Glimpse of Canada's winter sports. The Dufferin Terrace, Quebec, toboggan slide. The start is at the old citadel, 300 feet above the St. Lawrence, and the triple slide runs 1,500 feet along the terrace.

Climax of a dash down the Dufferin Terrace toboggan slide: Over the bumper at the end, with the sportsman upside down but happy.

Cross country runs on skis and snowshoes keep Quebec visitors busy when other winter sports pall. A rest moment on a snowshoe hike portrayed.
