TREATED LIKE FELON. President of Commercial Light Co., Tacoma, Arrested. POCKETS SEARCHED AT THE JAIL. Mayor Fawcett Waging Relentless War on the Corporation.

A Drunken Fellow Stabs a Young Woman at Elma-Sulclie of a Millman at Cosmopolis-A Miner Killed at Roslyn-Decision Unfavorable to United States in Sealing Suit.

Tacoma, July 28.-Special.-Charles B. Hurley, president and general manager of the Commercial Light & Power Company, was arrested today by the police, charged with the violation of ordinance 82, which prohibits the stretching of wires in the streets and alleys of the city without a permit from the city engineer.

The first arrest was made at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and the prisoners were taken to the police station by Officer Bark, who arrested them today by the police, charged with the violation of ordinance 82, which prohibits the stretching of wires in the streets and alleys of the city without a permit from the city engineer.

Among business men generally the greatest indignation prevails over the treatment suffered by Mr. Hurley at the hands of the police. It is plain that the police are making a mistake by the fight he is making against the Commercial Company, and he is a vigorous fighter. Not content with arresting the president of the Commercial Company, the city has asked Judge Stalle for writ of citation directing Mr. Hurley to appear in court tomorrow and show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court in violating the injunction issued last week.

An amusing circumstance in connection with Mr. Hurley's arrest is that the men in the power house of the Tacoma Light & Meter Company for several days have been talking such an unusual amount of the time, and in the very noise of the police. When Mayor Fawcett heard of this he was very indignant at Chief Hing and ordered him his opinion of the laxity of the police.

Manier T. Berry, a Millman, Shoots Himself. Aberdeen, July 28.-Special.-Last night a death by suicide occurred in Cosmopolis, two miles east of here, the victim being Manier T. Berry, a well-known and respected citizen of that place. Death was caused by a pistol shot which, it is reasonably certain, was fired about 9:15 o'clock in the evening. At that hour a party of Odd Fellows returning from lodge headquarters in the sound came from the direction of Mr. Berry's premises, but nothing was thought of the matter until the morning. Mr. Berry's housekeeper went to his room at the house to call him, but found the room empty and undisturbed and a lamp burning brightly. He called the neighbors and they commenced a search, which soon ended by the discovery of Mr. Berry lying face downward in the grass in his own yard. A 22-caliber revolver lay on the ground near his extended right hand, and a bullet wound back of his right ear showed where a shot had penetrated the base of his head and brought instant death. Two chambers were empty, but then a third shot was fired and the bullet struck the dead man's forehead. The dead man was a native of Maine, but had resided in this vicinity for several years. He was married, had two children, three children, the oldest of whom is about 12 years of age, and a wife, who is insane and now in the asylum at Stella-come, near this place.

For some time past Mr. Berry had been suffering from ill health, and this, combined with a constant brooding over his wife's unfortunate condition, caused him many fits of despondency. His friends may remember that for weeks past he had been acting queerly, and he evidently contemplated the act and had carefully arranged for it. His life was insured in the New York Life for $2,000, and he had considerable cash and good property besides. Mr. Berry was about 52 years of age, and was a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

ATTEMPT TO KILL A WOMAN. E. L. Moody Stabs Mrs. H. J. Bunn at Elma. Aberdeen, July 28.-Special.-A dastardly attempt at murder was made at Elma, twenty miles east of here, last night, when E. L. Moody struck a knife blade into the whole length into the left breast of Mrs. H. J. Bunn, wife of the proprietor of the Elma hotel. A struggle preceded the savage blow, during which Mrs. Bunn was badly cut in her right hand while trying to take her husband by the throat. At first the wound, which seems likely to cut through his existence, soon came, and the cowardly deed disappeared in the night. It is only known that at about 9 o'clock in the evening the couple were standing near the front door in the hallway of the hotel, and those who came found the woman alone, wounded as described. At first it was thought that the wound in the breast was necessarily fatal, but a thorough examination shows that no vital spot was touched, and physicians say the wound is not necessarily though probably fatal.

DR. JAMESON IN JAIL. The Transvaal Freebooter and His Officers Sentenced. NOT HEROES NOW BUT CONVICTS. Justice Russell Instructs Jury to Find the Raiders Guilty.

London, July 28.-The attendance at the trial of Dr. Jameson and his associates was never so large as today, and the greatest interest was manifested in the proceedings. The opening part of Lord Russell's summing up, however, and his two hours' recapitulation of the evidence, was uninteresting, and even Dr. Jameson and the other defendants looked at times, Sir Edward Clarke alone shone.

Moody is described as follows: Height, about 6 feet; weight, about 230; slightly stocky, with a somewhat heavy build; eyes, dark brown hair and mustache; rather flat nose; wore a brown coat with dark buttons and without hat when he appeared.

Attempt to Kill a Magnetic Healer. Whatcom, July 28.-Special.-An attempt was made last night to kill some one known as "Prof." Menzies out on Elizabeth street, in the northern part of the city. The professor, who seems to own his title in his former practice as a magnetic healer and present vendor of nostrums, was going home about 9:30 when a stranger stepped in front of him and after looking him over a moment or two asked him if he was not Prof. Menzies. Receiving an affirmative reply, he endeavored to bludgeon the professor with a vine-maple stick. After breaking that over the professor's arm, the latter wrenched it from the man, and then he threw a shot at Menzies with a small caliber pistol, the ball lodging in the professor's leg just above the ankle. Fortunately for the professor, probably, Mr. Menzies was coming into town and was quite near by, heard the report and saw the flash and ran to the scene of the trouble and helped the professor home, where his wound, which is not at all serious, was dressed. His assailant had escaped in the darkness, and Mr. Menzies says he has no idea who he was, but that he would be glad to help in the case if he could be of any service.

THE YARDE-BULLER SCANDAL. A Rich California Girl Punished for Marrying a Fugitive. London, July 28.-In the divorce action of the high court of justice today before Sir Francis James presiding judge, the suit for divorce was brought by Walter Yarde-Buller against Mrs. Yarde-Buller, daughter of the late Gen. Kirkham, of San Francisco, was returned.

Yarde-Buller, according to his wife's testimony, was declared bankrupt in 1888, and he had since then lived in the United States, visiting his friends. While in America, Yarde-Buller wrote a confession regarding his conduct toward her and his father, which confession was witnessed by Mr. Majorbanks, his lawyer. All this time Kirkham was supplying Yarde-Buller with money for his support. Yarde-Buller returned to England in 1891, and eleven months later his wife rejoined him. He went to Thurston and lived there during the absence of her belongings had been sold, including her wedding gifts. Gen. Kirkham, who had been in the United States, advanced $2,000 to be expended at Thurston.

Mrs. Yarde-Buller testified that her husband left her alone at Thurston with a servant, and she had to look after a while her father was dying of a broken heart thousands of miles away on account of her husband's conduct toward her. After Kirkham's death it was announced that Mrs. Yarde-Buller had been a large fortune, and her husband returned to the United States. Respondent further testified that Yarde-Buller pulled her hair, kicked her and struck her, and that during her absence he had committed adultery with Valentine Golden. She had employed Golden to look after her affairs and protect her from her husband's violence, paying him a salary a day. Mr. Golden, she admitted, had been living in the same house with her since December last. The respondent was asked whether she had any other children. She said she had one, a girl named Goldie, who would destroy her reputation. She replied: "That is the name of Yarde-Buller." After some corroborative evidence the case was again adjourned.

INDIANA POPULISTS BJECT FUSION. Indianapolis, July 28.-The Populists at their convention held here today adhered to the straight middle-of-the-road policy of nominating a full straight state ticket. The straight Populist ticket, however, turning down every measure that seemed in the nature of an endorsement of the Democratic national ticket. A full state ticket was put up, headed by Thomas Wadsworth, of Raglessville, for governor. A motion was made after the nomination of the straight ticket, and a conference committee, one from each district and four from the state at large, to confer with the Democratic state central committee with a view to arranging a set of electors to fill vacancies on the state ticket, but this looked too much like fusion to the middle-of-the-road faction, and at an early hour this morning no vote had been reached.

MR. BRYAN'S PRUDENCE. He Will Not Talk About the St. Louis Convention. Lincoln, Neb., July 28.-The stream of visitors to the Bryan home is on the increase. Nixon and Davis, on route here, stopped off here to consult with Mr. Bryan, in doubtless in view of the course in relation to the Populist nomination. Mr. Bryan has received a number of telegrams containing suggestions in regard to the action of the Populist convention, and to all of them he responded, in effect, that he will act with deliberation, and that nothing will be done which can justify his criticism by the voters. THE DEAL IS NEARLY COMPLETED IN NORTH DAKOTA. Populists Not All for Bryan and Sewall Electors. In Tennessee the Populist Committee Has Power to Make Arrangements Like Michigan, Which Has a Law -Like Washington's, a Single Party May Be Formed.

FARGO, N. D., July 28.-The Populists are here in large numbers to attend the state convention tomorrow. There are a few "middle-of-the-roaders" who want a straight party ticket nominated. They are, however, outnumbered, and the prevailing sentiment is largely for fusion. It is thought the Populists will demand a congressman, auditor, insurance commissioner, two railroad commissioners and possibly the attorney general. They will leave the other places on the ticket blank for the Democrats to fill in on August 12. Herbert Root, of Valley City, and Dr. Bentley, of Bismarck, are being boomed tonight to head the Populist ticket for congressman or governor, whichever is allotted to them by the fusion committee. Everything depends on the action of the fusion committee, and their state will go through without any formidable protests.

Harris and introduced by ex-Senator John Macomber, that is, for the Democrats to name the electors and the Populists to name the state officers. In conversation with a reporter, Breidenbach expressed surprise that Col. Harris and other Populist leaders had favored the arrangement referred to, and announced his intention of using influence for the election of Bryan and Watson electors at Abilene August 5. "The Populists of Kansas," he said, "have but one course to pursue, and that is to stand by the action of the party at St. Louis. To do anything else would be bad faith, to say the least, and would not do us credit."
