

277 FIFTH AVENUE VETERANS GATHER AT REUNION 5,000 Meet in 7th Regiment Armory With Members of Other Divisions.

GEN. PERSHING GUEST Promises Traditions of Hindenburg Line Outfit Will Be Preserved. PARADE IS CURTAILED Ends at Reviewing Stand Because of Rain—Andrews Gets Belgian Cross.

Men who fought at Ypres and the Somme met and talked it all over again yesterday at the Seventh Regiment Armory, where the Twenty-seventh Division Association held its reunion of war veterans.

Gen. Pershing, Major-Gen. John F. O'Ryan, who commanded the division and who is president of the association; Col. J. Mayhew Walwright, Assistant Secretary of War and formerly of the Twenty-seventh; Baron de Cardier de Marchienne, Belgian Ambassador; Col. Du Mont of France and Gen. Bethell of Great Britain were among the guests occupying seats on the platform of the armory.

The proposed parade of the veterans, escorted by a score of companies from other regiments, was abandoned because of the rain. The men formed in front of the armory, in Park avenue from Seventy-second to Sixty-sixth streets, and marched past the reviewing stand on which were grouped the officers and guests. The 28th Artillery from the Bronx, formerly the Eighty-third Cavalry, headed the line of march. The next was the 13th Coast Defense Command, followed by the Ninth Coast Artillery, then the 10th Infantry and the 16th. Other detachments were the 21st Artillery, 10th Field Artillery, 10th Field Artillery, 192d Engineers (old 2d Engineers), 29th Infantry, 10th Cavalry, 10th Cavalry, 10th Cavalry and the division ammunition train.

The Right Rev. Herbert Shipman, senior chaplain of the division, delivered the invocation. Gen. O'Ryan presided at the big afternoon gathering, which followed several business meetings.

Copeland Assails Politicians. Mayor Hylan was represented by Health Commissioner Copeland, who said: "If I had my way I'd displace a lot of politicians and send over the moon who fought and won the war to finish the job on the other side. I believe it possible for the ex-service men of all the countries of the world to settle problems that seemingly have baffled the politicians. If you men had been as dilatory in the conduct of the war as some of our statesmen are the war would not be over yet."

KILROE'S CONVICTION REVERSED ON APPEAL Did Not Have Fair Trial Before Last Justice Weeks.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday unanimously reversed the conviction of Edwin P. Kilroe, former Assistant District Attorney, and Louis E. Swartz, at one time his law partner, for conspiring to compound a felony. They were indicted by the Almiral Grand Jury in November, 1920, in connection with the dropping of bigamy charges against Napoleon A. Bourassa, a stock broker, and convicted by a jury before the late Justice Weeks in April, 1921. Swartz was fined $500.

DOLPHIN CASE TO REFEREE. Goff to Hear Bar Charges on Birth Control Arrest.

Investigation of charges by the grievance committee of the Bar Association against Martin Michael Dolphin, Assistant Corporation Counsel, was yesterday referred by the Appellate Division to former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff as official referee.

RUNAWAYS FIND TENT LIFE NOT AT ALL LIKE MOVIES

Camping Out in Wilds of Kings Highway Soon Tires Vengeful Hero and His Two Sisters, Who Force Surrender When Food Fails.

William Harkness and his two sisters, Florence and Mildred, returned last night to their home at 5017 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, tired and dirty and hungry and perfectly willing to make up with their stepmother. They had quarreled with her and had run away, and for three nights they had slept in an improvised tent in the wilds of Kings Highway in Brooklyn, subsisting on milk which did not belong to them and on samples of cereal which William fished from doorsteps.

HYLAN SEES GRAFT FOR TRUCK OWNERS

Shifting Potato Terminal to Kearny Would Cost Consumers Millions.

Mayor Hylan at the Board of Estimate meeting yesterday attacked the Port Authority, the railroads and the trucking interests when a report was received from the Pennsylvania Railroad of the Department of Markets saying that the Pennsylvania Railroad had changed its terminal for potatoes from Pier 29, Hudson River, to Kearny, N. J. Inferentially there was criticism of former Gov. Smith, a member of the Port Authority and head of the United States Trucking Corporation. Extra haulage will cost the consumer $4,000,000 a year, the Mayor declared.

The produce men intimate the railroad has found it unprofitable to handle potatoes because they miss the markets if they do not reach the yards by 5 A. M. If they spoil, the railroad is liable. Mr. Ledger said an emergency existed and there was nothing the railroad could do at present. They were not turning down any freight shipments. This week has been the heaviest in the history of the city so far as receipts of foodstuffs go.

'FRATERNITY THIEF' CAPTURED AT N. Y. U.

Joseph Cobelli Accused of Getting $8,000 Loot.

Joseph Cobelli of 402 East 116th street was arrested yesterday on charges of having stolen a general fraternity house at New York University in the last three months. According to the police, Cobelli took $8,000 worth of jewelry and clothing valued at $8,000 that had been pawned within that time.

WOULD STIFLE FETE OF AUTHORS' LEAGUE

Persons Who Can't Use Central Park Ask Hylan to Revoke Permission.

Various of Mayor Hylan's advisers went to him yesterday with the information that the Grand Fete Champetre and Midnight Carnival (B. Y. O. P.) which the Authors League purposes holding in and around the Casino in Central Park next Friday night means nothing but trouble for the administration. The Mayor's counselors urged him to order Francis D. Gallatin, Commissioner of Parks, to show cause why the permit be granted to the league should not be revoked.

FOUR NURSES DISMISSED AFTER BOY IS SCALDED

Two Accused of Carelessness in Newark Hospital.

Four nurses of the Newark City Hospital were suspended by Mayor Bradenbach yesterday in his inquiry into the scalding of two-year-old Sherbourne Laird of 15 Eighth avenue, Newark, at the hospital. The child died of the scalds at the Presbyterian Hospital.

MOTOR INSURANCE RATE $45.

Commissioner Calls on Taxicab Men to Be More Careful.

Francis R. Stoddard, Jr., State Superintendent of Insurance, announced last night a rate of $45 a month for mutual companies which insure automobiles. A bill signed recently by Gov. Miller, which goes into effect July 1, provides that the operator of any vehicle used for profit must have $2,500 insurance. Thus a pedestrian if injured through carelessness of the operator can collect the maximum of the bond, which is $2,500.

ROBBED SAME SECTION FOR 7 YEARS, IS CHARGE

Negro Burglar Trapped in House by Civilians.

Joseph Thompson, negro burglar, accused of robbing homes in the Forest Hill section of Newark for seven years, was cornered in the home of Stewart A. Young at 56 Abington street, Newark, Thursday night. N. A. Carle of 352 Ridge street, a neighbor of the Youngs, had a chance to see Thompson forcing a rear window in the house. Carle got his revolver and summoned other neighbors, who surrounded the Young home in five minutes. When the police arrived and forced Thompson to surrender, he had a revolver and had just completed a four year term in Sing Sing for burglary and had served a year for mail robbery after he was a letter carrier in New York. His rooms at 35 Drift street, Newark, were searched by the police, who said they found large quantities of men's and women's clothing, furs, a sealskin coat, a diamond ring, watches and jewelry and three pistols.

of things will destroy the habit of seeing all sorts of evils coming along that cross-grained people have harped upon and pointed out.

Try to turn around to another street when you see the person coming your way who always expects rain and who may be seen carrying an umbrella, rain or shine.

Every home ought to be a fountain spring of cheerfulness, pouring forth comfort and happiness. Gloominess and growling never help anybody.

AU QUATRIEME Two Hundred Pieces of Venetian Glass Half Price

Au Quatrieme has grouped together all the odd pieces of Venetian glass which do not belong in sets and filled two great tables with them for a delightful Saturday morning's gleaning at half price.

Candlesticks of Many Kinds are in the lot—single ones, pairs and, in some cases, three of a kind. Tall, large candlesticks for the dinner table; dainty, slender ones; low, broad-based candlesticks suitable for the dressing table; bottle-shaped candlesticks, candlesticks that shoot upward from the heads of birds, dogs or dragons or from the backs of very lifelike turtles.

Compotes and Center Dishes are in the group—some very lovely ones; a particularly beautiful center dish in pale green glass with a flower-handled cover.

Vases and Glasses and bottles and all manner of little low-bon-bon dishes, pepper and salt dishes and charming odd pieces that are lovely to add a bit of color on a table under a lamp.

A good opportunity, this, to fill in sets of Venetian glass of which a piece or two has been broken and to acquire at half price some lovely pieces to serve as timely gifts.

The usual lovely colors, pale green, ruby red, amber, purple, rose, blue and other shades, but, of course, not every color in every article. From 75c for a $1.50 ornament to $20 for a set of ten $40 glasses.

A Piano 84 Years Old Mere age is nothing to boast of. But years that have accumulated wisdom and sweetness command our reverence. In the eighty-four years of its history, The Schomacker Piano has steadily improved in quality. Today it stands as one of the five great American pianos. In all this time it has been intimately associated with the musical life of Philadelphia, the city in which it was first made and where it has been made ever since. It is a piano of inimitably rich, sweet tone. Musicians can instantly distinguish its notes from those of any other piano. There is only one Genuine Schomacker It has imitators of inferior quality. But the only genuine and original old Philadelphia Schomacker piano is the one sold in the Wanamaker Piano Salons. Its price is commensurate with its superior quality: Schomacker uprights, $725 and $750. Schomacker small grands, $1150. Schomacker grands, $1250. First Gallery, New Building
