Time flies, and progress in sport keeps step with it. This oft demonstrated fact was proved anew yesterday afternoon at the twenty-third annual interscholastic games of New York University on Ohio Field.

The old timers saw new schools show the way—new names of a cosmopolitan type crowd into the list of winners. Some fifteen years ago Centenary Collegiate, Tome, Lawrenceville, Hill, Hotchkiss and the rest of that company had a habit of cleaning up in the N. Y. U. games. De Witt Clinton, Commerce, Poly Prep, Boys' High and Erasmus were the leaders in the city high school division.

It was no surprise to see Stuyvesant, national and P. S. A. L. indoor champion, pile up so big a total, and for Stuyvesant to take leading honors with the spectacular Frank Hussey, who won both the 100 yard senior and the javelin throw.

Hussey, who is a chunky blond with a pleasing smile—with speed on the cinders and power in the field—made an impressive showing. The national indoor and high school sprinting champion took his specialty, the century, in 19.25 seconds without being pressed in his limit.

Figueroa returned to outdoor competition after a layoff of a year due to indigestion—and he came back with bells on. He started scoring early, in the first round, by beating Leo Handy, the high school title holder, by two yards and indicated that in the coming outdoor championships Handy would have a mighty hard time retaining the honors he won on the tracks.

There was intense interest in the one mile run, which brought together Jack Gallagher from St. Benedict's Prep of Newark and S. Greenetree of Flushing, the national indoor title holder. Gallagher already held a declaration over Greenetree, and the Newark lad's adherents were loud in their predictions that Gallagher would triumph once more.

The one mile relay was another event which attracted major attention. Most of the local schools are going to the Pennsylvania relays next Saturday, and the event yesterday was the first and only index to the outdoor form of the teams. As had been expected, De La Salle, with the speedy Swinburne running anchor, and Darcy, Dolan and Baronovsky doing the other quarters, was first across the line.

MATHEWSON GAINS HEALTH, HE WRITES

Best Loved Baseball Player Recovers His Normal Weight of 188 Pounds.

The thousands who have been wondering how Christy Mathewson is faring in his fight with the white plague at Saranac Lake will be glad to know that the best liked ball player in the United States is now in better condition physically than he has been since he was rushed away to the Adirondack resort.

The letter which was received yesterday is filled with cheerfulness. Matty is even joking about getting fat and declares that he soon will have to be out doing road work to get back into condition for baseball.

Mathewson is so far advanced toward being cured that he and his wife, who has been with him all through the long illness, have started to move to a cottage of their own in the Adirondacks and start housekeeping there. The former star pitcher of the Giants has had several relapses since he first arrived at the sanatorium, but it now seems that he actually is on his way to recovery.

NAVY PILES UP 13 ON DELAWARE NINE

Ten Runs in Second Inning Help Compile Topheavy Total.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 22.—The Naval Academy won on the local diamond this afternoon from Delaware, by 13 to 4, scoring ten runs in the second inning.

The return of Capt. Humphreys, first baseman, and Hogan, catcher, did much to strengthen the Navy team. Kelly pitched an excellent game for the Navy except in the fourth inning, while Spraker, who succeeded Rothrock after the second session, pitched steadily for the visitors. The score:

Harvard Tennis Players Have Picnic With Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 22.—In spite of game efforts on the part of the midshipmen, Harvard outclassed the Naval Academy this afternoon on the local tennis courts, taking five of the six strings in singles and all three of those in doubles. The latter, however, were splendidly contested and the midshipmen were able to force a third set in two of the three strings. The summary:

Ryan Blows Up in Seventh; Giants Lose League Lead

Dodgers, Profiting by Sudden Loss of Control, Beat Champions, 5 to 3.

By SAMUEL J. BROOKMAN. Well nigh unhittable for six innings and then startlingly and hopelessly ineffective in the seventh, such was the sad experience of Bill Ryan of the Giants in his debut of the season at Ebbets Field yesterday.

Pat Shea was rushed to Ryan's assistance after he had filled the bases and had forced in a run by passing the fourth batter, but Pat proved to be a poor rescuer. Before the side had been retired the exultant Dodgers had sent five runners scurrying around the bases and had taken the lead at 5 to 3. And with Burleigh Grimes pitching with renewed confidence and with redoubled effort for the opposition the score remained 5 to 3 to the end.

Probably never before in his major league career has Ryan turned first base back as easily as he did in the first six innings of the game. He had them hitting the ball high into the ozone or batting grounders that were turned into outs with neatness and dispatch. Jimmy Johnston's smacks to left in the sixth was the only shot that could be called a clean hit up to that time. Bert Griffith had beaten out a lick to third in the fourth inning that might readily have been called an error for Groh, who fumbled the ball several inches inside the foul line. It was not a particularly hard foul.

Half of the sixteen thousand fans on hand were Giant rooters and the praises of "Bodie" Ryan were being sung with out stint as inning after inning passed without the semblance of a Dodger threat. Then along came trouble in the seventh. Ryan suddenly lost the range of the plate and had to put the ball over for both Wheat and Myers, who proceeded to sweat it to unguarded spots of the outfield.

Huggins's First Baseman Performs Brilliantly on Field, His Catch of Scott's Wild Toss in Sixth Being a Wonder.

By W. O. MCGEEHAN. Something like 15,000 rather chilled customers saw the Yankees trim the Senators for the third straight game of the series yesterday and gain sole rights to the leadership of the American League. While the Yankees at the Polo Grounds were taking the Senators by a score of 4 to 2, with the aid of Joe Bush, who was considerably abetted by Wallie Pipp, the Cleveland Indians were being knocked over by the Detroit Tigers.

Bush had one bad inning, the third, when a couple of bases on balls, Schang's wild throw to second and a two bagger by Harris gave the Senators a lead of two runs.

DREYFUSS TAKES SLAM AT WHITTED

'Was Released Because He Broke Rules,' Declaresirate Barney.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PITTSBURGH, April 22.—Goaded to fury by the caustic criticism heaped on the Pittsburgh management by George Whitted, former Pirate, now with Brooklyn, Barney Dreyfuss today gave out first authentic information as to the reason which caused the Pirates to wobble in the race last year when it appeared that they had the National League pennant clinched.

"Whitted was fairly treated here and was released because he had good and sufficient reasons for letting him go," said Barney; "we had trouble on our team at a certain stage of the 1921 season because our rules were not lived up to. I have never discussed the matter because I did not care to show up any of the men who had failed to do the right thing.

"Whitted was the ring leader of the gang. One notable incident occurred while we were playing in New York. Whitted took several other members of the team with him on a gay expedition. That settled him with me. We were in the thick of the pennant fight at this time and I was angered when I heard the details.

"I made up my mind then and there that Whitted was through as a Pirate and I got rid of him at the first opportunity. I did not want to go into details for there are certain men still on our roster who are mixed up in that old defiance of the rules.
