

NEWS FROM TACOMA

CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTION OF CONCILMEN WAXING WARM. Excellent Prospects for the Success of a Majority of the Republican Candidates—Populist Bulger Has Withdrawn—Another Populist Neglects to File Notice of His Nomination, Which Leaves a Clear Field for His Opponent.

Tacoma Bureau of the Post-Intelligencer.

TACOMA, April 2.—The spring election for eight members of the city council will occur Tuesday of next week. The forces of the two parties, Republican and Democrat, have been working with might and main since the Republican nominations were made last Monday. Although but a little over half of the voters are registered, it is expected that a comparatively large number of them will be at the polls.

The situation was greatly changed today by the withdrawal of Councilman M. P. Bulger from the race. Mr. Bulger is a Populist, and holds from the Fifth ward. He was refused a renomination at the ward convention, but decided to run independently. Bulger's action made certain the election of the Republican candidate, Chris Ebert, although the ward is strongly Populist. His withdrawal today is in the interest of party harmony, but Mr. Ebert had made such headway in his canvass of the ward, and there is such dissatisfaction with the regular Populist nominee, C. F. Owens, that the chances for Republican victory are considered very good.

N. O. Hardy, the Populist candidate in the Eighth ward, did not think enough of his nomination to file his petition in the office of the city clerk. Under the law, the nomination must be published in the official paper for ten days prior to the election. Mr. Hardy should have filed his petition not later than today. His failure to do so leaves him out of the race, and when the nominations are published in the Morning Union, the official paper, tomorrow, the list will not contain his name. This leaves the way clear for the Republican nominee, Councilman G. F. Walley.

The Republicans should elect four, if not five, of the councilmen. This will give them a majority in one city council. In the First ward there is a very pretty fight between R. B. Smith, Republican, and Councilman Harris, fusionist. Mr. Smith is manager of the Puget Sound Flouring Mills and is strong in the Second precinct, the home of Councilman Harris. The other two precincts in the ward are Republican.

In the second ward, Councilman Norton is a sure winner. The ward is solidly Republican. L. H. Sessions has more than an even chance in the Third. His opponent is J. R. Turner, manager of the Fawcett Wagon Company shops. Mr. Turner is a reputable citizen, but is regarded as ex-Mayor A. V. Fawcett's mouthpiece. This fact counts against him.

In the Fourth ward Councilman William Fackler has a good chance of winning, although the Populists formerly had a majority. In the Fifth Chris Ebert is running well. Councilman Kleebe's record in the council is such as to make his re-election in the Sixth almost a matter of certainty. The discord in the ward among the Republican workers has entirely ceased.

In the Seventh, C. S. Clifford is very strong, and should win. Councilman Whittier has no chance in the Eighth on account of the failure of Candidate Hardy to file his notice of nomination.

HOW CIVIL SERVICE WORKS.

City Elevator Operated by a Geographical Savant. TACOMA, April 2.—Civil service "as she is worked" in Tacoma, is a thing of wonder if not of beauty. Today, at the dictation of the geographical board of civil service commissioners, a competent man was removed from the position of elevator operator at the city hall, and Charles Allgren, a boy who had but practically no experience, was put in his place.

Allgren ought to be able to write a good composition and to spell and figure well, for his percentage in given by the board as being 83. In the country with such a creditable showing as this, and if the city authorities are not proud of him they must be heartless.

Allgren's first efforts with the city hall elevator were not such as to inspire confidence in his abilities, notwithstanding the fact that the board of civil service commissioners had certified to his knowledge of reading, "riting and rhythmic," and the fact that he knew the name of the capital city of Asia and its location on the map with relation to the Cape of Good Hope.

Allgren had evidently studied rhetoric and composition to better advantage than the mechanism of an elevator, for during the first few hours of his duty he was unable to accommodate the regular patrons of the elevator in the city hall, to say nothing of outsiders. A number of councilmen attempted to ride up in the machine, but Allgren could not bring it to a stop within several feet of the landing except after a number of tedious trials, during which the councilmen walked, during which the councilmen were frightened nearly out of their wits by the actions of the elevator under the guidance of the erudite Allgren.

The city authorities are hopeful, however, that notwithstanding the disadvantages in his way in the matter of surplus educational qualifications, Allgren will ultimately learn the ways of the machine, which has been appointed to operate.

Today the civil service commission decided that Collector Paul Bergfelt was a competent employee, notwithstanding the fact that Commissioner of Public Works Rydstrom had proven that in ten days he had collected but $7.72, and during the time named his pay had figured up to $23. Clerk Road was sent out over the same route traveled by Bergfelt and came back with $36 in less than half a day. Verily, civil service in Tacoma is wonderfully and beautifully made-to-fit Populists and Fawcettites city jobs at the expense of the taxpayers.

MILL HAND KILLED.

Struck by the Roller on a Bolt Machine. TACOMA, April 2.—Philip Moxmer, a St. Paul mill employe, was struck in the chest by the roller on a bolt machine today. The injured man was taken to the Panny Paddock hospital and died at 10 o'clock tonight.

Tacoma News in Brief.

DEATH OF M. F. M'CONKEY.

First Discoverer of Gold at Forty-Mile—Once Killed Two Highwaymen. Special to the Post-Intelligencer. LOOMIS, Wash., April 2.—M. F. M'Conkey, a prospector and miner well-known through the mining districts of the West died of pneumonia March 28, after a short illness.

He was born in Ohio or Illinois in 1850, and immigrated to Colorado in 1857, after a short time he moved to New Mexico where he was the pioneer of the Black range, and sold his mining property to a syndicate including Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, Senator Plummer, of Kansas, and others, for $50,000. He was proprietor of the stage line between St. Marcial and Colorado, and on one of his trips killed two masked highwaymen who attempted to hold up his stage.

He afterwards bought a large ranch in California, but only stayed in the state a short time. Leaving the ranch in charge of a partner, he started to Alaska with a party, landing at Juneau and crossing the Chilkat pass to the headwaters of the Yukon river, built a boat, went down the river about 80 miles into winter quarters. In the spring they went up the river prospecting, and were the first party to find pay dirt at Forty-Mile creek.

In 1850 he came to Okanogan and located and developed unclaimed several quartz claims in Horse Spring Coulee, several of which have been recently incorporated, and he was in a fair way to secure another fortune.

He was brave and true and generous and considerate to his friends, and "Charlie" will be greatly missed in Okanogan, where he has done much to develop the mineral resources.

Little is known here of his relatives, but he is known to have a sister in Seattle, recently married.

WASCO'S PROJECTED ROAD.

An Oregon Merchant Who Thinks It Would Divert Trade from California. Special to the Post-Intelligencer. GOLDENDALE, Wash., April 1.—Hon. R. C. Wallis, a leading business man of Sherman county, Oregon, who resides at Rufus, on the line of the O. R. & N., was a visitor to Goldendale recently and purchased a number of Klitchkat traps for shipment to the Puget sound market.

Mr. Wallis seems to think the present talk of a projected railway from Biggs to Wasco is a revival of the talk of years past. He believes that if the line were built, with a terminus at Prineville, much California trade of the present would be diverted to the Columbia railway and the Dalles boats. He said Paul F. Mohr was the one man that ever showed the necessity to open up that great country to the south, but so far as was known he was not in the present project. He concluded by saying that when it falls in a line had punctured Crook county, the Klitchkat valley wheat fields would have been invaded for more than thirty miles by the iron horse.

MEMBERS DECIDE TO RESIGN.

Montana Arid Land Commissioners Will Comply With Gov. Smith's Request. Special to the Post-Intelligencer. HELENA, Mont., April 2.—Three of the five members of the arid land commission, at a meeting this afternoon, decided to comply with the request of Gov. Smith and resign, although there was talk of their refusing to do so under legal advice since, in his letter requesting their resignations, the governor had not assigned any cause.

The other two members were not present, but it is understood they will resign, and they were appointed by the previous governor and it is an open secret that they resign. He has not announced whom he will appoint. The commission is one of the most important of state boards.

Women in a Lawsuit at Woolley.

Woolley, April 2.—The unusually large number of passengers who came in the 10 o'clock train this morning excited the curiosity of the beholders. A lawsuit was the cause of it all, and women were the cause of the lawsuit. All the women in the county are mixed up in the affair. It was the remark of a bystander, but the statement was exaggerated somewhat, for only the women of Clear Lake were concerned. The wife of a resident logger of Clear Lake was arrested yesterday for using abusive and obscene language to a young lady neighbor. Twelve witnesses were subpoenaed, and the case was to have been tried today before Justice of the Peace Wiggins, of Sedro-Woolley, but a compromise was effected, the logger paid the costs and the witnesses returned home, and the wife of the logger of the interested spectators.

Supreme Court Decision.

OLYMPIA, April 2.—The supreme court today decided the motion to modify judgment in the case of A. R. Tilow, respondent, vs. N. C. Richards, as administrator of the estate of D. C. Humphreys, appellant. The action was carried up from the superior court of Pierce county.

GEN. RUGER RETIRED.

AND GEN. FRANK WHEATON FOLLOWS NEXT MONTH.

Gen. Wesley Merritt Succeeds to the Command of the Department of the East—Promotions All Along the Line Through the Army—Gen. John Brooks Next in Order—Gen. Otis, of This Department, May Go to the Colorado.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Alger today issued an order placing Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Ruger, commanding the department of the East, at New York, on the retired list on account of age. His retirement will make a large number of promotions and cause the shifting of several of the department commanders.

Although the orders have not been issued, it is known that Maj. Gen. Wesley Merritt, commanding the department of the Missouri, will be transferred to the command of the department of the East, and Brig. Gen. John Brooks, commanding the department of Dakota, will succeed to the command of the Colorado.

Special to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, April 2.—Gen. Balfaine has issued a circular letter to the officers of the state militia, desiring an individual expression regarding their personal preference for appointments to the positions of brigadier general and surgeon general.

The officers of the guard are requested to take into consideration the fact that those officers who are appointed must have served three years in either the national guard or in the army of the United States; also that under the law both officers must be members of the existing guard, and that the condition of the finances of the state will not permit of any allowance for per diem or traveling expenses. The brigadier general is also a member of the military board of auditors.

Gen. Balfaine explains that in inviting this expression of preference the commander-in-chief does not intend that a precedent shall be established which would lead the officers to infer that in the future his prerogative in the matter of appointments will be waived or made subservient to their desire. However, it is his desire that as far as possible all appointments in the national guard shall be such as will promote harmony and good feeling, and that the force upon the most efficient footing possible.

The letter also asks an expression of opinion as to the advisability of extending to the officers of brigadier general and surgeon general the system of promotion now prescribed below the rank of colonel.

SCORES OF APPLICATIONS.

"Deep Creek" Jones a Strong Candidate for Warden of the Penitentiary. Special to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, April 2.—Applications for every position in the state institutions for the control of the board of audit and control are pouring in at an astonishing rate. For the position of warden of the State reformatory for the insane alone there are over fifty applicants already, and this job only pays a salary of $9 a month, with board.

There are also fifty or more applications for positions about the state penitentiary, of which twenty-five are for warden. H. T. Jones, of Spokane county, is a strong candidate for this position, as he is known to be Gov. Rogers' choice.

The removal of Dr. Waughop from charge of the insane asylum at Steilacoom as the first step of the board after organization is causing considerable comment. Dr. Waughop has been superintendent many years, and was removed before any investigation of the institution had taken place.

Auditor Lister stated that no changes would be made at the Medical Lake asylum until after he had visited the institution and made his report to the board.

COL. WINSTON GOES TO TEXAS.

Will Visit His Brother and Try a Law Case at Washington. Attorney General Patrick Henry Winston left Spokane yesterday for Austin, Tex., to visit his brother, George Winston, president of the University of Texas. After a brief stay in Texas he will go to Washington and appear before the secretary of the interior in defense of the state's interest in the case involving school section 15 at Tacoma. This membered case has been pending for several years. A man named McBride and others claim title under the United States mineral land laws, and have set up the contention that McBride had valuable deposits of placer gold. A conservative estimate of the value of this land is $500,000.

Mr. Winston will leave in a few days for Pittsburgh, Pa., to be absent several weeks.

FOR ROAD COMMISSIONER.

Mayor of Wenatchee Applies for the Position. WENATCHEE, April 2.—A petition to Gov. Rogers is being circulated here asking the appointment of Mayor W. A. Sanders as road commissioner for this district. Mr. Sanders is a prominent business man and would make a capable official.

M'MAHON, THE CIRCUS MAN, SHOT.

Fatally Wounded in an Affray With a Deputy Sheriff. WICHITA, Kan., April 2.—J. V. Cunningham, deputy sheriff of Taylor county, Tex., shot and fatally wounded Joseph B. McMahon in a hotel in this city today. They quarreled over the right of the deputy sheriff to take an employe of McMahon's to Texas on a charge of arson. McMahon spoke some harsh words to Cunningham, and it is said that both pulled pistols together. At any rate the deputy sheriff got his gun to working first, firing three shots into McMahon. McMahon is proprietor of a show known as Bond Bros' circus, whose winter quarters are here. The circus men were very angry, and talked about lynching the officer.

Why Old Men Are Weak.

Old men who find their vital powers growing less while they still retain a healthy constitution, know that this condition is not natural. Every function should stand upon an equal footing in this respect, and when one begins to exhaust before the others it shows that there has been excess in that function, hence its early decay. This is why so many healthy-looking old men wear spectacles. After the general need for a mild electric current as a stimulant to the dormant energies.

Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt

Is particularly adapted to this condition. It infuses a steady, continuous stream of electric current into the weak parts and quickly wakes up the old nerves.

DR. A. T. SANDEN: Dear Sir—I have received very much benefit from the use of your Belt. My health is much better this winter. I am relieved of that tired and worn-out feeling which is so common in old men, and which has caused me to give up my work. I have been using your Belt for some time, and I feel that I could not do without it. I shall always remember Dr. Sanden with a grateful heart.

The cause, condition and cure are described in Dr. Sanden's book, "Three Classes of Men," free, closely sealed, by mail.

LETTER TO THE MILITIA.

Officers Asked for Their Preferences for Brigadier General and Surgeon General. Special to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, April 2.—Gen. WHIST PLAYERS BUSY

HARD FIGHTING FOR HONORS AT THE TOURNAMENT. Tacoma and Portland Lead in the Games So Far—The Deschappelles Club Loses the Trophy After Holding It Two Years—Nearly a Hundred Men Working Twelve Hours a Day for Honor and Silverware.

Tacoma Bureau of the Post-Intelligencer, 112 Pacific Avenue. TACOMA, April 2.—The whist fests own the town since last night when the first play in the fourth annual meeting of the Northwest Whist convention began in the Tacoma hotel. About 100 devotees of the game had occupied themselves on an average of twelve hours a day in the intricacies of the pastime. Tonight fifty-six players were grouped around four tables in parlor A of the hotel, playing off the first half of the free-for-all for trophies and pairs. It is quiet enough to hear a pin drop or a cat's paw.

Interest centers on the struggle for the championship cup. The Deschappelles Club, of Tacoma, is out of it. For three years this club has held the cup against all comers, having won it at two annual conventions and at a dozen other matches. The cup had come to be considered as the property of the Deschappelles Club. Last night in the first round the Deschappelles team tied with the Oregon Road Club. In playing off the tie Deschappelles lost by a fluke—one of the things that happens in whist. Covered with ignominy, the Deschappelles players have sought solace in the free-for-all events. Their defeat has added new spirit to the fight for the permanent possession of the trophy.

The second round in the cup contest was played off today, resulting as follows: Seattle A. C. defeated the Trust Club, of Portland, 6-4. Tacoma Whist Club defeated the Tacoma Whist and Chess Club, 6-4. Tacoma Chamber of Commerce Club defeated the Oregon Road Club, 6-4. Olympia Whist Club defeated the Pacific Club, of Seattle, 6-4.

Tonight the players in the cup contest are as follows: Seattle Athletic Club, Hawkins, Baxter, Beakstone and Condon, against Tacoma Whist and Chess Club, Clark, Webb, Goodman and Summerfield. Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, Buell, Ryder, Crowler and Dewey, against Olympia Whist Club, Linn, Ayer, Kreider and Cowley.

This afternoon the free-for-all match for four and pairs, in which Seattle, Portland, Tacoma and Olympia each had a team of twelve men entered, was played off. The winning team was the Portland Whist Club, net gain. The highest scoring pair north and south was Clise and King, of Seattle, gain 11; highest scoring pair east and west was Huston and Lasseigne, of the winning team, gain 11.

Following is the score for teams of four: Players— Score, Gain, Loss. Portland Whist ..... 361 10 .. Deschappelles ..... 259 8 .. Tacoma Whist ..... 254 4 .. Tacoma City ..... 254 3 .. Tacoma Whist No. 1 ..... 259 .. 1 Seattle Whist No. 1 ..... 249 .. 2 Seattle Whist No. 2 ..... 249 .. 2 Olympia Whist ..... 246 .. 2 Fairview Whist ..... 237 .. 14

Tonight the first half of the pair championship for the Seattle trophy began. The results will not be known until tomorrow night.

In the city contest today, the first round was played off. Tacoma won from Olympia, score 5; Portland won from Seattle, score 2. The final play will occur tomorrow night.

At 6 o'clock tomorrow night the assembled whistlers will seat themselves around the long tables in the dining room of the Tacoma hotel and enjoy a banquet. After this the final round in the championship fight will be pulled off.

The winners of the semi-finals were the Olympia and Tacoma whist clubs. These will fight it out tomorrow night.
