

Indian prince, the Maharajah Holkar, ruler of Indore or Holkar's Dominions, decorates the grave of Quentin Roosevelt on Memorial Day, near Chateau Thierry, France. Photograph shows Major West of the American Embassy in Paris explaining how Col. Roosevelt's son was killed near the spot. International.

Delightful outdoor camera study of the Hon. Lady Brocklebank, wife of Sir Aubrey Brocklebank, director of the Cunard S. S. Co., with their daughter, Miss Angela, and Master John. Photo by Miss Compton Collier.

Latest portraits of Mr. and Mrs. J. Butler Wright, prominent in diplomatic circles in London. Mr. Wright is counsellor of the United States Embassy in London. Photos, Copyright, Bassano, Ltd.

Above—Frederick F. Moore, author, recently appointed counsellor to the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He leaves for Tokio in August. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

At right—Woman named for the important post of Assistant U. S. Attorney in New York: Miss Mary R. Towle at her desk in the Federal building. International.

Above—Amphibious tractor going backward in muddy stream, showing extended carburetor. In oval at left—Tractor in stream carrying three inch field piece and army officer using elevated seat. At right—The amphibious gun tractor ashore. Underwood & Underwood.

