CENTRAL NOT CHANGED

Republicans Sure of Having Working Majorities in Both Chambers.

All predictions prepared by the various campaign committees were upset by the returns up to the time this edition of THE NEW YORK HERALD went to press. The Republicans were quite sure they would hold the seats in the Senate from New York, New Jersey and Maryland, but Senators Calder, Frelinghuysen and France are likely to be succeeded by Democrats. In Missouri Senator Reed (Dem.) won.

Entire Democratic Ticket Elected in N. Y. State

COX MAY BE DEFEATED

Dry Referendum Upheld—Fitzgerald Credited With Democratic Showing.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Latest returns show the Massachusetts election to be the closest in years, with the chances about even of Senator Lodge, Republican, being beaten by Col. William A. Gaston, Democrat, and Gov. Cox, Republican, being defeated by John F. Fitzgerald, Democrat. Nicholas P. Fitzgerald, Progressive candidate for United States Senator, is polling a much larger vote than had been expected.

RECORD FOR EDWARDS

Hudson County Gives Him 80,000 Lead Over Senator Frelinghuysen.

Returns from the election in New Jersey were slow coming into political headquarters in Jersey City and in Newark last night because of the heavy vote and the slow counting in the rural districts, but the early figures indicated that Gov. Edward I. Edwards had been elected United States Senator over the Republican incumbent, Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, by a majority of from 15,000 to 25,000. He has apparently carried Hudson county, of which Jersey City is a part, by about 80,000, and Jersey City itself by about 65,000, which are record Democratic majorities.

BIG UPSETS UP-STATE

Republican Strongholds Are Smashed in Vote Record Never Made Before.

It was more than the predicted landslide. The Smith tornado which swept through the State yesterday completely wrecked the G. O. P. There never has been anything comparable with it in a straight State election in New York. Alfred E. Smith has repeated the political miracle he performed two years ago, when he turned over nearly a million votes in a Presidential year. He has carried New York by 400,000 or more and cut down to barely 50,000 the Republican up-State plurality on which Gov. Miller relied. Smith beats Hyland's record of last year; he beats all records of all candidates for Governor.

COPELAND IS ELECTED, LODGE HARD PRESSED, BEVERIDGE TRAILING

Republicans Elect 24 New York State Senators and 64 Assemblymen—Democrats, 23 Senators and 38 Assemblymen—Smith Wins 7 Up-State Cities.

POMERENE DROPS BACK IN OHIO; BROOKHART, RADICAL, WINS IOWA

Reed Re-elected in Missouri—Hitchcock Seems Beaten—McLean Wins in Connecticut—France Has Lost in Maryland—Pennsylvania Elects Pinchot.

The Democratic party won several distinct victories in the election contests of yesterday. In some respects these victories reversed the unprecedented advantage won by the Republican party two years ago, though Republicans will continue to control the two houses of Congress for the next two years. The Senate will remain Republican by a majority of at least twenty-two and the House by from thirty to forty.

Smith's Plurality About 400,000.

In New York State the Democratic victory was clear cut and decisive. Mr. Smith carried the five boroughs of the city of New York by a plurality over Gov. Miller of about 480,000. To offset this Gov. Miller brought a Republican majority of about 80,000 down to The Bronx, so that Mr. Smith won the decision by from 330,000 to 400,000. The early returns gave the idol of Tammany a plurality of 500,000 in the city of New York, or 60,000 more than was given to Mr. Harding in the Presidential contest two years ago.

Later gains made by Mr. Miller in city districts of pronounced conservative tendencies reduced the indicated Democratic majority. The Democratic candidate carried several counties above The Bronx which had never gone Democratic.

The vote for him in every county was apparently greater than ever given to any other Democratic candidate and was accomplished by a significant slump in the normal Republican vote. Mr. Smith carried Manhattan by 176,000, Brooklyn by 154,000, The Bronx by 85,000, Queens by 52,000 and Richmond by 13,000.

Mr. Smith carried several up-State cities, including Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Albany, Troy, Elmira and Binghamton. His majority in Albany was about 6,000, in Troy 9,000. The Republicans just about held their own in towns which usually have given large majorities to their candidates. This was true in the normal Republican counties of Livingston, Wayne, Chenango, Chautauque, St. Lawrence, Tioga, Cortland, Ontario, Clinton, Delaware, Ulster, Warren, Yates and Tompkins.

Copeland's Majority 377,000.

Senator Calder, who also went down to defeat with the other Republican candidates, fared a little bit better than Gov. Miller. Dr. Copeland rolled up a majority of 377,000 in the five boroughs in the city of New York. The best that Mr. Calder could show to offset it in up-State districts was about 105,000, so that the New York Health Commissioner won the decision by about 272,000.

The Republican State committee conceded the election of Dr. Copeland at midnight. While definite figures are lacking final returns may give the Democrats complete control of all branches of the State government. Practically clean sweeps were made by Democratic candidates for the State Senate in the city districts, while the Republicans suffered significant losses in up-State regions. The latest figures available indicate that the Republicans have elected twenty-four candidates to the State Senate, the Democrats twenty-three, with four in doubt. Republicans appear to have won sixty-four seats in the Assembly and the Democrats thirty-eight.

Meyer London Beaten.

The Socialists do not appear to have elected any of their candidates to either the New York State Senate or Assembly. Voters of socialistic tendencies seem to have cast their ballots for Democratic candidates to all of the State and legislative offices from the Governor down. Meyer London, the only Socialist in Congress, was defeated by his Democratic opponent, Dickstein, in the Twelfth New York district.

Victor Berger, Socialist candidate in Milwaukee, won out along with the radical La Follette Republican candidates. He was denied a seat in Congress two years ago because of his conduct during the war.

Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who was beaten for Congress in Tennessee two years ago, was voted into the next Congress by a very large majority.

Alice Robertson, the only woman in the present Congress, was defeated in Oklahoma by Hastings, her Democratic opponent.

In the contest for the United States Senate Senators Reed (Dem., Mo.), McLean (Rep., Conn.), Pepper and Reed (Reps., Pa.) and Johnson of California were re-elected. The new Senators elected were Copeland (Dem., N. Y.) and Brookhart (Rep., Iowa).

Notables May Step Out.

Some of the best known figures in the United States Senate may disappear as the result of contests in States where up to an early hour this (Wednesday) morning the outcome was uncertain. Among these were Senators Henry Cabot Lodge (Rep., Mass.), Du Pont (Rep., Del.), Beveridge (Rep., Ind.) and Hitchcock (Dem., Neb.). In all of these contests tabulation of votes indicated a very narrow margin, with chances favoring the success of Senators Lodge, Du Pont and Howe.

CONNECTICUT SAFE FOR REPUBLICANS

Margin of 20,000 Separates Parties, McLean Winning as Senator.

GOVERNOR CAPTURED TOO

Templeton Gets Margin of 19,000—Roraback Says It Is 30,000.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. HARTFORD, Nov. 7.—Connecticut will remain Republican by more than 20,000 votes. Unofficial figures from 120 towns out of a total of 169 in the State give United States Senator George P. McLean, Republican nominee for election, a lead of 21,000 over Thomas J. Spellacy, his Democratic opponent.

BEVERIDGE BEHIND IN CLOSE CONTEST

Returns From Part of State Give Him 209,744 to His Opponent's 221,548.

FESS IS AHEAD IN OHIO

Townsend Leads in Michigan and France Is Trailing in Maryland.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—On the face of early returns from the larger cities of Indiana Samuel M. Ralston (Dem.) appears to be a winner over Albert J. Beveridge (Rep.) in the race for the United States Senate. The indications, however, were that the vote would be exceptionally close.

From 1,208 out of 3,295 precincts in the State the returns give Ralston 221,548; Beveridge, 209,744; Henry (Sec.), 149.

Beveridge also was running behind Merrill Moores, Republican candidate for reelection to Congress from this district. Moores being slightly ahead of Joseph Turk, his Democratic opponent, who was on a wet platform. The indications were that Moores would carry this district by 1,000 votes and that Beveridge would lose the district by 6,000 votes. Two years ago the Republicans carried the district by 22,000.

Ohio. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Returns in today's election from 596 of the State's 1,147 precincts for United States Senator give Simon D. Fess (Rep.), 79,759; Mrs. Virginia Greene (Ind.), 261 votes.

The vote on Governor in 984 districts was Thompson, 80,410; Donahay, 86,136. These tabulations included only thirty precincts from Cuyahoga county (Cleveland).

The vote favorable to adoption of this correspondence, which has proved the chief subject of argument in the fight between Spellacy and McLean, was sent out for the purpose of obtaining delegates to vote for Palmer at the Democratic National Convention. Spellacy claimed that the letters had been stolen from his files at the direction of Bruce Bileasik, who gave them to Will H. Hays, who in turn is alleged to have turned them over to Borah for use in the Connecticut campaign. Undoubtedly the publication of the letters had much to do with Spellacy's low vote as compared with that received by his running mate, Fitzgerald.

Hartford gave Spellacy a majority of 2,500, which is 1,000 less than the Democratic Mayor received here in the election last April. New Haven gave Spellacy a majority of about 1,500 and
