GREETING TO REED.

SAN FRANCISCO WARMLY WELCOMES THE MAN FROM MAINE.

A Parade of 20,000 Men—From East to West People from the Streets—Multitudes Eager to Listen, but Thousands Are Unable to Get Within a Quarter of a Mile of the Pavilion—Debs Should Be Paid by Dollars, Not by Law.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Thirty thousand men, representing every industry on the Pacific coast, paraded the streets of San Francisco today, as evidence of their allegiance to McKinley and Republican principles. It was the biggest demonstration of any kind ever seen on the Pacific coast...

THOMAS B. REED.

city by thousands to see the great demonstration. During the morning a drizzling rain fell, but before the time set for the parade to start the sun came out and it was a typical California day. The men in the procession all carried small flags, and many of them carried banners...

and then Sam Shortridge, of this city, introduced the man from Maine. All previous scenes of enthusiasm were outdone as Reed stood waiting for silence. The men who had marched about the streets all afternoon were evidently far from fatigued, for they stood on chairs, shouted and cheered, until Reed was forced to bow for silence. He then called for three cheers for Bryan and hooted and hissed, and finally ignominiously hustled out by two policemen.

McKINLEY SAVES THEM

CHIEF-MANAGER QUARTERS OF BOVARD MONEY AVERTS A PARO.

He Adds a Member Crowded to Cheer the Old Flag, and Thus Prevents the People From Crushing One Another—Miles of Marching Parade Join in the Greatest Ovation of the Campaign—Thousands Cheering for McKinley and Foraker.

Canton, Ohio, Oct. 31.—In the awful crush about the stand in the McKinley yard this afternoon to shake Maj. McKinley by the hand, a Youngstown woman fainting dead away. She was carried through the throng to the east side of the street, where restoratives were applied. She recovered after a time and was taken to a carriage to be carried home by her overcoats. Two little girls about 5 years old were caught in the crush and almost smothered. Strong arms grasped them and quickly carried them away. Soon after the incident, the McKinley yard was crowded so about the stand that a panic was imminent. Maj. McKinley, seeing this, proposed three cheers for the old flag in the following words: "My fellow citizens, I propose, inasmuch as this is Flag day, in honor of the old standard which we love so much, we give three rousing cheers for it and what it represents in our national life."

The people passed, the crush was stayed and with great vehemence the cheers were given. The crowd moved away, and Maj. McKinley passed quickly into the house. The throng was thickly and densely packed, and serious injury to many in the crowd.

Senator J. B. Foraker emphasized the unparallded success of McKinley in his address from the historic platform this afternoon. The crowds assembled today about the McKinley home exceeded any before seen. It was not only impossible for the women and children of the organized parade to find room on the streets or on the large McKinley lawn, but 2,000 school children had to be marched into the Whiting doorway, across Market street, to the McKinley home. The response to their greetings. Doorstep talking was again out of the question. Thousands could not get within hearing distance of Maj. McKinley's voice. The scene of enthusiasm made more glorious by the thousands of flags carried by every one who marched. At one time there was a line of counter-marching parades two miles long.

Supt. H. A. Kennedy of the Cleveland, Canton & Southern railway, which brought in the largest single delegation of the memorable campaign, and the Youngstown transportation committee, said there were 11,500 tickets sold for that monster party. Delegations from Warren and nearby towns joined with them. Nine special coaches in all, were required for the party.

Maj. McKinley, with Mrs. Butler and Robert Evans, of Youngstown, reviewed the parade from the reviewing stand on the front of the lawn. Senator Foraker arrived from Akron about 5 o'clock. He was met at the Valley station by Maj. McKinley, accompanied by the McKinley reception committee. The parade in the open carriage was a full mile and through the heart of the city. The approach of the two famous Ohioans sitting side by side was heralded by such tremendous cheering that the McKinley home caught the noise of the tumult when the party was half a mile away, and soon he was shouting over the top of his head, "A full light is being thrown on the financial question," he said, "and we now see where we are."

INTEGRITY, HONOR, GLOBE.

The Words of McKinley to the Sound Money Men of Chicago Celebrating Flag Day. Chicago, Oct. 31.—Flag day in Chicago was almost universally observed. From nearly every business block in the downtown district hung flags of all sizes. Many buildings were also gaily decorated with bunting. In the residence districts the streets for miles were masses of flying colors, while in windows were displayed thousands of pictures of the president and his family. The Democrats also gaily decorated their buildings with paper flags, of which the Republican national committee had distributed nearly 2,000,000.

MONSTER PARADE IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Nearly 100,000 Republicans marched in the monster parade through the main thoroughfares of St. Louis today. They were assembled from all over Missouri, Illinois and Iowa. Some from Nebraska. It took nearly five hours for the parade to pass its apex point. The Democrats gave a torchlight parade tonight, and it was almost as great as the Republicans'. In both cases the marchers carried every variety of flag. The streets through which the parade passed were thronged with people, and all traffic was blocked. Senator Foraker, who is a prominent candidate of the gold standard Democrats, occupied a conspicuous place on the reviewing stand in the afternoon. The parade in Missouri closed today with rallies in almost every town and city throughout the state. The Republicans have laid siege to St. Louis and are hoping to carry it by a sufficient majority to overcome the state at large. They have set their claims at 20,000 plurality.

Both Sides Claim Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—The campaign in Indiana closed today and speakers from the state are congregating here to make final estimates of the result. That the state is in doubt there is no question, and betting tonight is livelier than it has been before. Chairman Governor Harrison's committee yesterday claimed the state by 5,000, with ten congressmen out of thirteen. The silent Democratic vote will be cast for McKinley, said he, "and if I am correct in this McKinley will carry the state by 50,000." Chairman Martin, of the Democratic committee, says the Democrats will carry the state by 25,000 to 30,000. "There is no way I can see," he said, "how tonight, if we carry the state by 25,000, that they will carry the state by at least 25,000, and that

The Populist Candidate Runs Into a Good Many Gold Badges

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 31.—Hon. William J. Bryan celebrated flag day, and with the exception of the work he is to do in Nebraska on Monday next, closed the memorable campaign for the presidency in which he has been engaged since his nomination, by a tour across the southern portion of Iowa. He made eighteen speeches between sunrise and his time of retiring, beginning at Council Bluffs and ending at Council Bluffs. Three of his addresses were made at Ottumwa, four at Council Bluffs, and one each at Mount Pleasant, Albia, Charleston, Osceola, Creston, Corning, Villisca, Red Oak, Hastings, Malvern and Glenwood. These places are in each instance surrounded by farming communities. The day was devoid of any disagreeable incidents. The Democratic candidate was met at each stopping place by enormous crowds, and it was evident the farmers had generally sided with Bryan. At some of the stops there were practically no yellow badges, but in one or two instances gold was the predominant color. There was no disposition manifested to interrupt any of the speeches. Mr. Bryan seemed to feel the beneficent effect of the bracing temperature, and he spoke with a vigor, manifested both in voice and style, which would have done credit to the first days of his campaign. His speeches were generally directed to the agricultural interests, and were in a full, unreserved manner upon the general lines of all his addresses of this character.

Illinois Safe for McKinley.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The fight for Illinois had been waged by both of the leading political parties in the campaign that is just closing has been one of the hottest struggles ever known in American politics. Both parties have all along made sweeping claims of their ability to carry the state, but at the end the Republicans seem to be the more sanguine of success. Chairman Hanna said today that he was sure of the state for McKinley by a majority rather than under 100,000, while Chairman Jones, in his estimate of the result which he sent to the press this evening, puts the state in the doubtful column.

Michigan by 35,000.

Detroit, Oct. 31.—The fight for Michigan unparalleled, both the Republicans and Democratic-Union Silver state committees are claiming Michigan by 35,000. The Republican state central committee has made three separate canvasses, which they claim to have been very thorough. Their figures on the last canvass, just completed, give them 35,000 majority. The Democrats did no systematic canvassing, but figured their majority by estimates made from actual canvasses of certain scattered localities.

Gold Literature Discovered.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 31.—One of the special trains traveling through the West distributed gold standard literature arrived here at noon today. Fully 50 silver men surrounded it, and but little opportunity was given to distribute the literature after the visitors referred to Missouri as the home of Jesse James. A further attempt to deliver an address was futile, the train pulled out for Council Bluffs.
