GRACE HAWTHORNE as QUEENA. Special Matinee Tuesday after 2 o'clock

-EAST-LYNN- No advance in prices. Seats may be secured at Santa Fe without extra charge.

Ira Shook, of Butler, Ind., is visiting with Harry Shaffer.

Jose A. Zook, of the Webb City (Mo.) Democrat, was a call yesterday.

The Eagle Bindery has just completed a lot of real estate contracts for farm and city property.

Mr. H. W. Wells has accepted the position of bookkeeper in the drug store of Aldrich & Brown.

Elmer Devore has thrown up his position in the Wichita National bank and gone to the real estate business in west Wichita.

The crowd who have just returned from California don't seem to think that there is any place they visited that comes up to Wichita.

Father Casey's mare was stolen or strayed off Sunday night and he would like to find her. She is a large bay mare and heavy with colts.

Two bunches of keys were stolen at the Eagle office. One contains a Prico switch key, and another door key and several drawer keys.

A large delegation of influential gentlemen from Payne township were in the city yesterday looking after the railroad interests of that township.

Mrs. Carrie Woodman, of Philadelphia, widow of Wallace Woodman, is making the family of the commodore and many of her former friends a visit.

Mr. Beasly, of Rochester, N. Y., who has been a guest at the Manhattan the past eight or ten days, and who has purchased Wichita property, left for home yesterday.

What with Grace Hawthorne at the opera house and the Grand Army fair booming in the G. A. B. building, there will be plenty of amusement on tap this evening.

Mrs. Cora Taylor, of Nickerson, and Messrs. James Crane, Washington, Ill.; C. M. Branch, Sterling, Kan., entered the Northwestern Business college yesterday.

Mr. Guy Adams was trown from his buggy Sunday afternoon fracturing his collar bone and almost severing his right ear from the head. Doctors McCoy & Purday were called to attend him.

G. W. Piper, who has been visiting relatives in the city for some months past, left for St. Louis yesterday. Miss Maud Piper, his niece, accompanied him to visit Mr. and Mrs. Sargent. Mrs. Sargent is a daughter of Mr. Piper.

In addition to the long list of articles donated to the Grand Army fair and already published in this paper, the following articles were donated yesterday: Mr. Fack, the tailor, a pair of $12 pants and H. Tidgeman, cigar manufacturer, two boxes fine cigars.

Speaking of the L. O. F. celebration, the Oxford Register says: From the quarter we heard praise of the royal manner in which the people of Wichita treated their guests, and every one present on this occasion will long remember the 28th day of April with pleasure.

The different choirs of the city will meet this evening in the Congregational church for the purpose of organizing a choral society. All lovers of music are cordially invited to join. It is expected that the society will be much larger than the music class of last winter. It is proposed to continue vocal practice during this and the following month.

The Arlington house, on Douglas avenue, is now one of the best second-class houses in the city. The new proprietors, Messrs. John Hollister & Co., have renovated, refurnished and refitted it throughout, and everything is clean and in good order. They have a good cook and their table is supplied with the best the market affords. The proprietors and their assistants are obliging gentlemen and stand ready to accommodate the public.

Not long ago a man dressed as if he contemplated matrimony called at the private judge's office. Judge Jewell prizes him self on being able to size up a matrimonial victim, and therefore pulled down a blank license, and asked the suspect his name, which was given, with his age, etc. Then the judge asked the lady's name. "Lady" exclaimed the man, "why, I have no lady." Explanations revealed the fact that he wanted to take out naturalization papers. Yesterday the thing was reversed. A young man called on Clerk Van Ness and that official began making out naturalization papers, but he was soon told the fellow wanted to be married.

THE SCHOOL BOARD. The school board met last night and organized by the election of M. W. Levy, president, which makes eight consecutive years for that popular gentleman. A. Katz, vice president, C. A. Walker secretary. No business was transacted and the board adjourned.

ATTENTION, COBWEB COMPANY. Mrs. Toler requests all the little boys and girls who have taken part in her entertainments, to come to the Christian church Monday evening, after school, to take part in an opera called "Hoopoe," now being prepared by Mrs. Kilm. Seventy-five boys and girls voices are wanted.

G. A. R. The following ladies' names who were assigned to places on the supper committee were named by the printer yesterday: Mrs. M. C. Todd, Mrs. Sarah Mitchell, Mrs. John Wallace, Mrs. Junkerman, Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. D. Owens.

All parties who have donated provisions to the Grand Army fair are requested to have them ready today in order that there may be no delay when the wagon calls.

JAIL DELIVERY. A telephone dispatch from Winfield last night announced a jail delivery in that city which was attended with fatal consequences. Six of the prisoners attempted to escape, in what manner is not stated. A deputy shot one and was in turn shot himself, through the hand. Five of the prisoners escaped from the jail, and one of them was shot dead by the deputy sheriff, who was also seriously wounded himself. Four of the prisoners escaped, one was killed, another wounded and two deputy sheriffs seriously wounded. Our informant did not state how the break was made, or how the prisoners obtained their

THE HAMBLER'S RECITATION.

A large number of the readers of the Eagle expressed themselves as being disappointed because I did not show up Sunday morning. They say the Hambler's racket has become a feature of the paper they are all looking for.

Well since my last the principal topic that has agitated the public mind in this wonderful city is real estate and railroads. These two subjects are always on top. I took a ride on Sunday to see what had been done in building since my last round of the city. I find many new foundations being built and nearly all for fine houses. There are many commodious and handsome houses going up along North Lawrence avenue and the north part of town generally.

In almost every important city there is some fine residence street leading away out into the country. North Lawrence avenue seems to be taking that position here. By the way there is to be another very beautiful piece of land platted out on that street that will no doubt command immediate attention and become a popular residence location. This new candidate for public favor is twenty acres lying immediately north of Fairview addition on the very pinnacle of the high ground in the north part of town.

Another important addition is being made to our wholesale and manufacturing interest. The Hambler Brothers, manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in trunks, valises, etc., have secured a portion of the Green block, on Douglas avenue, and are preparing to open out exclusively in their line. One of the brothers informs us that after looking the state over the company are satisfied that the best place for a factory is conducted in no other town in Kansas.

The north one of the important towns in the northeast part of the state, but they found their efforts futile. Their goods and material are expected daily, when they hope to be able to supply the trade of southwest Kansas.

A TRUNK MANUFACTORY. Another important addition is being made to our wholesale and manufacturing interest. The Hambler Brothers, manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in trunks, valises, etc., have secured a portion of the Green block, on Douglas avenue, and are preparing to open out exclusively in their line. One of the brothers informs us that after looking the state over the company are satisfied that the best place for a factory is conducted in no other town in Kansas.

The north one of the important towns in the northeast part of the state, but they found their efforts futile. Their goods and material are expected daily, when they hope to be able to supply the trade of southwest Kansas.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS. There was little of interest before the squire yesterday. Squire Thomas said the courts were too busy in Wichita buying and selling lots, to commit any crimes or go to jail. One of the magistrates said that he had hands to keep the peace, and that was about all that court.

That judge Walker had no criminal business and had nothing to report save a few unimportant civil arrangements.

POLICE COURT. Judge Glenn had a few victims who whacked up all right. The aggregate amount received in for all sorts of delinquent last month is $12,250.

Yesterday Henry Jones and Jim Smith—very good fellows—were scooped in for carrying concealed guns. They put up $7 each for their appearance but failed to show up. The $74 was retained in the city jail.

Wm. Fullerton for vagrancy paid $30 and costs. William is fuller here for that very thing having paid up before on same charge. It is somewhat odd that a vag should have $22.50 when his clothes so taken.

Miss Rose-Jessie Day and Benjie Oliver, all Sunday rans, were required to pay $8 and costs for pursuing an illegal calling.

DIRTY DITCHES. A prominent man of the town came at an Eagle reporter yesterday with his hands up and, with a big exclamation, used to introduce the subject, concerning the "dirty ditches." He was decidedly unenthusiastic on the subject and the more he talked about the "dirty ditches" it seemed as if he expressed it. He seemed to think that in their present condition they invited all manner of deadly diseases. In fact he was just making but a short way off and he was just a matter of time—a very short time—when the now booming city would be completely and lastingly depopulated.

The reporter, somewhat stirred up by this vigorous harangue, sought the opinion of several other business men of the city on the subject. Some thought the present uncleanliness was calculated to give our numerous doctors good jobs for a while. All thought it would be best to clean out the ditches for fear that bad might result. As the thermometer rises the danger will be increased, and hence the necessity for the water to be turned on much greater. It seemed to be the universal opinion that it would be best to not try the experiment of too much economy in that direction.

DONOR UP $95 WORTH. Yesterday about 10 a. m. a gentleman who came in from the country was "done up" to the extent of $95. He arrived in the city on the previous evening and fell in with some gentlemen, as he thought, who seemed to be very courteous and accommodating in showing him around and in giving him an opportunity to "see the sights." Not having completed the affair on their nocturnal tour they resumed the investigation yesterday morning. In a short time they entered a sort of combination house on North Main street, above Second, with the above result. The story of the victim when straightened out, disinfected and translated in plain English read about as follows:

The party entered this house and soon ordered up the drinks. To complete the bill of fare some French wine was introduced. Soon after this disappeared, our unfortunate here lost his balance and his money also. He says he was "drugged" by the party. He was about 2 p. m. and the effect of the dose was very apparent at that time.

Evidently the thieves thought that by leaving the amount they did their victim would return home and not "blow on them." The latest information last night brought nothing of their arrest. It might be well to state that in the same den about two weeks ago a man was robbed in a similar manner of $700. This ought to be a sufficient recommendation to induce our visitors to refrain from mooring their fragile bark in such stormy waters.

GRACE HAWTHORNE. Grace Hawthorne appeared last night at the opera house as "Camille," in Alexander Dumas' play. She was in excellent style and had a great success. Last evening she had such an engagement our people had heard of her as being master of her profession. All who saw her last night can attest the fact that she rightfully deserves the enviable reputation she has won for herself as an emotional actress. She is particularly suited to her part, and vice versa.

The play is a representation of French character—the trials and vicissitudes of French love-making, if you please. And perhaps American youth so much resembles the French in such matters that we are not surprised to find that the play is so well compiled to call on our imagination to understand and in a certain degree, at least, enter into the spirit of the actor or actress, who acts and speaks naturally.

The company as a whole is one of the best ever visited this city.

Queens, J. K. Tilton's famous comedy drama will be played tonight and this afternoon by the popular emotional drama. East Lynn, or the Orphan. These are completed in the highest terms by some of the leading critics of the country. Our people have reason to feel proud that they have an opportunity to hear three famous plays by such an able company.

RETURNED CALIFORNIANS.

Commodore Woodman and W. B. Mead Esq. called together yesterday morning and completely prostrated us with their multitudinous observations and opinions touching matters on the Pacific coast and their observations in general and their opinions touching the conduct of each other in particular until we were set to wondering about the effects of the visit of the western ships. The commodore said he wouldn't trade Sedgewick county for the whole state of California, when conclusion the Eagle sustains him. W. B. Mead who spent some fifteen years of his early manhood on that coast was a little more conservative in his expressions. They evidently had a big time on their whole trip. Mr. Mead missed seeing his son Albert only by five hours which was a great disappointment, and he didn't dare go down to Gynas because two vessels had already been quarantined on account of the presence of yellow fever. The entire party including Mrs. Woodman and daughter, Geo. Strong and wife and Robt. E. Guthrie Jr. and wife returned, their trunks full of Ichi Ben trinkets and other Japanese toys.

Another important addition is being made to our wholesale and manufacturing interest. The Hambler Brothers, manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in trunks, valises, etc., have secured a portion of the Green block, on Douglas avenue, and are preparing to open out exclusively in their line. One of the brothers informs us that after looking the state over the company are satisfied that the best place for a factory is conducted in no other town in Kansas.

—A number of the California excursionists, consisting of Commodore Woodman and wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Guthrie, W. B. Mead, and others returned on Sunday night.

A DAY'S BUSINESS. Let the would-be skeptics concerning the boom in our city cast their eyes down the column of real estate transfers in today's issue, then look away and report. In that one line of business yesterday $50,079 exchanged hands, and this enormous sum is not one-half what the property sold for. That much in a single day—just think of it! Bear in mind also that this is not our best, as one day the grand total exceeded this fabulous sum over $200,000.

Don't think that trading in real estate was the only thing done in Wichita yesterday. The money exchanged in that line is only a per cent of the entire amount that changed hands.
