Anglo-American Commission Soon to Resume Work.

W. R. AN AGREEMENT Vivendi Will Be Permitted to Stand.

That is the programme as outlined in the preliminary steps looking to resumption of negotiations—Vexed problem of Alaskan boundary may be left to the governments to adjudicate—Many other important matters to be passed upon by the commission—Some members of the body.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Steps have been taken for resuming the important work of the Anglo-American commission.

On the Alaskan question the commission was practically deadlocked, and it made no report of progress on other questions because of inability to include this question.

Questions involved. The questions before the commission are of long standing, and include the establishment of the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia; the issues over Berlin and the catch of salmon; an unmarked boundary between Canada and the United States near Passamaquoddy bay, in Maine, and at points between Maine and Minnesota, and Canada; the northeast fisheries question; the rights of fishing in the North Atlantic off Newfoundland and other points; the regulation of fishing rights on the great lakes; alien labor immigration across the Canadian-American border; commercial reciprocity between the two countries; the regulation of the bonding system, by which goods are carried in bond across the frontier, and also the regulation of traffic by international railways and canals of the two countries; reciprocal mining privileges in the Klondike, British North America and other points; wrecking and salvage on the coast, great lakes and in coasting waters; and the modification of the treaty arrangements under which only one war vessel can be maintained on the great lakes, with a view to allowing warships to be built on the lakes and then floated out to the ocean.

Bright Chances for Agreement. Progress has been made on some of these questions, and a practical agreement reached on several of them.

The personnel of the commission is an unusually notable one. The British government was represented by the late Lord Hertschel, former chancellor of the exchequer. But his death shortly after the last adjournment leaves a vacancy, and although no appointment has been made, the name of Lord Alverston, better known as Sir Richard Webster, is mentioned.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of Canada, heads the Canadian representation, with Sir Louis Davies, minister of marine and fisheries, and the premier of Newfoundland, among his associates.

Senator C. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, is chairman of the American representation, with ex-Secretary John W. Foster, recently commissioner, John A. Kasson, ex-Senator Charles J. Faulkner, of West Virginia; T. Jefferson Coolidge, of Boston, and Seneca E. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, as associates.

MALADY MAY BE SERIOUS.

Czar's Weak Constitution Taken Into Consideration in Report of His Illness.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The impression exists in most European capitals that the illness of the Emperor Nicholas is more serious than it is reported to be, but this is probably based upon knowledge that the czar's constitution is not strong, and little likely to resist a serious attack.

SOLICITUDE FOR THE CZAR.

All Europe Hopes for Speedy Recovery of the Peace-Loving Monarch.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The serious anorexia with which the announcement of the fact that the czar is suffering from typhoid fever filled Europe, emphasizes how much the peace of the world is believed to be dependent upon him. But for the statement contained in the official bulletin that his attachment to the cause of peace, it is hardly necessary to say that any event which will lead to a change in the occupant of the Russian throne at the present anxious state of the far East might very gravely prejudice the situation.

GERMANY IS CONCERNED.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The illness of Emperor Nicholas is commented upon by the press as an extremely serious matter. The Vossische Zeitung points out that if the czar dies there will be a long vacancy, while nothing definite is known regarding the czar's brother, Grand Duke Michael. The czar's illness acted unfavorably upon the bores today, but there was a recovery later upon the receipt of good news from the American markets and better tidings from China.
