

Striking post-war ceremony: arrival in Paris for permanent preservation, the colors of 390 French regiments disbanded since Armistice Day. International.

Miss Margaret Stearns. International.

Street scene in Genoa, where the great nations, except the United States, meet for an all important economic conference. Gillama.

Above—Oxford preparing for the Torpid races. Picture shows one of the crews drifting in a punt across the river from their boathouse. Copyright, Kadel & Herbert.

The Right Rev. John J. Dunn, Auxiliary Bishop of New York, sitting for a portrait by M. Czedeowski, a Hungarian painter. The completed work will be shown in Pittsburgh in April. Copyright, Keyatone View.

Above—Mme. Breshkovskia, "the little grandmother of the Russian Revolution," taken on her 82d birthday. She is still working to better conditions in Russia. Copyright, Kadel & Herbert.

A study of significant contrasts. The cabin is the home of Abraham Lincoln at New Salem, Ill., where he lived from 1831 to 1837; the palace was the Vienna home of the Hapsburgs, now to become a hotel. Gillama.

Stage picture in Shaw's "Back to Methuselah," at the Garrick Theater. George Gaul as Adam and Ernesta Lascelles as Eve in Part I. of the cycle.