Is that how You put away Clothes?

"It's so easy, I put away everything."

"Yes, and it's so easy that I put away everything now, both Summer and Winter," said Mrs. Common-Sense Good-Taste. "It used to be so troublesome to pin clothes up in sheets or to pack them in trunks—and they got so mussed and smelled so of camphor—that I used to let about half our clothes just hang in the closet."

"I would never do that. I've had too many of my husband's and my own clothes ruined by leaving them unprotected. But I used to dread the work of putting them away."

"Well, it's no trouble at all with these White Tar Moth Proof Garment Bags. You just hang three garments into one bag—each on its own hanger —and then hang the bag itself up in the closet. And you seal the bag absolutely air-tight, dust-tight, germ-tight, damp-tight, moth-tight and mouse-tight just by folding down the top and turning this simple clamp."

"I must try those bags myself.
What did you call them?"

"They're the WHITE TAR Moth Proof Garment Bags sold by department stores and drug stores. They may offer you imitations made of flimsy paper improperly arranged inside, and with a clumsy, unsafe sealing device. Be sure therefore to ask for the genuine WHITE TAR BAGS."
