READ THESE NUGGETS

"Dancing on the boards and tables, little Gustaf LaMore, blue of eye, blonde of hair, airy, fairy—a miner's dream of loveliness. Swift-water Bill loved her and laid his nuggets at her feet. It was for her he bought up all the eggs in camp to keep a rival from securing her favor by spreading before her that Savarin cuisine—an egg dinner."—San Francisco Examiner.

In describing the wreck of the Corona and the camp of the stranded passengers, an exchange says: "At one time announcement was given out that two eggs to the person were being distributed. A rush to the point ensued and the eggs quickly scattered."

Mrs. McKay writes under date of February 4: "I advise all my friends going to the Klondike that they cannot get along without LaMont's Crystallized Eggs."

A woman writes to the Philadelphia Times from Hampart City on the Yukon river: "Newcomers, like ourselves, are well provided, but those who have been here all summer have but little, with poor prospects for more. We have all the necessities of life—eggs crystallized and milk condensed included."

MRS. GEN. CUSTER, in her famous book, "Boots and Saddles," says: "Most valuable part of army stores; gave great satisfaction."

Used It Twenty Years Ago.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28, 1898.

Mr. C. Fred LaMont,

Dear Sir: I have ordered several times and tasted your omelette, and am more than pleased with them. In fact about thirty years ago, in 1867, in crossing the Atlantic on the steamship "Ago," of the American Line, on its Paris Exposition run, I used LaMont's brand of Crystallized Eggs, serving to the passengers and crew omelettes, custards, scrambled eggs, cakes, etc., made with your eggs, and all agreed in pronouncing them equal to the best fresh shell eggs in every respect.

We were so perfectly satisfied with them that we had no use for any other eggs. I was steward of the ship. I was very glad to find them here again, as I am going with a party to Pyra to open a boarding house, and have bought a good lot to take with us, knowing from experience that they will prove the most valuable part of our stores. I shall use eggs in no other form while there, and you will receive orders from time to time as we require them.

You are at liberty to refer any one to me at any time. Sincerely yours, JOHN S. COLUMB'S, Ex-Steward American Line Steamships.

W. T. Enclosed please find my check for the amount of the order. Respectfully yours, ZACH F. HICKMAN, Manager "The Klondike Nugget."

That World-Renowned Scout and Indian Warrior, Kit Carson's Son, Bears Witness to the Value of LaMont's Crystallized Egg.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 2, 1898.

Dear Sir: I first used your eggs about 1882 in Yellowstone Park where I was serving as guide for a party of gentlemen, including Gen. Francis P. Blair, Senator Roscoe Conkling, of New York; Hon. Charles Bradwater, P. H. Kelly, John H. Grover, of St. Paul; Col. A. H. Wilder and Senator Martin McGuinness, of Washington, and I was very much pleased with the egg. I found it all that you claim for it in every respect, and I was only too glad to again use the egg when in Circle City, Alaska, in 1894, and up to the present time have used your eggs whenever it was at all possible to obtain them, and have always found them perfectly satisfactory. When I return there, as I propose doing before many days, they will form a considerable and very important part of my outfit.

I have not only used them on land, but on sea, having had them served to me on the steamship Bristol.

Knowing your goods to be all that you claim for them in every respect, I shall be only too glad to advance your interest in every way possible and shall not lose an opportunity to promote the sale of your goods, believing that in so doing I shall be best serving my fellow miners. You will be at liberty to refer to me in any way that you choose. Very truly yours, (Signed) H. C. HERNE, Circle City, Alaska.

Dear Sir: In making all of my hardest trips over the mountains of the Pacific coast, both in the United States and the British side of the line, I never consider my outfit complete without a liberal supply of LaMont's Crystallized Egg.

On my last trip since January 1, 1887, to Lake Teslin by way of Wrangell and Stikson river over the ice, I had my juicy omelette every night for dinner, prepared by myself over a camp fire. (Signed) KIT CARSON, of Wrangell, Alaska.

Mrs. McKay's Indorsement.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29, 1898.

Dear Sir: I was the first white woman to come out over the ice from Dawson City, and very fortunately for myself part of my outfit when in Alaska (I might say the most important) consisted of LaMont's Improved Crystallized Eggs. I found them to be all that you claim for them in every respect, and I would not think of returning there without a supply of your eggs.

You are at liberty to refer to me. Yours sincerely, MRS. J. J. MCKAY.

NINE PERSONS DROWNED.

SUDDEN SQUALL CAPSIZES A SMALL FLORIDA SCHOONER.

Victims Were in the Cabin and Perished Like Rats in a Trap—The Captain With His Crew of Two and One Passenger Were Saved.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 3.—The schooner Speedwell, Capt. Collier, from Marco for Key West, was struck by a squall today while off Marques, eighteen miles from here, and causing nine persons were drowned out of thirteen on board.

Among the victims were three children of Capt. Collier, George, Tom and Wilbur, aged respectively 4, 8 and 8, and the entire Nichols family, Bradley Nichols and his wife, their son and the latter's wife, and two grandchildren. The family was from Bridgeport, Conn.

Those saved are: Capt. Collier, Samuel Cates, a deck hand; Jesse Green, deck hand; R. W. Bates, of Myers, Fla., a passenger.

The Nichols family is said to have been well-to-do. All had been staying for a month or two at a small hotel kept by Capt. Collier at Marco, and they were on their way home.

The survivors of the Speedwell were making slow headway this morning against a head wind. About 7 o'clock Capt. Collier was at the wheel and the Nichols family and the Collier children were in the cabin asleep. Suddenly a squall came howling up abeam. Cates and Green rushed to the deck. As the schooner heeled, the squall caught the schooner and blew her over on the port side. Collier and the deck hands and Mr. Bates were swept into the sea, but caught the rigging just in time to save themselves. The wind, rain and waves drowned the dying cries of the imprisoned Nichols family and the Collier children. They were penned in down below like rats.

The wife of the young Nichols rose to the skylight. She waved her hand to the men in the rigging and that is the last they saw of her. The elder Mr. Nichols was the only one to get out of the cabin, but he was swept away and drowned. The men who escaped landed on the island of Key West. After three hours the sea subsided. Then they got the dingy loose, bailed her out with a hat, broke a thwart into two pieces and with these for oars rowed to ward Marco. After going three miles they were picked up exhausted by a fishing sloop and brought here about four o'clock this evening. Soon after being brought into port Capt. Collier and Jesse Green went out on the yacht Buena Vista accompanied by a diver to try to recover the bodies.

UTAH OUTLAWS SURROUNDED.

They Are Enclosed on All Sides, After Killing a Stockman.

VERNAL, Utah, March 3.—Word has been received from Brown's park of the killing of V. S. Hoy, a well-known stock-grower, by a gang of outlaws. Several men including Hoy, while endeavoring to capture Pat Johnson, a man who killed Farmer Strange a few days ago suddenly encountered the desperadoes, who opened fire on the party, killing Hoy instantly. One of the gang, named Bennett, was captured, and the others are surrounded in the mountains with little prospect of escaping. The sheriff and posse have left for the scene. Great excitement prevails.

WILL SECURE ALL MEN NEEDED.

Mr. Boutelle in Full Harmony With Secretary Long.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—To remove an impression that had gotten abroad to the effect that the relations between the navy department and the house naval committee were not harmonious, Secretary Long this afternoon gave out a short statement on the subject. He said: "Congressman Boutelle has been misunderstood. The congressman, who is one of the most patriotic men in the world, is always ready to do everything that can be done for the navy. In his annual report the secretary recommended that Mr. Boutelle be added to the enlisted force, on account of the increase in the number of ships. The house committee, of which Mr. Boutelle is chairman, are ready to make provision to that effect at once."

The Governor Expresses Sympathy for the Loss of the Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Sir Julian Pauncefote came to the state department today bearing a formal expression of deep condolence and sympathy with the government over the loss of the Maine, as follows: "Washington, Feb. 21, 1898. 'Sir: at the request of Sir Alfred Mahony, governor of the Windward Islands, I have the honor to convey the heartfelt sympathy of that colony with the government and people of the United States in the loss sustained through the explosion on board the Maine. I have the honor etc. 'JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE."

MINT FOREMAN BOUND OVER.

Clarkson Held to Answer Charge of Stealing Bullion.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—William Clarkson, foreman of the rolling department at the mint, has been held for trial on a charge of embezzling gold from the rolling department. Clarkson was arrested last Thursday, and since then has been in the county jail in default of $5,000 bail. Although the alleged thefts extended over many months, Clarkson is held for the specific offense of embezzling 4.2 ounces of gold valued at $675, during February, 1898.

STATEMENT WAS UNOFFICIAL.

Secretary Long's Remark Nothing but Personal Opinion.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Washington Post today will print the following interview with Secretary Alger: "The statement of Secretary Long that Spain's official participation in the disaster to the Maine has been 'practically eliminated' is merely an expression of personal opinion on his part. It is an injustice to him, as well as to the administration, to give an official significance to his expression."

emphasize the fact that he was speaking simply as an individual. In the absence of official facts—S-I I can repeat what has been said heretofore, that the public is equally as well informed as the government—no member of the administration can, of course, make any official statement touching Spain's responsibility, moral or otherwise. There is not an iota of information as to the cause or origin of the explosion upon which the government at this time can form a conclusion or base a decision. The verdict of the court of inquiry on that point must patiently be awaited."

Famous Sculptor Will Make His Future Home in Paris.

INTER OCEAN IN TROUBLE.

Associated Press May Cut Off News Service—Injunction Is Denied.

CHICAGO, March 3.—The application of the Inter Ocean for an injunction to restrain the Associated Press from cutting off its news service to that paper has been denied by Judge Waterman. The suit grows out of an alleged violation on the part of the Inter Ocean of the rules of the Associated Press. It was requested that the Inter Ocean for this alleged violation, and perhaps to suspend or expel it from membership in the association. The Inter Ocean applied for an injunction, but after prolonged argument the court today denied the application.

Murderer Shot by a Mob.

MEMPHIS, March 3.—Fred Moore, the murderer of Tom Anderson, was taken from the county jail at Senatobia, Miss., yesterday, and shot to death by a mob of fifty persons. Anderson and Moore quarreled about some trivial matter. Moore followed his man and shot him five times, afterward placing the body on the railroad track to hide the crime.
