

LAFAYETTE AND W. & J., BOTH BEATING IN TWO YEARS, MEET TO-DAY

Yale Faces Hardest Task Among Big Three Teams

Elis Tackle Brown, Which Has Shown Strong Defense Harvard Meets Florida, While Princeton Plays Swarthmore—Nebraska Shows at Syracuse.

By DANIEL.

With the opening of the Big Three football series and the thrilling run down the homestretch only a week away this afternoon brings the breathing spell which always comes before the final dash toward the major objectives. It will be a lull, but only by comparison, for while the day's program lacks the luster of that which featured last Saturday it is brilliant and virile enough, and may bring its share of the upsets which have been startling followers of the game this last fortnight.

Harvard and Princeton, which will meet at Cambridge next Saturday will be seen this afternoon in games which are calculated to keep them on edge, but not to press too hard. The Crimson will take on Florida for the first time and counts on winning by a comfortable margin without the use of some of its regulars. The Tigers will encounter Swarthmore—and here there may be a bit of a fight, but Princeton need not palpitate with trepidation. As for Yale, it takes on Brown in the twenty-eighth meeting of a series which dates all the way back to 1880—and the Bears promise to make things very interesting indeed.

If your predilection is for a superior brand of football regardless of the fine background of traditional rivalry and the coming struggle among the Big Three you will do well to take in the game at the Polo Grounds, where Lafayette will have it out with Washington and Jefferson.

Have Remarkable Records. Neither eleven has been beaten in two years. Both are under the impression that they are to battle for the championship of the East—a laudable incentive even if it lacks the sanction of the majority. Many experts hold that Lafayette's eleven just now is the strongest in the country. Washington and Jefferson points with pride to its scoreless tie with California last New Year's Day, and concedes nothing to anybody—East or West.

The afternoon will be marked by two intercollegiate contests. Syracuse will entertain the team from Nebraska and Pennsylvania will meet Alabama. Cornhuskers will bear the brunt of the woods with more praise than perhaps has been heaped on any other invader. Western critics and coaches say that Nebraska has the greatest team of all these United States. That may be—and then again it may be that "Missouri Valley" will have to be substituted for "all these United States." Syracuse wants that game, for many reasons, one of which dates back to 1919. In that year Nebraska dropped the Orange into submission in a tough argument, 3 to 0.

The contest at the Polo Grounds will not be the only game in this city. Columbia will not be seen here, for it goes to Ithaca for the tenth meeting with Cornell. To date the Hartford College has eleven victories to its credit, while the Violet has only six, having won the last three successive games, only three games remaining in the season. There will be three of the Violet's regulars on the side line to-day. They are O'Toole, left guard; Capt. Taylor, center; and Harvey Mayer, left half-back. Mayer is a guard of three years' experience, will take O'Toole's place; Rosenberg, a former guard, who has taken Taylor's berth over the ball since the captain's injury in the Columbia game, will again play in the pivot position. Jablonka, regular substitute halfback, will take Mayer's position. Though Berkeley is scheduled to start, Thorpe will have Branich ready to take his place.

Good Game for Dartmouth. Dartmouth, with Cornell to be met next Saturday, may get more action than it wants from Boston University, which outdid Brown on attack last Saturday, but failed because of the superior defense of the Bears. At Washington, Georgetown will bear the brunt of the Catholic college championship of the East against Holy Cross. Colgate will play Lehigh at Binghamton.

The minor college classics will be started with the annual battle between Wesleyan and Amherst. These rivals have been having it out since Hector was a pup—and this time Amherst is not the favorite. In many a season, one of Lord Jeff held Oberlin to a touchdown last Saturday and may have a surprise in store for the Middletown eleven. Williams will meet Rensselaer, who is unbeaten team. Maine will be asked to clinch the championship of the Pine Tree State by beating Bowdoin, while Bates will meet the Massachusetts Aggies and Tufts engages Middlebury. Dickinson's unbeaten team may be stopped by Gettysburg, but that is doubtful. The Navy, having scored a clean-cut triumph yesterday over Penn State, will enjoy rest this afternoon, but the Army will roll into action against St. Bonaventure, which will give Major Daly a chance to give his entire squad a good workout.

Pittsburgh may get a livelier game than it wants from Little Geneva, which always turns out a good evening. Bucknell seems to have the Mohican game well in hand, Hobart appears likely to beat Union, Hamilton is favored over St. Lawrence and Haverford should beat Guilford, which is coming up from North Carolina.

LAFAYETTE—W. AND J. The game at the Polo Grounds will be the fifth between Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson—and will break a tie for each has two decisions over the other. They met for the first time in 1888 and the Presidents won by 15 to 0. They did not mingle again until 1902, when Lafayette evened things up 12 to 0. It was Lafayette 24, W. and J. 6, in 1906, and W. and J. 17, Lafayette 0, in 1915. They have not met for six years—and Lafayette looks like a winner again.

In thirty-two games spread over a period of two years neither Lafayette nor Washington and Jefferson has been beaten. In these two years Lafayette's shining achievements have been two triumphs over Pittsburg in 1919 and 1920 and 7 to 0 this season. Last fall Washington and Jefferson also beat the Panthers, 7 to 0.

Both Lafayette and the Presidents present powerful lines, brilliant backfields—strong attacks which combine every development in modern football. They can rush the ball, they can pass in its highest forms. Both teams are mightily well coached—Lafayette by Dr. John Sutherland, the former Pittsburg lineman, and the Presidents by Earl Neale.

Lafayette has two great tackles in Frenckergast and Deible and an outstanding guard in Schwab. Berry and O'Connor are superlative ends, Brennan, Brunner, Gebhardt and Gazella give the Easton team a lot of versatile effectiveness in the backfield. Brunner is a remarkable kicker.

W. and J. has a stellar line from end

THE LISTENING POST

By WALTER TRUMBULL

FROM MUSINGS OF A COWBOY. If you never seen a buckler when he's busy, Pitches high and wide and handsome on the job, With the rider stayin' with him, sick and dizzy, Or just leavin' him, to land upon his job; If you never seen a bulldozer go leavin' From a horse to wrestle longhorns to a fall, Then you ain't seen nothin' And you ain't seen no more And you don't know nothin' at all.

At Madison Square Garden they are holding a cowboy championship. The best riders and bulldozers in the world are there. We saw most of them perform in the Roundup at Pendleton, Oregon, and we have the most profound admiration for their abilities. We also wonder how they have stayed alive as long as they have.

Phillip Ashton Rollins says in his book, "The Cowboy," in a chapter on breaking horses: "The shock of bucking was so severe that many a rider bled from the nose, the mouth, sometimes the ears, not a few men fainted in the saddle. Many were ruptured, and in very rare instances men fell dead from their animals' backs. An autopsy upon the body of a rider who had thus died disclosed a liver entirely torn from its moorings."

You may see that riding a buckler is quite a sport. Yet, these champion riders straddle horses that are champion bucklers, stick with them and climb down laughing to light a cigarette. Even when they are thrown they just pick themselves up and laugh. And not only men, but some women ride in these championships.

Concerning one of these women Mr. Rollins, Princeton man, author and student of countries, peoples and sports, has written us. He says:

Mrs. Mabel Strickland, winner of the McAlpin trophy during last July's riding contest at Cheyenne, displayed the finest single bit of horsemanship I have ever seen shown by any one in a cowboy saddle. It was in the women's championship relay race of a mile and a half. Contestants were required to dismount at the end of each half mile and change to a fresh horse. At one of the changes Mrs. Strickland had just swung herself onto her fresh horse and given him his head when he was severely bumped by another horse and swung the rider forward and pitched forward to the right of the saddle horn, her head and hands in a diving posture. Coincidentally her horse started to fall on his knees. She caught her left heel under the rear edge of the left saddle skirt—the only hold she had—and by a convulsive pull with her leg snapped herself into the saddle. As her body moved backward she jerked both reins smartly upward, checking the horse's fall. However, as he came up he shot forward the wrong foot and thus threatened to cross his front legs and turn a somersault. Mrs. Strickland instantly dropped her hands to the horse's withers, with one hand giving a lightning-like shove forward on the right shoulder and with the other hand giving an equally quick yank backward on the animal's left shoulder, thus throwing the beast into proper stride—and winning the race. Thus Mrs. Strickland, in but a fraction of a second, performed three independent acts, no two of which were alike in character or in the reasoning which prompted them. That is horsemanship!

It's getting so in the middle West that a football man can't make an honest dollar without somebody branding him as a professional.

No one would be surprised if many members of the Baseball Players Union went out on three strikes next season.

It looked as if a number of the pitchers were unionized this year. They apparently were working under some sort of an agreement for a three inning day.

If you ask Penn State you probably will be told that the danger of the Navy becoming obsolete is greatly exaggerated.

This is one season when Yale, Princeton and Harvard all expect to win. Somebody's going to economize after those battles are fought. And father's bill for books and laboratory equipment will run large.

Jack Dempsey wishes that somebody would do some Christmas shopping early and get him an opponent.

The only trouble with all these touchdowns scored on the scrubs is that they don't count.

BOB FISHER'S SUBS TIGER VARSITY HAS READY FOR 'GATORS' SHORTEST SESSION

Florida Team Arrives at Cambridge and Holds Short Practice.

Princeton Squad Ends Drill for Swarthmore Game With Signal Rehearsal.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 3.—As further indication that he intends to follow his policy of starting a substitute eleven against University of Florida to-morrow, Head Coach Bob Fisher of the Princeton football team worked his varsity hard both in dummy and actual scrimmage this afternoon.

The first team of the substitute squad was hard while it lasted, and then the regulars tried out the play on which they had been working in a ten minute scrimmage against the freshmen. The varsity team, which was not to play in the game, could do little in the way of stopping the regulars' attack, however, and Capt. Bull drove Owen across the freshmen goal line for two touchdowns. Owen, who had been steady advances, Owen making his first score on a short plunge, but for the other breaking off tackle and shooting through for ten yards without any trouble.

After the practice Fisher announced three changes in the lineup he expected to use to-morrow. He has decided to start his regular end rushers, Jenkins and Holder, both of whom have been injured and have not had as much work in games as some of the other wings. These players, though, will not be kept in the game long, and soon will be relieved by Crosby, Gordon or Fitts. Also in the line Anthony will give way for a time to Miller, one of Harvard's most untested line men, and a fellow of whom little has been heard this fall, but who is likely to come through at the finish.

The varsity will be dressed to-morrow and every man except Coburn, Hartley, Clark and Doherty will be considered available for play. The Florida boys, who arrived this morning after the long journey from Gainesville, Fla., went to the Stadium immediately. They had only a short drill but it was snappy. The "Gators" do not show up as most Eastern football teams do, the players being of odd sizes and not making the impression of being rounded into a very tough eleven.

With All Its Regulars Back Alabama Hopes to Beat Penn

Dartmouth Cross-Country Runners Lead Middlebury

C.C.N.Y. Harriers to Race

LAFAYETTE—W. & J. PUZZLE IS CLASSIC

Rival Elevens in Polo Grounds Game To-day Have Great Records.

By WALTER TRUMBULL. The general opinion of the game to be played between Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson at the Polo Grounds this afternoon is shown by the report that the demand for tickets has been the greatest ever known in this city, in advance for the Army-Navy battles. If advance estimates are correct more than 30,000 spectators will be on hand for the kick-off.

There is every reason to believe that it will be a game well worth watching. Both elevens are veteran aggregations and each has players who are numbered among the best in the country. As a matter of fact, it would be possible to pick a very credible All America team without going outside of the two squads.

The elevens have great records. Washington and Jefferson has not lost a game since facing Carnegie Tech in 1920. Since then its record is seven consecutive victories and it has scored a total of 223 points to its opponent's 47. Moreover that score was not rolled up against easy marks. Such scores as Pittsburgh, California and Syracuse are tough enough for anybody.

Perhaps the elevens gained its greatest glory when it crossed the continent to hold California to a scoreless tie the last New Year's. The two elevens had been advertised as man eaters, but their fare was very slim that day. They were out-played and narrowly escaped defeat.

Lafayette is another eleven which hasn't lost a game since 1920. In the matter of points these players have done even better than their rivals, scoring 166 to their opponent's 40. They also have been up against some of the strongest teams in the country.

Both elevens have great backfields and the lines of both are so strong that it is more than likely that each team will resort to the overhead game as a means of scoring. As both have several independent acts, no two of which are alike in character or in the reasoning which prompted them. That is horsemanship!

Another reason why the rivalry to-day will be keen is that the teams of these institutions have in their history met account of the year, at least once, and each has won two games. This is the payoff.

Wesleyan Harriers Beat Brown Cross-Country Lads

College Football Program for To-day

Yale vs. Brown, at New Haven, 2 P. M. Harvard vs. Florida, at Cambridge, 2 P. M. Princeton vs. Swarthmore, at Princeton, 2 P. M.

Lafayette vs. Washington and Jefferson, at Polo Grounds, 2 P. M. Cornell vs. Columbia, at Ithaca, 2 P. M. Syracuse vs. Nebraska, at Syracuse, 2 P. M. Springfield, at Fordham, 2 P. M.

New York University vs. Trinity, at Ohio Field, 2 P. M. C. C. N. Y. vs. New York Aggies, at Lewis Stadium, 2 P. M. Cornell vs. Pennsylvania vs. Alabama, at Philadelphia, 2 P. M.

Michigan vs. Delaware, at Hoboken, 2 P. M. Wesleyan vs. Amherst, at Middletown, 2 P. M. Colgate vs. Lehigh, at Johnson City, 2 P. M. Dartmouth vs. Boston University, at Hanover, 2 P. M.

Army vs. St. Bonaventure, at West Point, 2 P. M. Williams vs. Rensselaer, at Williamstown, 2 P. M. Princeton vs. Georgetown, at Princeton, 2 P. M. Hobart vs. Union, at Geneva, 2 P. M. Carnegie Tech vs. Allegheny, at Pittsburgh, 2 P. M. Military vs. Franklin and Marshall, at Chester, 2 P. M.

New Hampshire State vs. Vermont, at Durham, 2 P. M. Middlebury vs. Tufts, at Middlebury, 2 P. M. Dickinson vs. Middlebury, at Middlebury, 2 P. M. Connecticut Aggies vs. Providence, at Providence, 2 P. M. Massachusetts Aggies vs. Bates, at Amherst, 2 P. M.

Wesleyan vs. Middlebury, at Lewisburg, 2 P. M. Bowdoin vs. Maine, at Brunswick, 2 P. M. Washington vs. Bethany, at Waynesburg, 2 P. M. Wright vs. Writwell, at Writwell, 2 P. M. Drexel vs. St. John's, at Philadelphia, 2 P. M. Johns Hopkins vs. Western Maryland, at Baltimore, 2 P. M. Duquesne vs. West Virginia Wesleyan, at Fairmont, 2 P. M.

Lebanon Valley vs. Juniata, at Lebanon, 2 P. M. Lowell vs. Colby, at Lowell, 2 P. M. Colby vs. Bates, at Lewiston, 2 P. M. Norwich vs. Clarkson, at Northfield, 2 P. M. Mount St. Mary's vs. Washington College, at Emmitsburg, 2 P. M.

Notre Dame vs. Indiana, at Notre Dame, 2 P. M. Notre Dame vs. Northwestern, at Evanston, 2 P. M. Michigan vs. Michigan Aggies, at Ann Arbor, 2 P. M. Purdue vs. Wabash, at Lafayette, 2 P. M. Wittenberg vs. Oberlin, at Springfield, 2 P. M. Hiram vs. Western Reserve, at Hiram, 2 P. M. Akron vs. Ohio Northern, at Akron, 2 P. M. Butler vs. Rose-Hulman, at Indianapolis, 2 P. M. Cincinnati vs. West Virginia, at Cincinnati, 2 P. M.

Creighton vs. South Dakota, at Omaha, 2 P. M. Detroit vs. Lombard, at Detroit, 2 P. M. DePaul vs. Woodstock, at Graysville, 2 P. M. Drake vs. Iowa State, at Des Moines, 2 P. M. Grinnell vs. Washington, at Grinnell, 2 P. M. James Millikin vs. Augustana, at Decatur, 2 P. M. Kansas vs. Oklahoma, at Lawrence, 2 P. M. Kansas vs. Kansas Aggies, at Lawrence, 2 P. M. Missouri vs. Kansas Aggies, at Columbia, 2 P. M. North Dakota Aggies vs. North Dakota, at Grand Forks, 2 P. M. Wesleyan vs. Miami, at Delaware, 2 P. M. St. Louis vs. Missouri Mines, at St. Louis, 2 P. M. Otterbein vs. Heidelberg, at Westerville, 2 P. M.

Kentucky vs. Centre, at Lexington, 2 P. M. Georgia Tech vs. Clemson, at Atlanta, 2 P. M. Virginia vs. Virginia Tech, at Charlottesville, 2 P. M. Virginia vs. Washington and Lee, at Charlottesville, 2 P. M. North Carolina State vs. Davidson, at Raleigh, 2 P. M. Tennessee vs. Vanderbilt, at Knoxville, 2 P. M. Virginia Military vs. Catholic University, at Lexington, 2 P. M. Virginia Poly vs. Maryland, at Blacksburg, 2 P. M. William and Mary vs. Wake Forest, at Norfolk, 2 P. M.

Illinois vs. Texas, at Houston, 2 P. M. Furman vs. Erskine, at Greenville, 2 P. M. Louisville vs. Transylvania, at Louisville, 2 P. M. Arkansas vs. Tulsa, at Fayetteville, 2 P. M. Baylor vs. Texas Aggies, at Waco, 2 P. M. Trinity vs. Oglethorpe, at Durham, 2 P. M. Oglethorpe vs. Oglethorpe, at Durham, 2 P. M. Marshall vs. Georgetown, Ky., at Huntington, 2 P. M. Mississippi Aggies vs. Ouachita, at Agricultural College, 2 P. M. Louisiana vs. West Virginia College, at Louisville, 2 P. M.

California vs. Washington State, at Berkeley, 2 P. M. Stanford vs. Nevada, at Palo Alto, 2 P. M. Oregon vs. Multnomah, at Portland, 2 P. M. Southern California vs. Occidental, at Los Angeles, 2 P. M.

Amherst Wins at Soccer

COLUMBIA ARRIVES SAFE IN ITHACA

Blue and White and Cornell Elevens Are Keyed Up for Keen Struggle.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, Nov. 3.—With the Columbia squad at Freeville keyed up for a desperate battle to redeem its lost prestige, and the Cornell varsity all set for a hard struggle after two weeks of consecutive practice, everything was in readiness to-night for the ninth annual contest between the two colleges.

At the third game since football was rehabilitated as a major sport at Morrisdale Heights. According to past performances Dobie's team should have an easy time of it with the Blue and White. The betting is all on points, even money being offered that Cornell will score 21 points, but in view of the fact that the Ithacans play Dartmouth next week it is not expected that Dobie will allow the team to show more than the situation warrants.

The Columbia party of thirty-two was escorted to Freeville this evening having established headquarters at the Republic Inn.

Six Hundred Rooters Leave on Columbia Special.

Six hundred Columbia "rooters" left yesterday for Ithaca, where the Blue and White will face the powerful Cornell football team to-day on Schoellkopf Field. Columbia alumni will also be on hand to cheer the team. Ithaca will be all ablaze. To-day is alumni day at the home of the Big Red.

On records G.Dobie's team is an overwhelming favorite, but Columbia is not without hope, for its team has been considerably strengthened since the struggle with Williams. The Big Red eleven, undefeated last year and rated next to the best team in the East and so far undefeated this fall, looks forward to a contest which will be considerably more than a practice game, but nothing to bother the Doblites to any great extent.

NEIDLINGER PICKED TO DIRECT BULLDOG

Jones Makes Eleventh Shift at Quarter for Brown Game.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. New Haven, Nov. 3.—Newell Neidlinger, captain of the Yale football team, was picked to direct the Bulldog team to-morrow against Brown, Tad Jones decided this afternoon. Charles O'Hearn and George Beckwith, who were injured in the game of the past three days, are not in the very best of shape, it was announced, and no chances will be taken that might put them out of the big game to come. If Neidlinger cannot play through the entire game Kelley will fill in.

The Elis will take the field as follows: Left end, Eddy; left tackle, Jones; left guard, Crukshank; center, Lovejoy; right guard, Cross; right tackle, Miller; right end, Hulman; quarterback, Neidlinger; left halfback, Wright; right halfback, Jordan; fullback, Mallory. Neale, who has not been handling the ball well of late and has thereby lost the job of left halfback temporarily, will replace Wright during the game, and Cochrane will take Capt. Jordan's place. Scott will go in for Mallory. In two line Yale will probably utilize several substitutes after the game gets under way.

There was dummy scrimmage work and some signals to-day, followed by some good kicking and running back of punts. The coaches also spent considerable time in perfecting a defense against the forward pass, in which department Brown is supposed to be proficient.

The Yale-Princeton freshman game will start at 2 o'clock and will be played on the old field. The officials for to-morrow's game are E. R. Milligan of Pennsylvania, referee; C. A. Reed of Springfield, umpire; D. H. Watkeys of Syracuse, head linesman; P. Burchell of Exeter, field judge.

Speed Is Made Keynote of Brown Eleven Practice.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Providence, R. I., Nov. 3.—The Brown eleven finished its work and Yale this afternoon with a signal drill in which both old and new plays were run off until the coaches were satisfied with the smoothness and speed of them. Thirty-three of the squad will make the trip to New Haven.

All the regulars are in good shape except Ebenholz, quarterback, and Paasche, fullback, whose knee was twisted in the Lehigh game. Eisenberg may take his turn if needed. Myers and Higgins are scheduled to alternate at quarter and the rest of the lineup will be the same as last week, the only change being Johnstone at right end in place of Sayward.

N. Y. U. the Favorite Over Trinity in To-day's Contest

Fordham Will Be Minus Fallon and Mayers To-day

The Springfield College eleven, with the splendid record of five victories out of six games, it is expected to Fordham Field this afternoon to engage Fordham. The only blot on the record of the Massachusetts team, which has to its credit victories over Vermont, Colby, Stevens and Detroit, is its early season defeat by the Army.

It is because of this record that Springfield will take the contest, which slight favors over the Maroon, also because Springfield beat Detroit, which beat Boston College and which had in turn beaten Fordham. Last year, however, by similar comparative scores, the Massachusetts boys were overwhelming favorites over the Maroon. Fordham came through in great style, though, admitting to Springfield, 2 to 0, a beating that was as decisive as it was unexpected.

Capt. Tommy Myers, left halfback, and Barney Fallon, left tackle, will not start in to-day's game. A new development that Myers is afflicted with several blisters. Fallon injured his back in last Saturday's game with Westminster. If, however, they are needed this afternoon Gargan will use both.

C. C. N. Y. Lineup Switched for Argument With Aggies

City College's football team yesterday wound up its preparations for the game with the New York Aggies this afternoon at the Lewis Stadium. A prolonged signal drill and light kicking practice comprised the day's work. Coach Neville made several changes in the lineup. Marty Brice going in for Lehigh, and facing Wasserer taking Farber's place at halfback and Greenberg being used at quarterback instead of Motley.

In to-day's game C. C. N. Y. will line up as follows: Left end, Garvey; left tackle, Brodsky; left guard, Shapiro; center, Schickman; right guard, Miller; right tackle, Kudin; right end, Brauer; quarterback, Greenberg; left halfback, Rosenwasser; right halfback, Oshins; fullback, H. Tannenbaum.

Amherst Wins at Soccer

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Middletown, Conn., Nov. 3.—Amherst defeated Wesleyan at soccer to-day by a score of 9 to 2. Walker Clapp and Whittley played well for Amherst and Lockhart and Leonard for Wesleyan.

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

The Man's Shop

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

The Man's Shop

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

The Man's Shop

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

The Man's Shop

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street

The Man's Shop

Overcoats for Frigid Days $45 to $90

Our heavy-weight overgarments are constituted to withstand the utmost of winter weather. Warm and durable fabrics, superb tailoring—and styles that maintain in line and drape the best standards of the day.

Usters, slip-on overcoats, and great coats—for street wear and motoring, in a diversity of imported and domestic fabrics.

Raccoon ulster overcoats $270 to $295

Auto Livery Robes Steamer Rugs

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor

Lord & Taylor

TELEPHONE FITZROY 1900

38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street