

Mme. Rappold Sings Title Role in 'Aida' at the Manhattan

Large Audience Enthusiastic in Applause of San Carlo Company's Presentation.

'Aida' was given by the San Carlo Opera Company at the Manhattan Opera House last evening. Again the popularity of these performances was demonstrated by the size and demeanor of the audience. The assembly packed the auditorium and the applause was not only frequent but enthusiastic.

Mme. Marie Rappold of the Metropolitan Opera House appeared as a "guest," singing the title role as she had on many previous occasions sung it in the more pretentious temple of art in Broadway. Mme. Rappold's voice was in good condition and she won much approval especially for her "Ritorna vincitor" and "O patria mia."

WOMEN OF SOCIETY SHOW HORSES AT MINEOLA FAIR

Mrs. Hitchcock Takes Ketch Over the Jumps—Miss Fleitmann Loses and Recovers $3,000 Brooch.

An exceptionally large crowd attended the horse show and races at the Mineola Fair yesterday, and farmers rubbed elbows with society at the edge of the ring.

In class 40 for saddle horses, in which ladies were to ride, a pretty contest was seen. Miss Ivy D. Maddison, on her saddle Iovya, won the blue over Mrs. Charles W. Allan, who was riding The Last Word. Bohemian Silk, ridden by Mrs. Charles Anderson, received third.

When the afternoon was about half over, Miss Lida Louise Fleitmann, who exhibited in several classes, reported the loss of a diamond brooch valued at $2,000. She offered a reward, and a diligent search was made for it, but none of the groomers could find the jewel. Finally one of the State troopers saw it shining in the grass. He dismounted and recovered the jewel. Miss Fleitmann was delighted and gave a substantial reward to the finder.

The notice books had two classes, Mrs. Thomas Dickson winning the first with her Jenny Lee and Miss Katherine Tuttle getting the blue with Black Rock. There were several breeders' classes before the afternoon show.

The pony class, for polo ponies especially, proved a feature. Howard Phelps won a winner here over a good field. There were several breeders' classes before the afternoon show.

The polo pony mounts was captured by D. S. Iglehart's Goat from Howard Phelps' Doria II. This class was closely watched, and the winners will be in better places later on in the show.

The racing was won in straight heats except the last race, which should have been by Doty, driving Silver Ashbourne. He won the first heat, but lost the second and third. Royal Stokes was the winner.

Mechanical Kitchen Maid Makes Debut at Electrical Show

New 'Servant' Doesn't Need Food and Two Nights Off Each Week.

To some of the million or more families now trying to solve the servant problem the mechanical kitchen girl, who made her debut yesterday at the New York Electrical Show in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, should prove an interesting household acquisition.

The initial cost of equipping one's kitchen with this culinary assistant is hardly as much as a cook demands for one month's wages. These days, and once you have installed the kitchen helper the cost of upkeep is slight. She doesn't eat, she needs no clothes, she doesn't flirt with the butcher or quarrel with the milkman's boy, and she needs no nights off a week and every other Sunday afternoon or stay out late or burn the gas or have her best young man calling five nights a week.

And she does wash dishes, clean vegetables, wash bottles, sharpen cutlery, scour and scrub pans and kettles, polish and buff knives, forks and spoons, whip cream and beat eggs. All you do is turn on the electric current and she cheerfully goes to work at any of these accomplishments you happen to want her to do.

The mechanical maid of all work is only one of the many features of the show designed especially for the comfort and joy of the housewife. Her work will do much easier to persuade her youngsters to brush their teeth regularly if she introduces them to the electric tooth brush, which eliminates all manual labor. The brush is operated by the electric current which revolves the specially constructed brush. The same attachment can be used for the whole row of teeth, or for one or two teeth only. And if father hasn't time to hunt up a toothbrush he may like the electric polisher for his shoes.

The electrical show opened with a good attendance yesterday afternoon and evening displays. It will continue daily, except Sunday, until October 8, from 10 P. M. to 11 P. M. Miss Anna Case will sing by radio telephone this evening to audiences several hundred miles away. The noted soprano will sing in the tower and listening stations on the armory.

Miss Billie Burke Will Star in a Tarkington Play

Popular Comedienne Deserts Motion Picture to Return to Spoken Drama.

Miss Billie Burke has deserted the cinema after several years of starring on the silver screen and decided to return permanently to the legitimate stage.

This interesting fact was announced yesterday by no less an authority than the popular comedienne's husband, Florenz Ziegfeld. He has been in New York for some time and has been seen at the Metropolitan Opera House.

It will be in a new comedy by Booth Tarkington that Miss Burke will star under the joint management of Messrs. Eringer, Dillman and Ziegfeld. Rehearsals will begin at the New Amsterdam Theatre next week at hours when "Sally" is not trotting there, and the premiere will be in Miss Burke's native city of Washington on the night of October 31 before the New York opening.

Miss Burke was last seen in New York in a speaking role in "Caesar's Wife," under the management of Mr. Ziegfeld. Her forthcoming appearance in a new play by a novelist and dramatist of the attainment of Mr. Tarkington will be of universal interest in the theatre. The name of the play has not been announced.
