PATENT TO N. P. LAND.

Enormous Volume Filed for Record With the County Auditor. At the request of Thomas Cooper, western land agent of the Northern Pacific, that county yesterday filed for record with County Auditor Bennett a volume of 149 manuscript pages containing 40,609 words, and covering 92,075.25 acres of the Northern Pacific land grant in Washington. The land is situated in thirteen counties, namely King, Yakima, Pierce, Snohomish, Thurston, Lewis, Snohomish, Kittitas, Okanogan, Douglas, Whitman, Franklin and Adams, and as the cost of recording in each county is $12.14, the total cost will be $1,810. The document was signed by the president May 10, 1885, and has been filed for record as follows: Yakima county, August 19; Pierce county, September 19; Thurston county, November 20; Lewis, December 11. It would appear from the record that a year and a half will be required for it to be spread on the records of the various counties. Mr. Bennett has already made arrangements to have the instrument transcribed, and says the task will be completed in ten days.

The title page of the book contains the following legend: "Patent No. 22, Northern Pacific railroad lands, primary limits; North Yakima, Olympia, Walla Walla and Portland lands, secondary limits; and lands on the Pacific coast by the northern route," and to the joint resolution of May 21, 1870, whereby there was granted to the company, its successors and assigns, the purpose of aiding in the construction of the railroad and telegraph line "every alternate section of public land, not mineral, designated by odd numbers to the east of the said Pacific coast sections."

It appears further "that official statements from the secretary of the interior have been filed in the general land office showing that the commissioners appointed by the president under the provisions of the act have reported that the railroad and telegraph line and branch, excepting that portion between Walla Walla and Portland declared forfeited by the act of September 21, 1884, have been fully completed and equipped, and accepted by the president. The remainder of the patent, preceding the declaration of the lands is as follows: "And, whereas, certain tracts have been listed under the acts aforesaid by the duly authorized agent of said Northern Pacific Railroad company, and shown by his original lists approved by the local officers, and on file in this office.

"And, whereas, the said tracts of land are co-terminous with the constructed line of road and are partially described as follows, to-wit:—

NO INTEREST ON THE PENALTY.

A Decision Affecting the Payment of Delinquent Taxes.

For some time past County Treasurer Madsen has been in doubt as to the legality of charging interest on the penalty added to delinquent taxes, and he had instructed Deputy Padden that the interest should be collected. A number of protests were made on account of this charge, principally by heavy taxpayers, and Mr. Madsen consequently asked Prosecuting Attorney Hays for an opinion as to the meaning of the law. The opinion which has been written by Deputy Wilsheir and concurred in by Mr. Hays, was delivered to the treasurer yesterday, as follows: "The tax of the year 1895, interest which has been charged and collected by you upon the net amount of delinquent taxes or upon the sum of such delinquent taxes and the penalty thereon. In reply, have to advise you that I cannot find any statute in question which requires that interest should be charged and collected only on the taxes, without the penalty added."

THE CHILD TO THE MOTHER.

Mrs. Dahl Given the Custody of Her Daughter Hepler Becomes Legal.

In the case of Gertrude E. Dahl vs. Ole Robert Dahl, Judge Humes yesterday issued a decree awarding to the plaintiff the custody of the child, Mabel Pauline Dahl, subject to the right of the father to visit her at suitable hours on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; and subject further to his right of control for two months in each year beginning with the summer vacation in 1901, when the child will arrive at the age of 9, but during the period of the two months the mother is to be allowed to visit the child at pleasure. The father ordered to pay the mother $5 a month for the support of the child, beginning April 27, 1896, and continuing as long as she is a minor. The mother is given the right to have the child awarded to her in full, and she is awarded a lot in block 6, Lindenau, where she was married at Killduff, Jasper county, Iowa, March 20, 1890, and the divorce was granted on the ground of desertion. Hepler lives at Columbia.

O'Brien Must Give Up.

According to a writ of assistance signed by Judge Osborn yesterday Terence O'Brien must vacate certain property on the right-of-way of Northern Pacific and other tracts involved in the suit of J. H. Allen vs. Joseph McCabe and O'Brien. From a petition filed by Allen it was shown he secured a judgment on January 8, 1895, for $1,200.50 and costs taxed at $48.10. An execution was duly issued and in time the property sold by the sheriff, being bid in by Allen. The sale was confirmed, but O'Brien refused to yield. The order was directed to the sheriff commanding him in the name of the state to oust O'Brien and to place Allen in possession.

Objections Long Drawn Out.

The entire afternoon in Judge Humes' court yesterday was consumed by a hearing of objections to the report of Referee Bell in the case of Cornell University et al. vs. the Denay Hotel Company et al. The controversy was unfinished at the time of adjournment, and the hearing will be resumed today.

The amount involved in the suit of C. M. Sheafe, receiver of the Washington Savings bank, vs. W. D. Wood, which was referred to in Sunday's issue, should have been stated as $25,000. Mr. Wood has paid a portion of the amount so that the balance of the claim is $1,363.

TO SEARCH FOR CADZOW FOREST.

Treasury Department Will Send the Corwin After the Missing Bark.

A telegram from the treasury department was received yesterday afternoon by Capt. Munger, ordering him to proceed at once to search for the British bark Cadzow Forest. On account of the repairs on the Corwin not being completed it was impossible for her to leave last night, but Capt. Munger expects to leave this morning not later than 10 o'clock. "I will sail along the west coast of Vancouver island and as far up as Cape Scott," he said. "Then if I have not sighted the bark I will return to the signal service office and learn if any thing definite has been found out."

The plates and angles for the torpedo boat, now under construction by Moran Bros., are expected to arrive in Seattle about March 1. The steam boiler for the revenue tug Golden Gate, also to be built by the Morans, is now being built under government direction in the East, and is expected to be ready within a month.

BREVITIES.

W. J. Dowsett, an employe of the Seattle Box Factory, was struck by a falling board yesterday afternoon and injured slightly. The timber which was to have been given at Mrs. Sackman's residence yesterday afternoon is indefinitely postponed. Among the building permits granted yesterday was one for a two-story brick store frame house on Thomas street, near Dexter, cost, $600.

THE ALASKA TRADE.

The interest in Alaska is increasing daily, as the letters received at the free bureau of information indicate. J. O. Hestwood, who is in charge of the bureau, said: "It gives me most satisfaction to tell all interested parties that Seattle is the best place to purchase first-class outfits. I am glad to see the interest the merchants of the city are taking in the Alaska trade and meeting the needs of the people."

SAY THEY DON'T FIT. Secret Societies and Duties of Ministers.

THEY ARE NOT HEAVEN BORN. That is, Secret Societies Are Not—The Ministerial Monday Meeting Discusses the Subject.

At the ministerial meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday the ministers were almost unanimous in expressing the opinion that membership in a secret organization is inconsistent with the duties of a pastor. Rev. P. J. McDonald, of the Reformed Presbyterian church, made a strong opening speech against secret societies, speaking from principle rather than expediency. "Do they meet the approval of the Divine word?" he asked. "Are they heaven born? If not, they stand condemned before the minister." He enumerated three recognized and divinely instituted divisions of society: family, church and state, to all of which, he said, the lodge was opposed. The secrecy of the institutions concerned was opposed to truth, and to show the evils of a secret organization he quoted from the Bible passages relating the murders and crimes committed by secret bodies. Taking up the oath, he found that only divine institutions have the right to administer it, and the penalties prescribed in the Masonic oath were, he declared, not such pleasant ones as the other initiators. He thought that the Holy Bible was always open in the lodge room surrounded by a square and compass. The first to rise to the chair was Rev. D. T. Denny, who said that he was a member of the lodge, and that he had shown that they were square men, and the third to circumscribe and hold within bounds the passions. In response to a witty reply by Denny, the other ministers and visitors. He thought that the Holy Bible was always open in the lodge room surrounded by a square and compass.
