

THE GAME AT HOME.

THE SCHOOL DEFEATS Y. M. C. A. LIGHTWEIGHTS, 6 TO 4.

The Seattle high school football team... The game was interesting despite the fact that the grounds were very muddy.

made two good runs. Van Smith played a clever left end. James was not bothered at the other end. He is too hard to get around.

When the high school boys realized what was happening they were wild with joy, but the referees were scratching the mud out of their hair and eyes in vain efforts to find a rule that would save the game.

AT THE TRAPS.

The Seattle Rod and Gun Club Members Enjoy Themselves at the West Seattle Grounds.

Every man took a pleasure in the work at the Seattle Rod and Gun Club men looked at it yesterday, when they forewent the pleasures of football and crossed to West Seattle to enjoy a day at the traps.

The scores: Pump Guns vs. Double-Barreled. Norton 1111111111111111-12

Team Shoot for Birds. Norton 1111111111111111-5

Ten Singles, Practice. Norton 1111111111111111-10

Fifteen Singles, Pool. Norton 1111111111111111-10

USED THE ELBOW TRICK. McFarland Disqualified at Pasadena for Elbow Trick.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 1.—Ployd McFarland, the wheelman of San Jose, met Walter Foster today for the first time since early last spring.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

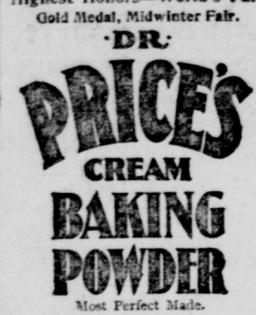

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

BECKER SWIFTEST OF ALL. Minnesota Wheelman Wins the Five-Mile Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—A large crowd attended the bicycle races at the Velodrome today, and the racing was, in some respects, the best yet seen on this track.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.

Most Perfect Made. 3 Years the Standard.

the first Dow and Boyden, taking the riders for the first three miles, and the second, McCrea and Chapman, taking the ball for the last two miles.

After a pretty battle for the position behind the pacemakers, Becker got the machine, with Howe, Whitman, Bob and Harry Terrill lined up behind in the order named.

The Minnesota man was greeted with tremendous cheers as he dismounted. His ride of forty established him in the good graces of the spectators, who were greatly disgusted on Christmas day, when he refused to ride against C. E. Dow, of Seattle, for the Velodrome shield.

Following is the summary of the races: One mile amateur, winner of each lap to take a prize—First lap Russ, second Gooch, third Mott, fourth Wyman, fifth Albrecht, sixth and race Russ, Time, 2:17.

Five-mile professional, paced, scratch—Becker, Howe and Smith, Time, 11:20. Winner rode one-sixth of a mile too far on error of scorers.

Half-mile flying start, exhibition, paced—Perry Mott, Time, 5:45.

One-mile tandem, exhibition—Dixon and Kraft, Time, 2:30.

WALLER STILL IN THE LEAD.

Washington Wheelmen Close Together—Two Records Smashed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The fifth day of the international six-day, eight hours per day, bicycle race was attended by a larger audience than on any previous day.

There was some very fine riding during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

The scores: Miles, Laps. Waller 729 11

Victorians Win by 30 Points—Tourney Continued Today.

TACOMA, Jan. 1.—Special half-hundred golf players from Tacoma and Victoria assembled at the links at South Tacoma today to play a series of match games.

The Victoria team won from Tacoma by 30 points, winning the prize. The winning team included: H. Combe, C. J. Prior and Max A. W. Jones.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Weather at Pacific race track, San Francisco, today, six furlongs—Libertine won, Time, 1:54.

What Month Proposes to Do.

Charles Mack, the catch-as-catch-can and catch-as-catch-can wrestler, who recently arrived in this city from Stockton, Cal., is anxious to make a match.

Intercollegiate Chess.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The games on the fifth day of the intercollegiate chess tournament were:

W. M. Murdoch (Yale) vs. G. Parker (Columbia), won by Parker.

A. W. Ryder (Harvard) vs. A. M. Price (Yale), won by Price.

F. A. Lehigh (Yale) vs. A. M. Price (Columbia), won by Price.

Hart Leads the Pedestrians.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—Henry Schmelz, the German, who entered the six-day walking match and lost $500 he would finish in front of Houston, but withdrew, leaving only eight of the articles of his competitors. Hart still holds the lead.

Dr. Schmelz, an eminent physician of Tennessee, says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and I know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

The New Year's Edition.

The Post-Intelligencer's big 56-page New Year's edition will be out tomorrow morning.

Composition.

We are now prepared to do composition for the trade (any measure) in Nonpareil, Minion, Brevier and Long Primer.

The California readers of the Post-Intelligencer will find it so nice that they will be glad to see it in their hands.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Weather at Pacific race track, San Francisco, today, six furlongs—Libertine won, Time, 1:54.

What Month Proposes to Do.

Charles Mack, the catch-as-catch-can and catch-as-catch-can wrestler, who recently arrived in this city from Stockton, Cal., is anxious to make a match.

Intercollegiate Chess.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The games on the fifth day of the intercollegiate chess tournament were:

BRACED UP TOO LATE.

SEATTLE LOSES AT FOOTBALL, SIX TO NOTHING.

Multnomah Scores in the First Five Minutes, Then the Visitors Wake Up—Slow Passing a Fatal Defect—Entire Home Team, After Being Declared Professional, Suffers in Glorious Defeat.

PORTLAND, Jan. 1.—Multnomah won from Seattle today by a score of 6 to 0, in one of the hardest fought games that has been seen on the Multnomah field.

Multnomah scored in the first five minutes. Seattle then braced up, and put up the better game for the remainder of the half.

Bob Abrams and Carie doing wonderful work. Ekridge, though, lost his head at critical moments. Slow passing was the only thing that prevented Seattle from scoring.

In the second half the ball was in the air most of the time. Beck, Holbrook and Smith doing considerable punting. Toward the end of the game Multnomah had tied strong and smashed Seattle back with line plays, in which De Forest made big gains to the 10-yard line.

The visitors made a desperate stand, and secured the ball on downs. Kellogg, though, failed to make yardage, and the ball was passed to Beck for a punt. Just as he kicked, Hall broke through and the ball striking him, bounced back over the goal line, where Abrams fell on it.

It was announced as a safety, and as time was called immediately afterwards, the crowd left the field, thinking the score to be 8 to 0. However, was only a touch back.

Carie, De Forest, McDowell, Abrams and Rosenberg played the star game. Four thousand people saw the game.

Multnomah started with the ball, and a profound silence hung over the field as Ed Hall took a little run and lifted it down to Seattle, bewildered. Into the hands of the visitors, it was downed in his tracks for no gain a great cheer went up from the multitude, and the aggregation of rooters in the south end of the grand stand "went loose" and rent the air with their yells.

Seattle made one play. Its great half, Bob Abrams, was given the ball and charged like a cyclone through the line, and for a moment the rooters were hushed; but when they saw he was downed for only a small gain, they turned loose and when on the next play Ekridge rode Seattle's quarter, fumbled, and lit the Stansbury fell on the ball, a small-sized riot manifested itself.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Four thousand people saw the game. Multnomah lined up with the determination of making a touchdown. Everyone was in the game, and the plays followed one another so fast that Seattle was bewildered. Into Seattle's line went Rosenberg twice for small gains, and then the ball was given to De Forest. Seattle at that moment, with its goal line at its heels, lined up during the day, the most noteworthy being that of the two riders, who were kept in the lead by their own strength.

Seattle got the ball back on its fifteen-yard line, but neither Abrams nor Sheafe could advance, and Beck, who tried a fake punt, was downed five yards further back, losing the ball on downs.

Advertisement for Blankets by W. P. Boyd & Co. featuring 56 pages of splendid blanket values, including white and colored blankets.

W. P. BOYD & CO., 621 and 623 First Av.

TEACHERS IN THE DITCH. Serious Train Wreck on the Keokuk & Western.

WHAT IT COSTS TO GET HEALTH. To a Sufferer From Nervous Debility.

DR. SANDEN'S Electric Belt. "MAKES PEOPLE STRONG."

Advertisement for P-I Resources, featuring 56 pages of new year's edition with special departments on agriculture, lumber, etc.

PUBLISHED ON JAN. 3. Washington AND ITS RESOURCES.

WHAT IT COSTS TO GET HEALTH. To a Sufferer From Nervous Debility.

DR. SANDEN'S Electric Belt. "MAKES PEOPLE STRONG."

Advertisement for Rodelschneider & Co. offering various services and products.

Advertisement for Rodelschneider & Co. offering various services and products.

Advertisement for Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt, detailing its benefits and availability.