensational features, one of which was an allusion to the Rome boy train wreckers, who, he said, should be tried and convicted within a week and hanged within a month, for the good of society.

After discussing the excise law, Dr. Parkhurst attacked the papers. He said: "And it is one of the most startling and appalling features of the entire situation that there have been newspapers that, with brazen audacity, have aided and abetted these anarchists and conspirators, and that, seven days in the week, beside extras, have flaunted their criminal sympathy with crime, and have resorted to every conceivable villainous journalistic device to make ridiculous the officials that undertook to do what they swore they would do, and to make reputable criminals that trampled on the law and that ought to have been treated to a cell and not to a lounge."

"Some papers that have for months made a steady practice of investigating crime would, if they had been published in Berlin, have been confiscated with the publication machinery, and the managers retired to enforced privacy and a diet of bread and water. We are not objecting to the liberty of the press, but we do decidedly object to the license of the press; we object to the issue of incendiary sheets that make it their study to inflame tens of thousands of combustible men against the execution of the lawfully expressed will of the voters of this commonwealth. It is treason.
