More Than Double the Circulation of Any Other Daily Paper in the State.

We Buy for Cash. We Sell for Cash.

The policy to buy and sell for cash only, at the smallest minimum profit, has been heartily endorsed by the public. Our aim will always be to increase the purchasing power of your dollars. The more we sell the cheaper you can buy. A comparison of the prices quoted below will prove the correctness of our statement.

IN SOCIETY

The latest society fad, which promises to replace palmistry, thought-reading, pin-finding and other imaginary feats of the heart and intellect that have found work for idle brains to do, is that of character reading by the eyes. The fact that the eye is "the window of the soul" would make it seem probable that by its light we may distinguish the inner mind and possibly make a guess at the interior decoration of the palace of thought.

The eyes of the soul, especially those of cathartics, the eye is of various colors, and consequently the views obtained through it are tinged by its hue. A blue eye gives the mind a different light from that given by a black, hazel or brown one, and a part of the optician's art is to differentiate and to decide on the meaning of the various tints obtained through this medium.

According to Levator and others who have made a study of physiognomy, the color of the eye is the key to the character. A hazel-eyed woman, we are told, never elopes from her husband, never chats scandal, prefers his comfort to her own, and is a quiet, agreeable and lovely creature.

The gray is the sign of shrewdness and tact, and is the color of the eye of a diplomat. In women it indicates a better head than heart. Gray eyes are of many varieties. There are the sharp, the shrewish, the apologetic, the cold and the bright eye, but the fact remains that the gray represents the head.

There is one variety of gray eye of which every lover should beware—the soft, the blue-gray eye, which is the color of a woman's eye, but the fact remains that the gray represents the head.

Rowman and Mrs. I. W. Ditts on East Lake street. On Thursday Mrs. Rowman and Mrs. Ditts gave a luncheon in honor of Mrs. and Miss Rogers, at which the following were present: Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. J. T. Ronald, Mrs. C. E. Rowman, Miss Rogers and Mrs. Ditts.

The French Club was entertained last Monday afternoon by Mrs. John Tenney at her home on Squire avenue. As usual the time was spent in conversation and reading, led by Prof. Constant. The French language is the only language spoken by the members of the club at its weekly reunions, which accounts for the satisfactory progress made by the pupils of Prof. Constant.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Paschal and Mr. Edgar Ames have given up the Stratton home, corner of Boylston avenue and Madison street, and taken the Hughes cottage on the shores of Lake Washington. Ex-Gov. Semple and the Misses Semple are living at the Wells home on Sixth avenue.

The Queen Anne Cineb Club will meet tomorrow night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Smalley, Fourteenth avenue west and Comstock street.

Miss Virginia Scoury entertained a number of her young friends at cinch last Saturday afternoon, March 6. It was a pretty juvenile affair.

The Tuesday Afternoon Whist Club was entertained last week by Mrs. David Kellogg at her home on Madison and Fifteenth avenue.

The Irena Club gave a small dancing party Wednesday night at Morris hall, corner of Yeiser way and Ninth avenue.

Mrs. Charles F. Whitteley entertained the ladies of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club last week.

Miss Murray has arrived at her home in Underwood after a delightful visit with friends in Chicago.

Mrs. Robert Palmer gave a delightful musicale at her Minor avenue home Thursday afternoon.

Miss Marion Canfield entertained a few friends at her home on Marion street last Wednesday.

Mrs. Hughes and Miss Judith Hughes have taken apartments at the Rainier-Grand.

Miss Seymour, of Tacoma, was the guest of Mrs. Charles Power last week.

In Art and Literary Circles.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club held its last weekly meeting with Mrs. C. E. Remberg, Draco street, Fremont. The quarterly naming of officers occupied a part of the session, after which a very interesting hour was spent under the head of "Household Economics," several excellent papers being read, chief among them being a scientific treatment of that much-talked-of subject, "Adulterated Foods," by Mrs. Remberg. The other papers, presented by Mrs. T. P. Storey, Mrs. Paul Land and Mrs. A. F. Tucker, were each followed by discussion. The quarterly naming of officers is the usual mode of choosing officers in the club, a written or secret ballot being done away with every three months four of the members are chosen in regular alphabetical order to act as presiding officers, thus giving each lady a portion of the official duties of the club. The officers for the ensuing term are: President, Mrs. A. F. Tucker; vice president or household economics department, Mrs. Booth; vice president of literature department, Mrs. Orville A. Tucker; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Brown.

An appreciative audience listened attentively to Miss Marie Martin's description of "An American Painter, J. J. Shannon, at the Court of St. James, and His Achievements," which was given with earnestness and feeling before the Seattle Art League and School of Design on Tuesday evening last. Miss Marie Martin will deliver the lecture on Tuesday evening next, and a cordial invitation is extended to artists and others interested to attend. The regular monthly reception will be united with the celebration of the first anniversary of the league's renaissance, the day being changed from the last Friday of March to the first Saturday of April. Those who attended the opening of the league a year ago retained the occasion was graced by some of the best musical talent of the city. A more varied and even better entertainment is assured in celebration of the anniversary. Mrs. Erastus Strained and Mr. Shirley Squire are the committee having this matter in charge, and no better selection could have been made for the purpose. Like all entertainments given by the league, this one will be free to the public. Besides the best work of members, the studio and art gallery will be embellished with a loan exhibit of valuable paintings by celebrated artists. Interest is now centering around the forthcoming annual report, for which several members are preparing designs to embellish the cover. The requirements are a central figure of a maiden, who, with surrounding embellishment, shall be symbolic of the league. The "Seattle Art League and School of Design Annual Report, March 31, 1897," in appropriate lettering, is to be included. In shape, letter press and illustration the volume will resemble the holiday numbers of our leading magazines. It will contain a history of the doings of the league during the year and handsome illustrations of some of the best work of members. In order to secure the widest publicity of the league's facilities and the advantages enjoyed by Seattle in the way of art development, which are unequalled on the Coast outside of San Francisco, the report will be circulated gratuitously throughout the city and state. Many will also be sent abroad. The showing will be made in the stormy weather, and a universal depression pervading, and numerous other drawbacks to the launching of such an enterprise at this juncture. The success achieved, mainly due to the devotion and single-mindedness of a few earnest workers; next to the public spirit, encouragement and indorsement of the many.

President Mark W. Harrington, of the University of Washington, lectured before the Federated Women's Literary Clubs on "Wisdom Writings." A large and brilliant gathering of ladies and gentlemen was present to listen to the eloquent orator's discourse, and all were amply repaid for having the stormy weather. President Harrington will give one more lecture before the federated clubs, on March 19, on "The University Idea."

The Magazine Review Club met with Mrs. L. C. Gilman Tuesday. The meeting was an interesting one, although few papers were read. A paper on "Rudyard Kipling" was read by Mrs. Gilman; one on "The Madonna of the Desert" by M. M. Johnson, and Apocryphal stories years ago by the president, Mrs. S. M. Preston, the title of which is "A Leaf From Life's Journal."

Anniversary Parties.

The annual meeting of the Puget Sound Association of the University of Illinois was held at the residence of H. R. Stinson last Thursday evening. The association is composed principally of graduates of the state university of Illinois. Those present were: R. P. Williams, Olympia; G. M. Savage, Olympia; Miss Mary Page, Olympia; Harry Savage, Olympia; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drum, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bullard, and E. F. Bullard, all of Tacoma; Dr. W. P. Oliver, Buena, and the following from Seattle: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Slauson, Miss Jessie Estep, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lilly, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bogardus, Mrs. C. E. Bogardus, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bogardus, Mr. and Mrs. James Bothwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Davis, G. W. Bullard, Miss Page and S. F. Bullard. The next meeting will be held at Tacoma.

Club Parties.

Each succeeding dance of the Too-Whit Club seems to be more enjoyable and better attended than its predecessors, and that of last Thursday night was no exception to the rule. The music furnished by the Verde string quartet, was of unusual excellence. Among those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. MacGraw, Miss Blanche Leubacher, Misses Gove, Miss Minnie Reed, Miss Millie Wolf, Miss Myrtle Wright, Miss Adelle McRae, Miss McKenzie, Miss Curless, Miss Mattie Fonda, Miss Farr, Miss Irene Whitcomb, Miss Alice Walker, Miss Street, Miss Rose Parker, Mr. O. E. Parkhurst, Mr. George Peare, Mr. Dwight Stratton, Mr. J. J.

The younger, or Nesika set, is at present engrossed in amateur theatricals. Miss Leora Conn, Miss Alice Vinneke, Mr. Edw. Geary and Mr. Wycliffe, are rehearsing "A Proposed Under Difficulties," that clever farce by John Kendrick Bangs. They will present it at the high school a week from tomorrow. Four of the Nesika boys are studying a play, the name of which has not been revealed. They will give it at Mr. F. A. Wing's home in about two weeks.

Mrs. Sherwood Gillespie, of 1109 Cherry street, is confined to her home by sickness. In announcing to her friends that she would not be able to return calls, Mrs. Gillespie has inaugurated a form which has been in vogue in the East for some time, but which is new to the West. She sent out calling cards with that of her husband, in which she stated that she is ill and unable to return calls for some time to come.

Thick, strong eyebrows generally betray a full development of temperament. When also coarse, bushy and irregular, we are sure to have a character of some thin, fine, delicate eyebrows are indicative of a fine grained organization, and an active, if not predominant, temperament.

It will be seen that the professors and amateurs of this new science (?) have a wide range in which to exploit their art. There are, however, a few characteristics in the power of looking into a lovely woman's eyes in order to see the soul within, especially if that soul is responsive to your own. It is confessed that there is certain danger in the process of investigation, for there is a lurking devil behind the iris that may play havoc with the investigator. The art of palmistry indicates its own perils and advantages. It is very pleasant to take a girl's soul, white hand in yours and to trace the lines which fall as they mean to the very sink of the heart, and to invite a tender caress. But that is nothing compared to the soul inspection through the window of the eye and the magnetic glance that seems to pierce all the nerve centers tingling with responsive thrill.

The art of the optician needs no studio or cabinet in which to practice. The eye can be examined in public as well as in private, in the streets or in the drawing room, in the shops, churches or theaters, in fact, wherever there are eyes, there can meet glance and the visual ray find a responsive retina to reflect it.

Every thing the party given at the Queen Anne Hotel by the ladies of the Wednesday Subscription Club, the gentlemen members have been figuring on how to return the compliment, finally deciding on a festive party, which took place at the club house Tuesday night, and which in every way was as full as the decorations were simple, but pretty and the refreshments dainty. Dancing was continued until after midnight. Among those present were noticed Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Horner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Parkhurst, Lieut. and Mrs. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Benton, Mrs. Minnick, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Denny, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Jackson, Mrs. Falden, Mrs. F. P. Weston, Mrs. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Rase, Mrs. F. Conn, Miss Leora Conn, Miss Fredericks, Miss Harris, Miss Brown, Miss Fisher, Mr. Redmond, Mr. Richards, Prof. Babcock, J. Wesley Young, Howard Ames, J. W. McConaughy, Judge William Hickman Moore, Charles Smith, J. E. Lilly.

The first of a series of "Lenten Talks on Browning" was given Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Belle Haines by the Rev. H. H. Gowen. The subject was "Life and Work of Robert Browning." It was most interesting. Browning was large and the interest was very great. The remainder of the series are as follows: "Paracelsus and the Philosophical Poems," "Childe Rowland, in the Dark Tower," "The Ring and the Book," "Balaustrion's Adventures and the Love Poems," "Percival's Parables, the Poet's Final Attitude Towards Men and Things." The next lecture will be next Tuesday at the residence of Col. Granville O. Haller. Among those present at Mrs. Haines' were: Mrs. Sillito, Mrs. W. A.
