Asks France to Protect Interests of Granddaughter and Principality.

PROBATE MADE IN LONDON

Value of English Estate Put at 160,000 Pounds; Remainder Not Stated.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

London, Oct. 7. The will of Albert, Prince of Monaco, who left an estate in the United Kingdom, was admitted to probate here today. It contains the request that France protect the interests of his granddaughter and the existence of his principality. His estate here is valued at 160,000. The total value of the late Prince's property is not stated.

Several public bequests are made, mainly for scientific purposes, and his assistants, servants, etc., are generously remembered.

"I charge my testamentary executors," the will reads, "to protect the moral and material interests of my granddaughter as long as her youth and loneliness and the dangers which surround her shall necessitate it. I further charge them to carry to the chief of the French State the following request:

"In return for the attachment which I have given France and what I have done during my whole life, and so that she may still add to the generous, wide spirit which she spreads over the world, I ask the protection of this noble country that she may assist my granddaughter as she is, in the efforts which the very existence of the principality may necessitate."

He left his estate, the Chateau de Marseilles, near Rheims, to his natural heirs, confident that they will endeavor to maintain its dignified character; but if they find it impossible to keep the estate they are instructed to arrange with the French Government "that this residence, which belongs to the history of France, shall not fall into unworthy hands."

He directs his heirs to continue the annuities he paid before the war to his German creditors, but only from the date when the German Government shall have repaired at least a notable proportion of the damage caused by the German armies either to himself or to his subjects or dependents in Monaco during the war.

He left his famous farm at St. Susanne to the French Academy of Agriculture, asking that it remain as a place for agricultural experiments. Dr. Jules Richard, director of his scientific laboratory, is given 700,000 francs, a great part of which is for the completion of scientific work.

NEAR EAST FEARS PEACE ALMOST AS MUCH AS WAR

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

So hopelessly involved and confused has the Near East situation become that it is impossible to say which is feared more, a rupture or an agreement. Most of the British and many Americans believe that giving way to the Turks means the end of British and western prestige generally in the Near East and a triumph of the anti-civilization forces over Europe.

On the other hand war, apart from the exact issue, doubtless would involve Great Britain as the only stabilizing Power left in Europe, in new financial and economic difficulties leading to European decline and chaos. Thus either way the situation is full of sinister probabilities.

Peace will not prevent massacres and the oppression of Christian races nor will it allay the dangerous unrest aroused in the Balkans by Kemal's triumph. Already the Turks have realized their ambition to obtain possession of western Thrace also; already they declare that Anatolia will be economically strangled unless it is united with Syria and Mesopotamia. They are pledged to support the revolutionary movement in Macedonia, and there is good reason to believe that they have promised to help Russia to recover Bessarabia.

All this explains why European and American business men long established in the Near East are unanimous in their opinion that war even if it is prevented now is inevitable in a year or so.

SAW BURNED TOWNS ON ANATOLIAN TRIP

'New York Herald' Correspondent Visits Interior.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 7.—The New York Herald correspondent has just returned from a two day trip to the interior of Asia Minor as far as Ala-Shehr, stopping at Menemen, Magnesia, Casaba and Sallih—the first trip taken by any journalist into the interior since the recent developments. All the towns except Menemen have been almost completely burned.

The correspondent saw many wounded and dead. The country is desolated and without food, clothing or shelter. To Magnesia 90 per cent. of the railroad is intact and to Sallih 80 per cent. As far as Ala-Shehr the non-Muslim population has been evacuated through Smyrna. The crops which had been harvested have been destroyed by fire. The civilians are subsisting on army rations. No disease has broken out as yet. Thousands are in the fields looking for food. Additional recruits are concentrating to be equipped with discarded Greek rifles and heavy artillery.

POPE PLEADS FOR PEACE.

ROME, Oct. 7.—Pope Pius, through Cardinal Gasparri, has telegraphed both Mustafa Kemal Pasha and King George of Greece asking them to do everything possible to avoid the resumption of hostilities. He has also asked the Near Eastern governments in which the Vatican has diplomatic representatives to use their influence to prevent war.

SENATORS OPPOSE U. S. AT CONFERENCE

Republicans Discuss Question of Participation in Near East Affairs.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7. Republican Senators now in Washington do not look with favor on the proposal that the United States participate in the coming peace conference in the Near East between the allied Powers and Turkish Nationalists.

A prominent Republican Senator said today that if the United States does send a representative party will be taken to see that he goes over with "clipped wings," meaning with absolutely no authority to treat with the representatives of any other nation except in an advisory capacity. While it is not thought the United States could possibly become involved, nevertheless these Senators are unwilling to take chances.

"You never can tell what is going to happen in the present political and military situation," a Senator said today. "Senators cannot rid their minds of the idea that every nation in Europe is courting the favor of this country solely because of financial reasons. The European nations remind me of a man who used to be a friend of mine. He invited me to his home for dinner and after entertaining me and working me up to the sentimental stage he borrowed $500 from me. That is the way with the European nations. They invite us to everything and the thought back of it all is to work up to the point where they can borrow money."

"If we go over it would be something like a crowded auction sale with only one man present having money. The best thing for this country is to stay away."

RUSSIA HOLDS UP BRITISH DEAL AS CLUB TO AID TURK

Moscow Declares It Will Not Negotiate With Foe of Its Ally and Halts Urquhart 2,500,000 Acre Transaction.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Berlin, Oct. 7. The contract for which Leslie Urquhart, director of the Russian-Asiatic Consolidated, Ltd., made preliminary arrangements with Leonid Krassine in Berlin last September involving the return of 2,500,000 acres of mining lands in Russia held by English capital before the war was flourished as a club against the British in the Near East today.

A communique from Moscow arrived at the moment when Urquhart and Maxim Litvinoff were in conference stating that the Soviets could not think of negotiating with the foe of their staunch ally. The Soviet note did not definitely shut off the hope of a resumption of mining projects, but made the grant of the proposed ninety-nine year lease contingent on the Government showing a political policy favoring Turkey.

WIVES AT STAMBOUL PART FROM HUSBANDS

Some Are Greeks and Armenians Going to Strange Lands.

By G. WARD PRICE.

Special Cable to the London Daily Mail and The New York Herald.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 7.—There were odd little scenes here Wednesday when a number of wives of officers and non-commissioned officers of the British army left aboard the steamship Kinfaun's Castle for Egypt and England. Some of the wives of non-commissioned would enable them to do vast things toward a resumption of relations with the outside world are greatly disappointed over the Moscow note, and admit that it has checked all efforts to interest America.

Tchitcherin and Krassine in the past have both been emphatic in declaring that American business would be welcomed if it came with its hands clean of political activity. Citing Urquhart as a plain business man, they declared that America should follow his example instead of demanding an investigation of Russia by a purely political commission in behalf of American interests.

Soviet trade representatives now point out that whatever happens the Government will turn to its political advantage and throw up their hands at the mention of further negotiations. Urquhart, who has hurried to Berlin to see Litvinoff, is silent. His friends declare that he considers Moscow's action a bluff which it is not his place to call, and that he is relying on the influence of Lenin to consummate the deal as soon as the Near East situation clears up.

officers are Greeks and Armenians who were married in Constantinople and this is the first time they have been parted from their husbands and dispatched to their new motherland.

Characteristic Oriental waiting accordingly broke out from the second class deck as the ship got under way and continued until the waving husbands were out of ear shot. Some of these wives have but a broken knowledge of English and their new relatives waiting to welcome them home may find conversation difficult at first.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Summer time ends in Great Britain to-morrow. The clocks will be put back one hour at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

HARDING TO ISSUE APPEAL FOR RELIEF

Red Cross and Near East to Coordinate Work for Refugees.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Harding, it was said to-night, will issue a statement to-morrow dealing with plans for aiding the thousands of refugees in the Near East. The statement, it was added, will deal with the situation in the light of conclusions reached at a series of conferences at the White House to-day for coordination of the efforts of the American Red Cross and the Near East Relief in such work.

Participating in the conferences were officials of the two organizations and former Postmaster-General Hays, it being set up.

Before going into conference Mr. Hays and the following officials conferred with the President: John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross executive committee; Elliot Washburn, treasurer of the Red Cross; Judge James L. Barton, president; Charles V. Vickrey, executive secretary, and R. J. Cuddy, member of the Near East Relief executive committee.

ing their purpose to draft a final recommendation to the President, who was asked recently by the Near East Relief to give his support to a nationwide appeal for funds. No announcement was made at the conclusion of the meetings, it being understood that the President would cover the subject in his forthcoming statement, but it was said that the Red Cross would deal with the situation "adequately."

The situation as outlined was that the Near East Relief had the organization on the ground for aiding the refugees, while the Red Cross had the money. It was the idea of Mr. Hays, who has been invited by President Harding to head a public committee to obtain subscriptions, to bring the two organizations together in the work, using available Red Cross funds to put relief measures under way immediately while the machinery to obtain public donations in this country is being set up.

A Formal Presentation of the Season's Fashions in

WOMEN'S COATS WRAPS and CAPES

The Supreme in Fashion from the Shop of Fashion Supremacy

IT has ever been the pride and prestige of this shop to uphold a distinguished fashion supremacy in presenting the mode of the coat. It is a reputation not lightly gained nor lightly maintained, yet the present exposition of coats, capes and wraps surpasses its predecessors—in each lurks the magic touch of the genius of Paris—through all permeates the elegance and quality of Bonwit Teller & Co.

- The Fitted Coat A suggestion of the slender, supple lines of the figure achieved in devious ways is the secret of the smartness of the coat.
- The Draped Wrap The fluent, subtle ease of the lines of the wrap gives it an incontestable place of honor in the season's coat fashions.
- The Slender Cape Always smart, yet very different in its smartness, the cape is twice flounced, twice paneled or twice banded.

THE FABRICS: Duvetyn, preciosa, tarquina, marcova, marvella, gersona, tyrona, pannelaine.
THE FURS: Black mole, natural mole, badger, civet cat, platinum fox, blue fox, sika fox, black fox, wolf, beaver, squirrel, caracul.
THE COLORS: Black, navy, zanzibar, suchard, Genoese, kit fox, cinder, fallow, marten, Malay, Tunisian, Koran, Hawaiian.

59.50 to 575.00

- THE UTILITY COAT That usefulness in no wise precludes smartness is proved by swagger topcoats of tweed, Oursine, over-plaid fleece cloth, often fur collared. 29.50 to 150.00
- THE PETITE JACKET Worn with a gown or separate skirt, the petite jacket has risen overnight to the front ranks of fashion—in cloth, richly furred, or of fur cloth. 79.50 to 225.00
