

therefore why the kinetoscope people had to pay so little for the privilege of what they took all the chances.

On top of this Brady says that some time before the fight a corporation was formed called the Kinematograph Company, and that there were four stockholders in the concern, Reuter, Stuart, Corbett and Fitzsimmons, the two former holding the major portion of the stock between them, and the latter a smaller equal share.

All the stockholders are to get their percentage out of every contract made for the pictures, though what that percentage is Brady refuses to state.

Julian tells practically the same story. It is very well known that a few days before the fight the Australian manager had heard that Corbett's stock in the concern had been increased and that he at once went to Stuart and Reuter, demanding and obtaining a proportionate raise.

Why Woodcock should attempt to make the public believe that Stuart has no claim on the receipts of the kinetoscope is inexplicable.

FITZ KEEPS AWAY FROM JIM.

Avoids the Trouble of Having to Refuse His Request.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Corbett was early at Fitzsimmons' camp today looking for his conqueror, but the latter was in no mood to see Corbett and evaded him by escaping from the hotel by a side door.

Corbett says if he cannot fight Fitz again he will fight no one. He says he would make nothing by beating Sharkey or Maher. He says he has been offered the management of a big athletic club in New York at a fine salary, and that he will probably accept the offer if his theatrical plans do not mature quickly.

After his performance at the Chutes last night Fitzsimmons, Julian and Brady stood for hours in front of the Baldwin bar and were surrounded by a somewhat noisy crowd of all nighters. An English tourist named Campbell was rash enough to say that the fight had been fixed; that Corbett was the better man, but had been jobbed out of the fight. Fitz, despite many bluntings, quickly gave one of his left drives at the tourist's body. The man staggered, but did not fall. Today the tourist was about town boasting that he had withstood the attack from the hand of the world's champion. He now believes that the fight was fair and that Corbett was legitimately put out. Fitz kept out of sight all day.

Fitz left for Sacramento, where he shows tonight, and for another twenty-four hours Corbett's proposed verbal challenge will have to be dormant and gather fresh eloquence for its actual delivery. Brady explained after dinner that he did not want to have Jim talk to Fitz when there was a crowd around or to have the meeting held in any place but the Chutes. "Again again," he said, "Fitzsimmons' wife was with him, and we want to have a quiet talk with him when he is alone."

ANOTHER CARSON CARNIVAL.

Stuart Arranging For a Big Show Next Autumn.

CARSON, March 22.—A story was circulated here today as coming from San Francisco to the effect that Dan Stuart had given instructions to his local representative, A. Livingston, to tear down the pavilion used for the Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight, and sell the lumber for what he could get, as he was going out of the fight business. Mr. Livingston was interviewed and denies the rumor unqualifiedly.

"There is nothing in it," he said. "All that Mr. Stuart has done is to give me the authority to represent his interests here while he is away. He is taking down the arena, that is, I am sure, very far from his intention. On the contrary, he will use it for a big show next October for another carnival, although just what the attractions will be is not known to the public at present. He has a few things, but there will be other things that will be of at least equal importance. Mr. Stuart will return here in May and will then commence work advertising his autumn carnival."

KID M'COY A COMER.

In Two Years He Will Advance to the Front of Heavyweights.

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—Dan Stuart arrived here this morning from San Francisco and left this evening for Colorado, where he will stay a day or two and then proceed to his home in Texas. Speaking of the fight, Stuart said: "Talk as you please, you can't find a man anywhere at the present time who would have any chance with Corbett and Fitzsimmons. It would be simply exercise for him to beat Corbett to death in four rounds, or to knock out Fitzsimmons when he faced the Californian on St. Patrick's day. He really had no idea what a heavy game he had, and accordingly made a waiting and careful fight."

"No one can knock Fitzsimmons now, but in two years he will show you a fighter who will just about show you the Australian case. Who is he? Why, who could he be but 'Young Mitchell'?"

Wait until the kid gets a little heavier, and you'll see him take a few kinks out of any man's head or any other heavy-weight in the world."

LOSES A FINGER IN A FIGHT.

"Young Mitchell" Is Maimed by "Mysterious" Billy Smith.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—For knockdowns, blood and general vicious fighting the great four-round bout at City was put in the shade by a bill that took place yesterday in "Young Mitchell's" (John J. Hergott) saloon, at the corner of Taylor street and Golden Gate avenue. "Mysterious" Billy Smith and "Young Mitchell," old enemies, came together, and there is no mystery left, except as to the "mysterious" man's whereabouts. Smith, a heavy, braced up, and when he defeated by George Green, was looking for a fight, and he got more than he wanted. He resorted to fouling tactics, and when badly beaten by "Young Mitchell's" finger, and the police of this city are now looking for him on the charge of mayhem.

Creedon Wins From Strong.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Dan Creedon, of Australia, knocked out Charley Strong, of Newark, in the fourth round at the arena Athletic Club. Creedon knocked the end of the first round. Creedon knocked Strong down with a straight left in the law. When Strong arose he was very easily knocked down by Creedon. Creedon delivered a right-hand swing that almost took the head off his opponent. Creedon tried hard to end the job in the third round, but the colored fighter was full of snap and fought back hard. Creedon appeared tired, and on two occasions he barely got out of the way of Strong's right. In the fourth round Creedon pressed the colored fighter to the ropes, but he almost as he pleased. A straight left-hand shot on the jaw was the beginning of the end.

Sharkey Matched With Maher.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A match was received in Brooklyn today from Warren Lewis, president of the Greater New York Athletic Club, announcing that a match between Maher and Sharkey had been arranged. It will probably be brought off in May in Brooklyn for a purse of $10,000.

Sher's Train Is Wrecked. GREEN RIVER, Wyo., March 22.—The east-bound Union Pacific passenger train at 2:35 this morning crashed into the rear of a freight train.

And strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. One hundred doses one dollar is sufficient to cure only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This is why a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more curative power than any other. The great merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, proved by its wonderful cures, has placed it not only in the front rank of medicines, but has given it a place alone and unapproachable as the One True Blood Purifier. It has accomplished thousands of cures of scrofula, rheumatism, dyspepsia, neuralgia, salt rheum and other troubles. It is the great building up medicine.

of a freight here, injuring three men, George Siler, Louis Houseman, Jim Wakeley and others returning from the Chutes, were on the passenger train. All were shaken up, but none injured.

Canadian Wants to Fight.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., March 22.—Jim Felt, who claims to be heavy-weight champion of Canada, today published in the Bee a card challenging either Corbett or Sharkey to a fight to a finish for $10,000 a side.

Seven-Round Battle at Butte.

BUTTE, Mont., March 22.—William Knopf, of Denver, tonight knocked out Ike Hayes, colored, of Montana, in the seventh round.

AMERICAN HORSES IN ENGLAND.

Lorillard's Diakka Entered for the Lincolnshire Handicap.

NEWMARKET, Eng., March 22.—Copyrighted, 1897, by the Associated Press.—The flat racing season of 1897 opens at Lincoln this week, the first classic event of the year, the spring handicap, being scheduled for tomorrow. Up to within three weeks the favorite of this race in Lincolnshire was Lord William's Diakka, and is strongly supported at 10 to 1 against the favorite, Wankfield's Pride, being 5 to 1 against.

ADOLPH KRUG IN THE "PEN"

Almost Prostrated With Grief at the Sight of the Building That Will Shelter Him.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-INTELLIGENCER. WALLA WALLA, March 22.—Adolph Krug, the defaulting city treasurer of Seattle, has been brought to the penitentiary by Sheriff Moyer. Krug kept up his spirits until within sight of the penitentiary, when he broke down and wept like a child, being almost prostrated with grief.

COLFAX INFESTED BY TRAMPS.

Palouse Country Overrun With Men Who Beg and Steal.

COLFAX, Wash., March 22.—A few days ago tramps were run out of Walla Walla, and since then the Palouse country has been overflowing with floating characters of the most undesirable type. All winter people about here have been liberal about feeding hungry applicants, but the fact that they have become suddenly so numerous has had a demoralizing effect on indiscriminate charity and many are turned away. Determined, however, to live off the country, where they cannot be traced, they have resorted to theft. Numerous petty thefts have been reported from all directions during the past few days, some even daring burglaries.

S. A. C. Pool Tournament.

The S. A. C. handicap pool tournament commenced last evening and developed some interesting games. James Farrell, a scratch man, showed his old-time skill and won handsily from Stephens by a score of 100 to 66. Ed Gaffney, who is sometimes called the "yellow kid" in pool playing, surprised himself by beating Prof. Freeman today, with a score of 100 to 66. Following are the scores: Allan (65) beat Eskridge (75), 65-35. Hough (65) beat Beckingham (65), 65-35. Hough (65) beat Stephens (75), 65-35. Gaffney (60) beat Freeman (75), 60-35. Farrell (100) beat Stephens (60), 100-40. Walker (60) beat Stephens (60), 60-40.

DISASTROUS FIRES.

Eight Persons Hurt in Lawrence, Mass. LAWRENCE, Mass., March 22.—The worst fire in this city since the burning of the store of Abner E. Co. occupied the basement and the first floor was occupied by Gleason Bros. The remainder of the block was taken up with offices, dress-making and military rooms, lodging rooms and a shooting gallery. The roof of the Central house caught fire and the Peck and Gleason blocks were in great danger, but were saved by the efforts of the firemen. The Gleason building was owned by the Gleason brothers and is fully insured.

Heavy Loss at Huron.

HURON, S. D., March 22.—Property was lost by fire today by fire this morning. The fire included the Alliance building, occupied by the government land office. Most of its records were saved. The United States weather bureau records of all its instruments and most of its records for seventeen years.

IGNORES THE CHARGE OF HUREY.

Dr. Watson Saxes the Accusation Is Merely Vexatious. LONDON, March 22.—The Rev. John Watson (Jan. Macdonald) was the principal speaker at the Mansion House meeting today in aid of the salted herring. The Duchess of Albany, Lord Kinnaird and other notables were present. Dr. Watson in an interview after the meeting had admitted that he had charged of herring brought against me, as it is simply vexatious. I shall not notice it in any way. The matter is referred to in the record, which will undoubtedly reflect the charge. If it is sent to the press, I shall end with counsel and otherwise, I wish you would thank my many friends in America for their kind offers. Say to them that they need not be alarmed about my orthodoxy."

ST. LOUIS, March 22.—In revenge for being elected from a train, tramps caused the wreck of the Louisville & Nashville railway this morning, resulting in heavy damage.

RUN OFF THE STREET.

MEMBERS OF A NEW CHURCH GET NOISY AND ABUSIVE.

Walla Walla Police Have to Disperse Outdoor Meetings—They Roast All Other Churches, All Officials and All Newspapers—Three Arrests Made—New Religious Sect Creates Much Excitement in the South-eastern City.

Special to the Post-Intelligencer. WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 22.—The police and members of a new church known as the People's United Church had an exciting time last night on the streets. For a time it looked as though a riot would ensue.

Several weeks ago the Rev. Fillmore Tanner, of Spokane, came here and established the new church. He was followed a few days later by Rev. McInturff, formerly a leading Methodist preacher, and Leslie Day, who claims to be a converted prizefighter. Since the arrival of these converts, a great many have been held on the street corners, and those in charge have on every occasion heaped abuse upon the city and county officials and the newspapers. Saturday evening they became so abusive that Chief of Police Kaufman ordered the crowd to disperse.

Sunday night they appeared again on the street, and when the police ordered them to disperse several members of the new faith became very abusive, and defied the officers to drive them off the street. The police were then ordered for a time there was an exciting row. Women and children were rushed in all directions by the crowd that gathered, and pandemonium reigned.

Monday night the arrested W. McGe, George Middleton and Frank Markham. Their trial was commenced today and continued until tomorrow.

After the street trouble the church people tried to their hall, where the tirade against officers and newspapers was continued with renewed vigor and vehemence. The church people did not appear to be in any way concerned by the disappointment of a large crowd that had assembled, expecting to see more trouble.

SPOKANE, March 22.—While thirty men were at work on the Spokane and Seattle bridge across Spokane river, two miles below this city, the falls, Spokane, Fred Fisher, Charles Miller, Archie Montford and William English were thrown into the river thirty feet below. In this fall Fisher struck a timber and received fatal injuries. He died shortly after being taken to the hospital. Miller was slightly injured by falling timbers. Montford and English leaped far out into the stream and escaped with a ducking.

CLERK ANSWERS ROGERS.

Lead Pencil Entry on Capitol Hill Might Have Been Made in the Governor's Office.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-INTELLIGENCER. OLYMPIA, March 22.—J. M. Page, minute clerk of the house, has taken a hand in the controversy regarding the capital record of the governor's office. He stated, as the executive stated, that it had not legally been passed. The governor stated in his message that at the bottom of the tally sheet on bill No. 620 was entered these words: "The bill therefore failed to pass."

This Mr. Page emphatically denies. If any such interpolation was made, he says, it was done after the governor's message, and could as well have been done by a clerk in the governor's office, as by any enemy of the bill at any time before the final record had been made on the journal. Had the governor seen fit to examine the record, says Mr. Page, he would have determined at once that the lead pencil writing was placed on the bill by some person other than the governor, and no lead pencil writing was recognized in the minutes of the house journal.

DENTAL EXAMINERS APPOINTED.

OLYMPIA, March 22.—The governor has appointed Dr. E. Burkhart, of Tacoma, and Dr. E. Baker, of Port Townsend, members of the state board of dental examiners for terms ending March 4, 1898, to succeed Dr. S. Schuyler, of Ellensburg, and Dr. F. P. Hicks, of Tacoma, terms expired.

THE ADAMS COMING NORTH.

U. S. Training Ship Soon to Visit the Sound.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 22.—The United States gunboat Adams, training ship for naval apprentices, has arrived after a cruise of thirty-five days from San Francisco. There are 100 naval apprentices aboard. The Adams was under sail all the time of her passage and encountered much rough weather for the first ten days, but cleared away to the northward. She sailed altogether 3,250 miles. The officers report all well aboard.

TO GALVANIZE THE TRUST.

Coast Lumbermen Anxious to Revive the Old Combination.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The lumbermen of this city are again trying to organize a trust with a view of raising the price of lumber from $1 to $2 a thousand. Dealers now claim that the actual cost of milling the lumber is greater than the present price, and the combination is proposed to increase the price until the business will insure a profit.

DECISIONS AFFECTING TRADE COMBINATIONS.

Traffic Agreement Pool Held to Be Illegal—Sugar Trust Not an Unlawful Conspiracy.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The supreme court has decided the case of the United States vs. the Trans-Missouri Freight Association against a railway trust. The decision was rendered by Justice Peckham, reversing the decision of the court below and holds that the anti-trust law of 1890 is applicable to railroad transportation, and that the traffic agreement pool is illegal.

Judge Peckham reviewed the history of the case, and stated the conclusions of the court. The decision of the court below, and the bill was filed under the law known as the Sherman anti-trust act of 1890. The defendants had in their answer denied the government's allegation in respect especially to the charge of conspiracy, and upon these showings the case proceeded to a hearing. The court below decided that the Sherman act did not apply to railroads, and the decision of the court below was reversed. It was also held by the lower court that even if the act did apply, the agreement was not one looking to the conspiracy to restrain trade.

MONUMENT TO THE FIRST EMPEROR IS UNVEILED.

His fiery Grandson Personally Conducts the Imposing Ceremonies—Flags and Cannon Captured From the French Conspicuously Displayed Near the Monument—The Young William Greeted Everywhere With Greatest Enthusiasm—Enormous Crowds View the Affairs From a Distance.

BERLIN, March 22.—The ceremonies attending the celebration of the centenary of the birth of Emperor William I., grandfather of the present emperor, which began yesterday in the city of Berlin, continued today, commencing with an early visit by the emperor and empress to the mausoleum of William I. Their majesties, who received an ovation all along the route, spent a quarter of an hour in silent prayer at the tomb, and returned to Berlin soon after 9 o'clock.

The troops, decorated with the new medals, and detachment of sailors, took up the positions assigned them on Unter den Linden. About 10:30 the emperor, in the uniform of the Garde du Corps, arrived and was welcomed with enthusiastic hurrahs, and waving handkerchiefs. His majesty halted before his late grandfather's palace, and ordered the flags and standards stored therein to be removed, and the emperor then rode to the head of the colors leading the troops up to Festival square where the royal personages were seated beneath a magnificent tent, facing the monument. The emperor, ex-Empress Frederick and the kings of Saxony and Wurtemberg. The privileged spectators numbered about 3,000.

The majesty occupied a position on horseback in front of the royal tent, facing the monument. The drums and trumpets called to prayer, a special trumpet corps sounded the hymn, "Lobbe den Herrin," and Rev. Dr. Eder delivered a prayer, the trumpets and drums following with a grand burst of music. The emperor then ordered the monument unveiled, the troops captured from the French, the Prussian national anthem, a salute of 101 guns was fired from the Lustgarten adjoining, and all church bells rang. The ceremony ended with a choral played by the special trumpet corps, and the march past of troops.

During the ceremony the colors and flags captured from the French during the war of 1870-71, were displayed at both sides of the monument, surrounded by a circle of cannon ornamented with oak leaves, and all church bells rang. The emperor, ex-Empress Frederick and the kings of Saxony and Wurtemberg. The privileged spectators numbered about 3,000.

The Wilhelm order has been conferred on Dr. Von Boetticher, minister of the interior, and Dr. Von Sieden, minister for pensions and telegraphs. Grand Marshal Count Von Eulenbergh has been decorated with the Order of the Black Eagle.

WAS A SWINDLER IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Many Chicago people who knew Joseph Blanthier, the murderer of Mrs. Langfield at San Francisco, recall his career in this city. He worked for Rand, McNally & Co. two years ago, and was a very elegant and seemed to have plenty of money to spend, though his salary was $18 a week. He claimed at times to be an Austrian count. He and his wife lived in a boarding house on West Monroe street. When he had been working for the firm some time he tried to sell it a patent on a raised map, but the company discovered, it is said, that he did not own the patent. This matter led to a disagreement and Blanthier resigned. He succeeded in selling the patent to another firm. It is declared, and got into so much of the matter that he afterwards went to Canada.
