

Just within the embrace he may have to give to his trial. The Times' editorial article then proceeds to justify Mr. Rhodes for committing to an armed force on the frontier, on the ground that it was a foregone conclusion that in several years an attempt to obtain a redress of a Gibraltar grievance by force might be made. This was the opinion of the Times, by the report that Mr. Henry Loch had knowledge of such an intention. Nobody will seriously dispute Mr. Rhodes' loyalty, but his position as premier should have restrained him from sending actively to the assistance of a man who has possibly committed a crime against the part he played. Mr. Rhodes, Mr. Bell and Mr. Harris may be called to account as individuals, but this does not necessarily involve a condemnation of the country. In the question what should be done with Mr. Rhodes and the Chartered Company, it must not be forgotten that there is a strong anti-British feeling at Pretoria, ready to take any advantage of any weakness on our part.

The Times has a dispatch from Paris, quoting a dispatch to the Temps from Pretoria, which says: "The government has found among the papers of Léonard Phillips, president of the Chartered Company, a letter bearing date July 1, 1894, to a London financier, proving that during a visit to Johannesburg Mr. Henry Brougham Loch, then secretary and high commissioner of Cape Colony, asked Mr. Phillips whether Johannesburg could hold out for sixty days, and what arrangements he would make if offered to defend the Transvaal convention negotiations for six months to enable Johannesburg to prepare, and to bring troops for an invasion of the Transvaal."

"FLOTATION" DIDN'T SUCCEED. Interesting Telegrams Captured by the Boers That Convinced Rhodes. Pretoria, April 30.—The text of the telegrams produced in court at the trial of the reformers was published late today. Following are a few new specimens: "Chartered, Cape Town, December 7, to Rhodes, Johannesburg: 'Cecil Rhodes says several documents here that British South Africa Company's attorneys may satisfy themselves, of which you can draw for amount.'"

"Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg, to Chartered, Cape Town.—Informed Rhodes stated that he would not give any special letter inviting him. Definite assurance was given by all of us that on day of flotation you and he will leave. Must be no departure from this, as many subscribers agreed to take shares on this assurance. If letter necessary can still be sent. But it was agreed documents left with Stephens were sufficient, and that you are responsible for obtaining the necessary documents for this right. Reply to Lionel Phillips."

"Harris, Cape Town, December 2, to Col. Rhodes, Johannesburg: 'Cecil Rhodes has telegraphed Lionel Phillips to urge start flotation new company. Wire reply when you can float.'"

"Harris, Cape Town, Dec. 2, to Jameson, Pitsani: 'Company will be floated next Saturday 12 o'clock night. They very anxious; you must not start before 9 o'clock and secure telegraph office silence. We suspect Transvaal telegraph office.'"

"Harris, Cape Town, Dec. 2, to Jameson, Pitsani: 'You must not move before Saturday night. We are freely confident this will take place on Saturday night.'"

"Hammond, Johannesburg, Dec. 1, to Cecil Rhodes, Grottochur: 'Can't arrange respective interests without Beit. Flotation must be taken until his arrival. How soon you can come?'

Then follow several telegrams from Col. Rhodes, Hammond and others, dated December 2 and later, saying that it was absolutely necessary to postpone the flotation, as "we can have no success." Another dispatch reads: "Hammond, December 2, to Hamilton, Cape Town: 'How about your joining present? Are ready start printing.'"

"Jameson, Pitsani, December 2, to R. A. Jameson, Johannesburg: 'Bechuanaland police already going for Hammond. Bechuanaland already given. Therefore let J. H. Hammond telegraph instantly all right.'"

THE UPRISINGS' SENTENCE. Final Verdict for Hammond and Other Chief Conspirators. London, April 30.—Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Balfour, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that he had received the following dispatch from Sir J. A. DeWitt, British agent at Pretoria: "Both the sentences condemn severely the sentences, and are petitioning for mitigation or free pardon."

Pretoria, April 30.—The sensation caused by the sentence to the death of Hammond, Rhodes, Phillips and Farrar, and the subsequent commutation of their sentences, has not worn itself out. Burghers of influence are flooding into the city, begging the government to totally abolish the sentences upon the so-called reformers. It is reported that the executive court has decided to impose a sentence of five years' penal servitude, and at the expiration of that time banishment for life, upon the four men named. In order to justify such severe treatment the executive court refers to the records of the trial. Telegrams were put in evidence which from a cipher key discovered in Jameson's baggage proved beyond a doubt the complicity of the British South Africa Company with the Johannesburg reform leaders and with Jameson's raid. Hammond was evidently opposed to any breach of the law, for in a telegram dated December 1, he requested further prosecution of the contemplated movement.

After his sentence Mr. Hammond collapsed and was taken directly to jail in charge of his doctor and the chief jailer. The principal prisoners were driven to the prison with a strong police escort. The remaining prisoners were taken to a distance half a mile surrounded by a strong detachment of artillery. The prisoners are very bitter, and say they were ill-advised in pleading guilty. Fifty of them avow they could have proved their innocence of complicity or participation, except in joining the movement late in the day and signing the manifesto. A strong feeling exists that behind the scenes the British were absent men far more guilty, who were plotting against the independence of the republic.

Washington City, April 30.—A cablegram was received by Secretary Olney from Pretoria, this time from Mr. Chapin, the resident agent there of Grace & Co., of New York, who confirmed the first report of the commutation of Hammond's sentence, explaining the failure of the other cablegram to state the nature of the commutation by adding that the substitute sentence had not yet been determined as to those sentenced to death, while, as for the other prisoners who were sentenced to life, the two sentences of five years' and three years' banishment, no action at all had yet been taken by the council on the sentence imposed by the judge.

BULUWAYO IS SAFE.
Natives Will Not Attack Again—Arrived April 29.—Earl Grey, co-administrator with Mr. Cecil Rhodes in the territory of the British Chartered South African Co., has arrived here with a strong escort.

The recent actions of the insurgent Matabelas have resulted in inflicting such severe loss upon them that Buluwayo is looked upon as practically relieved, and it is no longer believed that the natives will attack the town in force. It is said that this disposition prevails among the Matabelas, and that the rest of the threats to wipe out the Sekuti, Imbeu and Imboxo regiments.

THE MURDER OF CAPT. DWYER.
Additional Particulars as to His Death at the Hands of an Immense Chinaman. Port Townsend, April 30.—Special.—Additional particulars of the murder of Capt. Philip Dwyer, master of the American schooner Lyman D. Foster, which sailed from New Whatcom on December 21 with a cargo of lumber destined for Shanghai, were received today from the bark B. P. Chesey, which arrived from the Orient after a quick passage of thirty-four days.

The man was murdered by an immense half-breed Chinese cook, and then the murderer dramatically leaped over the rail into the sea and was drowned. While the tragedy was being enacted the crew and officers were paralyzed with fear. It happened so quickly and unexpectedly, they said, that it was all over in an instant. The captain was being carried by a white man, and at the various mill ports on Fugate sound and when the brief cablegram in the Post-Intelligencer was published recently announced the untimely death, many were the deep expressions of regret manifested by shipping men.

Shortly after the Lyman D. Foster lost sight of the American coast the Chinese cook, whose father was a white man, and who was born and raised in California, exhibited signs of insanity. He threatened the lives of the mates and crew several times. In each instance, however, his anger subsided when Capt. Dwyer went forward and disarmed him of a butcher knife or an ax, as the case might have been. On the 21st of December, however, the cook came out of the cabin and, without provocation or warning began chasing the fore-castle hands around with an ax. The mates were quickly driven aft, and for a few minutes the Chinaman was monarch of the vessel. Capt. Dwyer was informed of the occurrence and came on deck, and without much trouble disarmed the cook, and without much trouble disarmed the cook, and without much trouble disarmed the cook.

The Tacoma Charter Amendments. Tacoma, April 30.—Special.—Confident that Judge Hallcock would dismiss the suit to test the validity of the charter amendments brought by the city against the board of public works, as he had that brought by ex-Librarian Taylor in defense of his right to his office, a large crowd of Populists and Democrats gathered at the city hall today. Thomas Doherty, the barber appointed to the office of commissioner of public works, was on hand, hoping to see the temporary restraining order would be dissolved and that he would be allowed to take possession of the office. Mr. Doherty's hopes were brightened, as the court decided to allow the defense to dismiss the case, and the suit will be heard on its merits Saturday.

South Bend, April 30.—Special.—The First National Bank of South Bend, which suspended last August, has declared its first dividend, which amounts to $7,444.56, or 15 percent of the total liabilities, which were $49,630.21. The money will be paid out in the form of checks, and will go to local depositors and stockholders. The company, which had $27,500 in the bank, will receive $2,500 and this city $200.

The Lewis River Survey. Washington City, April 30.—Special.—Settlers along the north fork of the Lewis river are worrying because they fear that the government has made no preparation to survey that portion of the river, and will confine its work to the south fork. The river and harbor bill contains two provisions for the examination and survey of the Lewis river, and both forks are to be taken care of in that way. The bill will place them in line of appropriations in the succeeding congresses.

An Epworth League Missing. San Francisco, April 30.—Thomas Barnes, a member of Trinity Methodist church and secretary of its Epworth League, has been missing for eight days. Barnes formerly lived in Buffalo, where he has relatives. He came here a year ago from Portland, Or., where he had been engaged as a school teacher. He intended to study law here, but was without means, and made his living as a grocer's solicitor.

W. A. Holcomb, of San Francisco, Dead. Oakland, Cal., April 30.—William A. Holcomb, one of the best-known business men of the Pacific coast, and president of the San Francisco produce exchange and merchants' exchange, died tonight shortly before 10 o'clock at his residence in this city. Mr. Holcomb had been ill for some six months with an affection of the kidneys.

P. C. SULLIVAN WINS.

OVER COMBINED OPPOSITION.
Nelson Bennett Falls to Carry His Own Precinct—The Contest Very Sharp.

Tacoma, April 30.—Special.—Never was there a primary election in Tacoma's history in which more interest was taken than that held this afternoon. In the fight for endorsement of the Pierce county convention for delegates to the national convention the best known workers in the Republican party became involved. The honor has been any one up within the last two days, and since the primaries it has been P. C. Sullivan against the field. Mr. Sullivan had the support of many prominent Republican workers, and they have been working for his election. Both Alexander Reed and Nelson Bennett have developed a large personal following, but the strength of neither can be estimated accurately till the county convention meets. In a number of precincts tickets were put up against the Sullivan forces, which were evenly divided between Reed and Bennett. The fight in the Second precinct of the Third ward was of this kind, and the battle was warm. In the Fifth of the Second the contest was as animated as in any part of the city.

The primaries passed off without unusual incident other than the keen contest for supremacy made by the three leading candidates for endorsement of the Pierce county convention for delegates to St. Louis, Sullivan, Reed and Bennett. Returns from twenty-six out of thirty-five precincts in the city indicate that Sullivan is ahead of his competitors, and a conservative estimate of his strength from the city alone is 135. The Third ward went practically solid for Sullivan, and the rest of the city precincts were carried by him except the Fourth, in which Reed resides. More than half of the Fifth ward delegation are from the Second ward, and the Eighth, which was carried by Frank Cushman, will go to Sullivan if its favorite has no chance of success.

A strong fight was made against Sullivan in his own precinct, the Fifth of the Second ward. The delegation named by him won, two to one and better. Of the ten delegates in Bennett's precinct, the Second of the Second ward, are for Sullivan and three unpledged, with a tendency to go to Reed. Reed's precinct's twelve votes went solid for him. He and Bennett will probably divide 100 city delegates between them.

A Recount Granted to Orr. Tacoma, April 30.—Special.—Judge Pritchard today overruled the motion to dismiss made by City Attorney Johnson in the case brought by ex-Mayor Edward S. Orr. The motion was argued Tuesday and taken under advisement by the court till this morning. The motion raised by Mayor Favcett's attorneys was that of the jurisdiction of the court in a case of the kind. Judge Pritchard held that the court has jurisdiction under the charter, and the motion was overruled. The March 1st will go down in the last ditch before he submits to a recount of the ballots was quickly made evident by a motion made immediately after the election by attorney Judson. The latter announced that he would prepare a motion within a day or so to have the allegations in the complaint made more definite, and the nomination representing ex-Mayor Orr, retained an attempt at postponement, and asked that the motion be made and acted upon on the spot. The court so decided, and as soon as Attorney Judson had stated his motion it was overruled. The defense was then given five days to answer, with the understanding that as soon as the answer is filed the case will immediately be tried.

The State Populist Convention. Tacoma, April 30.—Special.—Chairman M. P. Bulger, of the People's party state committee, has called a meeting of the Populist party in Tacoma for Saturday, May 12. The question to be discussed is whether separate conventions should be held for the election of delegates to the national convention, and the nomination of a state ticket or only one at which delegates and state officials will be nominated. If only one convention is held, it will be held at the home of the national convention. This would result in the nomination of a straight Populist state and congressional ticket, as it is hardly possible that the state committee could be accomplished before the national conventions are held. The Populists throughout the state are said to be divided on the proposition. The members of the executive committee are: M. P. Bulger, of Tacoma; C. W. Young, of Whitman county; J. A. Davis, of Snohomish; J. P. Coffeen, of Spokane, and S. M. Allen, of King county.

The Tacoma Charter Amendments. Detroit, April 30.—The financial plank of the Michigan Democracy, adopted last night, is as follows: "On the financial question we recognize that this administration stands upon and has consistently carried out the platform of 1892, on which it was elected by the people, which decided that the parity of the metals in our currency shall be maintained. The platform of the national convention, which has carried the country over, is the platform for our party, should be the doctrine of the Democrats until a new platform is formed."

Senator Dubois said: "Wolcott's letter will not find a cordial response in the minds of the great majority of our Western people. We believe in the commonwealth and the interests of the country lie in the direction of free coinage of silver, and I, for one, desire to get where that sentiment finds its freest expression. We never counted Wolcott as among us," said Senator Stewart, of Nevada, "so his letter is really not much of a surprise."
