

KELLNER Gift Furniture

EXCEPTIONAL quality always heightens the character of a gift—which, of itself, should recommend selection from the Kellner collection of occasional furniture. But, you will find, too, delightfully "different" designs, charming beauty and—to a surprising degree—

Exceptionally Modest Prices

Sewing Tables
from $13.50 to $25.00
Illustrated—A charming Mahogany model of solid Mahogany. $22.50

End Tables
from $10 to $35
Illustrated—End Table with Book trough, in Mahogany finish $16.25

Gateleg Tables
from $20 to $75
Illustrated—An exceptionally handsome table, 48x48 inches, extra heavy turning $40

Side and Armchairs
from $9.50 to $35.00
The Windsor Arm Chair, illustrated, in Mahogany finish $35

Secretaries
from $50 to $200
Illustrated—A delightful Chipendale pattern, in Mahogany finish $110

Ten Wagons
from $20 to $60
Illustrated—Spacious Ten Wagon, in combination Walnut or Mahogany $47.50

Desks
from $22 to $125
Illustrated—Spacious Desk of combination Mahogany and Walnut $67.50

Mirrors
In rich profusion of design and finish from $20 to $165
Illustrated—An exquisite design, decidedly "different" $69.50

Unusual gift-giving opportunities, likewise, in DINING ROOM, BED ROOM, and LIVING ROOM suites, prevailing prices affording exceptional economies.

KELLNER BROS.
Thirty One Years selling Good Furniture
Southeast Corner 15th St. and 6th Ave.

L. F. LOREE WARNS OF OVERTAXATION

Tells Bankers Present System Smothers Enterprise and Limits Savings.

L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, speaking last night at the tenth annual dinner of the Bankers Forum, New York Chapter, American Institute of Banking, at the Hotel Astor, warned of the dangers of overtaxation and radical thought. He said:

"Our system of taxation is smothering enterprise and making impossible savings for investment. Trade between the nations has largely disappeared and cooperation between management, capital and labor are seriously disturbed. But severe as has been the wound, it is not a death wound. Recovery, while slow, may be confidently expected."

John H. Puelicher, president of the American Bankers Association, outlined the growth of the banking business in this country and said "banks in America have grown as America has grown and that opportunities have grown more rapidly than have men to accept them." Pleading for a better economic understanding, Mr. Puelicher continued:

"From crossroad establishments, helping to develop a new country into cosmopolitan institutions trading in all the world has been the step of a few decades. What was acceptable when banks were purely local institutions is not acceptable to-day. Only that which equals the growth of the country, of the banks of the country, will satisfy."

Mr. Puelicher asserted that "sound banking policies discourage speculation, encourage balanced production and balanced rewards for production. The banker is no less interested in the success of the laborer and the farmer than in the success of the merchants and the manufacturer. Each contributes to the field of his endeavor, some bringing deposits, others requiring loans and only can be prosper as many prosper."

Continuing his attack on radical thought, Mr. Loree said: "One meets on every hand a feeling of impatience, a disposition to at least try every suggestion. There is a failure to realize, and this failure is a real menace, that while a chemical experiment can determine certain results in a few hours, and an experiment in animal breeding can be prosecuted to a conclusion in a few years, there are few experiments in social relations from which definite conclusions can be drawn short of two or three generations. We want results immediately. We are disappointed if our experiments do not work out as we thought they would. If we are to preserve our civilization the quality of patience and the element of time will have to be given consideration and before all the foundations upon which it rests must be made impregnable. These foundations are the institution of the family, the institution of private property and the authority of a government founded upon justice and morals."

INSANE WOMAN DIVES TO DEATH FROM SHIP

Crawls Through Porthole and Drowns in Hudson.
While a guard stood at her stateroom door, Mrs. Goldberg Grimes, a mulatto, wife of a Barbados planter, forced herself through a port hole of the Lamport and Holt liner Vasari as the vessel was preparing to leave Pier 14, Hoboken, for the Barbados and South American ports to-day and was drowned in the Hudson river.

After prolonged search by the Hoboken police which failed to result in the recovery of the body the woman's husband and three children sailed for home originally planned. Earlier in the day two women, who said they were officers of the Massachusetts State Department, brought the woman aboard the Vasari. They told the ship's officers that Mrs. Grimes had come to the United States several weeks ago in a mentally deficient condition which had resulted in an order for her deportation.

YONKERS MAN IS A SUICIDE.
Lubo Corbino, head of the Ansonia Stevedore Company, 15 Moore street, returned to his office yesterday after an absence of a week and ended his life with a revolver bullet. Mr. Corbino, who was about 50, lived at 78 Waring place, Yonkers, and was treasurer of the Marriott Realty Company of Westchester county. He also was treasurer of the Yonkers branch of the Sons of Italy and was a Chevalier of the Crown of Italy.

HELD IN $12,000 SHORTAGE.
About the same time that George E. Hiseox, aged 22, an accountant of 28 Clark street, Brooklyn, left the employ of the Bishop Chocolate Company, 148 Sands street, Brooklyn, in April, 1921, a shortage of $12,000 was reported. After a long hunt Detective Owen Carney arrested him last night on a charge of grand larceny.

JESSE M. OVERTON KILLED.
NASHVILLE, Dec. 16.—Jesse M. Overton, president of several coal companies and formerly prominently identified with Jersey cattle farming in this section, was killed here to-day when his automobile collided with a street car. He was 59 years old.

THE NEWS For Tomorrow Only Pottery Lamps

Base has cord, plug, socket and electric bulb, a 10-inch silk shade, nicely trimmed completes the outfit. A choice of Gold, Rose or Blue. Lexington Ave. Level. $3.95

Three-Section Mirrors
Beautiful three section mirrors, finished in Blue and Gold, very prettily ornamented. Suitable for over buffet, couch or mantle. Size outside measures 12 1/2 x 41 1/2. Third Floor. $9.85

100 Martha Washington Sewing Cabinets
Nicely finished in Walnut or Mahogany. Large size, three drawers, sliding tray and rods inside. Fourth Floor. $12.95

Known for Our Low Prices

Bloomington's
24th to 60th—Lex. to 3d Ave.

Broadway at 34th Street

Saks & Company

Specialists in Apparel

Specially Arranged to Begin Monday

A SALE OF

Handsome Fur Coats

At Remarkable Price Reductions

A BACKWARD season has created a very unusual situation in the fur industry. Our best manufacturers have found themselves with too much stock on hand. A determination to liquidate these stocks found us ready to consummate immediate cash purchases. Fine quality fur coats came into our hands at a big reduction from regular prices. Hence this remarkable sale, in which we pass the tremendous savings effected along to you....and remember, a whole season of cold weather lies ahead.

475.00

Coats of Persian Lamb

Regularly 545.00 to 595.00
Special, 475.00

The slender distinction of line that characterizes these graceful coats proves that they belong to the mode of straight lines—in 46 to 48 inch lengths that one's gown may be almost completely covered.

Dyed fitch or skunk forms the soft, crushable collar and wide sleeve bands, pictured at left, adding a further note of richness to an already luxurious creation.

Natural Raccoon Coats

Regularly 275.00
Special, 225.00

Coats that are ruggedly swagger for the motor trip or sports wear—and at the same time, providing a welcome warmth against chill winds. Such a youthful, sportive model as this will find instant favor in the eyes of the smart miss and women who desire youthful lines.

In 40 inch length, girdled with a fancy braided belt, and beautifully lined. Pictured at right.

225.00

Hudson Seal (Dyed Muskrat) Coats FOR STOUT WOMEN

Regularly 495.00

Special, 395.00

Here are coats that possess slenderizing lines for the woman of full figure—bestowing a graceful silhouette upon her, and exceedingly smart in design.

One may choose coats entirely of self fur or skunk collars and cuffs, if some contrast is desired. The models are 45 and 48 inches in length.

LUXURIOUS Moleskin Capes

Regularly 365.00

Special, 295.00

These capes of mole serve a double purpose in life, for not only are they appropriate for daytime wear, but for evening occasions, as well.

Made of richly furred pelts, in a graceful model that makes use of the fur running both ways to achieve contrast.

Pictured at left

NATURAL Muskrat Coats

at 98.50

Regularly 145.00

Youthful looking coats in a smartly flaring model that may be restrained with a belt. Made of Southern skins, carefully matched. 40 inch length.

295.00

Handsome Hudson Seal Coats (Dyed Muskrat)

Regularly 375.00

Special, 295.00

A most engaging model is this straight line affair of Hudson Seal, clasped with a rich girdle with gay tassels, and collared and cuffed luxuriously with silvery skunk or velvety beaver. 45 inches long.

Mink Wraps, Coats and Capes

—made of rich, lustrous pelts, put together with painstaking care in distinctive models—the sort of coats that will last a lifetime without losing their charm and capacity for service—

Natural Mink Capes, in a model designed for misses. Very exclusive. Regularly 975.00 Special, 795.00

Natural Mink Capes, in full length, sweeping model, hanging from shoulder. Regularly 1350.00 Special, 1050.00

Eastern Mink Coat, 48 inches in length, exclusively designed. Completed with silk girdle. Regularly 2950.00. . Special, 2450.00

A Really Wonderful Caracul Cape

Regularly 595.00

Special, 465.00

Richly trimmed with a platinum fox edged collar that harmonizes beautifully. Pictured at right.

Caracul (Chinese Kid) Coats, 40 inches long, with Skunk or Black Fox collar and cuffs. Regularly 265.00

Special, 195.00

Caracul Jaquettes

Regularly 125.00

Special, 95.00

Caracul (Mongolian Lamb) Jaquettes in the swagger hip length model—that is in such high favor. Sleeves are modishly full and collar may be buttoned under the chin. 26 inches long.

465.00

Saks & Company

Broadway at 34th Street