

OPEN SHOP TO RULE IF LANDIS IS DEFEATED

Chicago Builders to Call for Union Men First, Then Hire Anybody.

RESERVE BANK TIED UP Labor Officials Facing Dilemma to Accept Award and Ire of Members.

NON-UNIONISTS ON JOB Leaders Admit That Men in Organizations Are Out of Control.

Special Despatch to This New York Herald. CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The open shop will prevail in the building trades in Chicago next week if the men, either as unions or as individuals, refuse to return to work at the scale fixed by Judge Landis, says E. M. Craig, secretary of the Chicago Building Construction Employers Association.

Non-union hoisting engineers have replaced those who struck yesterday on two jobs. Steam fitters, plumbers, pipe coverers, ornamental iron workers, marble setters and members of other crafts will be replaced by union or non-union men on jobs where individual members have walked out, Mr. Craig said.

According to the agreement signed by both the contractors and the building trades council, the unions must furnish men in twenty-four hours or the employers will hire non-union men and Monday morning the international union will be asked to furnish workmen, and in event of failure non-union men will replace the union men who have quit their jobs. If the labor men want to save unionism in Chicago they must live up to their agreement to abide by the decision of Judge Landis.

Work on the Federal Reserve Bank building halted this morning when Harry Jensen, president of the Carpenters district Council, ordered his men off the job as 11 o'clock, the wage suggested for that trade by Judge Landis, was offered.

The steam fitters, plumbers, pipe coverers and marble setters also left the big bank building. The carpenters' walkout was ordered following a conference between Jensen and W. L. Hutcheson, international president of the carpenters' union.

Another of the biggest jobs in the city, construction of a plant for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company on the southwest side, was tied up by the refusal of the hoisting engineers to continue at the new wage. Mr. Craig said that forty engineers had been employed on that job.

Denial that there had been any recognition of his decision was made by J. J. Conroy, secretary of the Chicago Building Trades Council, who said: "We approved the award long before it was issued. There has been no recognition of it."

At a meeting of the building trades council last night the labor leaders were in a predicament. An acceptance of the award would mean a loss of their position. They had given their word to abide by it. On the other hand the workers showed they would not countenance such a step. Thomas Kearney, president of the council, said:

"We did our best. We realize the awkward position we are in and made every effort to convince the workers that they should remain on the job until we can straighten out the difficulties. They refused to listen. They are out of hand. They will have an opportunity to consider their position over Sunday, however, and will, I hope, listen to reason by Monday morning."

PRISONER IS BEATEN AND POLICE ACCUSED Justice Strong Calls Upon Enright for Investigation.

When Joseph Chusiano, 19, of 2 St. Felix street, Brooklyn, charged with being implicated in a holdup on September 1, came before Justice Selah B. Strong in the Supreme Court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus for the purpose of having bail fixed, he had a very badly blackened eye and cuts and contusions all over his face.

"It looks to me very much as though this prisoner was beaten by the police some days after his arrest," said Justice Strong. "That sort of thing must stop. I shall make a minute on the record of this court calling upon the Police Commissioner to investigate the assault on the prisoner. It is also just as much the duty of the District Attorney to investigate this case as it is the duty of any other official."

At the request of Edward J. Reilly, counsel for Chusiano, bail was fixed in the sum of $5,000 pending his arraignment on the charge of highway robbery. At the office of District Attorney Harry E. Lewis it was said that an investigation will be held to find out how Chusiano came by his injuries.

HUMAN AUCTION GETS ONLY $5 IN BRIDGEPORT Labor Leader Uses Soap Box for Slave Block.

Special Despatch to This New York Herald. BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 10.—Following the example of Boston, a "slave market" for auctioning the unemployed was started here to-night in the presence of 5,000 persons. The auction block consisted of a soap box at Main and Wall streets. The sale was conducted by the Bridgeport Unemployment Council.

A rival meeting started a few feet away where a socialist-labor orator was expounding the benefits of his economic doctrine, and the progress of the "slave market" was considerably hindered.

BEARDED WOMAN'S HOPES DASHED AS PRISON OPENS

Released After Term as Horse Thief, New Charges Prevent Her From Resuming Place in Circus' Side Show.

Special Despatch to This New York Herald. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Charles, being a four-inch beard which she had hoped would be the means of livelihood for her and her five-year-old son, Mrs. Jennie Ferris was released from the New Castle county workhouse today only to face disappointment.

She had hoped as soon as her ten months sentence for horse stealing expired to resume her old profession as a bearded woman in a circus. It was that she might have the requisite freedom from marriage and means of support to grow the beard that she deliberately stole three horses and submitted to arrest.

Daily Calendar THE WEATHER.

For Eastern New York—Cloudy, with local showers to-day; to-morrow, somewhat lower temperature; moderate southerly winds.

For Northern New England—Unsettled, followed by local showers to-day; to-morrow probably fair and cooler, moderate southerly winds.

For Southern New England—Unsettled, followed by local showers to-day; to-morrow somewhat lower temperature; moderate southerly winds.

For Western New York—Thunder showers, followed by clearing and cooler to-day; to-morrow partly cloudy and cooler, moderate to fresh southwest winds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—There has been a further fall in temperature over the northern States, the central Rocky Mountain region, and snow has fallen in the western Canadian provinces. Rains have fallen in the region of the great lakes, the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valleys and in eastern Texas.

The tropical storm over the Caribbean Sea was central Saturday night near some place southeast of Jamaica and moving west-northwestward. There has been a slight change in intensity. Vessels bound for the central and western portions of the Caribbean Sea have been advised to exercise great caution.

In the United States the pressure is low along the northern border from the great lakes westward to North Dakota and over the Southwest. It continues relatively high in the Atlantic and east Gulf States and remains high over the Northwest.

The weather remained generally fair, with temperatures above the normal throughout the eastern and southern States, the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the region of the great lakes.

In the New England and middle Atlantic States the weather will be unsettled Sunday with showers late Sunday afternoon or night and on Monday.

The temperature will continue mild through Sunday and be somewhat lower Monday. In the south Atlantic and east Gulf States the weather will be generally fair Sunday and Monday without material change in temperature. In Tennessee and Kentucky there will be thunder showers Sunday and probably Monday, with lower temperature Monday.

PERSHING TO HONOR SOLDIER OF FRANCE

General Sails Wednesday to Present Congressional Medal to 'Unknown.'

NAVY TO BE REPRESENTED Ceremonies Will Take Place at Arch of Triumph, Where Hero Is Buried.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Gen. Pershing, acting at the direction of President Harding, will sail Wednesday for Paris, where on October 2 he will award the medal of honor voted by Congress to the unknown soldier of France whose body was placed in the Arch of Triumph.

The General, who left France just about two years ago after having led the American expeditionary forces to victory, probably will be accompanied by a high naval officer, who will also participate in the ceremonies to be held in connection with the award of the medal. The naval officer to make the trip has not yet been selected.

Secretary Weeks in announcing today Gen. Pershing's mission said: "The French Government has announced its intention of signaling by appropriate military ceremonies the action of Congress as but another evidence of the historic relations which have always prevailed between the two Republics."

The French Government has been advised by Gen. Pershing's visit and will signalize the occasion by appropriate military ceremonies. The General later will make an inspection of the Graves Registration Service, of American cemeteries in France and of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine. The ceremony of awarding the medal will be held at the Arch of Triumph, in Paris, where the unknown soldier is buried, on October 2.

In the event these plans can be finished in time for the General to return here by November 1 he will visit England and present a medal of honor to the unknown soldier of that nation. In the event he is obliged to return from Europe without an opportunity of visiting England, Secretary Weeks said he would designate another officer to present the medal to the British unknown dead.

Secretary Weeks explained that he was anxious that Gen. Pershing should be here to greet Marshal Foch of France, Gen. Diaz of Italy and other prominent foreign military officials who the Secretary said are understood would be in this country at that time in connection with the conference on limitation of armament. Mr. Weeks said he also was anxious that Gen. Pershing should participate in the ceremonies at Arlington on November 11, Armistice Day, when the unknown American soldier will be interred there.

Paris, Sept. 10.—President Harding has awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor to the unknown soldier of France, Myron T. Herrick, the American Ambassador, informed Premier Briand today. Mr. Briand asked Mr. Herrick to thank the American Government for its thoughtful act.

The presentation ceremony will occur in October, at which Ambassador Herrick will be assisted by two high officers of the American army and navy.

Land birds far from land form one of the sights to be witnessed by passengers on board the steamboats crossing Lake Michigan, says the Detroit News. This is said to be especially the case on the steamboats of a line plying between Muskegon and Chicago, a distance of 100 miles. The steamboats sail after dark.

At sundown the spars and rigging of the vessels in the dock form good resting places for the land birds. When darkness comes and the boats begin to move it is too late for them to go ashore. It is said to be no uncommon thing for the passenger to see a strange sight just between daybreak and sunrise. The birds are waking up and find themselves some thirty odd miles from land. They circle about the boat until they are compelled to rest on the rigging, some of them seeming much perplexed, while others make the best of circumstances.

On one trip two yellowhammers or flickers were among the company, as well as a silent little sparrow that pecked away at ropes and spars as if he were breakfasting heartily on grubs. There was a frightened brown thrush as well as a pair of tiny wrens and several grass sparrows.

The birds accompany the vessel until it reaches the other port and then fly ashore.

NEW BEDFORD DRIED UP. Six Saloons and a Chicken Coop Yield Liquors.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 10.—Vengeance of Volstead enforcement officers fell seven times here to-day. First the police unearthed 500 gallons of alleged liquor and eighty-five kegs of molasses beneath a chicken coop in the yard of John Freitas.

Then came six raids on saloons, which the officers said had been flourishing since the sale of liquor became illegal. Small quantities of intoxicants were reported to have been found in each place.

ASKS EQUAL RIGHTS FOR WORK WOMEN Miss Mary McDowell Criticizes Labor Organizations Dominated by Men.

Special Despatch to This New York Herald. CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Miss Mary McDowell of Chicago took a rap at the labor organizations dominated by men to-day in an address before woman trade unionists in conference at Waukegan, saying they were still "in the dark ages." Her address took the form of an appeal for the eight hour law and other protective legislation for women in industry.

Miss McDowell, who is chairman of the Women in Industry Committee of the National League of Women Voters, also pointed out that democracy cannot be built on weary mothers and worn out workmen, and that society for its own good must gain legislation for the protection of industrial workers. Regarding men's labor organizations, Miss McDowell said: "The labor organizations dominated by men have not yet seen that their own security demands that women be organized on an equal footing with themselves. They are still in the dark ages and only a few unions have seen a glimmer of light. These handicaps demand that society for its own good, obtain legislation for an eight hour day, one day's rest in seven, a living wage and rest periods before and after child birth."

There are approximately 12,000,000 women in gainful occupations, according to Miss McDowell.

"According to most recent figures, 85 per cent. of the wage earning women are supporting other persons," she said. "The mothers of the working world are a group that, like the young, are not easily organized. These mothers carry two burdens, that of the home as well as that of industry outside the home. Fear of losing a job prevents them from making any progressive moves toward the betterment of working conditions."
