

$500 REWARD OFFER FOR KASTEL'S ARREST

Trustee in $300,000 Dillon Failure Seeks Whereabouts of Broker.

DOOLING MAKES DENIAL

Says Schull's Complaint Went Unprosecuted for Lack of Evidence.

$5,700 PAID TO ACTRESS

Check to Miss Vanderbilt for Plumbing Repairs—Murder of Messenger Recalled.

KEVES WINTER, TRUSTEE IN THE $300,000 BANKRUPTCY OF DILLON & CO., STOKED BROKERS, ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN BACKED BY DANDY PHIL KASTEL, ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY A REWARD OF $500 FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO THE ARREST OF KASTEL.

KASTEL'S LAWYER HAD ANNOUNCED THAT KASTEL WOULD SURRENDER A WEEK AGO MONDAY. THE MONTGOMERY AUTHORITIES SAID THEY HAD NOT BEEN ABLE TO FIND WASTEL.

MR. WINTER ANNOUNCED THE REWARD AT A HEARING BEFORE JUDGE B. OLNEY, REFERRED, 68 WILLIAM STREET, AT WHICH JOHN T. DOOLING, FORMERLY ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY UNDER EDWARD SWANN, DENIED MR. SWANN'S CHARGES AND THAT HE HAD FAILED TO GET ACTION FROM MR. DOOLING ON HIS COMPLAINT BEFORE TAKING IT TO MONTGOMERY COUNTY. MR. DOOLING SAID NO ACTION HAD BEEN TAKEN BECAUSE HE WAS UNABLE TO GET SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

$5,700 FOR MISS VANDERBILT.

More of Dillon & Co.'s funds were traced through William J. Fallon, formerly Kasten's lawyer, to Gertrude Vanderbilt, star of "The Gold Diggers."

MR. WINTER DISCLOSED A POSITION THAT HALSTAD & GRIEGER, INC., HAD RECEIVED $1,760 DRAWN BY FALLON FROM DILLON & CO. TO PAY FOR RENOVATION OF THE PLUMBING IN VANDERBILT'S HOUSE IN NINETEENTH STREET. THIS MAKES A TOTAL OF $5,700, ACCORDING TO MR. WINTER, THAT APPEARS TO HAVE GONE OUT OF DILLON & CO. THROUGH MR. FALLON TO THE ACTRESS.

WHEN LEWIS LEVINE WENT ON THE STAND HE PROTESTED AGAINST GIVING THE NAME OF HIS EMPLOYERS BECAUSE HE DID NOT WANT IT TO GET IN THE NEWSPAPERS. MR. WINTER REFUSED TO EXCUSE HIM. MR. LEVINE SAID HE IS HEAD OF THE MARGIN DEPARTMENT OF SARTORIUS, SMITH AND LEWIS, MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

THROUGH LEVINE AND MICHAEL L. ROSS, AN AUTOMOBILE MANAGER, MR. WINTER BROUGHT OUT THAT S. MILTON SMALL, FORMERLY A "BUSINESS GETTER" FOR SARTORIUS, SMITH AND LEWIS, WAS THE MEDIUM FOR SOME OF THE BUSINESS DONE BETWEEN DILLON & CO. AND SARTORIUS, SMITH AND LEWIS.

MR. WINTER SAID HE WILL ENDEAVOR TO LEARN WHAT SERVICE SMALL PERFORMED FOR THE FAVOR FROM DILLON & CO.

TOOK OVER STONEHAM ACCOUNTS.

Levine testified also that Sartorius, Smith & Loewi took over a number of accounts from Charles A. Stoneham when the latter liquidated his business, and that the transfer was effected upon written instructions from Daniel Dillon, double head of Dillon & Co.

THE EXAMINATION INTO THE TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN DILLON & CO. AND SARTORIUS, SMITH AND LEWIS HAS NOT BEEN COMPLETED. JAMES MAGEE, WHO WAS CONNECTED WITH THE COMPLAINT BUREAU OF THE NEW YORK DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE AT THE TIME THE SHAWL COMPLAINT WAS MADE AND WHO IS STILL IN THE OFFICE, SAID HE DID NOT RECALL THE VISIT OF MR. SHAWL.

MAGEE RECALLED THAT AT ONE TIME SOMEBODY DID GO TO HIS OFFICE ON A MATTER OF ACCOUNTS AND THAT SOMEBODY TOLD HIM THAT ALL MATTERS REGARDING KASTEL, "NICKY" ARNSTEIN AND OTHERS WERE TO BE REFERRED TO MR. DOOLING.

MAGEE SAID HE HAD NO SERVICE PERFORMED BY FALLON FOR WHICH HIS DRAWINGS FROM DILLON & CO. MIGHT BE REGARDED AS CONSIDERATION.

MR. DOOLING SAID HE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF SERVICES RENDERED BY FALLON. HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT MR. FALLON HAD DEFENDED FRANK TAYLOR, WHO WAS ARRESTED AND PROSECUTED, AND IS NOW SERVING A TERM FOR GRAND LARCENY, AND THAT HE WAS INFORMED TAYLOR WAS CONNECTED WITH KASTEL IN DILLON & CO. THE TRUSTEE INFORMED MR. DOOLING THAT IT IS A RECORD THAT TAYLOR DREW $8,000 OUT OF DILLON & CO.

LINKED WITH MURDER OF BOY.

Mr. Dooling continued that Fallon once took Kasten's office in connection with bonds stolen "in the case in which the messenger boy's body was found in Connecticut."

MR. DOOLING SAID HE HAD INFORMATION THAT THE STOLEN SECURITIES HAD BEEN TRACED TO GOLDBERG & HEIM, STOCK BROKERS, WITH WHOM KASTEL IS ALLEGED ALSO TO HAVE A CONNECTION, AND THAT FALLON TOOK KASTEL IN ON THAT MATTER. HE SAID KASTEL DENIED HAVING ANY OF THE SECURITIES. "THAT WAS THE ONLY TIME I EVER SAW KASTEL," SAID MR. DOOLING. HE SAID HE REMEMBERED NOTHING ABOUT KASTEL WALKING INTO THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE AND OFFERING TO SURRENDER HIMSELF WHEN IT WAS REPORTED HE WAS WANTED IN THE ARNSTEIN CASE.

MR. DOOLING RECALLED THE VISIT OF MR. SHAWL TO HIS OFFICE, SAYING HE GAVE MR. SHAWL EVERY CONSIDERATION AND TOOK HIM BEFORE THE GRAND JURY, BUT WAS UNABLE TO GET SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE IN ADDITION TO SHAWL'S TESTIMONY. IT APPEARED THAT MR. SHAWL HAD DEALT THROUGH A MAN NAMED SIMS, MANAGER OF DILLON & CO.'S ALBANY BRANCH, AND BECAUSE COMMUNICATIONS HAD BEEN BY WIRE IT WAS DIFFICULT TO ESTABLISH A CONNECTION BETWEEN KASTEL AND THE TRANSACTIONS.

"I TOLD MR. SHAWL," CONTINUED MR. DOOLING, "AND I STILL THINK THAT THE PLACE TO PROSECUTE WAS UP STATE."

"DIDN'T THE BOOKS SHOW YOU THAT THE FIRM WAS DOING WHOLESALE BUCKETING IN NEW YORK?" ASKED MR. WINTER.

"Books are sometimes skillfully kept to cover up such things," Mr. Dooling replied. He denied to see the books and the trustee said they were in a safety deposit vault.

MR. DOOLING DENIED HE WAS THE ONLY ONE BY THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE WHO SAID MATTERS PERTAINING TO KASTEL.

BITTER ELECTION QUARRELS BREAK UP POLITICAL SHOW

Mrs. Rose Williams Goes to Live With Brother and Sues Queens District Captain Whose Debates She Seeks to Avoid.

Political discussions in the home of Emmanuel Williams of 4 Richards avenue, Glendale, Queens, became so acrimonious during the local campaign in Queens last year that his wife, Mrs. Rose Williams, took her daughter and went to live with her brother, George Stoll, at 115 Richards avenue. Later she sued for separation, the principal allegation being the quarrels over politics.

The case was before Justice Norman S. Dike in Supreme Court at Long Island city yesterday, but the justice refused to grant alimony or do anything to widen the breach between the Williamses. He did, however, allow $75 counsel fees to Mrs. Williams, but said that since the couple had been married thirty years he felt that a trial should settle all the issues, including alimony.

M'KENNA ARRESTED AFTER BANKRUPTCY

Broker Accused by Stock Buyer Who Tells of Losing $2,298 in Deals.

William H. McKenna, head of William H. McKenna & Co., brokers of 25 Broadway, which failed October 6 last with liabilities estimated at $300,000 and assets of $200,000, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Alfred J. Talley in General Sessions on a charge of grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $10,000 bail.

BARBER PLIES KNIFE, THEN STARTS SHAVE

Lightweight Stages Mob Scene of Italian Residents in Brooklyn.

Frank Monteforte, 29 years old, a barber, who is only two inches over five feet and weighs only 130 pounds, was the Italian resident of Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn, into a fever of excitement last night when detectives attempted to arrest him at his shop.

Frank and Charles McNamara, who is connected with the Post Office, Station C, on Hamilton avenue, exchanged some words at the house in which they live, 339 Hamilton avenue. In accordance with methods much in vogue in Red Hook McNamara invited Monteforte to the street and then "knocked him for a goal."

Up bound Monteforte, according to the police, he slashed McNamara across the face with a knife. Then, feeling that honor had been satisfied, he went into the barber shop, on the ground floor, and commenced to shave a customer.

Detectives McKenna and Begley of the Hamilton avenue station stroled in. Begley told the little Italian he was under arrest. Monteforte paid no attention, but continued shaving the man in the chair. Begley dragged the barber outside and was spliced all over with lather. It looked a good deal like the movies.

Monteforte's relatives hurried to the street with loud lamentations. Defective McKenna and Begley's assistants, who were in the neighborhood, and a crowd of a thousand jostled the detectives. Monteforte was wriggling around like an eel. One of his wife's swings landed on the head of McKenna's mouth, knocking out a tooth and cutting the detective's lip. Policemen rushed to the spot. They fought off the throng, bundled the little Italian on a Court street car and rode to the station house, six blocks away, followed by a thousand maledictions.

An ambulance surgeon checked up all those who had been damaged. "No one recalled what had happened to the customer Monteforte was shaving. The primary cause of the failure of the firm, they asserted, was the depreciation in the value of German bonds. Samuels said:

FUNERAL OR NEW BABY NOT VETERAN'S EXCUSE

Delegation Protests Ruling on Absence From School.

A delegation of ex-soldiers who are receiving vocational training in the Vocational Training School of the United States Veterans' Bureau in the Loth Building, 138 Amsterdam avenue, visited Representative Warren I. Lee in Brooklyn yesterday to lodge a complaint of unfair and inconsiderate treatment.

The delegation representative Lee wrote a letter to Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the Veterans' Bureau, in which he said the following notice was posted on the bulletin board of the school last Monday:

"No man will be excused from school because his mother is sick, his wife is sick, his child is sick, his wife has to come to a hospital, he has to meet a relative coming from Europe, he has to see about citizen papers, he has to move, he has to go to court, he has to work in the election board, he has to go to a funeral, he is going to get married, he has personal business, his wife has a child, etc., etc."

SON CANNOT COLLECT FOR 26 YEARS' WORK

Agreed Wages Exceed Total of Mother's Estate.

A decree of judicial settlement granted yesterday in the Orange County Surrogate's Court in the estate of Mrs. Susan Clark approves the claim of her son, Eugene McGuckin, Philadelphia, for wages for more than forty-five years' work and authorizes payment. Now it develops that he will have to go without wages for twenty-six years' work.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY OF BURNING MANSION

Jurors Exonerate Fire Marshal Whom She Accused.

Mrs. Katherine Allers, 50 who had been before Justice Harry E. Lewis and a jury in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, charged with setting fire to the old Van Dyk mansion at Avenue M and East Fifty-third street, Brooklyn, last April 18, was found guilty last night of arson in the second degree. She had purchased the old house from the city for $100,000 and had it insured for more than $500,000.

Mrs. Allers was sent to the Raymond street jail to be sentenced Monday. After the trial jurors said that they had been influenced by her "false, malicious and vicious" statements concerning Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy, whom she accused of offering to "go fifty fifty" with her on the insurance if she would confess.

WELCOME DEBATING TEAM

The New York University debating team will be welcomed home this afternoon in the building of the Good Memorial Library at University Heights. The debaters made a trip to Europe last June and were successful at Sheffield and Edinburgh but were defeated by Oxford. The team consisted of Donald Brown, captain; H. G. McCarron and M. Flaherty with Ralph C. Walker as manager.

EUROPE'S VETERANS ARE CITY'S GUESTS

Delegates of Seven Nations to New Orleans Convention Honored.

WILL STRIVE FOR PEACE

One Legless Victim of Ypres Held Up by Red Tape Regulations.

Twenty-three veterans of the world war, representing seven allied nations, arrived yesterday on the French liner Lorraine to attend the third annual convention of the International Veterans' Federation in New Orleans next Saturday and Sunday, immediately preceding the fourth convention of the American Legion.

The delegation consists of six French, three Belgians, four English, three Serbians, two Rumanians, one Italian and three Czechoslovakians, led by Capt. Charles Bertrand of the French army, president of the federation.

They were met at Quarantine by a committee on the Magoon, welcoming board of the Mayor's committee, and landed at the Battery, whence they were taken by automobile to City Hall and received by Murray Hulbert, President of the Board of Aldermen.

Flags on Lower Broadway.

Lower Broadway was decorated with the flags of the Allies. From the windows of tall buildings streams of white tape fluttered and office work was suspended while the procession passed. City Hall Park looked as it used to three years ago when victorious armies were returning from overseas.

The veterans are picked men. They wore the uniforms of the countries they fought for and on their breasts were various decorations. Each one had at least one wound to his credit, but only three are crippled. A Belgian hero wears a false hand. A Frenchman has an artificial leg, and Capt. William Appleby, an Englishman, has a wooden leg. The "contemptible little army" was blinded in the second battle of Ypres.

Since the war Capt. Appleby's daughter, Mrs. Olga, has been with him on his constant companion. For her devotion to her father she was decorated on the ship by Capt. Bertrand with the medal "Le merite du Union National des Combattants." She is the only woman ever so honored.

At City Hall Mr. Hulbert read an address of welcome and Capt. Bertrand replied in French.

Veterans to Strive for Peace.

"We salute your city, which has given many thousands of brave men in the struggle for democracy and justice," said Capt. Bertrand. "We hope our deliberations in New Orleans will be such that there will be world peace and that all the delegates to the convention will endeavor seriously in the name of justice to bring eternal peace."

The delegation was escorted to the Pennsylvania Station, where it boarded a train for New York. It will decorate the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery, Washington, and be received by President Harding today.

One of the delegates did not accompany the Lorraine's contingent to Washington, as he arrived in the afternoon aboard the Cunarder Berengaria and was detained temporarily while the immigration inspectors cut some red tape. He is Major Brunel Cohen, M. P., head of a big Liverpool department store. He lost his legs at Ypres. He had to wait an hour while the inspectors satisfied themselves that his injuries would not cause him to be a "public charge." He took the detention without complaint.

KISSER GETS FIFTEEN DAYS IN WORKHOUSE

Store Owner Substitutes Bear for Mote in Girl's Eye.

Frank Dunn, who owns a malt and hops store at 318 Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn, was sentenced to fifteen days in the workhouse by Magistrate Elliprin in the Fifth avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday for kissing Miss Margaret Kisser, 17 Bush street.

According to Miss Swenson a particle of dirt or something got in her eye while she was in front of Dunn's store. When Dunn discovered her discomfort she said he offered to assist in removing the irritating matter. She considered he was more than successful when without consulting the girl he handed against each eye, he has to go to court.

ADVERTISING MEN SEE OPPORTUNITY IN TARIFF

Point to Heavy Business as Prosperity Assurance.

Consideration of problems facing the American manufacturer next year, and of how the advertising agencies can help in their solution, occupied the 350 advertising men who gathered yesterday in the Hotel Ambassador for the sixth annual meeting of the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

OFFICIALS FIND TRAIL IN $92,000 STOCK HAIL

Indictment Accuses Spring of Receiving Stolen Goods.

In the indictment yesterday of Harry Spring, formerly manager of the uptown office of Dier & Co., on a charge of receiving stolen goods, the authorities found the first trail of $92,000 of securities stolen from Clark, Childs & Co. last June.

RUN OVER IN SUBWAY ESCAPES

Four cars of a Lexington avenue subway local passed over the body of William Cabot, 196 Belmont street, Newark, yesterday as he lay upon the track at the Eighty-sixth street station. When dragged out he was found to have only a few lacerations of the scalp, which were treated quickly in Bellevue Hospital.

Women's Fine Winter Coats

Very special—at $29 to $98

We searched the market for these coats—because we insisted on having not only fine fabrics, furs and workmanship at these low prices but authentic fashions. They are the best coats we have seen this season—at these prices.

Furs, where used, are specially selected skins. Many models are without fur, as this year the demand for soft wrap-around fur-less coats is noteworthy.

At $29—Utility coats of fine double-faced or plain mixtures. (2 models). At $49—Black caracul collars and cuffs in straight-line coats, untrimmed wrap-around and bloused coats. (3 models). At $59—Wolf, and very soft wolf, collar and cuffs, mole collar and cuffs on wrap-around and straight coats and slender straight untrimmed coats. (3 models). At $79—Smart coats with the new crush collars and effective sleeves, making much of corded pin tucks and silk stitching. (4 models). At $98—Fox collars—brown, black and double pointed—of unusual quality on straight coats, great wolf collars, beaver or squirrel collars and cuffs and exceptional untrimmed coats, too. (5 models).

IN THE FAR EAST SHOP JEWELRY

In the Far East Shop is very much in Fashion

A fascinating and brilliant collection of fine stones from the Orient, in necklaces and earrings made to our order. Especially interesting now, for the mode today demands exotic and colorful jewelry.

Amber, clear, brilliant golden brown, or in cloudy soft tones. Coral, the deep ox-blood red which Paris is wearing. Crystal, sparkling and brilliant. Carnelian, whose reddish brown tones are exquisitely soft and dull. Jade, the most Oriental of all semi-precious stones. Amethysts, aquamarines, ivory and lapis lazuli—each fine examples in both color and cutting.

Necklaces, $25 to $400 Earrings, $28.50 to $45
