REQUIEM AT NOTRE DAME
Ceremonies To-day at the Invalides and the Arc de Triomphe.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD, New York Herald Bureau, Paris, May 4.

France began the observance of the centenary of the death of Napoleon I. to-day when Cardinal Dubois officiated at a special requiem high mass in Notre Dame, attended by Marshals Fayolle and Petain and more than fifty generals and admirals.

The famous requiem mass of Berlioz was sung by 500 male voices. The edifice was jammed. Admission was only possible upon presentation of invitation cards, even members of the Institute of France in their green uniforms being unable to convince the ushers that they had forgotten the necessary cards. Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, U. S. N., represented the retiring American Ambassador, Hugh C. Wallace.

Napoleon Eulogized.
The sermon was delivered by the Abbe Hennoque, chaplain of the Third French Infantry division, a war veteran, who wore the rosette of an officer of the Legion of Honor and a war cross with a dozen stars representing that many citations for bravery. He eulogized Napoleon's services to the nation and drew attention to the inspiration and patriotism which he said every French youth should gain by contemplating the career of the great general.

This afternoon at the Sorbonne, Yves Le Troquer, Minister of Public Works, presided at a memorial session, where Prof. Fayolle, the principal speaker, praised Napoleon's civic reforms.

The chief interest in the observance in Paris centers around the services which will be held at the Invalides and the Arc de Triomphe to-morrow. At 5 o'clock in the morning the guards of honor will take their places beside the tomb in the Invalides, comprising detachments from every branch of the French army and navy. Military bands, detachments of cavalry, marines and infantry carrying banners of the various campaigns will be marched outside while a gunboat on the Seine will fire the national salute.

France being on a semi-war footing, field uniforms will be worn at the military review at the Arc de Triomphe, which was erected to celebrate the victories of France. At least 10,000 troops will pass before President Millerand, Marshal Foch, Gabriel Guizot and members of France's war council.

Historic Banners.
The banners of the Fifth, Twenty-fourth and Eighty-ninth regiments which took part in all the great battles of the Napoleonic period, will be paraded for the second time since they were put in glass cases in the Invalides. The only other instance was during the military defile which followed the armistice.

Special masses are being held to-day and others will be held to-morrow in Ajaccio, Napoleon's birthplace, with Papal absolution and benediction. Similar ceremonies have been arranged at Warsaw, Waterloo and Brussels. At St. Helena, at 5:30, the hour of the Emperor's death, a British battery will fire a salvo of 100 guns.

SERVANT 6 MONTHS AGO, IS BRIDE, MISTRESS OF HOTEL
Girl From Sweden Is Married to B. J. Baldwin, Who Recently Inherited the Newport Hotel and All the Estate of Mrs. Muenchinger.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, NEWPORT, R. I., May 4.—Coming from Sweden six months ago, no knowledge of English and seeking a job as a servant in this country, to-day Miss Martina Josephine Ekberg, 19 years old, finds herself the chateleine of the Muenchinger King Hotel, the most ultra fashionable and conservative establishment in this country, and the home at intervals of the most prominent, socially, in the United States.

She was married at noon to-day to Burtin J. Baldwin, owner and manager of the celebrated establishment. Miss Ekberg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Carl Ekberg of Gustafsvik, Sweden, obtained a place as waitress in the Muenchinger King soon after her arrival in this country while staying at the home of her aunt in this city.

The late Mrs. Muenchinger, who died a few months ago, left all her property, both real estate and personal, to her manager, Mr. Baldwin, a former professor in Columbia University and a versatile scholar.

Since that time the will has been contested by her niece, Miss Irene Heubel of Boston, her only blood relative in this country. The trial is assigned before the Superior Court here in June.

The ceremony to-day was performed by the Rev. Harold S. Capron at the United Congregational Church. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin left on their honeymoon, and upon their return will reside at their hotel. In taking out their license she gave her age as 19 and he as 46. There was a notation on the application stating that she had no parent or guardian in the State of Rhode Island.

HERT OR ADAMS TO BECOME G. O. P. BOSS
Harding and Leaders Confer on Entire Field of Patronage Including Postmasters.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, NEW YORK, D. C., May 4.

Elmer A. T. Hert of Kentucky, or John T. Adams of Iowa, both members of the Republican National Committee, is to be recommended for the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee, to succeed Postmaster-General Hays, it developed to-night at the end of a long political conference at the White House, participated in by President Harding, Postmaster-General Hays, Attorney-General Daugherty and Secretary of War Weeks.

Mr. Hays, who has retained the chairmanship up to this time in order to clean up the committee indebtedness due to the last campaign, will retire when the committee meets in Washington, June 7.

The conference also discussed the entire field of patronage, including the post-office, with respect to selection of postmasters. An announcement on the post-office question, which is one of the most bothersome with which the Administration is confronted, will be made within a few days.

It is two months since the Administration came into power, but surprisingly little progress has been made toward filling the vast number of jobs available. The reason has been there were so many contenders for the positions, with the result that the executive officials have not known which way to turn, fearing they were due to get into deep trouble if they took this or that step.

One of the purposes of the long conference between the political chieftains to-day, therefore, was to work out a definite policy and get the jobs cleared up, so there would be no further interference with the problems ahead, which are numerous. Once the jobs are filled there will be no more candidates, and he will be able to devote himself to public questions to a greater extent than now is possible.

8 OF POLICE PATROL DIE AFTER AMBUSH
Only One Escapes Irish Ambuscade Near Rathmore, County Kerry.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, May 4.—A sergeant and seven constables were ambuscaded and killed this morning a short distance outside of Rathmore, County Kerry. Only one man in the party escaped.

The police patrol, comprising a sergeant and eight constables, had left Rathmore to recover the body of a man lying in the road half a mile away from the village, but were ambushed before they had reached the spot.

Twelve Irish volunteers were either killed or wounded and one military officer was severely wounded as a result of a trip by a party from a border regiment to investigate an ambush which occurred yesterday at Tourmakeady, County Mayo. Four policemen were killed and two wounded.

The investigating party encountered a number of members of the Irish Republican army in the Bantry Mountain and a fight ensued, after which the military forces recovered the body of one of the Republicans and captured another who was armed with a shotgun.

BILL BARS ALL FEES TO CONGRESS MEMBERS
Senators and Members of the House Will be Obligated to Pay Strict Attention to their Official Duties and Accept no Other Fees while in Office under the Provisions of an Amendment Proposed to-day by Senator Kenyon (Ia.), Republican.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Washington, D. C., May 4.

Senators and Members of the House will be obliged to pay strict attention to their official duties and accept no other fees while in office under the provisions of an amendment proposed to-day by Senator Kenyon (Ia.), Republican, to the bill, favorably reported to the Senate, prohibiting Federal Judges from accepting outside employment while on the bench.

The bench judgeship measure was introduced by Senator Dial (N. C.) as a shot at Judge Landis of Chicago, whom the Senator criticized among other things, for acting as an arbitrator in the organization baseball dispute.

Senator Kenyon said to-day that while he holds no brief for Judge Landis, he does believe it is just as necessary for Senators and Representatives to devote themselves to their official business as for judges.

NAVAL CHIEFS PREPARE FOR BOMBING TESTS
Admiral Wilson, Commander in Chief of the North Atlantic Fleet, is coming to Washington on Monday for a conference with naval chiefs to make arrangements for the bombing and other tests to be held by the navy in cooperation with the army near the Virginia Capes in June. At that time a date will be set for the tests, which are to be held in all probability during the latter part of the month.

Navy officers said to-day that the tests would require about ten days to complete. They will be in three parts: First, location of the fleet by aircraft; second, bombing by aircraft of an American battleship, radio controlled, and, third, sinking by aircraft of a German battleship assigned to the United States.

STOKES TRIAL ENDS AFTER SIX WEEKS
Both Sides to File Briefs and Decision Not Expected Before July 1.

Trial of the divorce action brought by W. E. D. Stokes against Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes ended yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Finch, after a day of testimony from handwriting experts and photographers. Before briefs are submitted, however, Martin W. Littleton, Mrs. Stokes's counsel, intends to examine the plaintiff when he has recovered sufficiently from an illness. Justice Finch set thirty days as the time limit for submission and exchange of briefs by counsel and another ten days in which they may file answers to each other's briefs. The decision, he said, probably will not be reached before July 1.

The last witness offered by Herbert C. Smyth and Francis L. Wellman, of counsel for Mr. Stokes, was Stephen O'Brien, a disbarred lawyer, now a salesman of lumber and phonographs. He testified he met Mrs. Stokes in 1909 or 1910, then Miss Helen Elwood, in the apartment then occupied by Edgar T. Wallace, a correspondent, at Twenty-ninth street and Fifth avenue. He was with Wallace when the latter stopped to speak to her in the Waldorf-Astoria and upon their return will reside at her hotel. In taking out their license she gave her age as 19 and he as 46. There was a notation on the application stating that she had no parent or guardian in the State of Rhode Island.

ALDERMANIC BILL PUZZLE TO MILLER
Measure Before Him for Hearing, but He Questions Its Legality.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, New York Herald Bureau, Albany, May 4.

The Aldermanic bill providing for the re-appointment of the Aldermanic districts in New York city was before Gov. Nathan L. Miller to-day on a public hearing, but the Governor expressed doubt as to whether the measure was legally before him. The question that puzzled the Governor was whether the Mayor of New York had fifteen days to act on a city bill from the time it left the Legislature or from the time he actually received it.

George W. Olvaney, representing the New York County Democratic Committee, told the Governor that under an opinion of Attorney-General O'Malley in 1909 the time began with the receipt of the bill by the Mayor. He asked the Governor to disapprove the bill on the ground the Legislature had no right to pass it over the veto of Mayor Hylan.

Several municipal court justices attended another hearing before the Governor to-day, but were divided in their attitude toward the bill which would transfer from the Mayor to the courts the appointment of marshals, constables and clerks. Justice Frederick Spiegelberg favored the bill relating to marshals, as it would make those officers responsible to the authority that appointed them. Justice Aaron J. Levy opposed the bill.

The Governor announced to-day he had signed the Betts bill requiring truth in advertising and making it a misdemeanor to put untrue, deceptive or misleading advertisements in any newspaper or publication.

The Governor also signed the bill requiring owners or lessors of apartment houses to register with the Tenement House Department.

COMMISSION PREPARES SOLDIER BONUS FORMS
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Albany, May 4.

The State Soldier Bonus Commission, at an all day meeting to-day, made out the blanks upon which the former service men are to apply for the bonus of $10 a month while they were in the Federal service in the war with Germany and for which the people voted a bond issue of $45,000,000 last fall.

The forms will be distributed as soon as printed. The commission has received offers to aid the distribution from the American Legion, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., churches, banks and Veterans of Foreign Wars. It is estimated that by using these offers of assistance the work and expense of administering the bonus law will be cut in half.

An all-rag writing paper is just as desirable as an all-wool suit. You pay the price of an all-wool suit for three reasons. It wears well. It looks better. And the cost of making is greater than the cost of material.

You could buy CRANE'S Bond for your stationery with the same assuredness. It also wears better. It looks better. And in the cost of your letters, as they lie there dictated, typed and stamped, ready to go out, the cost of paper, no matter what quality, is a very small fraction.

So, if all-wool for suits, why not all-rag for business letter paper?
