Additional Bleachers Set Up for Games With Colgate and Columbia.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, Oct. 12.—The Cornell cross country team will make its debut here next Saturday in a dual meet with Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Bleachers are to be put up on the west side of Schockopf Field next week for the Colgate and Columbia games.

The senior class elected additional men from the class of 1922 this week. Among the men accepting bids from the class were Harlin P. Bosworth of Buffalo, N. Y., member of the cross-country team and on the football squad; Henry E. Luhrs of Brooklyn Manor, N. Y., varsity crew; Alan H. Mogensen of Plainfield, N. J., manager lacrosse team; George C. Parker of East Orange, N. J., football squad and crew C. man; and Thomas Telfer, Bounton, N. J., varsity baseball team.

Quill and Darger initiates were Edwin A. Gordon, Rochester, N. Y., varsity crew; Joseph D. Darger, M. H. H. Rapid City, S. D., head cheer leader; Roger J. Coe, New York city, assistant manager football; Kenneth H. Brush, Elwyn, Pa., Cornell Sun and law quarterly.

The annual fall reunion or home coming of New York State alumni of the university will take place at the time of the Columbia game on November 4.

John Hoyt, rowing coach, has sent out another appeal for lumber that can be made into oars. Six oars were broken at Poughkeepsie last June and Hoyt's stock of wood of the best quality is running low.

W. W. Buckley of Port Edwards, Wis., has been appointed chairman of a committee of seniors to supervise the sophomore participation in the pushball rush between the sophomores and freshmen to be held October 28. C. C. Pope will perform a similar service for the freshmen.

Charles Dana Bennett and Perry Evans invited the Misses Margaret and Marion Miller, daughters of Gov. Nathan L. Miller of New York, to yesterday's football game.

Manheim, who hails from Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, and who was considered the best scholastic basketball center in New York State last season, sprang a surprise Thursday afternoon. "Stratton" is about six feet four and never played or attempted to play football in his young life until Thursday. He went out for the freshman eleven that day, and made such a good impression that he was made a first stringer.

Columbia's annual fall tennis tournament began Friday afternoon, but no one of prominence was in the first round, all the stars having drawn byes. Some interesting matches will probably be played later this week when court battles involving Jerry Lang, national junior doubles champion, and John Island title holder; Gerald Emerson, captain-elect of the Blue and White tennis, who holds two national doubles titles; Vincent Richards, who needs no introduction, and Frank W. Anderson, former national senior indoor singles champ and present Canadian title holder, get under way.

Manheim, a member of the erstwhile Lion football star, is out for the freshman crew. Jim Rice says that he will probably make a fine oarsman.

Les Conklin, who conducts "Off-Hour," the Columbia Daily Spectator's humorous column, passed off an awful slam on the Philadelphia baseball club. He wrote that Doc Barrett, the Blue and White trainer who used to be a star athlete, may offer positions on that wonderful team of athletes to members of the Columbia team. Then, again, maybe it's a rap at the Blue and White, which was "not good."

So far as your correspondent can recall, a local sporting editor used to call the players of the team for which our respective trainer scouts "human skeletons."

Columbia, which has won the intercollegiate chess championship for the last seven years, will again have its share of triumphs. For the last two years Schapiro has been defeated at the Cuyv tournament by Mott-Smith of Harvard, and this will be his last chance to trim his clever opponent.

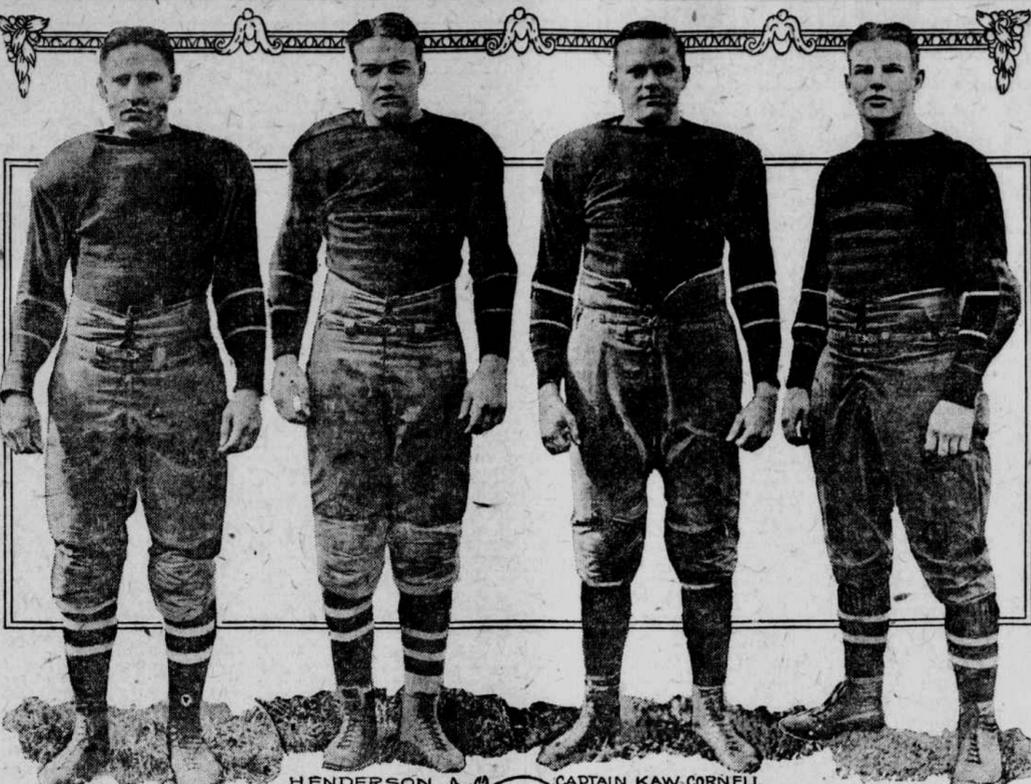

Edson Warden was elected to captain the pawn pushers for the coming year. The first of our prodigies, Edwin Roche Hardy, recently appeared with his hair long and curly, and a pair of Dan Brown's twelve-year-old freshman is not a prodigy, at least according to his parents, but is normal. Would that when the midyears come along most of us were normal in such a way.

Alek Watt, nephew of Bob Watt, the graduate manager of athletics, was inquired for, some reason or other, and came out for a football Thursday, and succeeded in gaining a wing job on the second eleven.

Fencing is about to be taken up as a minor sport at New York University. The senior class at New York University is seriously considering establishing a new custom on the heights.

The athletic office has received an offer from Syracuse University for a swimming meet. N. Y. U. has several good swimmers on its roster.

Last week witnessed the start of practice in four of the winter sports. The basketball team started on Wednesday, thirty varsity and forty freshman candidates reporting to Coach Nat Holman.

The swimming and water polo teams also started work during the week. A large number of veterans in these sports are out for football, but Coach McCormick and Capt. Josepher is not swimmers had their hands full handling the newcomers.

The wrestlers look forward to a good year. Most of the members of last year's team are back, and if some one can be found to fill Capt. Silver's place in the heavyweight bouts success is assured.

The second event in the fresh-soph program counting toward the Student Council center takes place this Sunday. It is the same sport, consisting of seven individual events.

Manager Force of the basketball team is speaking in vague terms of home and home, with various big teams throughout the country.

Junior class have done their track shoes again. Both were capable distance runners in their freshman year, but were obliged to stop work with distance because of a bad leg and Fike because of a weak heart.

The Daily Princetonian has appointed Winslow W. Dulles of Englewood as football editor for this season and Louis Mack of Somerville as its assistant.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 14.—After two days of intensive "rushing" 181 members of the freshman class at Brown University, or 48 per cent, are pledged members of the following nineteen Greek letter fraternities: Alpha Delta Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Beta Beta, Kappa Epsilon, Delta Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Nu, Theta Delta Chi, Zeta Psi. Delegations ranged from four to fourteen.

Brown's plan to put a check on large enrollments, according to Dean Olin B. Randall, is the adoption of the selective system and more rigid enforcement of regulations concerning scholarship and character of those already in college.

The corporation of the university at a meeting October 11 voted sanction of the project for the erection of a new gymnasium to cost with its endowment $750,000.

Football practice in preparation for the battle with Syracuse has been held daily in the gymnasium, with no one allowed to enter the playing field except players, coaches and field attendants.

The Brunonian squad has been exceptionally fortunate in having a few of its number suffer minor injuries, enough to put them out of the running for any great length of time.
