

READY FOR THE VOTE

TARIFF BILL PRACTICALLY COMPLETED IN THE SENATE.

Measure Goes Over Until Monday, and May Be Passed on Tuesday—Effort to Secure a Bounty on American-Grown Sugar Beets Is Blocked by Jones, of Arkansas—Amendment Introduced by Republican Withdrawn, in Order Not to Endanger the Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The tariff bill has gone over until Monday, and all effort to fix the time for a final vote in the senate has proved futile. When the senate met today there was a general feeling that the final vote would be reached tonight, but this was speedily dispelled by a storm of opposition when Allison reported a new amendment from the finance committee...

Jones of Arkansas, speaking for the minority, soon took the floor, and said that no vote could be reached in the near future, in view of this bounty amendment. He estimated that the debate would be very protracted from this time forward. He supplemented this view, saying that the prospect of such an amendment at the last moment looked as though the Republicans were trying to delay the passage of their own bill. As it had become apparent that the bounty provision might cause serious delays, Thurston of Nebraska, one of the prime movers, arose and in impressive terms withdrew the amendment, saying his action was inspired by patriotic motives and for the purpose of removing all obstacles to the passage of the bill. Late in the day Allison sought to have time fixed for the vote, but the bounty amendment stood in the way, and all appeals to Jones were in vain. Allison finally gave notice that he would expect to pass the bill Monday or Tuesday.

During the day the bill was brought to a practical state of completion, the only remaining items being the new provisions submitted by the committee. Besides the bounty amendment, Allison proposed late in the day an amendment for stamp taxes on bonds, etc., which went over till Monday. Among the features of the bill are provisions of the anti-trust sections, the provisions of the Wilson act, that subject being re-enacted. Mills brought forward a new amendment for a tax of 20 cents a pack on playing cards which he introduced by unanimous vote amid much amusement and surprise, as Mills had not expected this result. All of the administrative sections of the bill, and all repealing the Wilson act, were disposed of during the day, and the paragraph proposing a tax on beer was withdrawn by the committee.

The senate adjourned till Monday, no effort being made to observe the national holiday. House section 117 was also restored, providing that no goods shall be imported, unless in cases provided for by treaty, except in vessels of the United States or in such vessels belonging to citizens of the country producing such goods. The import section was restored providing a discriminating duty of 10 per cent, ad valorem in addition to the duties of the act on goods imported in vessels not of the United States.

The section making the restrictions of section 17 apply to countries maintaining similar restrictions against American vessels was restored. A new section, 215, was inserted, giving a drawback on duty on machinery and instruments reimported after having been sent abroad. House section 22 was restored, relating to the importation of goods taken from sunken vessels.

House section 23 was agreed to, providing for the designation of certain smuggling works as bonded warehouses. House section 24 was restored, providing partial drawback of duty on articles imported from the duty free zone in the United States and exported. A provision relating to lead ores was inserted in section 23, providing that in respect to such ores, refined matte shall be exported or the duty paid within six months from the date of the receipt of the ore.

After a contest committee resolution No. 13 was adopted, providing that goods in hand when the act goes into effect shall pay no other duty than if the same were imported after the bill goes into effect. Section 26 (relating to the repeal of these portions of the law of 1884) was restored. A provision relating to lead ores was inserted in section 23, providing that in respect to such ores, refined matte shall be exported or the duty paid within six months from the date of the receipt of the ore.

Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Walter Must Answer in Court. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, July 3.—Alvin Stevenson, a waiter in the Grand Central hotel restaurant, was arrested today on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Waite, who conducts the establishment, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon. The stories of the two parties to the affair do not conflict. Stevenson claiming that Mrs. Waite attempted to stab him with a butcher knife because he asked her for money due him, and Mrs. Waite claiming that the waiter tried to make hash out of her because she refused to pay him money the moment he asked for it. However, no one was injured, and both will be given an opportunity to tell what they know of the affair in court.

LANDED IN THE JAIL

MRS. BRADBURY AND HUSBAND PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Elopers Are Run Down by the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Vice—The Woman Remains Calm, but Her Companion Is Furious—Col. Bradbury Leaves Los Angeles for the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Mrs. John Bradbury and W. Russell Ward, of Santa Monica, left their temporary quarters at the Mansfield on First street early this morning, and returned to their home at Fairmont, where they registered as Mr. and Mrs. Willis, of Nevada. They were, however, recognized and requested to vacate their apartments at an hour's notice, when they learned that the society for the prevention of vice contemplated their arrest upon a charge of adultery.

This occasioned a furry, but before the couple could formulate any plan Mrs. Bradbury was arrested by Secretary Kane, of the society, at the restaurant near the Fairmont, where they were in search of rooms. Mrs. Bradbury took her arrest quietly. Late this afternoon Ward was also arrested by an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Vice for alleged violation of the seventh commandment. Ward was furious at his arrest, denouncing the officer and the society in vigorous terms. Mrs. Bradbury, who has throughout displayed much more nervousness than her companion, was pale, but self-contained, making little comment and giving no evidence of a disposition to resort to woman's tears.

The pair were taken to the city prison, and after two hours delay Mrs. Bradbury was released on her own recognizance. Ward was unable to give bail, and probably will remain in confinement all night. Mrs. Bradbury immediately drove down alone to the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, where she dispatched a telegram to her husband, requesting his decision. She was heavily veiled as she walked from her carriage to the telegraph office. When she wrote her telegrams she raised her veil, and the telegraph clerks remarked on the absence of any sign of perturbation.

After Ward was arrested an attempt was made to interview him, but he was unable to make any statement. He tried to maintain an absolute neutrality, but it was by a visible effort. When he was informed that Col. Bradbury was coming to San Francisco on his way East, Ward could not conceal his evident unhappiness, although he is cultivating an attitude of bravado.

Neither Ward nor Mrs. Bradbury would discuss their plans or future movements. Col. Bradbury, Gen. East, Mrs. L. Bradbury, Col. John Bradbury and Mr. Louis Bradbury left this morning for the East via the Santa Fe route. Several real estate agents have been eclipsed by endeavoring to arrange a meeting of the board of directors for the purpose of expelling Ward.

Skinner of a Whaler Swaps News on the High Seas. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. VICTORIA, B. C., July 3.—The cool, consummate nerve of the typical Western real estate agent has been eclipsed by the skipper of the whaling bark California, of New Bedford, now profitably engaged in the North Pacific ocean. It was on Saturday evening, June 1, that this nautical gentleman gave his illustration of superlative gall, and the circumstances, as related by the passengers on the Empress of China, are briefly these: About 8 in the evening the big steamer was howling merrily along with good weather and prospects of a fast and pleasant passage. Suddenly bells were heard; officers passed quickly to one side of the ship; the engines stopped; voices were heard in eager inquiry, and then, an hour having been lost, the big steamship got underway again. The skipper of the whaler had signaled the liner to stop because he had struck three "right" whales the day before, with 90 barrels of oil already under the hatch, and he wanted to send the good news to his owners as quickly as possible. He also wanted to get the latest news, and after the Empress had disgorged all the recent newspapers of which she was possessed, and had given his whaler's letters a place in her mail bag, there were no newspapers left for the two vessels remaining in company.
