

This photograph shows Gen. Budeny, the Soviet cavalry chief, who defeated Gen. Wrangel, saluting his troops. Kalenin, President of the All Russian Congress of Soviets, is the man standing beside Gen. Budeny's automobile.

(c) W. A. Wovschin.

Above—Trotzky in conference with field staff in his private car.

(c) W. A. Wovschin.

At right—Lenine, Trotzky and Kamenev, the President of the Moscow Soviet, holding a private conference on the roof of the Internationale building. Kamenev was elected President of the Internationale Congress.

(c) W. A. Wovschin.

Representatives of many nations attended the Third Internationale Congress, among them Big Bill Haywood.

(c) W. A. Wovschin.

Nicolai Lenine speaking at the Third Internationale, proclaiming his plan for Russia's future.

(c) W. A. Wovschin.

Above—R. W. Landon of Yale winning the high jump (6 feet 3 inches) in the international meet at Harvard Stadium.

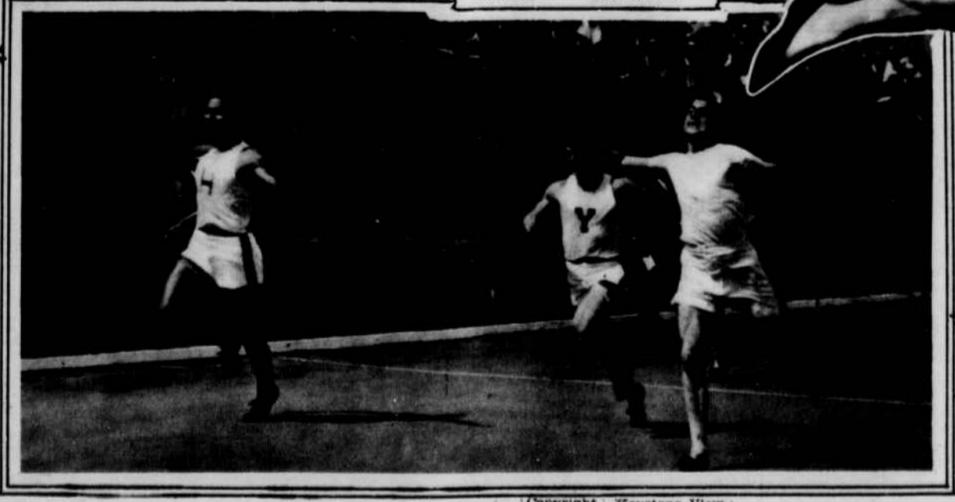

(c) Keystone View Co.

B. G. D. Rudd of Oxford winning the 440 yard run (time, 49 seconds). G. W. Chapman of Yale was second.

International.

At right—The 100 yard dash in Harvard Stadium. Left to right: E. C. Gourdin, Harvard, winner (time, 10 1-5 sec.); S. H. Feldman, Yale, third; M. M. Abrahams, Cambridge, England, second.

Copyright, Keystone View.

Above—H. W. Stallard of Cambridge, England, winning the mile (time, 4 m. 20 2-5 sec., a new record).

(c) Keystone View Co.

At right—M. K. Douglas of Yale winning the two mile run (time, 9m. 32 1-5 sec.).

(c) Keystone View Co.

C. G. Krogness of Harvard winning the 120 yard high hurdles at the international meet (time, 15 2-5 sec., equalling record).

Tom Campbell of Yale defeating his field in the 880 yard run. His time was 1m. 55 sec.

International.