New Neckwear.

A new Duchess Butterfly Tie is shown on the tables in lower aisle. It is made of Duchess satin, a yard long, with hemstitched ends. Any color and plain black and white to choose among.

50 CTS APIECE.

- They're very generally sold at a quarter of a dollar more.
- Satin Pleated and Velvet Stock Collars, almost every color imaginable, 15 cts.
- Window Ties, with fringed ends, a yard long, all the new colors; they're usually sold at 75c apiece; here, we've marked them 50 cts.
- The Trolley Tie is a polka dot novelty, with embroidered dots; navy, red, garnet and black; as usual 75c worth, for 50 cts.
- Stock Collars of pleated satin with top of velvet 25 cts.

More Shirts From the Hub.

Striped Madras Golf Shirts, in fine colors, 75c Apiece.

A pair of Cuffs go with each shirt, and the styles, gentlemen, are as fine as you'll meet with in any of the most aristocratic and widely advertised "novelty," yet every one's in good taste and will please the ordinary business man. They were made for the Hub, of Montgomery, Alabama, but the seller and the buyer failed to agree, so we get them to sell at half price.

A Rare Blanket Chance.

It isn't the easiest task in the world searching New York for Blanket Bargains. Very rarely does one find the four-leaf clover. Yet we stumbled across a dealer who was holding an order for a retailer in Oregon who couldn't pay—so we got the lot of three hundred pairs to sell at

$2.95 Instead of $4.50

They're all wool, dark brown, measure 65 and 81 inches (quarters may mean anything you know, so we'll give the real size) and they tip the scales at four and a half pounds. As Blanket rates rule nowadays, they're worth four dollars and a half a pair.

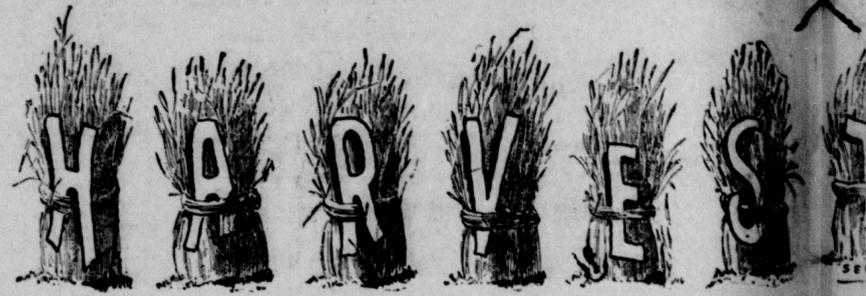

We thought enough of the bargain to take the entire shipment, and already we're wishing there were twice as many. You must speak quick if you want a pair. And the rest, of course, are here ready if you don't like brown.

- At 50 cts A pair. Tan Cotton Blankets, full size.
- At 90 cts Cotton Blankets in light blues, pinks, and mottled effects.
- At $1.25 Big fluffy fleeced silver gray Cotton Blankets.

And here's a special lot of BEDDING

that's a third under value during the Harvest Sale. To wit:

- White Honeycomb Spreads, 6c instead of 9c; full size 8c sort for 6c.
- Another lot of Marseilles Pattern Spreads at $1.00. You'd reckon them good value at a quarter more.
- We can't get them quick enough.
- Plenty of Bleached Sheets, size 72x90, for 45c.
- Feather Pillows, $1.10 a pair; weight, 2 1/2 pounds; 3 1/2 pounds cost 40c a pair more.

THIRD week of the Harvest Sale and nobody's getting tired of saving because of somebody's success—asked us: "What's the use these days, mayn't we say this by way of explanation? Harvestments, bigger than this ever could be, since they outline the store. We've simply lifted storekeeping out of the old rut of buying and selling very large amount of pleasure out of the business. No need to think more that prices can be still lower, and if you'll take the time to read the unrecorded in Seattle.

OUR COUNTRY

Are coming from far away. We pay the fare one way to customers and why, and gives all the time tables and distances. Write for gains, and in the distribution of the $200 IN PRESENTS to be given you need, and all mail orders will be filled at the advertised price long Bon Marche bargains.

On Monday morning at 8 o'clock the week's selling will begin ever told of. Nobody should miss reading every word of the news.

Here Are Black Silks Unequaled.

Yard wide Taffeta. What a relief for the dressmaker. What a saving to your pocketbook. It's one of the best silks we've ever seen to sell at $1.65 a yard; yet we got this first lot (and maybe it's the last at the price) to sell at $1.25 a yard.

- Black Sole Raye Silk, soft and lustrous, 21 inch; worth $1.65, for $1.25.
- Black Duchesse Satin, 24 inches; worth $1.35; for $1.00.

Music 5c a Copy.

Here's a batch of the ever-popular "old songs," full size, very generally sold for 10c a copy, here for 5c.

- Alice, Where Art Thou? Love's Old Sweet Song. Angels Ever Bright and Calvary. Harp That Once Thro' Tara's Hall. I Dream I Dwell in Marble Halls.
- I've Something Sweet to Tell You. Last Rose of Summer. Non-e-ver ('Tis Not True). Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep. He Stands Between Love and Duty.

Harvest Sale of Knit Underwear.

We've twenty dozen heavy wool mixed Union Suits that the maker considers splendid value at $1.75 a suit—here during the Harvest Sale At $1.35 Apiece. At the same section these rare bargains, result of the Harvest Sale:

- At $1.25. Fine Ribbed Wool Vests and Pants, full fashioned, French waistband, worth $1.50.
- At 85c. Women's Black Wool Mixed Vests or Pants, usual dollar sorts.
- At $1.25. Fine Wool Vests or Pants in blue, pink, red or black, regular price $1.50.
- At 45c. Fleeced Cotton Vests and Pants, extra heavy, crew or gray.
- At 79c. Children's Wool Mixed Union Suits, worth $1.00.
- At 25c. Women's Oxford Gray Wool Hose, spliced heel and toe, worth 35c.

Half Rates to Seattle.

If you live anywhere within a hundred miles of Seattle, you can come for any of the bargains we tell of in our advertisements and we'll pay your fare home. The only conditions that apply to this offer are these:

- If you live less than fifty miles away, you must spend not less than $10.
- If you live over fifty and under a hundred miles, you must spend not less than $20.

Needless to say, very many hundreds are coming. One can save many times the cost of a single ticket on any ordinary purchase.

Buy a trip ticket, show it, with the receipts for what you buy at the store, and we'll pay half the cost of the round trip ticket.

Write for booklet with time tables, distances and full particulars. It's free.

The Dress Goods for Fall, 1900.

You may form some estimate of the present stocks when we record the fact that they fill the whole of the south aisle—a hundred and twenty feet long, and it took three buyers many days in New York to say just what you wanted and just what you didn't.

Perhaps the best testimony of the Dress Goods Store's success is found in the fact that the counters are constantly lined with buyers, and the business is easily four times greater than that of a year ago.

Folks tell us the Golf Plaids at three dollars are generally sold for half a dollar more, that the crepons at two dollars are reckoned at being worth three fifty; yet we've never made the comparison. Everything has been marked at a fair price. How quickly you find out where goods are lowest!

Among the fine things we've gathered there are many rare bargains. Dig deep enough you'll strike water; buy enough you'll strike bargains. Here's a batch that'll help you form an idea of the savings to be made:

- Blue or Navy Chevrons, sponged and abruak, 50 inches wide; worth $1 a yard; here for 75 cts.
- Heavy Chevrons for Costumes and Skirts, 38 inches wide, in browns, blues and grays; worth $1.50, for $1.10.
- All Wool Venetian Cloths, 54 inches wide, in modes, garnet, brown and blue; worth $1.75 a yard; for $1.35.
- Black Cheviot Serge, 48 inches wide, all wool; worth $1.90, for 65 cts.
- Black Pierolas, in fine designs, 45 inches wide $1.50.
- Black Melton Cloth, 58 inches wide; worth $2.50, for $1.50.
- Golf Cloths, in plaid and plain back; $1.25 to $4.00.

The Millinery Business Is "Unique."

It's the only one in town that has no dull time, even with business at the lowest ebb. People come here for hats, namely, because the styles are correct and the most least. Have we given you an idea of what a wealth of beauty and what richness of material we can give you for as little as five dollars? A year ago we were told that our five and eight-dollar hats hurt the millinery business, but it doesn't seem so since there are more millinery stores in Seattle than ever and we're selling three times as many hats as we did a year ago.

We've settled down to business now. Show days are over, and you're taking the hats as fast as the milliners can turn them out.

Do you know the style and quality to be had in the Bon Marche Hats at $5, and $8, and $10? Or do you realize what an immense variety there is to choose among?

We give two whole stores to the millinery business alone, and every hat is new and distinct; we never descend to the commonplace. So with the thousands of Walking Hats, there's nobody but can be suited.

But you'll learn more in a half hour of sight-seeing than we could tell you in a day. The Millinery Store's always "at home."

Dress Trimmings.

Taffeta Applique, $5.00 a yard. Brilliant Silver Sequins, on white net, $5 a yard.

We're selling lots of them and the rest of this aristocratic collection.

One of the best features of this business is the encouragement we get from Women of Fashion. Every year we get finer things, more expensive, true, but more beautiful, and they only need to be shown here to sell.

In reality they're really low priced compared to what one usually pays for novelties. We're no heavy over-stock to lose on, you'll remember.

And so the Women of Seattle who have an economical as well as artistic eye are learning to come here for fine things first.

Yet for all that, we're still selling the less expensive braids and trimmings, such as you'll need this fall—as little as 3c a yard for some.

This bit of news concerning rich Applique and new Braids:

- White and Gold Applique, 6c.
- White Taffeta and Gold, 5c.
- Gold and Black Velvet Band, $1.25.

$5.00 Silk Waists at $3.50.

Seventy-five Taffeta Silk Waists in all the new colors are here to sell at a saving of a dollar and a half—in a few instances two and two and a half.

They're samples—one or two of a sort, almost all sizes in the lot, and as perfect as samples always are.

It's a bargain worth a whole column of newspaper space—let this brief notice tell the tale—they'll not last long.

Men's Underwear.

We've another lot of Ribbed Wool Underwear for Men promised ready tomorrow morning.

The wool is shrunk before it's made up, so nobody need to reckon on getting "a size larger."

75c a Garment.

It's equal to the best dollar grade you ever saw.

Here's another brace of bargains from the same section:

- At 50 cts Jersey Ribbed Underwear, fleece lined, in dark tan and ecru. It's considered a money's worth at 75c.
- At 67 cts Natural Merino Underwear, full weight; usual 90c quality; part wool.
- At $1.25 Natural Wool; double breast and back; drawers with double seat, extra spliced; elastic wrist bands.
- At 95 cts Blue Flannel Overshirt, double or single-breasted; full length, all sizes; usual $1.50 sort, as most stores judge value.

A special lot of Men's Heavy Woolen Sweaters, with roll collars, in black, maroon or navy; sizes 36 to 44. Here to sell

At $1.25 Instead of $1.75.

Center aisle—Old store.

Plenty of Special Linens, But--

Don't wait too long; we can't get any more to sell at the old prices, for the flax crop is poor and wages are higher and manufacturers are asking a third more for present stocks—nobody's anxious to sell.

Did you share in the sale of 72-inch Irish Damask at a dollar a yard? We've twenty-five pieces left—the next lot will be sold for $1.39.

It's bleached a snowy white, of course, and shines like satin. At the same counter there's—

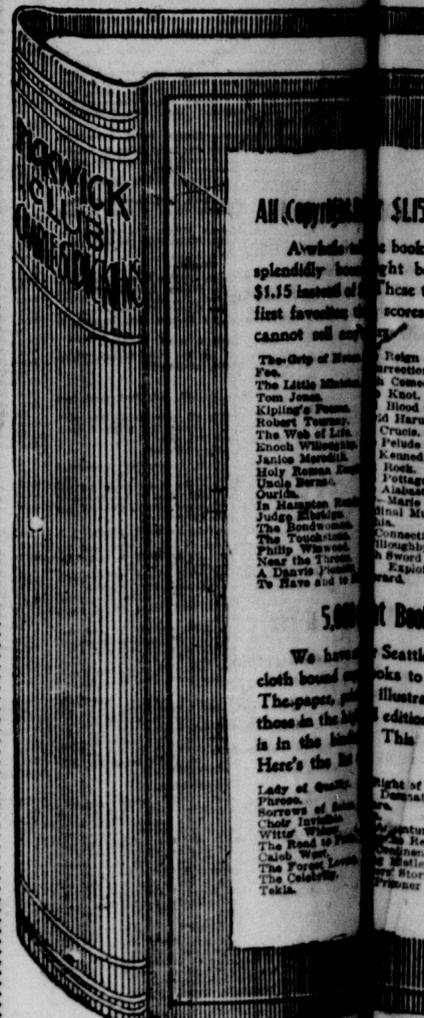

- 50c for bleached or unbleached Damask, 44 or 58 inches wide; worth 20c.
- 50c for the quality bleached Damask, 72 inches wide.
- $1.00 for 72-inch Irish Linen Damask, worth $1.25.
- 50c for heavy unbleached Damask, 66 inches wide.

NAPKINS.

- 50c a dozen for 1/2 size full bleached.
- 21.5c a dozen for 3/4 Napkins, full bleached.

The Book

Thousands of books are here offered at a price generally less than half the publisher's rate.
