

STAYS TAX LIENS ON TRANSIT LINES
Majority of Surface Routes in Manhattan Subject to Possible Foreclosure.

George Watson of 126 Fifth street, Long Island City, a detective when employed, who was sentenced last week by Magistrate Kochendorfer to thirty days' duty in his wife's kitchen, had the sentence changed yesterday and must now either find a "man's size job" or go to the workhouse for six months.

OWNERS PROTEST SALE
Counsel Maintains Amounts Demanded for Franchise Levy Too Great.

Thomas F. McAndrews, Collector of Assessments and Arrears, acting for the city bought yesterday at public sale franchise tax liens on nineteen trolley lines of the New York Railways Company and the Third Avenue Railway System, including the majority of the surface lines in Manhattan. The liens represent arrears of $1,628,508 and were bought at the maximum interest rate of 12 per cent.

CITY MAY OPERATE THEM
Control Expected to Give Mayor Vantage Point in Fight on Transit Commission.

The city has bought similar liens for a number of years past, but never has foreclosed. There is speculation concerning what disposition the city may make of the liens this year under changed conditions. A foreclosure would place the lines in the hands of the city and be in accord with the recent tendency of the Hyman administration, as exemplified in the Midland of Staten Island and the Williamsburgh Bridge lines, and in the municipal operation. Such a procedure also would bring the Mayor a step nearer his pet scheme of tearing up the tracks of a large number of lines and operating buses instead.

MAGISTRATE HELPS CULPRIT WIN A BET
Gives Him Four Months Instead of Six in Workhouse.

When Magistrate Francis X. McQuade sentenced John McNally, an alleged pickpocket, to four months in the workhouse yesterday, McNally leaped for joy. "You helped me win a bet, your Honor," he exclaimed, "I bet one of the boys in the flannel room at 21 could get a plea that would win your Honor's greatest consideration and get me off with less than six months. He said 'I'd get a year. Thank you so much.'"

MEAL IS BETTER THAN WORLD TRIP TO 2 BOYS
Runaways From Asylum Caught by Woodhaven Cop.

An ordinary square meal in lieu of a trip around the world was accepted yesterday by Dominick Frisina and Frank Gordon, each 13 years old, of Jamaica, Queens, when a policeman met them in Woodhaven and directed them to tell about themselves. One of them hung his head and began shifting his feet, but the other said right away: "If you lead us to something to eat you can do anything you like to us."

DEATH UNDER SCIENCE CARE CAUSES INQUIRY
Child Said to Have Succumbed to Diphtheria.

The death Wednesday of Martha Iva-belle De Groot, aged 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward De Groot of 30 Crescent avenue, New Brighton, Staten Island, is being investigated by Dr. George Ford, medical examiner of Richmond, and District Attorney Joseph Molloy. Death was caused by diphtheria. The parents of the child are Christian Scientists, and they originally diagnosed the ailment as mumps. A Christian Scientist practitioner had been treating the child since last Friday. Dr. William Wilkinson of New Brighton was called in a short time before death occurred. He refused to sign the death certificate, and health authorities refused yesterday to issue a permit for the cremation of the body until the return of an autopsy was made known.

WEST POINTERS FOR N. J. POLICE
Gov. Edwards of New Jersey will send the New Jersey State next Tuesday the nomination of Carl H. Norman Schwarzkopf of Newark, West Point graduate, who saw service overseas in the world war with the regular army, for the position of superintendent of the New Jersey State police. The department will be created under a law passed by the New Jersey Legislature this year.

FREED OF KITCHEN SENTENCE TO SEARCH FOR MAN'S JOB

Watson, the Unemployed Detective, Must Attach Himself to a Payroll Within a Week or Go to the Workhouse, Magistrate Rules.

Peekskill with the Twenty-third Regiment. Magistrate M'Ber knew all about his case and asked him what he had to say. Watson replied that he had been unable to find employment, but was a little vague as to when and where he had looked.

LYONS TO PICK VOTE MACHINES FOR CITY

Secretary of State Will Act Because Board of Elections Is Deadlocked.

The Board of Elections of New York City having become deadlocked on the type of voting machine to be used at the next election, under a bill passed in Albany last winter, the choice has been put in the hands of John J. Lyons, Secretary of State. This failure to reach an agreement having been foreseen, the bill provided for the contingency. Similarly the Secretary of State is empowered to decide the way in which the machines shall be distributed—only 12 per cent. of the polling places are to be equipped with them—in case the elections board disagrees.

Charles E. Heydt, Republican, who engineered the passage of the voting machine bill, offered a resolution adopting the machine of the United States Standard Voting Machine Company of Rochester. It is the one used exclusively in New York State, and letters of endorsement were procured from the county commissioners and town clerks of all the communities where the machine has been tried. Mr. Heydt and Jacob A. Livingston, his Republican colleague, then introduced a resolution to the effect that the Standard Voting Machine Company be bankrupted, that no progress had been made toward reorganization and it was highly improbable that any machine would be put out before election. Secretary of State Lyons announced that he would make a decision in about ten days after looking into the merits of all types, including the American Voting Machine Company of Boston. The two Democrats voted for it and the Republicans against.

THIEVES CARRY OFF 4 CHOICE FIGHT TICKETS

Thieves broke into the apartment of William N. Fleischmann on the fourth floor of the apartment house at 250 West Eighty-eighth street Wednesday night and carried away $20,000 worth of jewelry. But far, far worse than that, they took with them four choice tickets for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. With a few trifling exceptions, Mr. Fleischmann said, the thieves showed excellent judgment in the selection of the loot. One of the exceptions was a solid silver flask. Mr. Fleischmann's brother, Paul, and his sister-in-law were visiting him at the time, and Wednesday Mrs. Fleischmann withdrew $15,000 in jewelry from a safe deposit vault and packed it in her trunk. The thieves found it and in addition took $4,000 worth of studs and rings from the room of William Fleischmann. Also, of course, the fight tickets, which Mr. Fleischmann described yesterday in minute detail to the police.

BERESFORD IS SAVED FROM POTTER'S FIELD

The funeral of Charles F. Beresford, a relative of the late Admiral Lord Charles William de la Poer Beresford, the British naval officer, will be held to-morrow at 122 Meserole avenue, Brooklyn. Beresford, the victim of persistent misfortune, died Wednesday in Metropolitan Hospital on Blackwell's Island, and was saved from Potter's field by the intervention of Supreme Court Justice John McCrete, one of the few remaining friends of the once wealthy Irishman. Judge McCrete said yesterday that, true to the traditions of the adventurous family, Charles Beresford went to sea early in life. He spent several years in Australia, and later established himself as an iron manufacturer at Albany. He retired twenty-five years ago with a fortune, but gradually it left him because of the evil fortune which seemed always to pursue him. A year ago he went to Ireland, proved his title to some property there, and realized $30,000, but during some political disorders thieves broke into his house and took it all. He had just enough to come back to the United States. Soon after his arrival he was plotted up, starving, in a hallway in Jamaica, Queens, where he had craved to die. He died broken in spirit and body with the simple record at the hospital: "Charles Beresford, 67 years old, no home."

TWO FIRES NEAR HOTEL STIR WALDORF DINERS

A dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria last night was served with fire apparatus tearing through the streets in answer to two separate alarms in buildings in streets on each side of the hotel. The din kept up for nearly an hour. Some of the guests went to the hotel exits to watch the fire, and crowds collected in the streets. About $5,000 damage was done to Fried's Hair Shop, on the third floor, at 28 West Thirty-fourth street, and also to the tenth floor left at 29 West Thirty-third street, occupied by A. A. Schwert & Co. coat and suit manufacturers. In the latter fire sprinklers extinguished the flames. Acting Chief "Smoky Joe" Martin was in charge of the firemen.

NEW MOVE HINTED IN STILLMAN CASE

Counsel for Banker's Wife and Son in Long and Mysterious Conference.

At a conference that was characterized by those participating as one of the most important in the course of the Stillman divorce action kept George W. Wickerson, George Coghill and John E. Mack, and later John B. Stanchfield together yesterday from 10 in the morning until 7 o'clock last night. All of them, with the exception of Mr. Mack, who is guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, are enlisted in the legal forces defending Mrs. Stillman. Messrs. Wickerson, Coghill and Mack were in most continuous session all day. Mr. Stanchfield did not join it until he was released from other duties that kept him in court.

STATEMENT IS PROMISED

Additional Affidavits and Witnesses May Appear, It Is Suggested.

There was a rumor, however, that one of the objects of the conference was caused by the alleged bitterness between one of the law firms representing Mr. Stillman and one of the firms of Mrs. Stillman's counsel. It was said that if a part of Mrs. Stillman's counsel agreed to withdraw from the case a compromise might easily be made. That theory given evidence in view of the report that an agreement was about to be made under which Mr. Stillman was to pay his wife $50,000 a year and at the same time recognize the legitimacy of the baby Guy. At about this time, however, another law firm joined Mrs. Stillman's counsel and declared immediately that the demands were not near high enough—that Stillman should be made to pay $150,000. Stillman and his counsel then announced their intention of fighting it out.

BURGLARS FLEE COP; LEAVE BAG OF LOOT

Residents of North Pelham were aroused yesterday when they learned that four burglars had broken into five homes and the rectory of St. Catherine's church and had taken away with them several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry and silverware if Patrolman Reed had not come upon them as they were robbing the home of Peter Ceder, former village president. The patrolman saw one man hiding in the bushes near the Ceder home and another coming out of a window. He ran into the yard and down the street. The burglars escaped but left a bag of stolen property. Two other men were found near by and were chased to the New Haven, George B. Church, where they boarded a moving freight train. A posse was formed, but they got away. The homes entered were those of H. Dolman, in First avenue; John J. Manning, in Second avenue, and the Rev. Mr. McNicol of St. Catherine's Church. Mr. McNicol said the burglars took a can opener, but left some silverware behind.

ACCUSED WIFE CHARGES FRAMEUP, DRUGGING

Mrs. Nina S. Foster of 30 Hawthorne street, Brooklyn, answering the action for absolute divorce filed by her husband, Charles B. Foster, manager of the Armour Curled Hair Works, Manhattan, charged in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday that she was the victim of a frameup and that she was drugged and carried to the Grand Hotel in Manhattan February 19, 1920, waking up to find herself in bed and three men in the room, one of whom was not fully clad. One of the other men she learned since, she said, was an attorney of Boston in the employ of her husband. Detailing the alleged plot, Mrs. Foster said that a Mrs. Florence W. Campbell, whom she has ascertained to be a private detective, engineered the plot, aided by drinks that indicated drugging. Mrs. Foster counter charged infidelity, asking for divorce. She asked for $125 a week and $2,500 counsel fees.

ANTI-DRY PARADERS MAY ENROLL TO-DAY

Women and men who wish to participate in the parade of July anti-dry parade up Fifth avenue may enroll to-day in the headquarters of the movement at 1263 Broadway, near Thirty-second street. Frank C. Drake, originator of the parade, announced last night that all persons who desire may become members of a permanent organization, a charter for which is being drawn up by an attorney for the committee under the name of "League for Personal Liberty." Similar leagues are forming in other States and their combined membership is to become a single national force with the object of replacing the Volstead act "with a law acceptable to an actual majority of the American people."

PLAN MITCHEL PORTRAIT

Associates of former Mayor to Present Painting to City. Plans for securing a full length portrait of Mayor John Purroy Mitchel to be hung in the City Hall were discussed by the Mitchel Commissioners, an organization of prominent members of his administration, at a luncheon held in the City Club yesterday. Lamar Hardy, former Corporation Counsel, was empowered as head of a committee to choose an artist to create the finest painting of the project, which it is hoped may be kept within the circle of the Commissioners. It is understood that the plans for the permanent Mitchel memorial in Central Park are moving so rapidly that they may be presented to the Board of Estimate before long.

A Weak Government is the Worst of All

The advantage to the public must always have the first consideration to the exclusion of the ruler's private interests. It is true that the offices are the gift of the people, but the people by and large expect the duties of each of the offices to be administered for the benefit of the City, State and Nation, irrespective of relationships and personal friendships. A little mocking bird just above my head this sunny morning told me this true tale.
