

CHAMPAGNE ANCHORED. THE TAIL-END SHAFI AND IS ON NEWFOUNDLAND BANKS. Boat's Crew Sent for Assistance Put in Six Days of Terrible Hardships, but Are Picked Up by the Rotterdam and Reach New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The Holland-American line steamer Rotterdam from Rotterdam arrived at quarantine tonight with Third Officer George Unsworth and the crew of the overdue French liner Champagne, who were picked up from a lifeboat on Thursday, February 24, in latitude 41.1 north, longitude 57 west. The men, when taken aboard the Rotterdam, were in a helpless condition, having been in the ship's lifeboat for six days and nights. The men were all more or less frost-bitten. Unsworth stated that the Champagne broke her tail-end shaft on Thursday, February 23, at 5 p. m., in latitude 42.7, longitude 53.2. The steamer sank in a helpless condition. Capt. Perrott shared.

The steamer was on the edge of the Newfoundland banks, and, there being a possibility of the steamer not being picked up in her position, Capt. Perrott decided to send a lifeboat in search of assistance. The lifeboat was fully provisioned, having a crew of nine men left in the lifeboat of intercepting some passenger steamer. The weather proved tempestuous, with a heavy sea. A sharp lookout was kept by passenger steamer, but none was seen. The crew kept to their oars and in six days worked with might and main, but owing to the exposure, became well-nigh exhausted. On February 24, at 1 p. m., the Rotterdam bore down and stood by, and with no difficulty rescued all hands. The Champagne experienced strong head winds up to February 17, when the tail-end shaft gave way. When the accident occurred the best of her prevailed. The steamer was perfectly tight and not taking any water. The passengers, on being informed of the Champagne's fate, were greatly distressed. The steamer carried 204 passengers, being cabin, 22 second class, 20 steerage and a crew of 115.

IN THE SENATE. The Corbett Case Occupied the Greater Part of the Day. WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—During the greater part of the senate's session today the right of Henry W. Corbett to a seat in the senate, representing Oregon, was under discussion. Mr. Thurston, of Nebraska, in an extended speech, maintained the right of Mr. Corbett, while Messrs. Braker, Kyle and Mantle supported Corbett's claim. The vote on the case, it has been agreed, will be taken next Monday, at 2 p. m. The pension calendar was passed by the passage of several private pension bills. A few bills of a general character were also passed.

IN THE HOUSE. River and Harbor Appropriations Tacked on the Sundry Civil Bill. WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The house resumed consideration of the sundry civil bill immediately after the reading of the journal, the pending amendment being that of Tongue, Republican, of Oregon, to appropriate $100,000 for Yaquina bay, Oregon. Dockery, Democrat, of Missouri, vigorously opposed the amendment, which he said would make the government liable for an expenditure of over $1,000,000 on a project that was an engineering impossibility. The amendment was lost 35 to 75. An amendment appropriating $200,000 for the harbor of Cleveland, O., offered by Burton, Republican, of Ohio, was adopted. An amendment offered by Moody, Republican, of Massachusetts, and warmly supported by Fitzgerald, Democrat, of Massachusetts, to increase the appropriation for Boston harbor from $100,000 to $600,000, was adopted. An amendment offered by Grosvenor, Republican, of Ohio, appropriating $2,889 for the continuation of the publication of records of the rebellion, was adopted. At 5 p. m. the committee of the whole bill, McCleary, Republican.

of Minnesota, was recognized by the speaker on a question of personal privilege. He said that a purported interview with him was published this morning relative to the disaster to the Maine. In justice to himself he said that the interview was entirely unwarranted and unauthorized. It did not in any correct manner represent his views on the question. The house, at 5:20 p. m., adjourned.

THE CUT IS ON ALL ROADS. Passengers to All North Pacific Points Get $20 Rebate. CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—At a meeting of the general passenger agents of the Western roads here today a decision was reached regarding the transcontinental rate war, the trans-Missouri roads gave notice that beginning March 6 they would put into effect to North Pacific coast points from the Missouri river gateways the same rates as are now in effect via St. Paul. For parties of three or over they will make a flat rate. On single tickets they will charge full fares, giving the passenger a rebate order payable on reaching destination. This view disposes of the question of meeting the cuts through the Missouri river gateways.

A committee was at once appointed to prepare a plan of action for the roads east of the Missouri river to pursue. The report of this committee will be considered Monday. The meeting today declined to take any action on a proposition coming from the Canadian Pacific road through a trunk line committee, for a settlement of the matters in dispute. In effect, this proposition was that all rates should be restored to the level maintained pending the result of a conference to be held March 17. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads would not consent to entertain the proposition, because it involved a fresh recognition of Canadian Pacific differential and restored to the Canadian Pacific all the advantages it possessed on that point prior to the rate war. The other roads would take no action on the subject until they heard from their Eastern ally, the Grand Trunk. They recommended the trunk line committee to submit the proposition to that road for an expression of opinion on the subject, and when it is heard from the Western roads will then be in a position to take action in the matter.

Dennis Doran. NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Dennis Doran, of this city, general superintendent of construction of the Western Union Telegraph Company, died suddenly last night at Newark, Ohio. His death was due to apoplexy. Mr. Doran was born in 1830. When Supt. Eckert took charge of the military telegraph line of the Department of the Potomac he put Mr. Doran in charge of the construction and he later laid the cable from Cape Charles to Fort Monroe and the first message over it was the news that the Monitor had destroyed the Merrimack. He kept all correspondence in constant connection with the headquarters of Gen. Grant and Gen. Meade. When the American Union and the Atlantic and Pacific companies consolidated with the Western Union in 1881 Mr. Doran was made general superintendent of construction and repairs. KING OF GREECE FIRED ON. TWO MISCREANTS MAKE A DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO KILL HIM. While Out Driving With His Daughter Two Men Opened Fire on Them With Guns, and Kept It Up as Long as Carriage Was in Range.

ATHENS, Feb. 26.—An unsuccessful attempt was made today to assassinate King George of Greece. The king was returning from Phaleron at 5 o'clock in the evening, in a landau, accompanied by the Princess Maria, when two men who were hidden in a ditch alongside the road opened fire with guns upon the occupants of the carriage. The first shot missed, but the second wounded a footman in the arm. The coachman whipped up his horses and the royal party dashed away at a gallop. The miscreants fired seven more shots after them, none of which took effect, and the king and princess returned to the palace unharmed. The king states that one of the assassins was dressed in gray clothing, and his majesty declares he could easily identify him. When the second shot whizzed past the king, he rose and stood in front of his daughter, in order to shield her. One of the horses was slightly wounded. One of the assailants knelt in the road and aimed straight at the king, who noticed that the man's hand was shaking. The shot missed, and his majesty says the assassin was barely twenty yards off. He continued to fire after the carriage until it was out of range. His companion did not leave the ditch. As soon as the news became known all the leading politicians hastened to the palace to express their sympathy over the escape of King George and the Princess Maria. The action of his majesty in shielding the princess at the risk of his life has aroused great enthusiasm.

REGISTRATION STILL SLOW. Republicans Waking Up to the Necessity of Action. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—Local Republicans have at last been aroused to the fact that the party as a whole is not being registered as it should be, and are to hold a meeting under the auspices of the city committee next Monday evening, to devise ways and means for mending the present omission. While there is a period of little more than two weeks in which the registration books are to be kept open, it is thought among the Republicans that if they get solidly together and all work hard, there is time enough remaining to get the full vote registered.

The city council this evening passed a resolution providing for keeping open the clerk's office each evening, beginning next Monday, until March 15, Sundays excepted. This move will permit the registry of laboring men who are at work during the day. This vote in the aggregate forms a fair share of the total in Tacoma, and as yet there has been only a portion of it registered. The suddenness with which registration has been checked in certain precincts is alarming to both parties, but particularly to the Republicans. The Fifth precinct of the Second ward, containing more votes than any other precinct in the city, excepting one, sent five voters to be registered in the past five days, an average of one each day. This is a Republican precinct, lying in a Republican ward, and a precinct that ordinarily casts almost a full vote.

OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT CROP. Much Grain Still in Farmers' Hands Whittens Wheat Damaged. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—State Geologist Wright, who has returned home from an extended visit in the grain belt east of the mountains, says that in the Eureka Flat country around Walla Walla there remain at present 1,000,000 bushels of superior wheat in the hands of the farmers. The sale of it is to exporters, who purchase it to mix with lower grade grain and thus raise the standard of their stocks on hand. Mr. Wright says there is no definite figure set on the grain on hand, but that in the past few days no. 1 bluestem sold in Walla Walla at 70 cents. He reports plowing and seeding under way in Columbia and Walla Walla counties, and anticipates a material increase in the acreage in these two counties. The Palouse country is not yet being plowed for grain, the weather being too severe to permit of it. In this latter section some 300,000 bushels of wheat changed hands last week, and was shipped to Portland. The inspector reports that fully two-thirds of the crop in Whitman county has been more or less damaged on hand. Milling in east-of-the-mountain cities, says Mr. Wright, is not at all brisk, owing to the high price of wheat and the comparatively low rate for flour.

FAWCETT WILL THROW HIM OUT. This Is What He Threatens Should Tests Resume His Seat. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—When Mayor Fawcett was seen today as to what he would take in the event of Mayor Tests resuming his place on the board of civil service commissioners, he was almost angry at the very thought of such a contingency. "Just let him try it," said the mayor, "and he will learn I am not to be trifled with. What will I do? I will have him thrown out just as I did before. He can then sue me for damages if he likes, but he shall not sit as a member of that commission as long as I sit the mayor of Tacoma." In reply to a question as to his right to forcibly eject Tests, should he be properly represented at the Trans-Mississippi and International exposition, which will be held in Omaha from June to November of this year, Mayor Fawcett said: "I am sure the supreme court would be allowed, Mayor Fawcett said. "I hold that I have the right to dismiss any one or all of my own appointees so long as they have not been confirmed by the council. I believe this is a privilege that most appointing powers of appointment in order to give the protection here I am held responsible for the acts of my appointees. Do you mean that it is intended to carry on a business which I find they are not doing their duty as they should? No, indeed, that is neither law nor equity, and you can say for me that Tests will not resume his official place here while I remain here as mayor."

WASHINGTON TO BE REPRESENTED. Geo. W. Thompson Will Name Commissioners for the Omaha Fair. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—The state of Washington, it is decided, is to be properly represented at the Trans-Mississippi and International exposition, which will be held in Omaha from June to November of this year. Today Commissioner Lewis, of Omaha, accompanied by George W. Thompson, of this city, vice president of the exposition for the state of Washington, called upon Gov. Rogers at Olympia for the purpose of presenting to him a name body of commissioners to prepare an exhibit. After hearing their mission the governor explained that he could not undertake what they requested, but that he would provide another way for arriving at the same end. He accordingly empowered Mr. Thompson to select a committee for this purpose, furnishing him with the proper official credentials. Mr. Thompson returned home this evening, much pleased with the result of his visit to the governor, and with the intention of at once setting to work in the interest of a state exhibit. To a Post-Intelligencer reporter he said: "I expect to name probably fifteen commissioners from throughout the state, and shall take pains to see that each of our more prominent industries are represented on this commission. I am quite certain of the success of our efforts, for I am aware of the feeling favorable to Washington having a state exhibit displayed at the exposition. Both Seattle and Tacoma are anxious to do their share, and I am not the least bit fearful of the result of our work if we set about to get up an exhibit such as the people of the state may feel justly proud of. I expect to prepare my list of appointees without delay, and shall name them in a few days. No, I do not know who I shall appoint."

PROPOSED CHARTER CHANGES. Tacoma Will Vote on Abolishing the Civil Service Rules. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—At a public meeting of the city council held tonight an ordinance was passed providing for amendments to the charter. The most important proposed amendment is that doing away with the present civil service system adopted at the city election two years ago. This section of the ordinance, with another making the city clerk and clerk of the council appointive by the council, was passed by a unanimous vote. The question of having the city attorney appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council, brought about a slight split. A motion to strike out this subject, leaving the present mode to stand, allowing the mayor to appoint and remove at his own pleasure, was passed, Whitty and Sampson, Republicans, and Leo, Populist, voting against it. The proposed amendments will be submitted at the city election April 4.

O. R. & N. Will Cut Rates. Special Dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer. TACOMA, Feb. 26.—General Agent W. E. is in Tacoma today, expressing the opinion that the Oregon Railroad & Navigation may again put in effect the cut rate which was recently withdrawn. If successful, the cut will affect only long hauls, according to his belief, from Portland eastward to Chicago, New York and intermediate points.

GREAT TIDE OF PEOPLE Copeland Institute Thronged With Applicants for Treatment.

Interest Seems to Prevade All Classes of the Community—Invalid Clergyman, Invalid Physicians and Others in the Learned Professions Manifest Their Appreciation of Dr. Copeland's Admirable Medical System and Help Swell the Attendance—The $5 Monthly Rate Includes All Medicines and Treatment Until Cured.

The attendance at the Copeland Institute during the past three months, in spite of pelting storms has been a marked increase on that of any corresponding period in its history. That the offer of treatment at the nominal cost of $5 a month, medicines included, until cured, has had its effect in swelling the daily roll of applicants is certainly true. But the real key to the never-ending enthusiasm of the people over the Copeland medical system, the feeling that maintains the enormous attendance, month in and month out, year in and year out, is a feeling that is entirely irrespective of high fee or low fee. It is simply a strong popular conviction of the matchless curative efficiency of the Copeland treatment. Aside from the fame due to his discovery of a cure for deafness,

Doctor Copeland's reputation as one of the world's greatest living ear, nose and throat specialists is not confined to Seattle. Rumor and story of his work have visited every American community that is reached by the light of American newspapers, till his name is today known literally from one end of the country to the other. If the attendance at the Copeland Institute were confined in the main to poor persons or confined in the main to ignorant persons—if the more than ten thousand men and women of Seattle who so readily credit Doctor Copeland with their rescue from disease and suffering were confined to the so-called lower classes—this present animation and stir might properly be attributed to the low rate. But this is not true. The attendance at the Copeland Institute does not represent the ignorance and pauperism of the city. It doesn't represent the heathen and beggar element and what is lowly and benighted in life. It represents society at large, like a cathedral or a courthouse or a steamship. It includes the polite, social element, the business and banking element, the educated labor element, as well as the poor and needy element. The fact is that by far the largest proportion of those now taking the Copeland treatment are people of means and culture. They include not only the invalid clergymen, invalid merchants, invalid teachers, invalid writers, but invalid physicians themselves, who know good from evil and sense from nonsense in the theory and practice of medicine!

DISEASE DESCRIBED BY SYMPTOMS.

Catarrh of Head and Throat. This condition results from neglected colds, causing Catarrh when the condition of the patient's blood predisposes him to this disease. "Is the breath foul?" "Is the voice husky?" "Do you spit up slime?" "Do you ache all over?" "Do you blow out over?" "Is the nose stopped up?" "Do you snore at night?" "Does your nose bleed easily?" "Is there tickling in the throat?"

Mrs. J. Dalton, Chilkat, Alaska, Testifies to Dr. Copeland's Skill in Curing Catarrh of the Head and Throat.

"Do crusts form in the nose?" "Is the nose sore and tender?" "Do you sneeze a great deal?" "Is this worse toward night?" "Does the nose itch and burn?" "Is there pain in front of head?" "Is there pain across the eyes?" "Is there pain in back of head?" "Is your sense of smell leaving?" "Do you hawk to clear the throat?" "Is there drooping in the throat?" "Do you cough at night?" Catarrh of the Bronchial Tubes.

This condition often results from catarrh extending from the head and throat, and, if left unchecked, extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes and in time attacks the lungs. "Have you a cough?" "Are you losing flesh?" "Do you cough at night?" "Do you take cold easily?" "Have you a pain in the side?" "Have your appetite variable?" "Do you cough until you gag?" "Do you cough worse night and morning?" "Do you have to sit up at night to get your breath?"

Symptoms of Ear Troubles.

Deafness and ear troubles often result from catarrh passing along the Eustachian tube that leads from the throat to the ear. "Is your hearing failing?" "Do your ears discharge?" "Is there wax dry in the ears?" "Do the ears throb and burn?" "Are the ears dry and scaly?" "Is there a throbbing in the ears?" "Is there a buzzing sound heard?" "Do you have a ringing in the ears?" "When you blow your nose do the ears crack?" "Is your hearing worse when you have a cold?" "Is roaring like a waterfall in the head?"

Symptoms of Catarrh of the Stomach.

This condition may result from several causes, but the usual cause is Catarrh, the mucus dropping down into the throat and being swallowed. "Constipation?" "Is the tongue coated?" "Are you costive?" "Is there vomiting?" "Do you belch up gas?" "Do you have water brash?" "Are you light-headed?" "Do you feel languid?" "Do you have a pain behind the ears?" "Is there pain after eating?" "Have you shooting pains in head?" "Is there twitching of the muscles?" "Is there rush of blood to the head?"

Mr. Albion Hudson, Port Gamble, Wash., Cured of Deafness and Catarrh of Head and Stomach.

"Do you bloat up after eating?" "Is there disgust for food?" "Do you desire to eat after eating?" "Is your throat filled with slime?" "Do you at times have a burning pain in the head?" "Is there rush of blood to the head?" "When you get up suddenly are you dizzy?" "Is there gnawing sensation in stomach?" "Do you feel as if you had lead in stomach?" "When your stomach is empty do you feel faint?" "Do you belch up material that burns the throat?" "When the stomach is full do you feel oppressed?"

Catarrh of the Kidneys.

This condition results either from colds or from overwork of the kidneys in separating from the blood the poisons that have been absorbed from catarrh. "Is the skin pale and dry?" "Is the hair falling gray?" "Is the skin a watery itching?" "Is the hair dry and brittle?" "Is the skin dry and harsh?" "Is there a burning pain in the back?" "Is there nausea after eating?" "Do the joints pain and ache?" "Do you have a pain in the top of head?" "Are the eyes dull and staring?" "Do you have dull and feeble feet?" "Has the perspiration a bad odor?" "Is there puffiness under the eyes?" "Is there a bad taste in the mouth?" "Is there a desire to get up at night?" "Are there dark rings around the eyes?" "Do you see spots floating before the eyes?"

Disease of the Nerves.

The majority of Nervous Diseases are caused by poisons in the blood. Poisons circulating in the blood harass the brain and nerves, and such symptoms as these follow: "Do you get giddy?" "Have you neuralgia?" "Is your memory failing?" "Are you easily dazed?" "Are you easily excited?" "Do your hands tremble?" "Do you have vertigo sometimes?" "Do you have headaches?" "Are you easily irritated?" "Have you shooting pains in head?" "Is your brain fagged out?" "Are you easily frightened?" "Doesn't sleep refresh you?"
