

Sojourners Leave

White Sulphur to Cast Their Votes

Many Farewell Dinner and Luncheon Parties Given—Notes From Resort.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 31.—Farewell dinner and luncheon parties were given to-day by sojourners here before starting for their homes to vote.

Mr. Richard S. Aldrich of Providence came with Mrs. Richard T. Norris, Miss Mary Norris and Mrs. Albert M. Rosenbaum before their start for Philadelphia. Mrs. Samuel Rodger Callaway, who started for New York to-night with Mrs. Robert B. Crouch, gave a luncheon at Edinburg farm.

Mr. John H. Hall, who started for Philadelphia, expects to return here on Thursday with Gov. and Mrs. R. Livingston Beekman of Rhode Island, in their private car, to remain through November. Others starting for their homes to vote include Mr. and Mrs. John Home Auerbach, Miss L. Louise Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes and Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Gale of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. G. Garrett E. Wall and Miss Elizabeth W. Richmond, Va.; Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Lee Roy Dow, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Forbes and Mrs. Pierce H. Butler. Miss Beth Leary and Miss Kathryn Burns, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Van Ness, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Haskins, the Messers, J. M. and Mrs. E. F. Moorhead and Mr. James Sheehan of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosheimer B. Fuller gave a luncheon to Mr. John Home Auerbach and Miss Lila V. Scull.

Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer and Miss Maud A. Macarow had luncheon at the Kates McClure Club.

Mrs. Casimer de Rham of Glen Cove will arrive here on Thursday to take the cure.

Miss Rosalie Bloodgood and party departed for Oakton. She and her mother, Mrs. Wilber A. Bloodgood, started North to-night. Mrs. Louise M. Dodds rode over Catamount Mountain at a concert at the Hippodrome last night. She will ride back to New York. Also Miss Elizabeth Dempsey, who started later for Boston with Mrs. George C. Dempsey and Mr. Gerald C. Dempsey. Miss Elsie Stevens rode over Valleyview trail.

ZIMBALIST'S RECITAL. Etrem Zimbalist, after a year's absence from the concert stage, reappeared in a violin recital at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon. He was heard by a large audience. During the interim of his absence from the violin field Mr. Zimbalist's musical powers had not been assiduously cultivated. He had become the writer of the musical comedy, "Honeydew," which has brought him fame under the high lights of the Great White Way.

Mr. Zimbalist has evidence yesterday of gain in breadth of performance. Always a player of beautiful tone and elegance, in his second number, Bach's chaconne, he gave a seemingly faultless recital in response to the applause of the music. It was a superb piece of violin playing. Great beauty of classic style he further imparted to his opening number, Mozart's A major concerto.

JAN KUBELIK RETURNS. Jan Kubelik, Bohemian violinist, assisted by a full orchestra from the Metropolitan Opera House, Richard Hageman leader, made his first appearance in New York since six years ago in a concert at the Hippodrome last night. His numbers comprised two concertos, one by himself and Paganini's in D major, and "La Havanna" and the rondo capriccioso of Saint-Saens. Mr. Kubelik has often been called "The Wizard of the Violin." He played last night with his old time grace and deftness in bowing and a tone of exquisite quality. His own concerto should be heard in a recital at Carnegie Hall in the auditorium of his concert last night. His tone at best is small and there were often moments when it was either lost in the vast space or swallowed up by the orchestral accompaniment.

DIPLOMATISTS TO SEE 'SONYA.' Diplomatic circles will be represented at the Shubert Garrick Theatre in Washington to-night at the performance of "Sonya," which has been produced and adapted from the Polish of Gabriela Zapolska. The Spanish Ambassador and Senora Riano will occupy a box; Prince de Bern, Charge d'Affaires, will occupy another. The French Ambassador will take the third seat, and the Italian Embassy will take the fourth to the play. Dr. Thoma A. Le Breton, Ambassador of Argentina, will entertain three guests at the theatre.

MISS STEVENS BETTER. Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. BALTIMORE, Oct. 31.—Miss Emily Stevens, who two weeks ago was compelled to go to Stagnes Hospital while playing an engagement here in "Foot Lights" at the Metropolitan, has returned to New York. She expects to rejoin her company, which is making a Western tour, in about two weeks.

FOR HOSPITAL BUILDING FUND. To add to the building fund of the Brooklyn Hebrew Home and Hospital for the Aged a bazaar will be held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music from November 1 to 15. It is expected that thousands of dollars is needed to complete an addition to the hospital. The chairman of the bazaar is Mrs. Flora Gordon, first president of the institution, and a committee of Mrs. Morris Nelson, chairman of the New Wing Association, are working zealously for the bazaar.

Charles Ray and Ethel Shannon in Humorous Film

Giant Strides of Man o' War Also Seen on the Screen—Other Novelties.

Housing and building being very much in the public eye just now, Charles Ray does his best to bring it more conspicuously before that famous eye of the Rivoli this week with "An Old Fashioned Boy," but this time the "master mind" that causes the whirligig is feminine. She is a very up to date young woman and when Mr. Ray as a youth whose ideas date back to the emigration became a nation builder, the emigration builds a home for her without consulting her wishes she causes as much trouble as a walking delegate and whirligig combined.

Mr. Ray looks as amusingly distraught as the average citizen who is as much worried about saving his own funds as he is about saving the country, but manages to preserve his attractive looks through it all and to take the course of the building situation. Miss Ethel Shannon is attractive as the young lady who is in love with a man who is a member of the Columbia University and Essex County Country clubs. He is also a member of the Cincinnati, St. Nicholas, Huguenot societies, Colonial Wars and Sons of the Revolution.

In recognition of his services abroad he was awarded a decoration by the King of Greece, who made him an officer of the Order of George I.
