STANDARD OIL PLANT BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Firemen Have a Hard Battle With the Flames—A Loss of $200,000—Company May Move Its Headquarters to Seattle—Speculators Form a Combination to Bid in Property of Insolvent Concerns.

Tacoma Bureau of the Post-Intelligencer, 112 Pacific Avenue.

TACOMA, April 29.—From 5 o'clock this morning till after 12 o'clock this afternoon the fire department engaged in a three day battle with fire at the distributing plant of the Standard Oil Company in the southern part of the city. The conflagration, which was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, destroyed property valued at over $200,000, although the exact amount has not been officially announced. It was only after the hardest fight of fighting and labor heavy odds that the department succeeded in subduing the flames and preventing the destruction of six large oil tanks, which were protected from the fire by a concrete wall.

When the first alarm was turned in from the corner of Wilkinson street and Jefferson avenue at 5 o'clock, the warehouse of the company, 25 and 26, was also, a serious meeting fire. Soon after a second alarm was turned in from the private box of the company. Three engine companies responded promptly, and in a short time had several inches of water at work. Chief Bruemmer personally directed the operations of the firemen.

It was at first feared that the fire would eat its way through the doors in the brick wall into the yard, where stand the six large tanks filled with oil. Only the brick wall stood between them and the flames, but at the critical moment Chief Bruemmer centralized the strength of the department, and after a hard fight succeeded in driving the flames back, saving the tanks and the property around them.

As soon as they had gained the first advantage over the flames the firemen slowly forced their way into the burning building, although there was great danger of explosion. The steel beams in the tanks flew out with great force and with the sound of a cannon, but luckily no one was hurt, although the danger was not small. In the warehouse were stored large barrels of lubricating oil, and in the upper story were a large number of cases of illuminating oil and steel tanks filled with the same fluid.

The warehouse is a total loss. Superintendent McLean was summoned from Seattle by wire and came over to assist in the work of saving the property. He found today that he could not tell whether the company would rebuild here or move the distributing headquarters to Seattle or Portland.

TRUST TO BUY BAD ASSETS.

Tacoma Speculators Intend to Bid in Property of Insolvent Bank. TACOMA, April 29.—The recent sale by Receiver Titlow of the assets of the Bank of Tacoma has aroused some little controversy among the speculators who have lately been attending to the property. It is stated today that he could not tell whether the company would rebuild here or move the distributing headquarters to Seattle or Portland.

A close corporation was formed for the purchase of the assets to be sold by Receiver Titlow. It did not intend at first to bid on them, but later changed its mind and bought the assets at a price which was a good deal below the actual value of the property.

LE ROI AND RECO DIVIDENDS.

One Pays $65,000, and the Other $50,000. SPOKANE, April 29.—A dividend of $65,000 was declared on the Le Roi and Recco mining company. This makes the total amount of dividends paid to date $125,000. The last dividend previously was declared April 1 for the same amount. Of course the company claims the dividend would have been double the amount had it not been that the mines were closed by slides nearly half the present month.

Mysterious Visitor at Lyle.

Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. GOLDENDALE, April 29.—Lyle, a Western village and postoffice in Kittitas county, is said to be now undergoing a state of unrest, which has been caused by the visit of an unknown party, who made an inspection and survey of the great falls a mile above the postoffice. He seemed to take no one in his confidence, and manifested little concern of the present inhabitants of Lyle. His coming and departure are surrounded in a halo of mystery. A wise-acre remarked the visitor must know his own business, as no one in Lyle was in position to inform him.

Northport News.

Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. NORTHPORT, Wash., April 29.—Onion creek property in Tacoma and Pierce county are interested with him. Receiver Titlow today said: "I don't know anything about a combination of buying of prices. The sale brought in more money when the assets were disposed of in a lump sum than when sold separately in Tacoma and Pierce county a very fair price."

HATES TO BE RAISED.

Proposed Increase in the Fare Between Tacoma and Seattle. TACOMA, April 29.—A railroad man here is authority for the statement that passenger rates between Seattle and Tacoma are to be advanced May 31. The steamboat association has made a proposition to the Northern Pacific for a rate in rates between the two cities and it is understood that the passenger department of the road is considering it.

Olympia's New Flour Mill.

Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, April 29.—The opening of the big flouring mills at Tumwater, already mentioned, is an encouraging sign of an era of better times for Olympia. The property has been leased for five years to the Messrs. John H. Rowland, George Markus and John Wahlstrom, all of Seattle. The new firm is to be known as the Olympia Milling Company, and will be ready to begin the actual manufacture of flour by June 1. To this end an invoice of new machinery has arrived. The capacity of the mill will be 300 barrels daily, and a first-class article of flour will be produced.

GIX PON TO HANG TODAY.

Chinese Murderer at Spokane to Pay the Penalty. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, April 29.—The attorney for Gix Pon, the Spokane Chinese murderer, who is to be hanged tomorrow, has applied to Gov. Rogers for a ten days' reprieve. As the governor is in Seattle the petition will not reach him in time, unless the attorneys caught him in Spokane, where he was yesterday.

Whatcom People Receive the Daily Edition Promptly at 4:15 Every Day—Many Transfers Made Necessary by the New Time Card, but All Obstacles Have Been Overcome—To Reach Its Patrons Without Delay, the Paper is Carried by Railroad, Stage, Steamship and Electric Line.

Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. WHATCOM, April 29.—Notwithstanding the recent unexpected change of time on the Great Northern coast line, under which the northbound passenger train does not leave Seattle until 5:30 p. m., the Post-Intelligencer arrives here at 4:15 p. m. and is turned out by special carriers to every subscriber in the city before the Great Northern train leaves the Seattle station.

Winlock Dry Kiln Burned. Loss Reaches $4,000—Mill Saved by Hard Work. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. CHEHALIS, Wash., April 29.—The dry kiln, which occupies six car loads of lumber on the track and some in the sheds and a residence belonging to Prescott & Van Ness, at Winlock, burned last night about 9 o'clock. The loss is estimated at $4,000. The fire started in the engine room of the dry kiln, and in a short time had gained great headway. There are no water works at Winlock, but the entire kiln was saved by hard work.

Supreme Court Decision. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. OLYMPIA, Wash., April 29.—The supreme court today reversed the opinion of the lower court in the case of A. E. Graham, respondent, vs. Jacob and Nancy McCoy, appellants, from Walkiklam county.

Peppered with Bird Shot. Hugh Boyle Wounded in an Oakesdale Barn—The Chickens Betrayed Him. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. COLFAX, April 29.—An officer has arrived from Oakesdale, having in charge Hugh Boyle, arrested for burglarizing a barn there. Boyle was a pitiable sight, his back from his waist to the top of his head being filled with bird shot. A surgeon picked out seventy Sunday evening traps, entering a barn, and chickens were heard making a fuss. He was called on to come out by James Edwards, but made no answer, and Edwards then shot into the barn, bringing the man down. Boyle claims he had entered the barn to sleep.

High Water Stops the Work. Northport Railroad Bridge Endangered by the Flood. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. NORTHPORT, Wash., April 29.—The San Francisco Bridge Company has been having a great deal of trouble with the new bridge at Northport, and it is being kept back with work so that it has become almost impossible to go on with construction. On Wednesday last week a tier of string was washed from under the second span, letting drop some of the timbers that supported the whole construction. Since the time the first piling was swept away more timbers have been going out, and at this time there is but little piling left under the two middle spans. It is greatly feared that work will have to stop until summer, although Supt. Foy, of Seattle, says he has hopes yet, and thinks the damaged part can be repaired so that work can continue.

Family Escapes Dynamite. Lewis County Swede Has a Startling Experience With an Explosive. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. CHEHALIS, April 29.—Ole Swede, living near Knab, Lewis county, last Friday put two sticks of dynamite in the oven of his kitchen stove to warm it up. It exploded, blowing the stove into fragments, some of which were buried two inches deep in the ceiling and log walls of the shanty. Anderson, his wife, mother and five children were in the room when the explosion occurred, but none of them was injured. The bottom of the baby's cradle was blown out, but the child was not scratched. The largest piece of the stove that could be found was lodged deeply in the wall between two boys who sat on a bench a few inches apart.

Charles D. Morgan Dead. Pioneer Millman at Snohomish Succumbs to Pneumonia. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. SNOHOMISH, Wash., April 29.—Charles D. Morgan, a Sicilian millman, and a resident of Snohomish, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock of pneumonia, after an illness of ten days. Mr. Morgan had lived in Snohomish over twenty years, having come here with his father, H. D. Morgan. He is a brother to the Morgan Bros., proprietors of the mill at this place. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the residence.

Smallest Catch on Record. Indian Sealing Schooners Take Very Few Skins. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. PORT ANGELES, Wash., April 29.—The Indian sealing schooner Columbia, of Neah bay, arrived in port today from the sealing grounds of the coast. The season closes May 1, the catch this season being the smallest on record. The Columbia has 38, the Bering Sea 28, the Deschamps 26 and the Swan 35.

To Command the Golden Gate. Capt. Tozier to Take the Revenue Cutter to San Francisco. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. PORT TOWNSEND, April 29.—Capt. D. P. Tozier and Chief Engineer Barrows received telegraphic instructions today from Washington to take the revenue cutter Golden Gate, revenue built at Seattle, to San Francisco. The officers leave for Seattle tomorrow, and expect to sail for the south about next Saturday.

Black Jack is Killed. Desperado Thought to Be Moore Was the Veterinary Leader. SOLOMONVILLE, Ark., April 29.—Word reached here today that Black Jack, the leader of the desperados, was killed in the fight with United States Marshal Higgins and party near Clifton yesterday, instead of Sid Moore, as reported.

Bully Hurt by a Hand Car. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. WHATCOM, April 29.—Two workmen, William Gilbert and R. Suddelery, were badly injured on the Great Northern road last evening. They were on a hand car which jumped the track, and another car following ran into them. Gilbert sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and Suddelery has his collar bone and several ribs broken.

HARRY CHAMBERS' BODY. Remains of the Victorian Who Committed Suicide on Account of His Sweetheart. VICTORIA, April 29.—The remains recently found near the railway track in the vicinity of this city are believed to have been those of Harry Chambers, who disappeared mysteriously six years ago. Chambers was engaged to be married to a young lady in Toronto and had made arrangements to settle in Victoria. The next morning he did not turn up at the usual hour for work. Inquiries led to the discovery of the fact that he had left his lodging house in the morning, taking his revolver with him. Thorough search failed to reveal his whereabouts. There is little doubt that he blew his brains out.

Unconscious in an Open Boat. Man Picked Up Perfectly Nude Near Point Roberts. VANCOUVER, B. C., April 29.—On Tuesday night a boat was seen tossing about on Boundary bay, near Point Roberts, but no one appeared to be in it. Yesterday some fishermen put out to it and discovered a man in an unconscious condition. In the boat was a suit of clothes, but far too small for the man. He was a fair sized man, and though he has since recovered consciousness, he has lost his reason, so no particulars can be learned regarding the affair.

A Tip to Butchers. Use Pearline. Have your place a little neater and cleaner and sweeter than other places. Did you ever see a Parisian butcher shop? Well, you can make yours just as dainty and attractive by taking a little trouble with Pearline. Isn't this worth something in these days of competition? But the foundation of all this cleanliness, and the only thing that makes it possible, is Pearline. Beware of peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as the real thing." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; it's your grocer's stock, and it's yours if you buy it. MR. WINTER RESIGNS. PRESIDENT OF THE N. P. ASKS TO BE RELIEVED. Not in Sympathy With the New Year in Control of the Road—Resignation Laid Over Until Absent Trustees Can Be Heard From—No Attempt Yet Made to Elect Col. LaVere—Tacoma Railroad Officials in Suspense.

NEW YORK, April 29.—At the meeting of the directors of the Northern Pacific Railway Company today, A. E. Winter presented his resignation as president. He gave as a reason, his knowledge that people other than those who controlled when he was elected last year had secured a large interest in the securities of the road, and he did not believe he would be in sympathy with them. The resignation was laid on the table until the trustees could be heard from.

At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. the following statement was made: "In an interview this week we assured Mr. Winter that we remained with the property he should have our entire confidence and fullest support, but for the resignation of Mr. Winter, we have no objection to his resignation. You may state this without reservation whatsoever. The stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company is held by five voting trustees: J. P. Morgan, George S. May, August Belmont, Johnston Livingston and Charles Lander. Messrs. Morgan and Lander are now in Europe, and the securities of the road last year, and held for five years. This trust is practically in control of the securities.

In railroad circles it was said that attempts would be made at today's meeting of the directors to elect Mr. Winter as president. Mr. Winter's resignation and election of Col. LaVere. A prominent director in the company said on this point: "There may be some hope in the minds of certain persons to elect Mr. LaVere as president, but that is as far as it goes. No decision will be made until the trustees shall have an opportunity to confer on the subject."

The interest of the Northern Pacific shareholders of whose co-operation President Winter has been so anxious to secure is the syndicate which bought a large block of the Northern Pacific securities several weeks ago from the syndicate which underwrote the plan of reorganization, and which is understood to be largely made up of German capital, which aims to secure an administration of Northern Pacific affairs in harmony with President Hill's administration of the Great Northern.

Tacoma Officers Uneasy. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, April 29.—The Associated Press dispatch from New York announcing the resignation of President Edwin Winter of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, has again aroused interest in the reported deal between President James J. Hill of the Great Northern, and the bondholders of the Northern Pacific. Local officials of the company refuse to discuss the matter, but it can be said that President Winter's resignation is looked on as confirming in a measure the reports as to the changes that are on the carpet in the Northern Pacific.

The feeling of suspense and what can be said to be a very strong feeling, is the recent departure of Assistant General Superintendent W. G. Pearce for St. Paul is regarded as significant.

The announcement of a new board of trustees in sympathy with the Hill movement is expected about June 1, when the first year under the voting trust, which governs affairs in the Northern Pacific, will expire.

Inspecting the Great Northern. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. SPOKANE, April 29.—General Superintendent H. H. Hild, of the Great Northern, and O. O. Winter, assistant general superintendent, arrived last night from Chinook, Mont., where they have been attending to the report on the proposed reorganization of the road. They left tonight for Seattle in a private car. While here they closed up the contract for the construction of the spur track to the army post site. They are on a tour of inspection.

NO TARIFF BEFORE AUGUST. Jones of Nevada Joins the Democrats, and the Bill Will Be Delayed. CHICAGO, April 29.—The Post's Washington special says: Senator Jones, of Nevada, holds the balance of power, and has joined with the Democratic members of the finance committee in objecting to reporting the tariff bill direct to the senate as framed by the Republican members. This move is a disappointment to the Republican senators in congress and to the administration. The bill will have to be reported to the full committee, and the Democratic members of the committee says that while they do not intend to obstruct the measure, they propose to take time for its careful consideration before permitting it to come before the senate.

The Democrats refuse to let the Republican name a date for the report on the bill and say that it may be held in the committee for two or three weeks. The chances for the early passage of the bill are diminishing, and it may be August before it goes to the president.

REORGANIZATION IN THE SENATE. Programme for the Committees is Nearly Completed. WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Democratic steering committee of the senate today began the work of assignment for a general reorganization of the senate committees. No permanent results were reached, but the indications point to the selection of Turpie of Indiana to succeed Voorhees as a member of the committee on finance, and of Chilton of Texas to succeed Hill on the judiciary committee.

The Republican committee has almost completed its assignments under the reorganization plan. In addition to the changes heretofore announced, it has been determined that Kyle shall return to his old place as chairman of the committee on education and labor, and that Carter shall become chairman of the census committee, to succeed Chandler, who goes to privileges and elections. Under the new system the silver Republicans will hold the balance of power in fourteen committees and the Populists in eleven.

All parties expect to be ready to have the reorganization consummated next week.

LONDON, April 29.—It is feared that the French steamer Henri, from Swansea to Marseilles, has been lost, with thirty of the crew.
