

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, MAY 29, 1921.

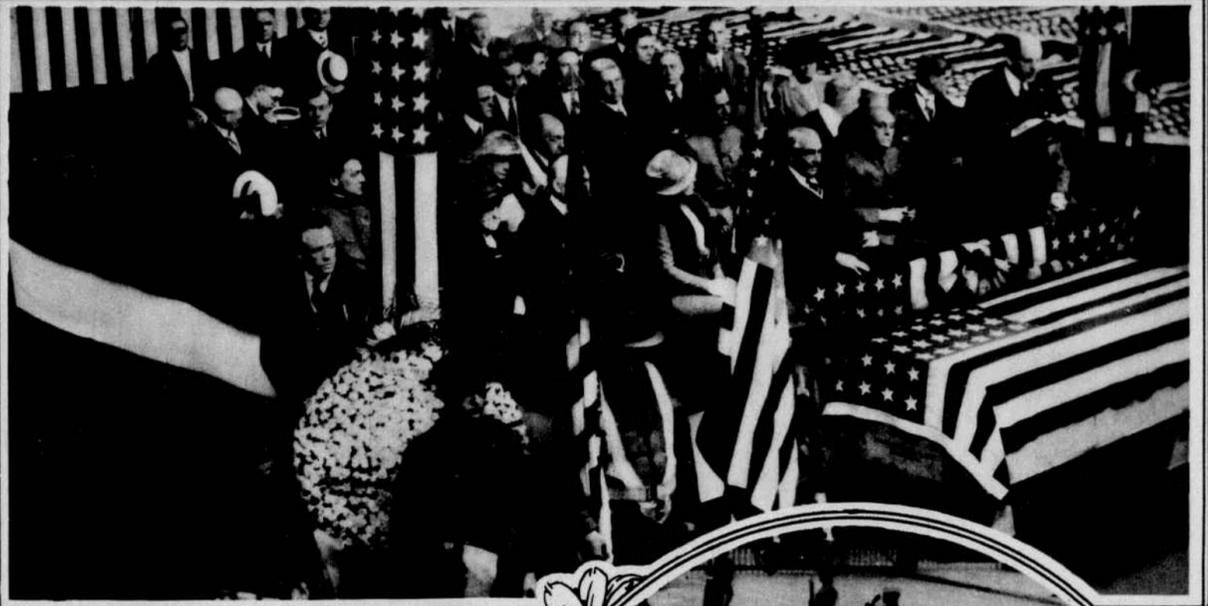

Copyright, 1921, Sun-Herald Corporation.

Above.—New and striking camera study of the President and Mrs. Harding taken on their visit to New York last Monday. They were on their way to attend the soldier dead memorial service at Hoboken.

By a N. Y. Herald Staff Photographer.

At right.—The Presidential party landing at the West Ninety-sixth street pier. In the background is the yacht Mayflower; at right the stern of the U. S. S. Granite State, destroyed by fire soon after the President arrived. Copyright, Keystone View.

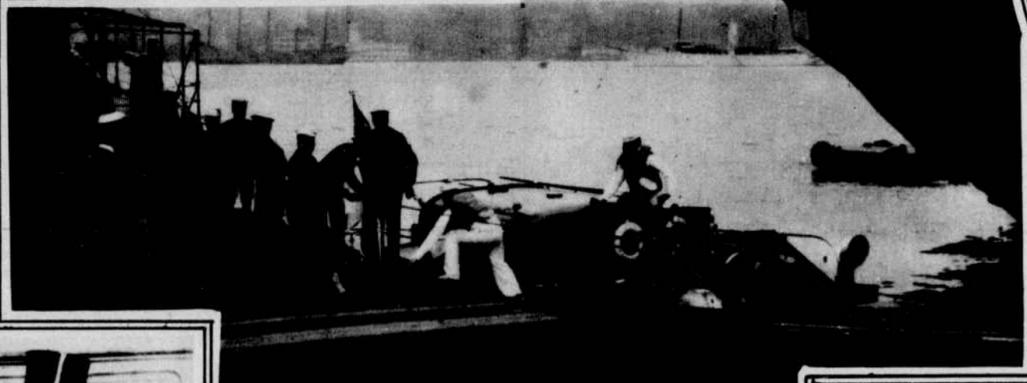

The Presidential party at the memorial service for the soldier dead in Hoboken. The Chief Executive was moved to tears in his address following the religious ceremony.

By a N. Y. Herald Staff Photographer.

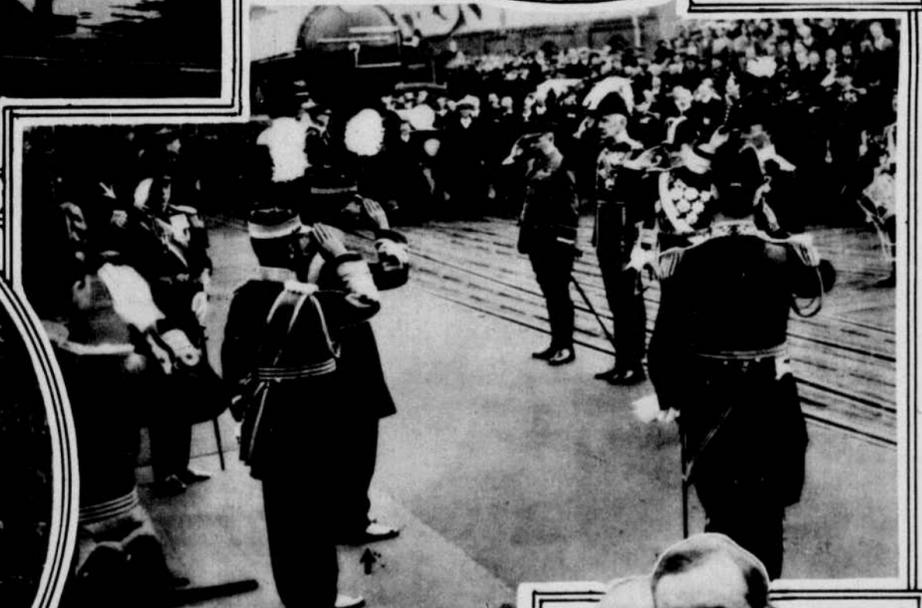

The President going about New York by motor car, a view of him that most New Yorkers had. Notice his hand upraised in greeting. International.

Ambassador Harvey arriving at Waterloo Station, London. The eyes of the world are on him, for he is defining to European statesmen the attitude of the present Administration in world affairs. International.

France honoring Joan of Arc. Statue of the Maid in front of the flag bedecked Church of St. Augustine in the Rue de Rivoli, Paris. International.

Crown Prince of Japan arriving at Portsmouth, England. White arrow shows Prince of Wales, black arrow the Japanese heir. Royal train in background. Copyright, Keystone View.

Silesia fast has taken the place of the Balkans as Europe's storm centre. Latest pictures from the disturbed area. A French cycle corps on its way to suppress an outbreak of the Poles and Germans. International.

Repairing the railroad bridge on the line between Oppeln and Chepanewich, in Silesia, destroyed by the Poles. One of the latest pictures of the Silesia disturbance to reach America. International.

The Polish leader Korfanty, who has headed the movement to oust the Germans from Silesia. He has the backing of the French and the opposition of the British. International.