

Highest Honors in England Paid to Justice Taft

Reception by Bench and Bar of Middle Temple Climax of His Visit.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, London, July 5.

The climax of Chief Justice Taft's visit in England was reached to-night, when he was the guest of honor of the Bench and Bar of the Middle Temple. To any lawyer, this is the highest distinction in the profession, and Mr. Taft said: "Never did I conceive, as an ambitious boy, that I should live to realize such an honor."

Mr. Taft's name was added to a very few of all lands so distinguished, as the truest recognition of greatness in the eyes of the legal fraternity. In a hall built 200 years before American independence was even thought of, the remarkable company that gathered to greet him included Lord Birkenhead, the Lord Chancellor; Lord Halsbury, Sir Ernest Pollock, Lord Shaw, Lord Starn, Sir Henry E. Duke, Sir Gordon Hewart and Sir John Simons.

Lord Birkenhead, as chairman, said that on only one other occasion was such a dinner given for an American, and, within his memory, there had been only two other functions for the similar recognition of great men of other countries. He paid glowing tribute to the guest of honor. He said: "You, Mr. Taft, hold what is probably the most exalted judicial position in the world as President of the United States who discharged the duties of a monarch. I know of no monarch who holds such power. And your present position is a fitting termination to your career."

Mr. Taft said he was proud to stand "before the shrine of British justice." He declared that much useful information which he had gained during his visit would enable him to submit certain proposals to Congress, which, he hoped, would clear up its legal arrears.

Miss Stillman to Wed July 22 in Southampton

Attendants Chosen for Her Marriage in Dune Church to Mr. Polhemus.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 5.—There will be another wedding to mark the Southampton season when, on July 22, Miss Lisa Stillman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Stillman of 35 East Thirty-ninth street will be married to Mr. Henry Martin Polhemus of that city in St. Andrew's Dune Church, by the Rev. Percy Gordon of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York. A reception and breakfast at the Meadow Club will follow.

Miss Ruth Stillman will be her sister's maid of honor and the other bridal attendants will include Mrs. Eugene Sawyer of Boston, Mrs. Lester Armour and Mrs. Vernon Howland Brown. Mr. James Suydam Polhemus will be best man for his brother.

The ushers will be Dr. Alfred Stillman 2d, brother of the bride; Messrs. Lewis A. Coffin, Jr., Kenneth Clinton and Charles S. Bartow, Jr., a cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Doris Franchlyn held a successful sale of embroideries and lace work this afternoon at Redcroft, the estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Franchlyn, in aid of the Shinnecock Hills Embroidery School, which is conducted for the women and girls of the Indian reservation.

Miss Franchlyn and Miss Agnes Keyes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward L. Keyes, had the assistance of Miss Rose De Rose.

Both Miss Franchlyn and Miss Keyes have devoted much time in directing classes for these descendants of the original settlers of Shinnecock Hills, whose work, many specimens of which were sold to-day, is of a high standard and copies from ancient Italian embroideries, cut work and laces in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The proceeds of the sale go toward the upkeep of the school during the winter, when most of the work by its pupils is done.

Among those who patronized the sale were Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. A. Harvey Tiers, Miss Rosina Hoyt, Mrs. Edw. G. Mott, Mrs. J. Ellis Fisher and Mrs. Abby and Georgiana Howland, Mrs. Henry E. Coe, Miss Rosalie Coe, Mrs. Charles R. Henderson and Miss Janet Henderson. Tea was served.

For the Street Fair. Women of the community are working hard for the street fair in aid of the Southampton Hospital, which will be held at the grounds of Easthampton, Mass., on August 20. To-day there were two bathers at Bailey's Beach and Monday there were 200.

Italian Officials Marconi's Guests Aboard His Yacht

Inventor Entertains the Elettra—To Receive Medal To-night.

The Italian Consul-General, the Vice-Consul and officials of the Lloyd-Sabauda Line were guests of Guglielmo Marconi aboard the yacht Elettra at Newport yesterday. Following the luncheon Senator Marconi explained to his guests the radio wonders of the yacht.

In addition to the officers of the Elettra the party included Consul-General Bernardi, Col. Serrati, managing director for New York of the Lloyd Sabauda Line; D. Rovera, correspondent of "Il Progresso"; Count Eugenio de Revel, and Capt. Pescaloro and Lieut. Nicoletti of the Costa Rosso, latest addition of the Lloyd Sabauda fleet.

To-night the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will confer upon Senator Marconi the John Fritz gold medal for his inventions in wireless telegraphy. The ceremonies will be held in the auditorium of the Engineering Societies Building, 29 West Thirty-ninth street at 8:30 o'clock. At 7 o'clock Senator Marconi will be the guest of the John Fritz medal board at a dinner to be held at the Engineers Club, 32 West Fourth street. The evening will be in charge of a committee composed of B. B. Thayer, New York, chairman; G. W. McFarland, New York, and William McClellan, Philadelphia. The committee is made up of four Founders Societies of civil, mining, mechanical and electrical engineers.

Prof. Comfort A. Adams of Harvard University, chairman of the John Fritz medal board and former head of the National Research Council, will preside at the evening's functions. Addresses will be made by James R. Shedd, president of the Union League Club; Prof. Michael J. Pupin of Columbia University, and Ambrose Swasey of Cleveland, founder of the Engineering Foundation and past president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

MISS FARRAR HAS BEEN IN SECLUSION IN MAINE Spent Several Days Resting at Poland Spring.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. POLAND SPRING, Me., July 5.—It was learned here to-day that Miss Geraldine Farrar has just left the Poland Spring House after several days rest here in strict seclusion at a time when rumors were in circulation of a possible reconciliation between the singer and Lou Tellegen.

Miss Farrar was accompanied by Mrs. A. C. McLaren of New York, a friend, and by C. A. Ellis of Boston, her former manager. Here she denied herself to all inquiries as to her whereabouts. Mr. Ellis said, at all other places at which the party had stopped. Following an unusually arduous season, he said, she sought complete rest and relaxation and was ordered to Poland Spring, Me. She had no statement to make on the future plans, but would in all probability continue her concert tours.

The party has returned to Massachusetts.

STADIUM CONCERTS STARTING. New March Dedicated to Mr. Lewisohn at Opening To-night.

If the weather is fair—it is well to put this in every story dealing with outdoor sports nowadays—the first of the 1922 Stadium Concerts will be given to-night in the Lewisohn Stadium, 128th street and Amsterdam avenue. If the weather is not fair the concert will be in the great hall of the college of the City of New York.

The entire Philharmonic Orchestra has been engaged. Eighty-five men will play in the newly erected orchestra stand that has a new sounding board. Green tullees are this year to extend to the ends of the stone seats. Henry Hadley will conduct for the first time his thirty-piece orchestra. He is the Dutch conductor, Willem Van Hoogstraaten, the husband of Elly Ney, pianist, Arthur Judson, head of the Philadelphia Orchestra and just made its addition, the head of the New York Philharmonic, is manager.

To-night will be a Wagner night, with the first performance of "Die Walkure" down the program, a newly composed march by Mr. Hadley called "The Stadium," and dedicated to Adolph Lewisohn, both of which will be given by the donor of the big bowl.

MRS. RANKINE LEFT $544,944. Estate of Woman Whose Body Was Found in East River.

Mrs. Annette Kingsley Rankine, who mysteriously disappeared from the vicinity of Fifty-ninth street and Second avenue April 21, 1921, and whose body was found in the East River more than a month later, left an estate of $544,944, according to an accounting of the Grants Trust Company, trust administrator, which she had made in New York, approved yesterday. The bulk of the estate was in stocks and bonds, and Mrs. Rankine's accounting shows that Mrs. Rankine had $120,000 in cash and jewelry when she disappeared. She lived at 14 East Sixty-sixth street.

The petition of the administrator shows that the estate was turned over to the executor, B. Vernon Rankine of Pelham Manor, a brother of Mrs. Rankine, and Delaney Rankine of Niagara Falls, a brother-in-law, for distribution in accordance with the provisions of the will.

GOLF AT HOT SPRINGS. Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 5.—The semi-finals of the Virginia Golf Association were played to-day. In the professional match in the afternoon Joseph Fuller of Hot Springs and Wilfred Thompson of the Virginia Golf Club defeated Leonard Bliss of Hot Springs and William Mitchell of the Roanoke Country Club for a purse of $150 by 1 up.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sinton Ingalls of New York played a success, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Hotchkiss, Jr. of Richmond also played a round after the match.

Other golfers were Mr. and Mrs. T. Garnett Tabb of Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Mather, who left to-night for Philadelphia. Miss Peggy Thayer and Mrs. Thomas Evans played a final foursome with Mr. and Mrs. H. Hoffmann Dolan before starting for Philadelphia.

Capt. A. H. Clark, 81, Shipmaster, Dead in Newburyport

Represented Lloyds in New York and Wrote Two Books on Sailing Craft.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEWBURYPORT, Mass., July 5.—Capt. Arthur Hamilton Clark, aged 81, a retired shipmaster, died to-day in his home, 68 High street. He was born in Boston, where he spent his early boyhood. He left Boston at the age of 15 for the Orient in the ship Black Prince. He was a master at 20.

He was in his last life an agent of the American underwriters in London, returning to America not having charge of the nautical exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893. He afterward represented Lloyd's of London, a position he held until he resigned. He retired from active life and became a resident of this city about four years ago.

Capt. Clark was a member of the New York Yacht Club, Somers' Club of Marblehead. He was author of two works, "History of Yachts" and "History of the Clipper Ship Era."

His father was Benjamin Clark of Boston, who was said to be the owner of the first deck yacht in Massachusetts Bay. Capt. Clark at 15 was one of the Volant crew of Boston that rowed against Harvard University. Capt. Clark left no immediate family, his wife dying a few years ago and no children being born to them. He lived with his adopted daughter, Mrs. Mabelle S. Powle.

THE REV. J. F. DRISCOLL DEAD. Pastor of New Rochelle Church Was Noted as Writer.

The Rev. James F. Driscoll, D. D., pastor of the Holy Sepulchre Church, New Rochelle, and well known as a theological professor and writer on Scriptural subjects, died yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital, Yonkers. Death resulted from a stroke of paralysis which he had suffered several months ago. Father Driscoll was born in Poutney, Vt., and was educated at Grand Seminary, Montreal. He later studied at St. Joseph's Seminary, Paris, and was ordained a priest in Rome thirty-five years ago.

Father Driscoll was particularly well versed in Oriental subjects, and most of his life was devoted to teaching and writing. He formerly lectured on Semitic languages at New York and Columbia universities and once held the chair of sacred Scripture at St. Joseph's Seminary, Paris. He was president of the Holy Sepulchre Church, New Rochelle, from 1902 until 1910. Funeral services will be held in St. Gabriel's Church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, New Rochelle.

FORMER "CORN KING" BURIED. Thomas A. Cleage Tried to Corner Market in 1902.

St. Louis, July 5.—Thomas A. Cleage, who tried to corner the Chicago and St. Louis corn markets in the winter of 1902, and became notorious as the "unscrupulous corn king," was buried this afternoon. He died Monday, aged 63. He closed deals involving between five and six million bushels at 40 cents a bushel in 1902, and was later convicted of contempt of court in 1903, but is said to have lost $200,000.

He was born in Athens, Tenn., and formerly was in business at Chattanooga. HENRY WERNER. Henry Werner, aged 61, of 1205 Hanover street, Brooklyn, for many years active as a social worker in the Bushwick and Ridgewood sections of Brooklyn, died yesterday in Peck Memorial Hospital after an operation. He was in the real estate business with his son, Charles F. Werner, and leaves his wife, another son and one daughter. The funeral will be held in his home to-morrow evening.

SAMUEL W. SAUNDERS. Samuel Walwyn Saunders, 78, a cousin of Premier Lloyd George of England, died late Monday in Paterson General Hospital. He lived in Passaic, N. J., where he had been in business for many years. He was survived by two daughters and two sons, one of whom, Bertram H. Saunders of Paterson, is chairman of the North New Jersey Rapid Transit Commission.
