

Gen. Pershing on an official visit to Plattsburg inspected the camp of the Citizens' Military Training Corps and then reviewed the Provisional Regiment of students. The photograph shows Company M.

Gen. Pershing inspecting the men and their equipment at the Plattsburg camp. About 800, a large proportion of them New Yorkers, volunteered for training.

Above — President Harding signing the joint resolution providing Federal authority for the development of New York harbor irrespective of State boundaries.

Funeral in New York of Robert Bue, a Chinese who wore the uniform of the United States and who was killed in France. Six Chinese members of the same company acted as pallbearers.

At Left — Six-year-old Dorothy Thompson, who sailed on the Aquitania to visit her grandparents, Ambassador and Mrs. Harvey, in London.

At Right — This is E. A. Purdy of Minneapolis, who is characterized by Postmaster General Hays as "a bird of a postmaster with a batting average of 1,000, although a Democrat."

Here is an aerial mishap in which no one was hurt. A plane crashed on the auto speedway at Uniontown, Pa., and its engine broke through the heavy flooring. The plane was flying low when it fell.

This is a scene at Rambouillet, France, where the delegates to the conference which discussed Silesian problems are taking a stroll after breakfast. Earl Curzon is on the right, next to Lloyd George. M. Briand is at Mr. Lloyd George's right, while President Millerand is at the extreme left of the picture.