

Academy of Design Exhibition to Open to Public To-day

'Smoking' Reception in Morning and Varnishing Are Largely Attended.

The National Academy of Design resumed business at the old stand yesterday after the interruption caused last year by the fire that destroyed the Vanderbilt Gallery.

At these receptions, made up largely of people in the touch with the art world, the chief topic generally is the justice of the distribution of the prizes, and this year all the talk that was overheard followed the lines that almost no comment upon the restoration of the building itself, which in a way is a compliment to those who had the task in charge.

Keen as the discussion of the prize winners was, there was very little fault-finding with the committee. The jurists had more prizes to distribute than ever before, for the simple reason that the usual autumn and spring exhibitions were combined this year into one.

At the same time there was less work to choose from owing to the fact that the selling of the Altman figure prizes of $1,000 and $500 in the autumn and the Altman landscape prizes in the spring has had the tendency to separate the two shows sharply. As far as the public is concerned there can be no doubt that a permanent joining of the landscape and figure divisions of the academy would be popular.

Mr. Walter Ufer's $1,000 prize winning picture, called "Hunger," had practically no opposition. Mr. Ufer has been painting in the Southwest for some years, and his work belongs to his Indian-Mexican series. It is clever and shows in composition, the kneeling Mexican peasant just ending their shoulders into the bottom of the canvas. As far as the public is concerned there can be no doubt that a permanent joining of the landscape and figure divisions of the academy would be popular.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors. Mr. Lawson's "Vanishing Mist" is less rich than his "Landscape," prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Miss Nina Morgana, Singer, Engaged to Caruso's Secretary

Opera Artist Is to Be Married to Bruno Zirato.

Although their engagement had been known to their friends in musical circles for several months it will come as a surprise to the public to learn that Miss Nina Morgana of the Metropolitan Opera Company is to become the bride of Bruno Zirato, known to thousands as the secretary to Enrico Caruso.

The engagement was announced formally yesterday by Miss Morgana, who attended the wedding arranged for April but because of the illness of Mr. Caruso the plans have been altered in the hope that the tenor will be able to attend the ceremony.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

Mr. Ernest Lawson and Mr. Robert Spencer, who win the first and second prizes, have both painted better pictures than the works that now fetch them honors.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

NEW YORK.

Miss Miriam Sherwell Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney F. Ward, of Valley Brook Farm, White Plains, N. Y., will be married to Mr. Walter Henry Bamford, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter H. Bamford, of Manchester, Vt., on April 12, in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Miss Ward is the granddaughter of Mr. George Gray Ward of 51 West Fifty-third street.

The marriage of Miss Frances Swan Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Swan Brown, to Mr. Seneca D. Eldridge is to take place this afternoon in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church. A small reception will be held in the ladies' Annex of the Metropolitan Club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Harding, who remained in Washington for the inauguration, will return to their home at 210th avenue. They were for several weeks at Jekyll Island, Ga.

Mr. Pierpont Morgan will start for England in June, where she will pass the summer. This will be the first time in years Mrs. Morgan has missed passing the summer at Highland Falls, N. Y., and Bar Harbor, Me.

Mrs. E. J. Hulbert and Mrs. Raymond Belmont, her daughter, have returned to the Vanderbilt from a cruise in the West Indies and will start soon for Mrs. Hulbert's home in Virginia.

Mrs. William Starr Miller has been a patient for some time in St. Luke's Hospital, where she has been seriously ill following an operation. Her condition is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr., are staying at the fair of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn, at 40 East Thirty-sixth street, while the latter are in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has opened Milford, her house at Pinewood, S. C., where she will entertain during March Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clark of Detroit, Mich.

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox attended the inauguration, will be at the Biltmore today and will start to-morrow for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland have come in from Tuxedo to pass a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Alexander.

Mrs. George Nichols will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, at 231 Madison avenue, until her house in Glen Cove, L. I., is completed.

BALDE TETE AT PALM BEACH DRAWS THROUG IN FANCY DRESS

Mrs. John Wanamaker, Jr., at Palm Beach.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PALM BEACH, Fla., March 4.—The bald pate given last night at the Everglades Club was the biggest event of the winter at that club and one of the season's smartest entertainments. Many dinner parties preceded the ball, some 400 people dining at the Everglades. Many dinner parties were given in cottages and at the other clubs.

While this was supposed to be strictly a headress ball there were a number of fancy costumes and many went along in conventional evening dress. Some conformed to the headress with ordinary evening clothes.

In several instances whole parties observed the same manner of headress. In one group all the women had modern cut-off with their hair powdered. One party of the younger set—both men and women—went in wounding bandages around their heads, several of the party having their heads entirely masked in the bandages. Miss Alleen Flannery and George Leary, Jr., were members of this party.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crocker have gone to Aiken for several weeks.

Mr. William F. Sheehan will give a dinner party in the St. Regis next Thursday.

Mr. James Lowell Putnam is recovering rapidly after an operation which was performed in St. Luke's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gillette have come from their country place, near Morristown, to the Vanderbilt.

One of the most important of the many dinners which marked inauguration day was given by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Rensselaer and their daughter, Mrs. James Carroll Fraser, for Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes, Secretary of War and Mrs. Weeks and Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Denby. The French Ambassador and Mrs. Jusserand were the only foreigners among the eighty-four guests.

Mrs. John Wanamaker, Jr., wore a gown of white chiffon with a jeweled belt.

Mrs. Maxine Elliott was gowned in black velvet with red slippers and stockings. Her gown was white chiffon.

Miss Elliott was hostess to the largest party of the evening at the dinner preceding the ball, her guests numbering thirty-four, including Lord Alaric, Mrs. George de Mott, Mrs. Charles F. J. Winn, the Hon. Mrs. Winn and the Hon. Katherine Norton.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 4.—A dinner was given at the Hotel Duquesne for Mr. Don H. Bacon at his home last night. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Kottelmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Woodcock, Mrs. George A. Fletcher, Mr. John Donald McLennan and Mr. Gaston B. Lamar.

New York arrivals at the Ponce de Leon include Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taber, Mr. Frederic L. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gorman, Henry E. Horton, Mrs. John A. Rodenas and Mr. Paul Carter.

Among the playgoers.

Among those who witnessed last night's performance of "Tip-Top" at the Globe Theatre were Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Constantine, Augustus DeLoach, Mr. Kingsley Kunhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Valentine, Miss Louise H. Valentine and Mrs. Edward W. Sparrow.

In parties at the Belmont for "Miss Lulu Bett" were Messrs. John H. Taylor, D. C. Anderson and Louis H. Northrup.

Clad the Fulton to see "Enter Madame" were Mrs. J. Hood Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. White, Mr. Charles E. Barrow and party of six and Mr. A. L. Ferguson.

Notes of the theatres.

Mrs. Charles Bonaparte of Baltimore invited after the Rose Croix at the Antheater, City of "Tangier" sought the producer, Cary Carlton, and suggested "Cary" as the name for the play.

When Nora Bayes moves "Her Family" to the Metropolitan Theatre, the first act of the play will present an entirely new Chinese set.

Miss Greta Bonnell has volunteered as stage director for the special matinee at the Little Theatre on March 15 of three acts played by the Rose Croix. The first act, "The New Novelty" will be presented by Miss Greta Bonnell.

The performance is for the benefit of All Souls Church.

Les Shubert, who is working out the details of the celebration of the White Garden on March 10, will invite many of the prominent men and women who attended the opening performance.

Fred Hildebrand and Louis Elmon, two comedians in "The Rose Croix" at the Antheater, have formed a vaudeville team, which will be seen in Shubert's advanced vaudeville next season.

BRIG.-GEN. McC. BUTT, GUARDSMAN, IS DEAD

Served 20 Years in Guard and Was Student of Military Affairs.

Brig.-Gen. McCooky Butt, one of the most prominent officers of the New York National Guard until 1901, died Thursday in St. Luke's Hospital. Gen. Butt had been suffering from pneumonia since February 31.

For twenty years Gen. Butt served in the National Guard. He was born in 1852 at Troy, he first entered the Guard in 1872 when he graduated from the Institute in 1872 and returned to New York city, where he enlisted in Company K of the Seventh Regiment. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in Company E of the Seventh Regiment in 1878 and a year later became a first lieutenant. Ill health caused him to resign in 1887, but next year he again enlisted in the Seventh Regiment.

Starting with a position as first lieutenant in the Twelfth on the staff of Col. Herman Dowd he rose rapidly to be elected Lieutenant Colonel in 1893. When Col. Dowd resigned in 1896 Gen. Butt was elected to lead the regiment. In 1898 the field officers of the new First Brigade of the Guard unanimously elected him their Brigadier. Later an order was issued consolidating the First and Third Brigades, and in the Gen. Butt was placed on the supernumerary list.

In civil life Gen. Butt was a stock broker, but devoted much of his time, particularly since his retirement from the Guard to a study of military matters, not only here but abroad. In 1907 he caused some comment by comparing the American army unfavorably with the French army in the matter of training. That criticism was made after Gen. Butt had studied both the German and French manuals.

Joseph M. Adriaan, 42 years old, a real estate broker, died Thursday in his home, 805 East Broadway, which is not more than 100 feet from where he was born. Mr. Adriaan was one of the oldest residents of the old Seventh ward and was a close friend of the late John F. Ahearn. He never held political office, but is said to have exerted an influence in Democratic politics.

Mr. Adriaan was a widow, five daughters and a son. The funeral will be held Monday. A solemn high requiem mass will be sung in the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, Pitt and Stanton streets. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Donald Alexander Manson, 82 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 114 Milton street, Brooklyn.

Dr. William F. Whitney, 60 years old, past commander of U. S. Grant Post No. 327, G. A. R., and vice-president and director of the Great Eastern Savings Bank, died yesterday at his home, 1