

WILEY LAID TO REST.

FRIENDS PAY THE LAST TRIBUTE OF EARTH TO THE DEAD.

Hundreds of Those Who Knew and Loved Him in Life Lay Flowers on His Coffin and Weep That He is Gone—Gov. Rogers and Many Officials Among the Mourners—Rev. Clark Davis Delivers the Funeral Address Over the Remains of His Friend.

The funeral services over the remains of John Wiley, president of the board of regents of the University of Washington, were held yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 73 Twenty-first avenue, Rev. Clark Davis officiating.

There was a large attendance of dignitaries, principal among whom was Gov. James R. Rogers, who acted as an honorary pallbearer. The board of regents, judiciary of King county, and officials of the prosecuting attorney's office, were also present.

The city was represented by Acting Mayor Crichton. The faculty of the University of Washington had its representatives in President W. F. Edwards, Prof. Edmund S. Meany, Prof. Charles F. Reeves and Lieut. John Whalley, U. S. A. County Treasurer Charles F. Whitteley was among those present.

The majority of the members of the bar association met at the corner of Twenty-first avenue and East Jefferson street and marched to the house in double file, led by Col. E. P. Edson and Gen. J. B. Metcalfe. Following the crowd, in order of the houses, they stood on the lawn near the balcony windows, and with uncovered heads listened to the heartfelt words spoken by Mr. Davis over the body of John Wiley, his friend.

There was a simplicity and earnestness about everything that appealed strongly to all present. As the words "Abide With Me" stole out from the chamber of death in rich melodious tones those outside felt more keenly than before the solemn import of this ceremony. The music died away, and then Rev. Clark Davis offered prayer. The quartette sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and following this Mr. Davis spoke briefly, but from the depth of his heart, about John Wiley and his life.

After Mr. Davis finished speaking the quartette sang "The Light of Day." This closed the services at the house, and the friends passed the casket one by one to take a last look at the familiar face. The honorary pallbearers, composed of the following, led the procession from the house: Gov. John R. Rogers, Judge Orange Jacobs, pastor of the King County Bar Association, Judge Thomas H. Humes, Hon. John P. Hoyt, Hon. John E. Humphries, Judge Roger S. Green, Superior Judge E. D. Benson, Superior Judge W. H. Moore, Judge J. W. Langley, Col. E. P. Edson, F. S. Potvin, Col. Robert H. Lindsay, ex-Mayor J. T. Ronald, Col. Ralph H. Lindsay, John Arthur and ex-Corporation Counsel W. T. Scott.

Then came the board of university regents, Maj. James R. Hayden, president pro tem, leading.

The pallbearers and regents passed along the aisle made by the members of the King County Bar Association to the hearse. The procession then proceeded to Lake View cemetery, where Rev. Clark Davis said the final prayer.

Among those present at the funeral were the following: Gov. James R. Rogers, Hon. John P. Hoyt, Judge Thomas H. Humes, John E. Humphries, Judge Orange Jacobs, Judge Roger S. Green, Superior Judge E. D. Benson, Superior Judge W. H. Moore, Judge J. W. Langley, Col. E. P. Edson, F. S. Potvin, Col. Robert H. Lindsay, ex-Mayor J. T. Ronald, Vincent E. F. Compositions of Exquisite Melody to Be Heard at the Open-Air Concert.

The success of the Post-Intelligencer open-air concert to be given Saturday night is doubly assured by the many strangers who are in the city. There is a success dependent upon the members attending an entertainment rather than upon the merit of the performance. To the fact that neither of these features, attendance and merit, is ever wanting at the Post-Intelligencer concerts, is due in great measure their popularity.

A vast audience is in itself interesting. There is an intense enjoyment in being one of a crowd, a vital part of a palpitating whole. To touch elbows with a throng bound by airy webs of harmony is to feel a new charm in music which comes not in solitude. There is grandeur in the thought of many hearts attuned as one, of many minds with all their conflicting interests merged in a present melody.

No crowd is too much to say that half the people who attend places of amusement are drawn as much by the thought of meeting the other half as by anticipation of enjoying the entertainment promised? No crowd is too much to say that half the people who attend places of amusement are drawn as much by the thought of meeting the other half as by anticipation of enjoying the entertainment promised?

The floral tributes were the choicest that could be procured. Set pieces were especially popular, but there was also a profusion of cut flowers. Following is a list of the pieces, together with their donors:

Large broken wheel, roses and smilax, the King County Bar Association. Pillow of pansies, Lieut. and Mrs. John H. Wholley. Pillow of white roses, Mrs. H. Fall. Pillow of white roses, Harrison Bostwick, law partner of Mr. Wiley. Cluster of roses, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brown.

Open ledger, body of white pinks, edges of pansies and smilax. The inscriptions were in blue. Across the top was the name, "John Wiley." On the first page appeared the words, "Open October 22, 1857." On the last, "Closed July 12, 1897." This magnificent offering was from the King County Bar Association.

Bunch of roses, Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick. Cross of roses, no name attached. Anchor and pedestal, board of regents of the University of Washington. Large bunch of exquisite white roses, tied with handsome satin ribbon, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wright.

Large broken wheel, white roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kuhlmann, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mensing, Mr. and Mrs. Ward, Welch & Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Moses, Mr. and Mrs. P. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Copp, Jay A. Allen, Miss M. Allen, Howard Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Bohme, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Miss Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Saintmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Metzger.

Cut flowers, roses principally, Mr. and Mrs. Brown. Bunch of roses, Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlmann. Bunch of white roses, Mr. and Mrs. David McKinley. White roses and smilax, W. F. Edwards. Bunch of pinks, Arthur Griffin. Bunch of white roses and roses, "Anna." White roses, Mrs. Powell.

The music was under the direction of Col. Robert H. Lindsay. The quartette was composed of the following: Bert Williams, first tenor; Dr. Robert E. Gentle, second tenor; Mr. Conant, first base; Col. Robert H. Lindsay, second base.

The King County Bar Association will meet on Saturday this morning at 10 o'clock to listen to the report of the committee on resolutions regarding John Wiley. The committee is composed of Will H. Thompson, J. W. Langley, J. E. Hale, George E. de Steiguer and John P. Fay.

Fortune awaits him. Where is James H. Campau, missing heir of a wealthy Detroit family?

There is an heir to considerable wealth swimming about on the Pacific coast, or forming part of the feverish host which is seeking wealth in the gold fields of Alaska. His name is James H. Campau, and he is a son of the Campaus of Detroit, Mich., a French family numbered among the richest of that city. His father has recently died, and in his will James H. Campau is substantially remembered.

The young man has always been of a wandering disposition, and it has been almost ten years since his whereabouts has been known to the family. Since the father's decease young Campau has been anxiously sought by the family, and a letter from Mrs. Lavinia E. Campau, dated Detroit, July 9, which said:

"As I am searching for James H. Campau, formerly of Detroit, but lately of Red Fen, Neb., who is supposed to be traveling through the West, will you kindly assist me in my search by handing the facts to the leading newspaper of your locality? He was last heard from at Omaha, Neb., in May, 1888. His height is about five feet seven inches, complexion dark, hair brown, eyes hazel, his mustache brown. By the death of his father, Mr. Campau has become heir to some property, and I will give a suitable reward for information as to his whereabouts, living or dead."

Investigation has so far failed to give definite knowledge of where the heir is now. It has been learned that three years ago a man named Campau was sailing the description given here, was sealed in a logging camp near Port Townsend. He is said to have gone last spring to Alaska, since which all trace of him has been lost.

LARGEST EXPORTS YET

REMARKABLE SHOWING BY THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

Figures Are Larger Even Than Those for 1932—Excess of Exports Over Imports Larger Than Ever Before—Increase of Exports of Merchandise Is $170,000,000—Silver Movement Is Very Large.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The monthly statement of the imports and exports of the United States issued by the bureau of statistics makes the remarkable showing that never before in the history of the country have the exports of merchandise, which include practically all the exports except gold and silver, reached so high a figure as during the fiscal year ending June 30, nor has the excess of exports over imports ever been so large.

The total imports of merchandise during the fiscal year just closed amounted to $74,573,966, of which $31,421,900 was free of duty. The total imports were about $15,500,000 less than last year, and the excess of exports over imports for the year was $27,000,000. This is an excess of about $15,000,000 over last year and an excess of about $23,000,000 over any previous year.

The exports of gold, including ores, for the fiscal year 1937 amounted to $40,530,780, which includes practically all the exports of gold and silver. The imports of gold amounted to $53,912,575, an increase of about $1,500,000 over 1936.

The exports of silver during 1937 amounted to $1,946,628, and the imports to $20,416,227. The excess of gold imports over exports, therefore, was $1,651,736, and the excess of silver exports over imports, $18,469,599. Never before has the silver movement, both export and import, reached so high a figure.

WHITMAN COUNTY FINANCES. In Better Condition Than at Any Time Since 1891. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer.

Whitman county, Wash., July 15.—Treasurer Manning has filed his report for the quarter ending June 30, 1937. There was an increase in the various funds at that time of $10,000, divided among different funds as follows:

State general $259 26 State military 170 93 State interest 163 91 State school 2,861 39 General county 2,206 18 Special school 11,532 56 County school 3,274 91 District school 7,983 34 Road district 4,412 36 County bridge 1,227 00 Poor 2,883 87 Indigent soldiers 505 08

This is considerably less than the amount usually kept in the county treasury, at any time, and particularly at this season, as but a small amount of taxes will be collected before the first of November.

The county cash book for the year discloses a better condition of affairs than during previous years since 1891. Taxes have been paid more readily, and the amount of delinquency has been greatly reduced. The indebtedness of the county, it is believed, has not been greatly reduced.

On June 30, 1937, there was on hand in the various funds $53,245,943. Receipts during the year following that date were $12,466,300. There was paid out during the year $15,500,300. Receipts of money were mostly from tax collections. Taxes were collected for the following years: 1937, $1,194,171; 1936, $2,699,227; 1935, $1,957,777; 1934, $1,248,148; 1933, $1,218,148. Payments received from other sources, including fines, sales for delinquent taxes, fees of county officers, state school money and other state money, $50,024,247. The fees earned and received by the auditor, clerk, sheriff, treasurer and other officers during the year aggregated $12,162,641.

Of the various funds handled by the treasurer, four are the property of the state, the state general, state interest, state military and state school funds. Receipts in these four funds were $62,000,500, while disbursements were $62,380,139. The fund of principal interest to citizens of the county is the general county fund, from which is paid the bills for general supplies, salaries, election expenses and a number of other claims. This fund has received during the year $1,101,777, and from it has been paid $9,427,877. On June 30, 1937, the fund was credited with $11,422,800. Since the first of the calendar year the fund has on several occasions been overdrawn. It is in that condition at the present time. Of the $9,427,977 paid from this fund during the year $10,000 was the interest in bonded indebtedness, $28,441.38 was transferred to the salary fund to pay salaries, warrants were called and paid to the amount of $3,544,441, and interest on those warrants of $8,656.20. The remaining disbursements were transfers to other funds, and refunding of taxes illegally collected.

The salary fund of the county shows the receipt of $9,994,222, and the disbursement of a like amount. Of the receipts $28,441.38 was from the county fund, and $1,162,544 represents fees collected by county officers.

The county is the tax collecting agent of the incorporated cities of the county. During the year ending June 30, 1937, the county collected for city taxes a total of $28,129,554, which amount has been paid over to the different city treasurers. Of the eleven incorporated cities of the county, nine levy municipal taxes, and two, Rosalia and Elberton, do not. The nine cities levying taxes received the following amounts: Colfax, $11,699,888; Colton, $881,427; Farmington, $761,241; Gardfield, $1,550,494; Oakdale, $1,841,841; Palouse, $1,285,107; Pullman, $4,015,255; Tekoa, $1,732,287; Uniontown, $1,029,233.

According to the treasurer's reports for the year ending June 30, 1937, the total receipts in all funds was but little over $200,000, the state funds being credited with $27,277,122, and various county funds with $24,898,277, of this amount the general county fund being credited with a receipt of $22,657,533, and city funds $20,738,112.

Female Prisoners Not Compelled to Break Rock and Wear Overall.

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—Women prisoners are not to be put to work on the rock piles with men in Kansas City, Kan. The board of police commissioners who decided last week that this should be done have found public sentiment too strongly opposed to their plan. In deference to the first outburst of popular opposition, the police commissioners proposed to rescind that part of the order compelling the women to wear men's overalls, but this failed to stop the flood of protests, and the order is wholly rescinded.

The agitation has developed the fact that the same rule is enforced by the police of Leavenworth, Kan. Leavenworth's women prisoners are made to break rock and to wear overalls. They are worked separately from the men and break rock with small hammers under a shed in the jail yard. The Leavenworth officials declare that their women prisoners as a rule do not object to the work.

Only Thirty Victoria Sealers. VICTORIA, B. C., July 15.—Only thirty Victoria sealing schooners will go to Bering sea this season, compared with sixty-four last year. The low prices obtained for last year's catch is the cause. The British warships Pheasant and Wild Swan will leave Sunday morning to patrol the sea. The United States has five ships there.
