FIGHTS MARE ISLAND
NAVY YARD 'PLOT'

Senator King Declares Realty
Ring Would Transfer Plant to Alameda.

SAYS NEWBERRY AIDED

Repeats Charge 'Social Snobs' Want Station Near San Francisco.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., June 12.

Senator King (Utah) started a fight to-day on what he declares is a social and political plot to wreck the Mare Island navy yard, near San Francisco. He assailed Senator Newberry (Mich.) and by implication Senator Poindexter (Wash.) for their action in depriving Mare Island of necessary funds in the navy appropriation bill, so that the money could be used to develop navy facilities at Puget Sound.

The fight, which rings with politics, is an echo of one that developed last year when the naval appropriation bill was under consideration. Congress then blocked a proposal to abandon Mare Island as a naval station, the activities of the social snobs of San Francisco, consisting of the whole affair was intended to make it unnecessary for navy officers to travel two hours from Mare Island to San Francisco.

Senator King to-day repeated this charge, but added that the efforts to transfer the yard from Mare Island to Alameda was sponsored by a real estate ring, which sought to enhance the value of its property. He asserted that if the Senate permits Mare Island to be wrecked the taxpayers would be out more than $25,000,000 already invested in the yard, which is held to be highly efficient.

Trouble Began in House.

The trouble started in the House when it was explained that within a few years $2,800,000 would have to be spent at Mare Island for repair of docks, piers and other woodwork which had been damaged by an insect, the teredo. Navy engineers said this woodwork could be saved if cemented over, and they wanted $750,000 to begin the work this year. The House provided this sum while refusing to grant the money requested for development in Puget Sound.

When the bill reached the Senate Senator Poindexter made a fight in the Appropriations Committee for restoration of the item giving funds for Puget Sound, in his home State. With the aid of Senator Newberry the sum for Mare Island was reduced to $250,000, the remainder, $500,000, being given to Puget Sound. The action was received with cheers in the State of Washington, and it is believed, will be of help to Senator Poindexter in his fight for reelection this year.

When the bill is taken up in the Senate to-morrow Mr. King will try to have the $750,000 item for Mare Island restored, insisting that without it the plant would be destroyed and that those who desire this would be victorious. At the same time he will condemn the transfer of funds to Puget Sound as "it would seem," said Mr. King to-night, "that the scheme devised some time ago in the Navy Department, aided and abetted by some eminent persons in and out of Congress, to wreck and destroy Mare Island, which is undoubtedly the most efficient of the naval establishments, is still being prosecuted. More than $25,000,000 of the taxpayers' money has been expended in the building of the Mare Island plant and it has been and still is perhaps the most valuable naval plant the Government possesses."

"A determined effort has been made by a coterie of the navy to scrap this great naval base and to spend more than $100,000,000, which will be used in the execution of what I conceive to be an unwise and indefensible policy. I am advised that the distinguished Senator from Michigan, Mr. Newberry, gave the weight of his great influence to this plan to destroy Mare Island."

"Having only the interest of a public servant, I espoused the cause of Mare Island and opposed the scheme to destroy it and to spend tens of millions of dollars in the establishment of another naval base, to which some real estate boomers and others of higher positions seem devoted. The item carried in the

House Railroaded Bonus
But Lets Relief Bill Wait

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., June 12.

THE bonus members of the House of Representatives have furnished convincing proof that in railroaded the $5,000,000 relief measure through that body they had not the interests of the ex-service men so much at heart as their own individual political ambitions.

Under gag rule processes the bonus measure was jammed through after eight hours of debate. This bill provided gratuities for able bodied men.

The Bureau bill, providing relief for the maimed, sick and wounded, which is vitally needed, has been permitted to hang fire in the Military Affairs Committee for four months.

House bill for Mare Island is most important and its elimination from the bill would be strong evidence of the purpose to abandon Mare Island."

FIANCEE'S 'ACID TEST'
HE SAYS COST HIM $330

Washington, D. C., June 12.

Yeoemans Explains in Court
About Girl's Arrest.

Fowler Yeoemans, 35, a stable foreman of 232 West Twenty-fourth street, testified in West Side court yesterday that he had been "burnt" in an "acid test" applied by his fiancee, Mary Thurman, 18, who was arraigned before Magistrate Corrigan on a charge of suspicion of grand larceny. Miss Thurman gave her address as the Hotel Woodstock, 127 West Forty-third street.

Yeoemans testified that he and Miss Thurman were engaged and that on May 21 she asked for $30 to pay for her wedding dress.

"I took out a roll of bills containing $250," said Yeoemans, "and she said, 'I'm going to put you to an acid test,' and grabbed the money and my diamond stickpin."

Yeoemans said he had an engagement to meet his fiancee last Monday but did not see her again until Sunday night, when he caused her arrest. She was held in $1,000 bail for further examination to-day.

STAREK IS APPOINTED TO WAR FINANCE BOARD

Senate Confirms Nomination of President's Friend.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The nomination of Fred Starek of Ohio to be a director of the War Finance Corporation was confirmed by the Senate late to-day.

Mr. Starek, a former Washington newspaper correspondent and widely known in political circles, will fill the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of August McLean. The nomination was sent to the Senate by the President earlier in the day, and the quick action of the Senate was taken under an unanimous consent agreement.

Long a personal friend of the President, Mr. Starek took an active part in the Harding pre-convention campaign in 1920, and afterward was associated with the nominee in a confidential capacity until after the election. In recent months he has been a frequent caller at the White House, and is understood to have declined a number of governmental appointments, including several diplomatic posts.

Bestows Degrees on Pepper and Three Others.

EASTON, Pa., June 12.—Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, Pierre Samuel du Pont of Wilmington, Del.; Vivian Murchison Lewis of Paterson, Vice-Chancellor of the State of New Jersey, and Alfred Stengel of Philadelphia, professor of medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, received honorary degrees of doctor of laws from Lafayette College at the eighty-seventh annual commencement to-day.

Senator Pepper delivered the commencement day address. His theme was "Relations of Education to the Every Day Affairs of Life."

One hundred and thirty-one members of the class of 1922 received degrees. This is the largest graduating class in the history of Lafayette.

MUZZLE FOR BONUS DEBATE IS REFUSED

The Republicans are not sincere in their support of a bonus bill.

Republican Senators in favor of the bonus realize the Democrats have the whip hand and are giving much thought to ways and means to block them.

To add to the predicament of the Republican leaders Senator McNary (Ore.), who offered his reclamation bill, carrying $36,000,000, as an amendment in the bonus bill, has been conducting an effective campaign in its behalf. In fact, Senator McNary feels he has enough votes to insure acceptance of his measure as one of the options of the bonus bill.

President Harding is prodding leaders in Congress, urging early action on the ship subsidy bill. He had another conference to-day with Floor Leader Mondell, who is opposed to the measure, trying to bring him into line by showing how essential passage of the subsidy bill is to the success of the American merchant marine.

Dry Goods Agent in Washington
Gives His Opinion.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 12.—"There will probably be no bonus bill enacted in Congress this session," Harold B. Young, Washington representative of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, told men from 200 of the leading department stores of the country at the annual meeting of the controllers' congress of the association at Haddon Hall to-day.

Mr. Young said much depends on the primaries in North Dakota and the decision on Senator McCumber, who is strongly supporting the bill.

Galveston.

Galveston, June 12.—Cadet Sergeant Leslie Wright, 20, of Flint, Mich., was killed here to-day when his airplane crashed to earth in sight of hundreds of spectators watching a war game between the Twenty-seventh and Ninety-seventh aero squadrons.

PRESIDENT DENOUNCES ATTACK ON GOLDSTEIN

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., June 12.

Calls It Undeserving in Letter to St. Louisan.

St. Louis, June 12.—President Harding has written to Nat Goldstein that the criticism produced by the nomination of Goldstein for internal revenue collector here, caused by Goldstein's acceptance of $2,500 of Lowden campaign funds, was of an "undeserving character." The letter follows:

"MY DEAR MR. GOLDSTEIN: I have been intending for some days to make an acknowledgment of the very gracious and considerate letter which you addressed to me under date of May 10.

"You very promptly recognized a difficult political situation, for which neither of us is responsible, and you took yourself out of it in a very prompt and considerate way. I should like you to know of my understanding of your feelings and my appreciation of your thoughtfulness in helping to solve it, though you were fully conscious of the undeserving character of the attack which your nomination brought out. I can assure you that Senator Spencer has said only the most pleasing things concerning you, else I should not have so readily approved your nomination.

"With very best regards, I am,

"Very sincerely,
"WARREN G. HARDING."

After it became public that Goldstein had accepted the Lowden money he returned it.

WARREN NEW SHEPHERD DEAN

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., June 12.

M. I. T. Professor Chosen to Succeed Dean Chittenden.

NEW HAVEN, June 12.—Prof. Charles Hyde Warren has been elected dean of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale University to succeed Director Russell H. Chittenden. It was announced by the Yale Corporation to-night. Prof. Warren is a graduate of Sheffield, class of 1886, and since 1900 a member of the faculty of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he has been professor of mineralogy since 1915. He also has done expert work for various mining and manufacturing chemical concerns.

Prof. Warren is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the Geological Society of America. Dr. Chittenden, who has been dean of the Sheffield Scientific School since 1918, offered his resignation a year ago.

YOU BE THE JUDGE—
Should milk, most perishable of foods,
be packed in tin—or glass?

Old Style Canned Milk Is Facing Its First Defeat

ROGERS RICHEST MILK
Fresh Packed In Glass Jars

ROGERS RICHEST MILK is sanitary, sealed under vacuum in sterilized glass jars. It is never packed for storage awaiting sale, but always packed to order.

Consequently you are insured of freshness and you can see the quality through the glass container before you buy.

ROGERS RICHEST MILK is extra heavy in butter fat and other milk solids and contains less sugar than sweetened, condensed milks sold in tin. These qualities make it superior for infant feeding.

For table use there is no waste as in tin cans that are messy to open and must be emptied at once. You put the neat glass jar right on the table.

The jars are always useful. Save them for preserving your jams and jellies.

FREE! When you buy your first jar of ROGERS RICHEST MILK ask the grocer for a Rogers Opener—very handy to have around the house.
