WANT CONTROL OF FOOD Workers Call for Councils' Supervision of Factories—Want Bars Closed.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Berlin, Sept. 3.

The radical element of the workmen, stirred by Communist leaders, has issued a call demanding that the proletariat occupy the de luxe villas and hotels and institute Bolshevist methods in Germany.

The Communist demands are: That the government requisition all foodstuffs. That control of all food shipments be in the hands of the railroad workers.

That workers' councils supervise all factories producing goods listed as necessities. That all bars and luxurious resorts be closed at once.

A workers' council held in Berlin despite the protest of the trade unions, and under Communist leadership, attracted a large number of discontented workers.

The New York Herald correspondent has learned that the workers began calling for the confiscation of villas and hotels de luxe for proletarian colonies.

Trade union leaders admit that they fear they will lose control of the masses should the cost of living continue to rise.

Government's restrictions on extravagant amusements and on cafes and its attempted price control are intended more to indicate its good intent than as an effective remedy for the present distress.

Four to Five Million Idle. BERLIN, Sept. 3 (Associated Press).—The twin ghosts, cold and hunger, are stealing through the German masses on the eve of the promised birth of a new, unprecedented suffering and discontent for the young republic.

The Government and municipal authorities throughout the country already are scrambling their forces for the task of minimizing the hardships threatened on account of the exorbitant prices demanded for the diminishing food and fuel supplies.

The board indorses the establishment of feeding centers, where people of the middle classes may obtain food at moderate prices.

Warns Against Profiteers. The Prussian Minister of the Interior emphatically warns the police that the Ministry's decree for the prevention of exorbitant prices on the necessities of life is still effective.

Particular attention will be given to prices for such necessities as meat, sugar, milk, bread, potatoes, eggs, fruit, vegetables, clothing, household linen, shoes, wood and coal.

HOW LONDON 'TIMES' MAY BE DIVIDED. Walter Family Has Option on Shares by First Northcliffe Will.

BY SECOND GO TO WIDOW Matter Expected to Be Adjusted by Intervention of Lord Rothermere.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, London, Sept. 3.

With negotiations proceeding hopefully for an amicable settlement of the Northcliffe will dispute, the chief interest centers on the problem of the future ownership of the Times.

The developments have given rise to the further conjecture whether Lord Northcliffe at the time of his death had the Walter interests or whether they were bought back by the Walter family shortly before Lord Northcliffe's death.

Division of Shares. The legal position is such that ordinary shares can only be transferred to persons who already are ordinary shareholders and if one intends to transfer his shares and is unable to come to terms with one holder he must offer them to the other.

Ownership at Stake. If the second will stands, the allegation is that when Northcliffe executed it incapable of making a will—Lady Northcliffe as the sole executrix takes the estate without any limitation as to time.

LONDON CALLS IT BLUFF 'Times' Correspondent Asserts Bolsheviki Lack Men, Arms and Solidarity.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. Moscow, Sept. 3.—Carl Radek has issued a manifesto, apparently addressed to the world at large, announcing that Russia would not remain an idler.

Threats of military action made from time to time by Bolshevist leaders are characterized as being chiefly bluff by a correspondent of the London Times.

The number of rifles is sufficient for the standing army, but they are in bad condition, most of them being fit only as ornaments.

The condition of the air force was very bad in the early summer, but the Russians are relying on orders issued in Germany to make up this deficiency.

The highest military authority, says the Times correspondent, is the Revolutionary Council of the Republic, which maintains a large administrative organization in which many officers of the old Imperial army have found a place.

AUSTRIAN AID PROBLEM IS DELICATE ONE FOR FRANCE Government Eagerly Awaits Plan Seipel Will Lay Before the League—Franco-Italian Relations at Stake—Czecho-Slovakians Must Be Pleased.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Paris, Sept. 3.

The analysis of Austria's economic plight and a plea for aid to be submitted to the League of Nations at Geneva by Dr. Ignaz Seipel, the Austrian Chancellor, is the person demanding the closest attention of the Paris government.

It is admitted in inner official circles that the problem is extremely delicate and fraught with danger, not only to France's relations with her smaller allies but to the relations with Italy.

Committee Would Extend Washington Pact to Other Countries. GENEVA, Sept. 3 (Associated Press).—A new international conference of members of the League of Nations to prepare for the extension of the Washington accord on naval armaments to countries which were not represented at the Washington conference is recommended in a report adopted by the disarmament committee.

The importance of the third assembly of the league opening here tomorrow lies almost entirely in two subjects: Austria's disarmament and the fact that the league appears likely to make its first real step forward in an effort to secure a reduction of armaments.

HAD VISITED THE BOWERY Two Drinks Drove Him to Seek Romance in the Wilds of Tompkins Park.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Jarvis of Nassau county, who is 4 feet high and weighs less than 100 pounds, came to New York last Saturday wearing a brown derby hat, a pair of russet shoes, a soft silk shirt, a highly polished gold plated badge on the outside of his coat.

He went down there with his clanking handcuffs and his shiny badge, but even with these showings, he confided to the detectives of the Gates avenue station later he had no difficulty in getting two drinks, about all his small body would hold.

He wanted another, whose business it was to get him to the Bowery, and finally he brought up on a bench in Tompkins Park.

As he sat there John McKenna, a large gentleman, whose business is fitting pipes, came along and engaged him in conversation.
