

THE POST-INTELLIGENCER.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Delivered by City Carrier, Daily and Sunday, per month, $1.00; Daily and Sunday, six months, $5.00; Daily and Sunday, one year, $9.00.

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE: Daily and Sunday, per month, $1.00; Daily and Sunday, six months, $5.00; Daily and Sunday, one year, $9.00.

OFFICES: Seattle, Second Avenue and Cherry Street; New York, Rooms 12, 14, 15 Tribune Bldg.; Chicago, 217 Chicago; Tacoma, 1202 Pacific Avenue.

A GUARANTEE: The Post-Intelligencer hereby guarantees its advertisers a bona fide paid circulation, Daily, Weekly and Sunday, double that of any other newspaper published in the state of Washington.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER: SEATTLE, FRIDAY, NOV. 5.

FREE SILVER NOT GROWING: Chauncey M. Depew is as far from being correct in his judgment upon the election as Bryan is.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

for Bryan is only a novice in the doctrine compared with him—does not look as if the financial heresy was spreading.

It is not worth discussing at any length the conditions in the Southern states. It is well known how Democratic majorities are secured there. In a presidential year the prospect of Federal offices gives considerable stimulus to a large class of Republicans, and that is entirely wanting in an off year.

SPEAK UP, MR. LAMB: Mr. John Lamb, candidate for school director, is unfortunate in his selection of managers for his campaign.

A circular addressed to the "Registered Voters" yesterday made its appearance, signed by Hermon F. Titus and eight others. It is insulting and malicious in its tone, and extravagant and untruthful in its utterances with respect to Mr. Bowden and Superintendent Barnard.

E. Bowden is—What? The public has not been told a syllable about him. E. Bowden has no such special fitness. E. Bowden is a money lender.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

tion. Judge Van Wyck says that private interests have too long governed the city, and that it must give way to the public good.

His sarcastic allusion to the Raines law, "with all the spying and sneaking and mendacity that grew up under it," touches more closely the true cause of his own great vote.

There is one paragraph in his address, which is so absolutely truthful, and whose truth has been so frequently and emphatically demonstrated by the people, that it should be read and well considered even by those who may regret that it is the truth.

The audacity with which the new incumbent declares his purpose to select only Democrats for office almost commands respect; it is so free from Mugwumpery. Provided he will carry out his promise that the fitness and honesty and worth of a citizen seeking office shall be the first considerations, there can be no harm in his policy.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

The Post-Intelligencer has no interest in Mr. Bowden's candidacy; but in the interest of decency and fair play, it does not hesitate to denounce this insolent and outrageous attack on reputable citizens.

As usual, the Democrats and Populists crowded too early. With the exception of New York, their victories are not nearly so complete as the first returns indicated.

This circular is a fair illustration of the methods employed to elect Mr. Lamb. It is kindred to other utterances which have appeared in a local publication notorious for the recklessness, intemperance and mendacity of its expressions.

den of any man's senatorial candidacy before the legislative ticket is elected. It might be otherwise if senators were nominated by state conventions; but they are not, and no man has a right deliberately to make his personality and his personal ambitions an issue upon which the success of his party depends.

There is a definite prospect that telegraphic communication will be established with Dawson in another year. The difficulties are not so great as many have imagined.

Chairman Jones narrowly escaped springing his explanation of the result before it happened.

Jerry Simpson's panic talk evidently acted as a counter-irritant on his Kansas constituency.

It is obvious that an expedition to rescue Mr. Lamb from his fool friends is one of the crying needs of the day.

The fact that all the London papers take a gloomy view of the New York election occasions the suspicion that Mr. Croker's friend, the prince, has not properly looked after the Tammany press bureau in England.

Substitution of Saved-Off Dollars: What He Really Wants. Joseph Medill in Chicago Times.

We have spoken in another column of the debate in Ohio, May, 1886, between Roosevelt, gold Republican editor of the Bee, and W. J. Bryan, then Populist leader in Nebraska.

An open mint, ready to coin any quantity of either gold or silver which may be tendered to it, and the right on the part of a debtor to discharge his liabilities, at his option, in either of the two metals, at a ratio fixed by law.

Bryan's "royal commission definition" of bi-metallic money wholly omits the exchange value of silver for gold per weight, and only supplies a dollar of half the purchasing power in carrying on business.

The following comparative statement of receipts in the month of September for the years 1896 and 1897, for the postoffice has been developed an amount of ignorance and fury on the part of some critics which is simply astounding.

It is interesting, if not profitable, to speculate on whether Van Wyck could have been beaten by a Republican candidate for mayor of New York.

The remarkable story of the reception at Calcutta of the whaleback City of Everett defies belief. The Everett was laden with grain for the starving natives of India, and her captain says he was not only received with insult and contumely by the British customs officials, but most unreasonable duties were imposed on his cargo.

An Old Landmark to Vanish: The former castle barracks in Sandau, used as a prison at the time Gottfried Kinkel escaped from it with the help of Carl Schurz and some of the citizens, has just been sold to a merchant for the sum of $25,000.

Port Townsend Leader: The chief danger to Republicans in states where campaigns are now closing lies in their overconfidence. The Democratic cause is proving so popularly popular and devoid of enthusiasm that there is danger that Republicans will neglect their duty on election day.

Tacoma News: Democracy is not now howling free trade. Reasonable duties, sufficient to help American industry and enterprise, are in harmony with the best Democratic ideas.

Radway's Ready Relief: The most certain and safe Pain Remedy in water is a mild, wholesome Stimulant. Cures and Prevents Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus.

Waterman and Neals are no longer at the helm. Men whose only idea of statesmanship is free trade are not in demand. The Democratic party cannot afford to go back and take up these decrepit, discarded and played-out guides.

Amateur American: It is not very much to the credit of the farmers of this state that hogs are being shipped here in great numbers.

What's the use," grumbled Old Hunk, "of saying good times have come again? Bryan and Debs haven't been able to find any useful work yet."

When I went abroad I intended to write a book called 'My Experiences With Old Ocean.' It was not to be.

Duggan—Oh see be th' papers, Brins, that they hoo built a lilyscope that joins th' ocean widin two hundred miles or th' earth.

Property Owner—Don't think you will find a better place as janitor in the city. Applicant—Well, I've the care to take it unless I knew what the prospects were.

Rev. Mr. Saunders, a member of the East Ohio United Brethren conference, recently resigned from the conference because he felt that its members should not use tobacco.

Mr. Timothy Adamowski, the well-known violinist of the Boston Symphony orchestra, and the Adamowski quartet were summoned to play before the czar and czarina of Russia during their stay in that country.

A parliamentary cricket team, consisting of five lords and fourteen members of the commons, is going to make a tour of the colonies, including Canada and Australia, next season.

Sir Charles Mordaunt, Bart., of Walton, Warwickshire, England, is dead. He was in his 63d year. His heir is Osbert Mordaunt, who was born in 1841.

He was a legislator—his chance looked mighty slim; Ward's up on public questions, yet they elected him!

But he went there pledged to one thing. The old standard—saved-off dollars for full-length dollars, an unstable, depreciating metal.

Scorching in Business: The bicyclist is not the only man who has his head in the clouds.

ways watch his health and correct minor irregularities by a resort to the right remedy, he may do a reasonable amount of scorching without serious results.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation. Mother! Mother! Mother! Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over 50 years by millions of mothers for their children.

Radway's Ready Relief: The most certain and safe Pain Remedy in water is a mild, wholesome Stimulant. Cures and Prevents Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus.

Radway's Ready Relief: The most certain and safe Pain Remedy in water is a mild, wholesome Stimulant. Cures and Prevents Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus.

Today.. 10c Flannelette for 64c. Up-to-Date Mackintoshes At Low Prices. These are all with double separate caps, velvet collars and double texture.

To ALASKA AND THE KLONDIKE FREE! The Post-Intelligencer Has the Secret.

THE BON MARCHÉ Nordhoff & Co. 1425, 1427, 1429 Second Avenue and 115 Pike Street.

Winter Millinery. Today and Saturday Gala Bargain Days. Our display of New Winter Millinery is surpassingly handsome in French Pattern Hats and Bonnets—yes, in American creations not a whit behind the French in daintiness of conception and originality.

Extra Shoe Inducements. In our busy Shoe Departments. Special Friday and Saturday offerings: Boys' and Youths' Extra Heavy Velveteen Calf Lace Shoes, all sizes, only $1.50 pair.

Great Cloak and Cape Days. BARGAINS EXTRAORDINARY. Cloak Department. All-Wool Kersey Capes, in shades of myrtle green, trimmed with five rows of silk soutache braid, small silk buttons.

Children's Cloaks. Children's Brown Cheviot Jackets, velvet collar, well made, only $2.00. Children's and Misses' Long Unders, or Newmarkets, with Empire collars, worth $2.50, only $1.50.

A MILLINERY SPECIAL. 10 dozen of Trailing Coque Feathers, worth $2.00, only 75c. IN THE SHOE DEPARTMENT. Men's Heavy Rubbers, only $2 a pair.