

Card Index to Prevent Bigamy in The Bronx... HOUSE IN CENTRAL PARK SOUTH ENTERED BY 'INSIDERS,' POLICE BELIEVE.

5 HELD IN $15,000 THEFT... TAILOR BEATEN BY 3 BANDITS WHO ESCAPE IN CHASE IN UPPER HARLEM.

MINOR CRIMES CONTINUE... BRONX HAS HAD ONLY 5 MURDERS IN YEAR, SAYS ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Numerous robberies and acts of violence continued yesterday throughout New York. Five men were arrested charged with a $15,000 theft on December 22.

Holiday crimes have resulted in the issuance of two reports of crime statistics, one in The Bronx and the other in Kings. Herman Fleiderbum, Assistant District Attorney of Bronx county, said the county last year had fewer murders than any other in the city.

On the other hand, more than 200 criminal cases are on the calendar for trial on the opening day, Tuesday, January 3. This is said to be a high mark for the calendar of any new term.

The apartment of Mrs. Paul Langdon, 30 Central Park South, was entered on the night of December 26. Furs and jewelry valued at more than $1,000 were stolen.

Cash amounting to $332 was stolen from the Charlissa drug store, 240 Seventh avenue, yesterday morning by three men, who held up the proprietor and manager.

Samuel Gorwitz, tator, at 227 West 143d street, was blackjacked into insensibility and robbed of $20 by three men who entered his shop and asked his charges for pressing suits.

Frank Rowinsky, 36, a janitor, was stabbed by an unidentified man. Rowinsky was attempting to disperse a gang of boys playing craps when the stranger told him to mind his business.

In an altercation in front of his home, 22 East 110th street, Frank Rowinsky, 36, a janitor, was stabbed by an unidentified man. Rowinsky was attempting to disperse a gang of boys playing craps when the stranger told him to mind his business.

Card Index to Prevent Bigamy in The Bronx... HOUSE IN CENTRAL PARK SOUTH ENTERED BY 'INSIDERS,' POLICE BELIEVE.

5 HELD IN $15,000 THEFT... TAILOR BEATEN BY 3 BANDITS WHO ESCAPE IN CHASE IN UPPER HARLEM.

MINOR CRIMES CONTINUE... BRONX HAS HAD ONLY 5 MURDERS IN YEAR, SAYS ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Numerous robberies and acts of violence continued yesterday throughout New York. Five men were arrested charged with a $15,000 theft on December 22.

Holiday crimes have resulted in the issuance of two reports of crime statistics, one in The Bronx and the other in Kings. Herman Fleiderbum, Assistant District Attorney of Bronx county, said the county last year had fewer murders than any other in the city.

On the other hand, more than 200 criminal cases are on the calendar for trial on the opening day, Tuesday, January 3. This is said to be a high mark for the calendar of any new term.

The apartment of Mrs. Paul Langdon, 30 Central Park South, was entered on the night of December 26. Furs and jewelry valued at more than $1,000 were stolen.

Cash amounting to $332 was stolen from the Charlissa drug store, 240 Seventh avenue, yesterday morning by three men, who held up the proprietor and manager.

Samuel Gorwitz, tator, at 227 West 143d street, was blackjacked into insensibility and robbed of $20 by three men who entered his shop and asked his charges for pressing suits.

Frank Rowinsky, 36, a janitor, was stabbed by an unidentified man. Rowinsky was attempting to disperse a gang of boys playing craps when the stranger told him to mind his business.

In an altercation in front of his home, 22 East 110th street, Frank Rowinsky, 36, a janitor, was stabbed by an unidentified man. Rowinsky was attempting to disperse a gang of boys playing craps when the stranger told him to mind his business.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

Patrolman Albert Broglie of the Eighty-sixth street police station, Brooklyn, was fined $10 in Brooklyn Traffic Court yesterday by Magistrate Fish.

BANDITS KILL TWO IN BANK AND FLEE WITHOUT LOOT... CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE.

been fired by the second bandit, who had entered from the rear. Such is the belief of the officials. They believe that the confederate rushed in while Moore was firing at the pistol in the paying teller's chest fired the bullet which ended the fight.

The plan for the holdup had gone through the village and the police were alerted. The bandits did not stop to loot the bank. They thought only of escape.

The trail ended at the automobile, which had been backed down into the lumber yard. A boy said he saw the car drive out and took the number, but it was learned half an hour later that it was wrong.

The police found on the floor beside the bodies of the two bank employees a bullet which was fired from a .38 Smith and Wesson. The bullet was found in the bodies of Moore and Butz.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

Patrolman Albert Broglie of the Eighty-sixth street police station, Brooklyn, was fined $10 in Brooklyn Traffic Court yesterday by Magistrate Fish.

$100,000 FOR THE REPAIRS KNOWN DEEDS... MARIE SHOTWELL SURPRISED AT REWARD FOR BEFRIENDING SEEMING POOR WOMAN.

Twelve years ago Miss Marie Shotwell, a motion picture actress now living at Hotel Seymour, in West Forty-fifth street, walked down Fifth avenue on a day during an election campaign.

Miss Shotwell learned that her new acquaintance was Miss Mary J. Pierson of 9 Livingston place, a teacher in the public schools of Manhattan for more than forty years.

That was the beginning of a friendship that lasted during the remainder of Miss Pierson's life. She and Miss Shotwell celebrated their birthdays together and they always spent Christmas together.

About the middle of October Miss Pierson became ill and sent for Miss Shotwell. It was the first time that the actress had ever been in her friend's home.

Miss Shotwell in twelve years had seen no signs that Miss Pierson had any money whatever, but she humorously old friend, and Miss Pierson made her leaving to Miss Shotwell everything she possessed except a few personal articles which went to other friends.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

LA CHANCE DENIES MISUSE OF ESTATE... EXPLAINS POSSESSION OF PART OF $6,000,000 PROPERTY LEFT BY J. K. STEWART.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald... LA CHANCE, guardian of one of the daughters of the late John K. Stewart of Centreport, and whose application for letters of administration on the estate of the other is being opposed by his ward on the ground that he has been endeavoring to get control of the Stewart estate and has been using estate property as his own.

She said to-day that in La Chance's home in Chicago and a bungalow he owns at Glenora, Cal., she saw a blue and white bedroom set, a grand piano, rugs, tapestry, a typewriter and pieces of silver. A petty car, in which she and her sister used to drive, she said, she found in La Chance's garage.

La Chance denied all this and stated that if he had any of the articles it was merely to keep them for Mrs. Honeyman. The bedroom furniture, he said, had been left with him for safe keeping by Mr. Stewart, and Mr. Stewart had asked him to put the piano in his home so it would not deteriorate in storage.

At a night session of court it was stated that the death of Jean Stewart took place on the morning of October 10 and on the same afternoon $155,000 was paid over as her share of the sale of the Wells Street Bridge Building in Chicago.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

Hired they were acting for the best interests of the estate... Mr. Taylor then moved to dismiss the petition of Mrs. Honeyman for the removal of Taylor and La Chance as her guardians.

Before he was heard in his own behalf Mrs. Robert H. Honeyman, Jr., his ward and the elder of John K. Stewart's daughters, testified concerning articles of furniture which he had been using and which she said belonged to her.

She said to-day that in La Chance's home in Chicago and a bungalow he owns at Glenora, Cal., she saw a blue and white bedroom set, a grand piano, rugs, tapestry, a typewriter and pieces of silver.

La Chance denied all this and stated that if he had any of the articles it was merely to keep them for Mrs. Honeyman. The bedroom furniture, he said, had been left with him for safe keeping by Mr. Stewart, and Mr. Stewart had asked him to put the piano in his home so it would not deteriorate in storage.

At a night session of court it was stated that the death of Jean Stewart took place on the morning of October 10 and on the same afternoon $155,000 was paid over as her share of the sale of the Wells Street Bridge Building in Chicago.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

After State and county officials had taken charge at the bank and locked the doors, the bank managers made a detailed inventory of deposits and securities. It was not until 5 o'clock that announcements were made that the bandits did not carry away a dollar.

ROBBERS GET $13,450 OF SOLDIERS' CHECKS... 268 Disabled Veterans Receiving Training Victims.

Checks for $13,000 destined for disabled soldiers receiving vocational training at Newark were stolen Christmas Eve from the office of the Veterans' Bureau at 25 West Forty-third street.

The checks were sorted by two young women and had been handed to other checks lying loose on the desk were not disturbed. Word was at once flashed to Washington to stop payment on the missing checks.

Dr. Butler pointed out that only two of the 651 who entered Columbia this year had enrolled in the course for teachers.

Unless Columbia University obtains $750,000 before midnight tomorrow the option will expire on the Dyckman tract, where it is proposed to erect three new stadiums and extensive athletic facilities.

Two armed men entered the drug store of Ludwig Hofmeyer at 141 Greene avenue, Brooklyn, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, and after backing Hofmeyer and his clerk, Albert Hamblin, into a room in the rear of the store.

James Zarro, a chauffeur driving a motor car to Newark, was held up by two armed men at night and robbed of a watch and a small amount of money. He was halted at Graham and Center streets, Jersey City.

Five men were arrested in an apartment at Fifty-seventh street on the suspicion of being implicated in the theft of furs valued at $15,000 from the store of W. E. Ball & Co., 33 West Forty-third street, on December 22.

Alric Westling, 35, security salesman, who confessed to the murder last Saturday of Carl Moller, Jeweler, at his home, 188 Nelson avenue, The Bronx, will be examined to-day by Dr. Thomas S. Gregory, chief of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Westling to Take Mental Test... Alric Westling, 35, security salesman, who confessed to the murder last Saturday of Carl Moller, Jeweler, at his home, 188 Nelson avenue, The Bronx, will be examined to-day by Dr. Thomas S. Gregory, chief of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital.

ROBBERS GET $13,450 OF SOLDIERS' CHECKS... 268 Disabled Veterans Receiving Training Victims.

Checks for $13,000 destined for disabled soldiers receiving vocational training at Newark were stolen Christmas Eve from the office of the Veterans' Bureau at 25 West Forty-third street.

The checks were sorted by two young women and had been handed to other checks lying loose on the desk were not disturbed. Word was at once flashed to Washington to stop payment on the missing checks.

Dr. Butler pointed out that only two of the 651 who entered Columbia this year had enrolled in the course for teachers.

Unless Columbia University obtains $750,000 before midnight tomorrow the option will expire on the Dyckman tract, where it is proposed to erect three new stadiums and extensive athletic facilities.

Two armed men entered the drug store of Ludwig Hofmeyer at 141 Greene avenue, Brooklyn, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, and after backing Hofmeyer and his clerk, Albert Hamblin, into a room in the rear of the store.

James Zarro, a chauffeur driving a motor car to Newark, was held up by two armed men at night and robbed of a watch and a small amount of money. He was halted at Graham and Center streets, Jersey City.

Five men were arrested in an apartment at Fifty-seventh street on the suspicion of being implicated in the theft of furs valued at $15,000 from the store of W. E. Ball & Co., 33 West Forty-third street, on December 22.

Alric Westling, 35, security salesman, who confessed to the murder last Saturday of Carl Moller, Jeweler, at his home, 188 Nelson avenue, The Bronx, will be examined to-day by Dr. Thomas S. Gregory, chief of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Westling to Take Mental Test... Alric Westling, 35, security salesman, who confessed to the murder last Saturday of Carl Moller, Jeweler, at his home, 188 Nelson avenue, The Bronx, will be examined to-day by Dr. Thomas S. Gregory, chief of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

LABOR LEADERS AGREE TO ADMIT JOURNEMENTS AND APPRENTICES FREELY... PENALTIES ABANDONED

INCORPORATION OF LOCALS TO BE DEMANDED ONLY AS LAST RESORT... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

$500 ENTRANCE FEE TO BE CUT TO $75, PAYABLE IN INSTALLMENTS... LEARNERS' LIMIT LOWER

Leaders of twenty-one labor organizations whose practices have been under investigation by the Lockwood Legislative Committee on Housing met with Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the committee, yesterday to consider reforms and modifications in union constitutions and bylaws as demanded by the committee.

On some points Mr. Untermyer conceded something to the union leaders. He agreed to a reduction of the maximum age limit for apprentices entering a trade from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Untermyer asked for a maximum fee of $50 in all unions. He agreed, however, to a maximum of $75 on condition that payment be permitted in easy installments.

Some of the points on which agreement has yet to be reached affect the bricklayers and the painters. The bricklayers, it was learned, have strong objections to abrogating the lump-sum provision of their agreements with the contractors.

The painters organization, headed by C. C. Lussier and with Morris Hillquit as counsel, attempted to convince Mr. Untermyer of the necessity of a five day week in that industry owing to the susceptibility of painters to the effects of lead fume poisoning.

Mr. Untermyer said he did not intend to recommend compulsory incorporation. He suggested that the committee should follow a refusal of the unions to meet the committee's requirements.

The labor leaders who met with Mr. Untermyer in the afternoon and the unions they represent were: Samuel Squibbs, Granite Cutters' Association; C. C. Lussier, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators; R. Roesehl, Cement Concrete Laborers' Union; Thomas McCormack, Painters' Union; M. Wilson, Painters' Union; Michael J. Collier, Plasterers' Union; J. H. Murphy, Plasterers' Union; R. J. Anselow, Plasterers' Union; Andrew C. Burke, Boilermakers' Union.

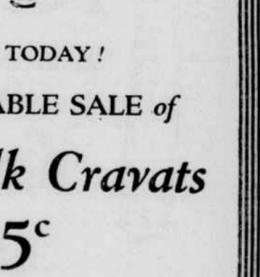

LONG ISLAND Duckling owes its unique flavor to scientific raising on model farms. A delicious variation from monotonous menus. Your butcher can supply you.

The Secret of the exceptional properties of Mouquin's non-alcoholic Vermouth lies in the perfect blend of aromatic plants.

For cocktails, for making your private stock last longer and taste better, it is unequalled.

AT SAKS TODAY! A REMARKABLE SALE of Men's Silk Cravats At 55c

FROM a collection of neckwear so extensive, your color or design simply must be here. There are regimental stripes, plain colors, spot effects, college stripings, and figured designs, and the silks include—

HEAVY SILKS MOGADORES, REPPS, SATINS AND TWILLS All at 55c—All most remarkable value

ROBBERS GET $13,450 OF SOLDIERS' CHECKS... 268 Disabled Veterans Receiving Training Victims.

Checks for $13,000 destined for disabled soldiers receiving vocational training at Newark were stolen Christmas Eve from the office of the Veterans' Bureau at 25 West Forty-third street.

The checks were sorted by two young women and had been handed to other checks lying loose on the desk were not disturbed. Word was at once flashed to Washington to stop payment on the missing checks.

Dr. Butler pointed out that only two of the 651 who entered Columbia this year had enrolled in the course for teachers.

Unless Columbia University obtains $