

Richard Postpones Dempsey-Willard Fight and Announces Erection of Open Air Arena to Seat 50,000 Persons

RICKARD TO BUILD BIG OPEN AIR ARENA

Will Seat 50,000 Persons and Be Located Near This City.

REMEDY FOR $15 SEATS Dempsey-Willard Match Has Been Postponed Till Labor Day.

By CHARLES F. MATHISON.

Richard is nothing if not ingenious and his latest action is proof of the assertion. It is a matter of history that the edict of the Boxing Commission fixing $15 as the maximum price for a seat at a boxing match rather than the plans of the promoter to stage national contests in Madison Square Garden.

It might have been possible for Richard to have put on the bouts between champions and challengers of the smaller classes in the garden without heavy loss, but in the case of the heavy-weight champions and opponents it would be impossible for the promoter to put them on without financial loss to himself.

At this juncture the ingenuity of Richard came to the rescue and impelled him to order plans for the erection of an open air arena to seat 50,000 persons within the city limits.

For various reasons I have decided to postpone the Dempsey-Willard fight until Labor Day, September 5. While both Dempsey and Willard are eager and willing to observe the original contract and meet at Madison Square Garden on July 17, I have decided that the contest can better be staged in the open air following the Dempsey-Carpenter contest on July 2. The surprising demand for tickets for the Willard-Dempsey bout clearly indicates that Madison Square Garden would accommodate but a fraction of those who desire to see the bout.

Willard's absolute confidence in his ability to retain the championship has impressed many followers of boxing, and a demand has been created that he be matched with the winner of the Dempsey-Carpenter contest. It shall therefore be a large open air arena for the international contest, and stage a match between Willard and the winner of this Dempsey and Carpenter bout under the auspices of the Madison Square Garden.

Harvey L. Miller, editor of One News, replying to the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, in the selection of Ralph Ritchie to defend the navy honors in the Hotel Commodore bouts, responded to the suggestion that Ritchie be matched with Willard.

"My assertion that Ralph Ritchie was not the champion of the navy and had not the slightest claim to the title was based on a thorough knowledge of the navy and its athletes, and was made for the purpose of vindicating the boxing ability of navy athletes.

"The mere fact that Ritchie was sent to compete by 'high officials' does not make him a champion of the navy or any of the consequences regarding him claim any championship for him? If not, why was he billed as the 'heavy-weight champion of the navy?' 'High officials' could name Kid Norfolk an opponent for Dempsey, but it wouldn't mean anything, since titles—even navy titles—are won in the ring.

"Each year the Atlantic and Pacific Coast stages its championship contests and the winner is awarded the belt. The official trophy emblematic of the championship. This year, for the first time in the history of the navy, the two best champions will meet for the claim to the navy title. In the meantime the only two heavyweights who held an official belt and a fleet championship in the heavy-weight class were Bob Grant, U. S. S. New Mexico, champion of the Pacific fleet, and probably the best heavy-weight in the navy, and Jack Dumas, U. S. S. Columbia, champion of the Atlantic fleet. Grant held his belt for several years, while Dumas was held at Madison Square Garden on October 1, 1920.

"Ralph Ritchie was not a navy champion, and I doubt very much if he ever claimed a navy title. But he was billed as heavy-weight champion of the navy, which fact, no doubt, was news to the Secretary of the Navy, the commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet and other 'high officials' not to mention Bob Grant, Jack Dumas and Ralph Ritchie. Had the latter been correctly billed as a navy heavy-weight, there would have been no criticism from naval athletes."

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, said that in the matches between Dempsey and Willard and Dempsey and Carpenter the boxers would receive a percentage of the receipts, thus assuring them of an amount proportional to their drawing ability. He said there would be no guarantee for any one.

Pipp, Bodie, Baker and Quinn Headed for Washington Club.

By DANIEL. Indications point to the early consummation of a trade whereby the Yankees will take over Edgar S. (Sam) Rice, outfielder, and Jim Judd, first baseman, from Washington in exchange for Frank Baker, Ping Bodie, Wally Pipp and Jack Quinn.

When asked yesterday whether the deal was the main Col. T. H. Huston of the Yankees replied: "I will neither affirm nor deny that story. I am going to let you fellows do the guessing." Official announcement of the exchange may be expected within a few days—just as soon as Miller Huggins holds a conference with Baker and notifies the veteran third baseman of the New York club's desire to send him to the Senators.

In discussing the exchange of Baker here last week, Huggins said that inasmuch as the infielder had retired because of the loss of his wife, the Yankees officials did not want to dispose of him arbitrarily, and would obtain his permission to include him in a trade were a deal to be arranged.

Clark Griffith expressed a desire to see Pipp, Bodie and Quinn, an emissary to the player at his farm at Trappe, Md. Baker replied that if his little daughter recovered from an attack of pneumonia, from which she was in grave condition at that time, he would be willing to return to the game, but only with Washington. Were he to play with Griffith's club Baker could jump over to his farm nearly every evening when the Senators play at their home grounds.

Jacobson Deal Off. The deal with Washington means that the three cornered dicker with the Senators and the Browns, through which Huggins hoped to acquire Bill Jacobson, the outfielder, from the St. Louis club, has fallen through. This will cause no surprise, as Phil Ball is not known here for his friendly feeling toward Col. Ruppert and Col. Huston.

If the Yankees get both Rice and Judd they will have to concede the strong pennant chances in the league. Rice is one of the greatest outfielders in the league—speed, pep and hustle personified, and better than a 300 hitter to boot. Last season Rice batted for .348, while Judd batted for .312.

Willard's absolute confidence in his ability to retain the championship has impressed many followers of boxing, and a demand has been created that he be matched with the winner of the Dempsey-Carpenter contest. It shall therefore be a large open air arena for the international contest, and stage a match between Willard and the winner of this Dempsey and Carpenter bout under the auspices of the Madison Square Garden.

Would Bar Headlock and Other Holds

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. LEANY, N. Y., Feb. 2.—The headlock, by which "Strangler" Lewis won down Earl Caddock to unconsciousness in a wrestling match in New York recently, would be barred under a bill introduced by assemblyman Arthur E. Brundage of Orange to-day.

The measure also prohibits the body slissors, which was developed by Joe Stecher, between the hold and toe hold. Use of any one of these in a wrestling bout is made a misdemeanor.

In 1910 he hit for .321. Judge is a first class fielder and a hard hitter. His average with the clays was .283, while the year before it was .288.

The trade would plug up that hole at third base which cost the Senators many a game last season. Shanks, who cost the Yankees last year, is a better outfielder than a third sacker. Ellerbe is not quite up to snuff either in the field or at bat. Major league men would not play up to form last season and appeared to suffer from the realization that Babe Ruth had slipped him as the Yankees' chief home run hitter. Pipp without question would improve as a catcher of score.

Washington would be no new venture for Pipp's efforts, as it was at Catholic University in that city that Pipp first came into prominence. Detroit signed him after a game between Catholic University and Manhattan College at Olympic Field. The late George Brown looked Pipp over for the Giants that day and informed us that he had passed him up. Bodie will not be as great an outfielder as Rice, no matter whether Ping plays with the Yankees or the Senators. But Ping is a better man than most fans believe him to be. He batted for .295 in 1920, and put up a satisfactory game in the outer works. But Bodie is not the fastest base runner in the world. And the Yankees certainly need speed. They have been looking for it for many years and seem to be getting it this winter.

Giants in Trade, Report. A report to the effect that the Giants are about to close a deal with the Pirates for Max Carey, the centre fielder, could not be affirmed yesterday by Joe O'Brien, manager of the Pirates. O'Brien said: "I know nothing about a deal for Carey, but I do know that John McGraw is engineering one," said O'Brien.

A rumor has been current for some time that Benny Kauff and Mike Gonzales are to go in exchange for the Pirates. Mike Gonzales was asked to go to Pittsburgh last season for a couple of weeks, but refused. George Gibson was in need of a catcher and asked McGraw to loan the Cuban to him for a week. McGraw replied that he was willing, and sent Gonzales word to report to Gibson. But, even with the prospect of getting a $500 bonus, Mike would not go. His contract, which covers the 1921 season, stipulates that he cannot be traded without his consent. Mike was afraid that if he went as a loan he would stay. Perhaps the 1920 showing of the Pirates and his prospects for 1921 would make Mike think better of a berth with the Pirates. But we doubt it.

Carey is no youngster, but he would, without question, help the Giants greatly and would give McGraw a star trio in the outer reaches—the best fielding three in the league.

Cuban Praise for Frisch. They follow American baseball very closely down there in Cuba, even during the off season. Here is a boost for Frisch from Felipe Silva, Jr., a lawyer of Cienfuegos.

"Two weeks ago I read in your High Lights that the New York National League club had offered $250,000 and four players to the Cardinals for Frisch, and that Manager Rickie answered that if Frisch Frisch were one of the four he was ready to make the trade. A few days ago in THE HERALD I read the National League officials 'runs batted in' and somebody called attention to the fact that George Kelly was almost as good as Hornsby, for Kelly had 94 runs batted in and Hornsby the same number, but Kelly participated in 155 games against 149 for Hornsby.

"The point I want to get is that Frisch is a better clean up hitter than either of the two, as I can show on the per cent. basis."

Per R. B. I. Cont. Kelly..... 149 94 64 Frisch..... 155 94 64 The Captain has a jaw of steel, for otherwise he would have crumpled under the shots of the Staten Island giant.

Loughlin Lyceum Had Wins Classic Track Event at St. Anthony Games.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. HOLMERS of the quarter mile and 600 yard Metropolitan A. U. indoor running titles, registered by the second victory in the suburban quarter mile race with as many seasons at games of the Knights of St. Anthony at the Twenty-third Regiment Armory in Brooklyn last night as the Lyceum had in advance of Walter Koppisch of Columbia University, who beat Vincent Lally of St. Anselm's A. C. a few inches for the quarter mile.

There was a lot of crowding going around the first turn, and the chances of two of the contestants were started by the interference. William Stevenson of Princeton University was thrown in the scramble for positions. George L. Rechner of Yale University, who was reclaiming Stevenson, stumbled when the Princeton man fell. Both cut little figure in the running thereafter. Rechner, who was also in the race, started the start. He was penalized one yard because he left his mark before the starter gave the necessary signal for the second honors over the quarter mile.

Representatives of the Knights of St. Anthony carried off first prize in the McGr. O'Hare special one mile relay race, which was held at the St. Anthony track and was never again headed. They had twenty yards to spare at the end.

Beats Columbia Tenn, Pictor and Tailor Maid in New Orleans Purse.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2.—Tippity Whitcomb fully restored himself to local popularity by taking the New Orleans purse, with consummate ease at the Fair Grounds to-day, running the mile distance in 1:44 to win hand held from Tailor Maid, Columbia Tenn and Pictor over a track deep in mud.

Tippity, which was one of the four successful favorites of the day, took up third position through the early running behind Columbia Tenn and Pictor, while Tailor Maid was a distant last for the first five furlongs. Rounding the turn there was a general closing up, when Columbia Tenn, having raced himself into exhaustion, relinquished the pace to Tippity, which moved up with a rush on Rowan's call to go into the lead, which he increased until he had a two-third lead over the other horses.
