

THE SPORTING FIELD.

S. A. C. and T. A. C. Will Meet in a Bowling Match.

RULES FOR THE BOXING MEET.

Secretary Bean Refutes a San Francisco Story About Corbett and Jackson—At the Traps.

The phenomenal interest taken in bowling at the Seattle Athletic Club still continues and in fact has increased so much during the past two or three weeks that the bowling committee is sighing for more room.

The proposition is favored in Portland and has been mentioned favorably by the Oregonian at that time that the only objection having for an object the consummation of such a contest, had not been commenced as far as can be ascertained in this city.

Entries are now open and may be made upon application to the bowling attendant, entrance fee, 25 cents. The entries will close February 19 at 9 o'clock in the evening.

THE "WHISTERS" ARE COMING.

North Pacific Whist Tournament to Be Held in Seattle March 5-7. At a meeting of the directors of the North Pacific Whist Association, held in this city on Thursday last, it was decided to hold their annual convention and tournament in Seattle.

The present limits of the association embrace Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. The first tournament of the association was held in Tacoma in March, 1894.

The actual scores made by members as kept by the bowling attendant since the January tournament, and the actual scores made in the February tournament will be averaged up, the first six members will compose the first team, and the next six the second team.

In the event of absence from practice the vacancy shall be temporarily filled by the committee or in their absence by the captain of the team in which the vacancy occurs.

RULES FOR BOXING.

Conditions to Be Enforced in the S. A. C. Tournament.

Entry blanks for the boxing tournament to be given at the S. A. C. gymnasium March 11 and 12, with permission of the Pacific Northwest Association of the A. A. U. were sent yesterday afternoon to the following clubs:

1. Weight shall be: Bantam, not exceeding 125 pounds; feather, not exceeding 135 pounds; light, not exceeding 155 pounds; middle, not exceeding 175 pounds; heavy, any weight above 175 pounds.

2. Competitors shall weigh on the day of competition (at some hour to be fixed by the board of directors), in boxing costume, and in all competitions the ring shall be of such size as to allow a full length of 20 feet and not less than 16 feet.

3. The P. N. A. U. shall appoint a referee, two judges and two timekeepers. When the judges disagree, the referee shall decide. All decisions shall be final. None but the referee and the competitors shall be allowed in the ring during rounds.

minutes. Should a glove burst or come off it shall be replaced by the referee. Any tampering with the gloves by forcing the hair from the knuckles, or otherwise, shall be considered foul.

5. Each competitor shall be entitled to the assistance of two seconds (not professionals), who, during the rounds, shall not interfere, advise or direct the competitors; shall refrain from all offensive and irritating expressions, and in all respects conduct themselves with order and decorum.

6. Where a competitor draws a bye, such competitor shall be bound to spar such bye for the specified number of rounds, and with such opponent as the judges of such competition may approve.

7. In the event of any question arising not provided for in these rules, the judges and referee shall have full power to decide such question or interpretation of rule.

In the Times of Saturday evening appears an item credited to the San Francisco Call alleging that the Coaches of this city, while in San Francisco announced that a limited round fight between James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson could be arranged here when most of the Seattle Athletic Club, and that a purse big enough to draw a crowd could be raised for that purpose.

The Deschamps Club has been challenged during the past year by several clubs of the association, winning in every contest, and still holds the cup. The principal contest of the tournament will be for the cup, and if the Deschamps club expects to carry off the honors of the present convention it must be prepared to overcome clubs that pin their faith to shorts, clubs that swear by long suit leads, clubs that fluncheon at every opening.

The inter-club match for this cup will be at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, one round of thirty-six deals being played. The second and third rounds will be played on Friday, and the finals on Saturday afternoon.

One of the most pleasing features of the tournament of the American Whist League, which was held at Minneapolis in June last, was the contest for pairs. A contest conducted upon the same plan will be inaugurated at the present convention.

The preliminary play will be Friday afternoon and evening, and will be conducted under the John T. Mitchell progressive system, north and south against east and west pairs. The highest north and south pairs, and the two highest east and west pairs, will constitute the finals, which will be played under the two-table duplicate system on Saturday afternoon.

The Hawthorne Stallion Stakes.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—The 1897 stallion stakes of Hawthorne, $5,000, for six-year-old colts, drew 612 foals under the January 1, 1896, conditions. The notable withdrawals were those of President M. Young, of the Chicago Congress, who failed to enter his 1885 products of Harover, Strathmore, Onondaga and Pirate of Penance. With his present entry, the stake will be worth between $20,000 and $30,000.

Ballard Athletic Club.

The ladies who have recently become members of the Ballard Athletic Club held a meeting Wednesday evening at a woman's branch of the club, with the following officers: President, Miss Eva Winsor; vice president, Mrs. White; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. F. Leather; doorkeeper, Miss White.

Ormonde's Colt to Run.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—St. Louis is to be favored by the first appearance on the American turf of a son of the mighty Ormonde. W. O. McDonough, the owner of Ormonde, has decided to race in the East this year and will take with him a small but select stable.

Fir Lumber Tests.

Pacific Lumber Trade Journal.

Nearly all of the lumber woods of the country have been tested by the United States government, except those of the Pacific Northwest. Exhaustive tests of white, yellow and long leaf pine have been made under government authority at the Washington University, St. Louis, and have been of great value to the lumbermen of the South and white pine states, but there has never been an appropriation made for tests of Douglas fir. Now, however, Senator Squire, of this state, at the suggestion of C. W. Saunders, an architect of Seattle, and a prominent member of the state chapter American Institute of Architects, has introduced a bill, which was read twice in the senate and referred to the committee on agriculture and forestry, which makes an appropriation for thorough tests. The bill is as follows:

"Whereas, An enormous waste of valuable material and incalculable loss of life and property occurs from ignorance of the true value and strength of American timber; and

"Whereas, A thorough examination and elaborate tests of our timber have been introduced in the forestry division of the department of agriculture, but have proceeded very slowly, and have from time to time been entirely discontinued on account of deficient appropriation; therefore,

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the sum of $200,000 be and it is hereby appropriated, out of the funds now in the treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, for the continuance of these investigations, this sum to be applied as follows: First, the purchase of the necessary equipment and for the speedy publication of results, to be expended under the direction of the secretary of agriculture; and secondly, the purchase of the necessary equipment and for the speedy publication of results, to be expended under the direction of the secretary of agriculture; and furthermore, that not less than 30 per cent. of the amount appropriated be devoted to the testing of timbers of the Pacific coast; provided, that states institutions or private citizens of any of the Pacific coast states agree to fit up a testing laboratory satisfactory to the secretary of agriculture and subject to his control for the time of such testing. Such appropriation, or so much of it as the secretary of agriculture shall decide to be necessary, to be immediately available.

The different associations on the coast should meet and lend their aid to so worthy an object.

Sad Experience of an African Chief.

Missionary effort does not seem to have made a very favorable impression upon one Homemumu, a native chief of Natal. This autocrat has forbidden the open profession of the Christian faith in his dominions, on the ground that it demoralizes the women, and leads the men to defy his authority. A certain proselyte of the tribe, by name Ngubane, justified the latter part of this theory by bringing action against the sovereign in the high court of the empire. A junction, so far as I can make out, and damages for the loss of his spiritual consolation and privileges. However, in the interests of Christianity, Mr. Ngubane went to the court of appeals and this time the chief was beaten.
