

You Can't Be Too Careful about Table Ice

Most everybody knows of the dangers from impure water and impure milk. But many fail to realize that they should exercise the same care in buying ice as in water and milk.

Knickerbocker ICE Company

French Vermont

WHY not get some of this too? You'll like it just as well as Mouquin's non-alcoholic Italian Vermont, but it has the French flavor instead.

His Excellency Mouquin's Ginger Ale has "that French taste" and is good for what ALES son.

Smoke our Cigares Boniface. Mouquin Restaurant & Wine Co.

134 Prince St., N. Y. Tel. Spring 3845.

Deser's STANDARD TONICS

Prepared With or Without Olive Oil - also - Dew-ol Dew-fer-ol

Hypophosphite, Olive Oil and Port Iron, Olive Oil and Port Still Grape Juice White and Red Sparkling Grapeuril White and Red

138 Fulton Street, New York

THE almost self-selecting arrangement of Ovington Gift Tables is but one of many helpful suggestions for the obtaining of gifts.

OVINGTON'S "The Gift Shop of 5th Ave." 314 Fifth Ave., nr. 32d St.

ORDER Ballantine's GOLDEN GLOW GINGER ALE

MISSION GARDEN For Sale by Grocers 50c per Pound

Again Selling at Pre-War Prices

PIRIE MACDONALD Photographer of Men.

MacDonald portraits attract your attention—you know it!

PRESIDENT'S VETO OF FORDNEY BILL UPHELD IN HOUSE

Wilson Asserts Measure Would Afford Little Relief Here.

POINTS TO BIG DEBTS

Finds No Reason to Fear Competition From War Stricken Countries.

MUST HELP EUROPE OUT

In Last Message to Congress Executive Warns Republicans Against Barriers.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Washington, D. C., March 3. The fighting spirit of President Wilson, apparently not crushed by illness or political defeat, manifested itself again today when the Executive in probably what will be his last message to Congress vetoed the Fordney emergency tariff bill and denounced the principles on which it was based.

Despite suggestions that the bill might be allowed to die by means of the President's disapproval, the House late to-night attempted to override the veto, but failed and the measure met death. The vote on the motion to pass the bill over the veto was 201 for and 132 against, 21 votes less than the necessary two-thirds.

The message was a striking resume of the economic principles which the President has advocated ever since he entered office eight years ago, with a sharp yet tempered attack on the proponents of the bill.

"Very little reflection," the President declared, "would lead any one to conclude that the measure would not furnish in any substantial degree the relief sought by the producers of most of the staple commodities which it covers."

Indirectly Mr. Wilson referred to the defeat of the Versailles treaty when he stated that actual relief for the farmers will come from "the restoration of peace everywhere in the world." The hope of the agricultural interests lies in the reopening of the foreign markets and the Fordney bill would put up a trade barrier that would seriously hamper restoration of normal foreign trade, he said.

The President warned that the United States must aid Europe economically if she is to repay the $9,000,000,000 due to the American Government and the $4,000,000,000 due the business interests of this country. He declared there is little reason to fear foreign competition when all the other big nations of the world have been stricken by the war, while the United States is virtually untouched.

Summing up the foreign debt situation, the President declared: "There are only three ways in which Europe can meet her part of her indebtedness, namely, by the establishment of private credits, by the shipment of gold, or of commodities. It is difficult for Europe to discover the requisite securities as a basis for the necessary credits. Europe is not in a position at the present to send us the amount of gold which would be needed and we could not view further large imports of gold into this country without concern. The result, to say the least, would be a larger disarrangement of international exchange and disturbance of international credit.

"If we wish Europe to settle her debts, governmental or commercial, we must be prepared to buy from her, and if we wish to assist Europe and ourselves by the export either of food, or raw materials or finished products, we must be prepared to welcome commodities which we need which Europe will be prepared, with no little pain, to send us."

The President also charged Congress with inconsistency when it passed the Fordney bill "as a barrier to foreign trade" after recently passing the resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation in order to encourage foreign trade. The Fordney bill, he also claimed, would hamper the development of the merchant marine.

In the closing paragraphs of his message the President seemed to issue a friendly word of warning to the Republicans against enacting high tariff barriers at the present time. After pointing out that the rates in the Fordney bill were higher than those in the Payne-Aldrich bill, Mr. Wilson claimed that the latter law was followed "by an effective exhibition of protest on the part of the majority of the American people."

The reading of the message in the House brought loud applause from the Democrats.

PARIS PAPERS PAY WILSON HIGH TRIBUTE

See Him Safe in History as Great American.

PARIS, March 3.—Paris newspapers of all shades of political opinion devote long articles to the change in the administration in Washington, in which comment on the departure of President Wilson holds a larger place than speculation on the coming of President Harding.

The Temps says: "President Wilson is an apostle; he believes in principles as one believes in God. He has failed in his noble effort, as are bound to fail all those who wish to act above human nature as it is constituted."

"Woodrow Wilson will remain, however, as a man who understood that young America's place was at the side of the Allies and who dared to unsheath the sword to defend right and liberty. For this alone he will remain forever in history as a great American."

Alfred Capus, in the Gaulois, says: "Among the great figures of the war, President Wilson is probably one whose standing history will experience the greatest difficulty in determining. Mr. Wilson's powers of realization are quite inferior to those of his imagination and thought. He leaves to France a bitter memory."

The Petit Parisien says: "Despite the bitter attacks to which he has been subjected, President Wilson will remain great in history, because he has been a noble soldier of idealism and humanity."

The Victoire says: "There is tragic grandeur in the political and physical collapse of a man who two years ago was the moral dictator of the allied nations."

WILSON MOVES HIS LIQUOR FROM WHITE HOUSE CELLAR

Permits Also Given Cabinet Members and Others Leaving Official Life—Huge Stocks of Whiskey Change Homes as New Administration Comes In.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau. Washington, D. C., March 3.

Government guarantees of safety were stamped upon the big cellar stocks of President Wilson, Cabinet officers and Representatives in Congress when legal permits were given by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer to remove the liquor to the new homes of the owners.

How much liquor will be moved out of Washington by the change in Administration is subject to conjecture. Commissioner Kramer remarked rather dryly: "Higher officials have fine stocks and in abundance. You should not expect me to divulge all the details of these permits, however. That is something in the nature of a private matter."

Among those to whom permits were prepared to welcome commodities which we need which Europe will be prepared, with no little pain, to send us."

The President also charged Congress with inconsistency when it passed the Fordney bill "as a barrier to foreign trade" after recently passing the resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation in order to encourage foreign trade. The Fordney bill, he also claimed, would hamper the development of the merchant marine.

In the closing paragraphs of his message the President seemed to issue a friendly word of warning to the Republicans against enacting high tariff barriers at the present time. After pointing out that the rates in the Fordney bill were higher than those in the Payne-Aldrich bill, Mr. Wilson claimed that the latter law was followed "by an effective exhibition of protest on the part of the majority of the American people."

The reading of the message in the House brought loud applause from the Democrats.

PARIS PAPERS PAY WILSON HIGH TRIBUTE

See Him Safe in History as Great American.

PARIS, March 3.—Paris newspapers of all shades of political opinion devote long articles to the change in the administration in Washington, in which comment on the departure of President Wilson holds a larger place than speculation on the coming of President Harding.

The Temps says: "President Wilson is an apostle; he believes in principles as one believes in God. He has failed in his noble effort, as are bound to fail all those who wish to act above human nature as it is constituted."

"Woodrow Wilson will remain, however, as a man who understood that young America's place was at the side of the Allies and who dared to unsheath the sword to defend right and liberty. For this alone he will remain forever in history as a great American."

Alfred Capus, in the Gaulois, says: "Among the great figures of the war, President Wilson is probably one whose standing history will experience the greatest difficulty in determining. Mr. Wilson's powers of realization are quite inferior to those of his imagination and thought. He leaves to France a bitter memory."

The Petit Parisien says: "Despite the bitter attacks to which he has been subjected, President Wilson will remain great in history, because he has been a noble soldier of idealism and humanity."

The Victoire says: "There is tragic grandeur in the political and physical collapse of a man who two years ago was the moral dictator of the allied nations."

The Radical, which represents the Left Centre, says: "History has rendered justice to Washington and Lincoln; we do not doubt that it will place Wilson among the best servants of the United States. The work of Wilson was worthy that of Washington and Lincoln."

JAPAN'S POLICY ASSESSED.

By the Associated Press. TOKYO, March 2 (delayed).—The Government's Korean policy was attacked in the Diet to-day by Representative Ichiro Kiyono of the Nationalist party.

He mentioned especially the destruction by Japanese troops of Christian churches and schools at Chentao, on the Corea-Manchuria frontier, reports of which reaching abroad, Representative Kiyono declared, made the Japanese appear in the role of bloodthirsty devils.

GERMANS SCHEME TO IGNORE TREATY

Continued from First Page.

to the idea of so-called single political front and say they would refuse to cooperate with the Conservatives in the latter's policy and would hold back with the majority Socialists and make the Nationalist scheme for the new Government exceedingly difficult to realize.

The Centrist party, with its long proved ability to meet every situation, is now in a position to take the lead in restoring the old Coalition with the Democrats and the Majority Socialists.

The Catholic organs, after the first shock following the Paris reparations demands, have moderated their utterances greatly and it would not be impossible for the Centrists to take the lead now in signing the reparations agreement, trained political observers declare.

These same observers foresee the possibility of the present Coalition Ministry resigning after its failure in London and assert that if it is given a breathing spell until May 1 it may be replaced by the old Coalition, joined possibly by the Independent Socialists. This group probably would return to the old formula of signing the allied terms with the mental reservation of

NEW BRITISH MINISTER DEFEATED IN ELECTION

Labor Wins Over Coalition Rival for Commons.

LONDON, March 3.—Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen (Coalition candidate) the newly appointed president of the Board of Agriculture, has been defeated in the Dudley bye-election. U. Wilson, the Labor candidate, receiving 10,244 votes and the Coalition Liberal candidate 9,968.

The defeat of the Government Minister is mainly attributed to the controversy over the question of the embargo on Canadian cattle. This was used as an argument by the opposition, who asserted to it the high cost of meat in Great Britain.

HOLY WAR ON SERBIA DENIED.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Formal denial was made to-day by Dr. S. Y. Goutch, Minister of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, that the Montenegrins had declared a holy war on Serbia or that fighting was going on in Montenegro against Serbian troops.

TIFFANY & Co. SILVER TEA SETS AND DINNER SERVICES

FIFTH AVENUE & 37th STREET

J.M. Gidding & Co. Final Sales of Winter Furs

The most extraordinary event of the year---and a buying opportunity which should not be overlooked by those contemplating the purchase of a Coat or Wrap for next season's wear, in view of the constantly rising market costs of raw skins---

Our entire remaining selections of Winter Stock, embracing Coats—Wraps—Scarfs and Sets, have again been readjusted to effect a prompt disposal—

12 Hudson Seal Coats and Wraps Formerly $1050 to $1650 at $550

2 Hudson Seal Day Coats (Beaver collar, cuffs and border, 30-inch length.) Formerly $595 at $295

6 Handsome Mole Capes Formerly $850 to $1450 at $395

1 Natural Mink Day Coat (34-inch length) Formerly $2350 at $950

1 Smart Kolinsky Wrap Formerly $2250 at $750

1 Extra Dark Natural Squirrel Wrap (Three tier effect) Formerly $1950 at $950

1 Choice Broadtail Day Coat Formerly $2850 at $1250

1 Taupe Squirrel Short Cape (Suitable for Early Spring) Formerly $850 at $375

1 Alaska Seal Day Coat Formerly $1150 at $500

1 Alaska Seal Wrap Formerly $2500 at $1100

1 French Seal Coat Formerly $850 at $295

Franklin Simon & Co. A Store of Individual Shops FIFTH AVE.—37th and 38th Sts.

For Women THE BROGUE STRAP PUMP

LOYAL to the wing tip of the brogue, yet allured by the smartness of the strap, Fashion combines the two, and instead of dividing her favor, doubles her endorsement

10.50

Brogue Strap Pumps of Mahogany or Black Russia Calfskin with Welled Soles and Military Leather Heels, Buckled Strap

FEMINE FOOTWEAR SHOP—Third Floor

Income Tax Information—a representative of the U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue will furnish information and assist in making out your tax return, daily, from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Franklin Simon & Co. A Store of Individual Shops FIFTH AVENUE, 37th and 38th Streets

THE RIGHT SUIT FOR EVERY GIRL AND JUNIOR MISS..

To fit her proportions rather than her size, to suit her youth rather than her years, Franklin Simon & Co. provide a variety of models as wide as varieties of girlhood.

NORFOLK SUITS ETON SUITS PONY BOX SUITS FLARE SUITS STRAIGHT OR PLEATED SKIRT MODELS

GIRLS' (Sizes 12 to 16 years) 29.50 TO 59.50

JUNIOR MISSES' (Sizes 13 to 19 years) 29.50 TO 69.50

GIRLS' AND JUNIOR MISSES' SUIT SHOP Second Floor