PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS OF NEWS

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS.

The following Republican meetings have been arranged, and will take place on dates noted, and will be addressed by prominent Republicans: Garden Plain, October 22. Greenwood, October 22. Blood school house, October 23. Shale school house, Wednesday, the 23d. Salem township, October 23. River side, October 24. Derby, October 24. Mulvane, October 25.

T. R. WALL, Chairman.

A. B. WRIGHT, Secretary.

Gas is being put into the Morris block.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Theodore Harvey and Mary Perry.

A plank culvert is being put in at the junction of Emporia and Williams streets.

Now for good rains and a solid soil, frost, which will freeze out the weeds and give time to everybody.

The colored jubilee singers of Draper's combination gave a highly enjoyable sacred concert Sunday evening.

Judge Laak has been quite ill for a couple of weeks with a malaria attack, but he is all right again. He spent Sunday in Newton.

Mr. W. L. Johnson, our popular Douglas Avenue florist and feed merchant has disposed of his business to Messrs. Hall & Kelley, who had from Missouri.

The rains of yesterday and last night were as welcome as they were copious. The change means killing frosts which will be hailed with gladness.

The following new additions to the city were recorded in the office yesterday: Perry's addition, 40 acres; Clay's addition, 4 acres; Garrison's addition, 3 acres.

Rev. J. D. Hovett has been very sick, and has not been out of his room for several days. He is now recovering, and his condition is such that it was thought advisable to let him go to his home in Newton yesterday evening. He is better. Many a prayer will go up for his safe deliverance and his restoration to health.

A fine flock of prairie chickens went over the town yesterday morning. Such sights are becoming rare and more rare. Many of the very best men who are engaged in the game are the ones who get their guns and dogs into a wagon and set out a month or so ahead of time to kill chickens, and rather than miss the chance they will take Sunday, thereby violating another law.

Wed days are sometimes appreciated, yesterday was no exception. The weather forced the writer to seek shelter in the residence of Dr. A. M. Purand, on South Main street, and did not mention the pleasure of inspecting the building. It is extremely well arranged and will make quite a hospital home, of which the doctor may feel proud. The doctor was his own architect, and it is to be hoped credit for his planning, contractor Langford, experts to have the house completed this week.

The lady who sang the solo of the voluntary at the risk on Sunday morning, has an exquisitely cultivated voice, the modulations of which on that occasion, were simply delightful, giving the listener an intimation of a vision, but could her solo have been heard in any place where the acoustic properties were not so favorable, it would have proved a rare treat. We do not know when we have heard a sweeter voice or one of such artistic training as that of her who sang the solo on Sunday. It is the desire of the soul, pleased in song.

W. E. Stanley, who accompanied the Ingalls-Martin party Thursday, Friday and Saturday, says the meeting in Butler county was simply immense. The meetings at Augusta and Douglas, both of which he addressed in connection with others were rather remarkable for enthusiasm. The Republicans of Butler and the Democrats are privileged to have a good fight on Saturday next, and as long and loud as they please, they will not be able to disturb the solid Republican ranks of that town.

Real estate buyers need have lost out in full force yesterday morning, judging from the appearance of Northern's office during the forenoon. It presented the appearance of a beehive, as the people thronged in and engaged with the agents. A real estate commission has been appointed in each ward and houses not yet visited by them will be during the coming week. Excursions to matter what their religious convictions, can afford to give something toward the erection of a church which will be an acquisition to any city.

Yesterday evening about four o'clock an East reporter heard that a policeman was wanted at the Star livery stable, on Douglas avenue, and thither he had to catch the man. On arriving on the spot, a principal spectacle was seen. There was a boy about fifteen years old suffering from an attack of antiphotophobia. His eyes were so sore that he was unable to see. He was lying on his back, and his eyes protruded from his sockets. The man who gave the boy what he thought was severe punishment. It will probably not be healthy to do so again. He was taken to the cooler.

JERBS AND REVENGEANCE.

The man with the white vest and the black kid gloves, was to be seen on the avenue yesterday. The rain was pouring down in torrents, and the average pedestrian, who from force of circumstances was shivering and squalling along at a want-to-get-home-gait and looking like a drowned rat, presented a strong contrast to the serene young man from the rural districts who was in town for the first time, perhaps, in a year. He looked like a little in a white, and his smile was child-like and bland. Let him alone, allow him to enjoy himself, poor fellow, he has most likely been in the "range" for a long time, has worked hard, has cooked his own meals, has slept on the ground, and has been in a blanket, the arched heavens his only roof, the stars his only light. Let him wear his paper coat, it is a luxury which he has not enjoyed for a long time, a boiled shirt is hardly allowed in the camp, a white vest would be there looked upon as a sacrilege, and his gloves, well his hands are so big and rough from toil and exposure that the poor fellow is ashamed of them and this covers up his homeliness.

As for the course he is not afraid according to the late. Persons exist, but he has been where he had no opportunity to catch on to the latest duce curve or kink and has been influenced by surrounding circumstances, and as those two elements shape and decide the lives and destinies of us all to a wonderful degree we will not make capital of the odd appearance of what may be a good heavy fellow unacquainted with much of the pretended virtues and wickedness in reality, of some of those who dress to perfection, but are villains at heart; and will meet him with a sober and friendly face instead of with, as at first thought, a smile of derision and an inward sneer.

POLICE COURT.

Business was usually good in the police court yesterday. There were four plain suits, one for a dog, one for a dog, one for a dog, one for a dog. Total assets, $100.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Sunday evening's Frisco train carried a distinguished party of tourists, numbering fifty, who occupied two special Pullman coaches, our Hon. Secretary of War Robert Lincoln making one of their number. He stopped upon the platform to view the leading city of Southern Kansas. He was pleased to meet the representative of the Pullman-Frisco, and with the country, and positive of New York state giving a large Republican majority. The interview was strictly cordial in obedience to the conductor's "all-board."

TOUZALIN.

R. L. Walker returned from a flying trip to the Territory south of Dodge City yesterday. He went down nearly to the Indian Territory, and returned with a letter from the land lord and christened Touzalin, after the vice-president of the Santa Fe. Dick says it is a well watered country, and as pretty a country as there is in Kansas. It is about one hundred and seventy-five miles from Wichita to Touzalin, which is delightfully located and which is to have two railroads. We don't vouch for the latter. All that country is naturally tributary to Wichita, or will be as soon as we can get railroads into it.

THE SWEAT OF HELL.

Whatever the attitude of the average daily morning paper touching the whisky question, a few short months' experience has convinced us that no editor or business manager can be other than a prohibitionist at heart. The whisky is the hell-broth of the man. With the augmenting force of a cyclone charged with scorching lightning, it sweeps through the soil and brain of a man only to wither and annihilate. Lord, how large is the number of those who are being blasted by the force of an eternal curse. Waste, ruin and perdition are its only benedictions and pastures.

MORAL CONFUSION.

Dr. Phillips preached a very able discourse Sunday morning, a sermon full of thought and replete with results of observation. We are in an almost unexplored field. His subject was "The moral confusion of the times." We have no room for even a brief synopsis. But the doctor made some remarks that Kansas is not the world, nor is Wichita Kansas. While the line of demarcation between the good and the bad is well defined in Wichita, we confess, still there is an exception. The spirit of its growth and business and its elements altogether engross the lives of our people, the good and bad alike, and being upon one platform teaching many things we are more or less homogeneous to all. The doctor himself has lost much of that peaceful look which he wore when he first came among us, and instead of the quiet even flow of the doctrines his soul becomes evoked in an enterprise and improvement about which he becomes enthusiastic, and even scold. The doctor is catching or becoming engulphed in that same confusion. We admit there is a letting down, but we claim there is also a raising up. Wichita is not wholly bad. Look at the work which is being done for humanity at the various organizations for the benefit of humanity that are being maintained in our midst, not mentioning the churches. Then look at the number of church buildings which have all been erected in such a few brief years at the metropolitan affair going up on Lawrence avenue. Inexplicable almost are the moral confusions of the times, but we believe humanity grows daily better fitted for this life, and for the other upon the whole.
